Item 5.02 Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

On October 27, 2016, EnPro Industries, Inc. (the “Company”) entered into an Enhanced Early Retirement Agreement and Release dated as of October 27, 2016 (the “Early Retirement Agreement”) with Jon A. Cox, the Company’s former Chief Innovation and Information Officer, to set forth the terms of Mr. Cox’s early retirement on October 4, 2016 as an officer of the Company and from all positions which he held as a director, manager and officer of the Company’s subsidiaries. The Early Retirement Agreement provides for the continuation of base salary for a 52-week period, pro rata cash payment of the outstanding annual incentive plan award and of all outstanding long-term incentive plan awards to be made when performance and amounts are determined for other recipients of similar awards for those performance cycles, payment of an amount based on the closing price per share of the Company’s common stock on the New York Stock Exchange on October 4, 2016 and the forfeiture of all outstanding restricted share and restricted stock unit awards, payment for accrued but unused vacation and payment of a lump sum of $22,825 in lieu of providing reimbursement for COBRA continuation coverage premiums, standard outplacement benefits and reimbursement for legal expenses in reviewing the Early Retirement Agreement. The Early Retirement Agreement also includes provisions with respect to confidentiality, non-disparagement, ongoing assistance, employee non-solicitation and non-competition obligations of Mr. Cox and the release of claims by Mr. Cox. This description is qualified by the full terms of the Early Retirement Agreement, which is set forth in Exhibit 10.1 to this report and is incorporated by reference herein.
