Item 5.02. Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

(b) As previously disclosed by OpenTable, Inc. (the Company) in a Form 8-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on April 3, 2012, the Company and Charles McCullough, Senior Vice President, Engineering, entered into an employment transition and separation letter agreement on March 29, 2012. Pursuant to this letter agreement and as of July 18, 2012, Mr. McCullough will no longer serve as the Company's Senior Vice President, Engineering.

(c) On June 22, 2012, the Board of Directors appointed Joseph Essas as Chief Technology Officer, effective July 18, 2012.

Mr. Essas, age 41, has served as Chief Technology Officer of eHarmony, Inc. since November 2010 and Vice President, Engineering and Operations of eHarmony from April 2008 to November 2010. Prior to eHarmony, Mr. Essas served in various positions at Yahoo! Inc. from June 2002 to April 2008, most recently as Vice President, Engineering. Mr. Essas attended Jerusalem College of Technology.

Pursuant to the terms of an offer letter agreement, dated June 8, 2012, by and between the Company and Mr. Essas, effective July 18, 2012, Mr. Essas will receive an annual base salary of $350,000 and an annual performance bonus opportunity targeted at $150,000 to be earned based on the achievement of annual performance targets to be established by the Board of Directors or the Compensation Committee. If the Board of Directors and the Compensation Committee fail to establish annual performance targets, the performance bonus will be earned based on Mr. Essas and the Company's overall performance as determined by the Board of Directors or the Compensation Committee. In addition, Mr. Essas will be provided a supplemental cash retention award of $150,000 (the Retention Bonus), payable in one lump sum upon the commencement of his employment with the Company (the Commencement Date). In the event Mr. Essas' employment with the Company is terminated by the Company or Mr. Essas, for any reason, then Mr. Essas is required to reimburse the Company and forfeit (1) the post-tax amount Mr. Essas received in respect of the Retention Bonus if such termination occurs on or prior to the first anniversary of the Commencement Date and (2) 50% of the post-tax amount Mr. Essas received in respect of the Retention Bonus if such termination occurs at any time after the first anniversary of the Commencement Date and on or prior to the second anniversary of the Commencement Date, in each case, so long as Mr. Essas is not entitled to receive severance benefits pursuant to his offer letter agreement.

If (1) Mr. Essas' employment by the Company is terminated by the Company without cause or Mr. Essas experiences a constructive termination, in each case, within the twelve months following a change in control of the Company, or (2) Mr. Essas' employment by the Company is terminated by the Company without cause prior to a change in control of the Company and such termination occurs within the twelve months following the Commencement Date, he will receive the following severance benefits: (x) six months' base salary; (y) up to six months' COBRA coverage; and (z) Mr. Essas' unvested and outstanding equity awards shall vest and, if applicable, become exercisable with respect to that number of unvested shares subject to each such equity award that would have vested had his employment continued for a period of six months following the date of his termination of employment, provided that if such termination occurs within the first 12 months following the Commencement Date, a minimum of 12.5% of the number of shares subject to each of Mr. Essas' outstanding equity awards shall vest and, if applicable, become exercisable with respect to such shares. Mr. Essas must timely execute and fail to revoke a release of all claims against the Company in order to be eligible for any severance benefits.

The foregoing description of Mr. Essas' offer letter agreement is qualified in its entirety by the text of the agreement, a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1 and incorporated herein by reference.
