Clarification Announcement

China Eastern Airlines Corporation Limited (the "Company") has noted the recent press coverage regarding the introduction of strategic investors by the Company being published in some media. Trading in the shares of the Company has been suspended since 22nd May, 2007. The Company hereby announces as follows:

There is a material event, that is, the introduction of strategic investors by the Company, which is pending disclosure, and the Company is in preparation of such information for disclosure. As stated in the Company's announcement published on 14th May, 2007, in order to extend opportunities for commercial collaboration and enhance the Company's competitiveness, the Company has been approached by and is negotiating for collaboration with the potential strategic investors, including the Singapore Airlines, with a view to introducing strategic investors at an appropriate time.

Press articles about introducing strategic investors to the Company, in particular regarding any concrete plans, are not confirmed by the Company. Details of the concrete plans regarding the introduction of strategic investors to the Company and the concrete terms and conditions of possible transactions have not been finally determined, and no relevant agreement has been reached. Once the Company has identified or introduced a strategic investor and a formal agreement is reached and executed, the Company will strictly comply with the requirements of the relevant listing rules and make timely and accurate disclosure, and will apply to the relevant stock exchanges for resumption of trading of its shares.

At the request of the Company, trading in the H shares was suspended with effect from 9:47 a.m. on 22nd May, 2007. Trading in the H shares will remain suspended until the publication of a further announcement which is price-sensitive in nature.
