LONE STAR NOMINEES WILL DERAILED HUDSON PROGRESS Lone Star does not understand Hudson's business Lone Star has no plan to create value Lone Star is seeking disproportionate control Rejected good faith offer

Lone Star Value Management is a hedge fund with limited track record and experience - Founded in 2013 by current CEO Jeffrey Eberwein 1 - Approximately $80M of assets under management 2 Lone Star 3 started to acquire a 7.4% stake in Hudson in late 2013 3 and is now seeking to elect two dissident nominees 3 to Hudson's Board: - Lone Star CEO Jeffrey Eberwein ; and - Richard Coleman Jr., President and CEO of Crossroads Systems, Inc., a data archive solutions company Mr. Eberwein is a "serial activist" and has engaged in 18 activist campaigns since 2012 1 and 7 have resulted in proxy fights 1 There is no clear evidence that Mr. Eberwein has experience operating or managing companies in the professional staffing industry, having spent the majority of his career in financial services Not surprisingly, Mr. Eberwein has not presented any business plan, nor has he offered any advice on Hudson's plan 26 LONE STAR – AN ACTIVIST HEDGE FUND 1: SharkRepellent.net 2: Lone Star Value Management LLC. Form ADV on file with SEC. 3: Lone Star Value Management LLC. Form SC 13D. 01/21/14 . Lone Star includes certain other affiliated persons and entities.

27 LONE STAR WOULD DERAILED MOMENTUM Two Board seats would provide Lone Star outsized control - Seeking ~33% control while owning only 7.4% of shares - Lone Star became a new Hudson investor in late 2013 2nd largest stockholder (14%) already attending Board meetings (Sagard Capital) Lone Star Does Not Understand Hudson's Business and Has No Plan to Create Value Mr. Eberwein has never served on the board of a company with global operations or a professional services company, nor does he have any experience in those industries Lone Star has not made any constructive recommendations or presented a plan Lone Star's analysis suggests they do not understand our business Lone Star would not be value additive to the Board Lone Star is Seeking Disproportionate Control

28 NO PLAN AND SEEKING DISPROPORTIONATE CONTROL Mr. Eberwein rejected Hudson's good faith offer to join Hudson's Board Lone Star misled stockholders by mischaracterizing our settlement discussions in their proxy Mr. Eberwein rejected an offer to meet with senior management to discuss our plan and provide its views Unwillingness to engage raises questions about true motives Mr. Coleman serves as CEO and a director of publicly traded Crossroad Systems and sits on 2 other public company boards 1 If elected, Mr. Coleman would exceed corporate governance guidelines established by ISS, a leading proxy advisory firm Rejected Good Faith Offer If Elected, Coleman Would Be Overboarded 1: Company filings.

Support Hudson's Strong Momentum x Hudson is executing its transformation plan and on the path to sustained profitability x Performance is picking up strong momentum as evidenced by Q4 sequential gains, Q1 positive results, and Q2 outlook x Hudson's independent, highly qualified Board nominees bring critical expertise in professional services industry x Hudson's Board is actively engaged with management in driving transformation to maximize shareholder value creation x Hudson's Board is committed to good corporate governance practices and declassification of the Board 29 Vote for Hudson's Nominees – Support Our Momentum Toward Sustained Profitability CRITICAL DECISION FOR STOCKHOLDERS Don't Allow Lone Star to Derail Progress “Serial activist” Lone Star is seeking disproportionate representation on Hudson's Board Lone Star has no plan and has not made any constructive recommendations Eberwein has no relevant experience and Coleman would be overboarded if elected A long proxy fight is distracting from the measureable progress Hudson is making Lone Star rejected our offer for a board seat and refused to meet with senior management to discuss our plan and provide its views Lone Star recently acquired its stake in Hudson and their interests may not be aligned with longer - term stockholders
