Sony Realigns its Blu-ray Disc™ and DVD products businesses to strengthen competitiveness
-Manufacturing operations in Gödöllő, Hungary to be discontinued and transferred to Malaysia-

Sony Corporation (“Sony”) today announced that it will discontinue production at its Hungarian manufacturing site in Gödöllő, Hungary (legal name: Sony Hungária Kft.,Gödöllő TEC) as part of its initiatives to improve its profitability of overall business and efficiency in manufacturing.

Sony Hungária Kft., Gödöllő TEC which manufactures Blu-ray Disc™ players and DVD recorders, is scheduled to cease operations by the end of December 2010 and its operations will be transferred to Sony’s manufacturing site in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia (legal name: Sony EMCS (Malaysia) Sdn.Bhd.).

The worldwide demand for Blu-ray Disc™ players is expected to expand. By consolidating global production to achieve efficiency and offering customers higher value-added products such as Blu-ray 3D™ compatible Blu-ray Disc™ players, Sony aims to increase the competitiveness and profitability of its home video business.

No material impact is anticipated from this realignment to Sony’s consolidated financial results for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2011.
