Item 5. Other Events

On February 12, 2001, ePlus Technology of PA, inc., which is a wholly owned subsidiary of ePlus, inc., entered into floor planning and accounts receivable financing agreements for an $11 million dollar facility ($9 million for inventory and $2 million for accounts receivable) with Deutsche Financial Services Corporation. On February 28, 2001, Deutsche Financial Corporation consummated the facility agreement by paying off the then, in place, credit facility provider, Finova Capital Corporation which had opted out of the floor planning business relationship with ePlus Technology of PA, inc. and terminated any new transactions after February 23, 2001. The agreements include an Agreement for Wholesale Financing, a Business Financing Agreement and an Addendum to Business Financing Agreement, between Deutsche Financial Services Corporation and ePlus Technology of PA, inc.

On February 12, 2001, ePlus Technology of NC, inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of ePlus, inc., entered into an inventory financing agreement for a total of $3.5 million dollars with Deutsche Financial Services Corporation. The agreement was consummated by Deutsche Financial Corporation on February 22, 2001, by paying off the then, in place, credit facility provider Finova Capital Corporation. The agreements include an Agreement for Wholesale Financing and an Addendum to Agreement for Wholesale Financing.

subsidiary of ePlus, inc., also entered into an Addendum to Business Financing Agreement and Agreement for Wholesale Financing, which modified the agreement to include a reduction in the inventory facility from $19 million to $13.5 million dollars and the accounts receivable facility from $6 million dollars to $5 million dollars and added to the agreement a charge for unused line fee which is assessed when the average accounts receivable facility usage is less than 50 percent utilized.

Purpose of the Credit Facility

ePlus Technology, inc., ePlus Technology of PA, inc., and ePlus Technology of NC, inc. use this credit source to finance its working capital requirements for inventories and accounts receivable. Their traditional business as sellers of computer technology assets and related network equipment and software products is financed through these arrangements known as floor planning financing, where interest expense for the first thirty to forty days, on average, is not charged but is paid for by the supplier/distributor. These floor plan liabilities are recorded as accounts payable-trade as they are normally repaid within the thirty to forty day time frame and represent as assigned accounts payable originally generated with the supplier/distributor. If the thirty to forty day obligation is not paid timely, interest is then assessed at the stated contractual rates. Amounts financed under the accounts receivable facility are recorded as recourse debt.

Principal Terms of the Credit Facility

The contracts provide for various repayment days dependent on the supplier/distributor, but the majority are 40 days on average. The facility is a two-year commitment but can be terminated with 60 days notice with a termination charge dependent on the remaining contractual term. The combined total of all agreements with Deutsche Financial Services Corporation totals $33 million dollars consisting of $26 million of inventory and $7 million of accounts receivable financing. Interest is assessed at the prime rate minus one-half of one percent on the outstanding principal debt under the accounts receivable facility.

The floor planning and accounts receivable agreements for ePlus Technology, inc. and ePlus Technology of PA, inc., are guaranteed by ePlus, inc., the parent company, for a maximum of $4.9 million and $2 million dollars, respectively.
