SUMMARY TERM SHEET

Neither the Securities and Exchange Commission nor any state securities commission has approved or disapproved of the transaction, passed upon the merits or fairness of the transaction or passed upon the adequacy or accuracy of the disclosure in the document. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

This summary and the remainder of this transaction statement on Schedule 13E-3 include information describing the going private transaction involving rStar Corporation, referred to herein as rStar, how it affects you, what your rights are with respect to the transaction as a stockholder of rStar and the position of Gilat Satellite Networks, Ltd., referred to herein as we, us or Gilat, on the fairness of the transaction to the unaffiliated public stockholders of rStar, that is, the stockholders other than Gilat and its affiliates. Please read this summary and the remainder of this document very carefully.

Principal Terms of the Transaction

Relationship of the Parties

rStar, through its wholly-owned subsidiary, StarBand Latin America (Holland) N.V., provides satellite-enabled rural telephony and internet services and related network operations in certain Latin America countries in connection with long-term contracts awarded to affiliates of Gilat and certain contracts awarded to rStar's Latin American subsidiaries. In addition, rStar provides two-way, always-on, high-speed Internet access and telephony to residential and small office/home office customers in Latin America via satellite. rStar's services provide high-capacity, high-speed transmission of data, audio, telephony and video to consumers and other subscribers. rStar offers to all of its customers stand-alone Internet access as well as a bundled product which includes telephony services.

Gilat, together with its affiliates, holds approximately 84.9% of the outstanding shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of rStar. Gilat, with its global subsidiaries Spacenet Inc. and rStar, is one of the leading providers of telecommunications solutions based on Very Small Aperture Terminal, or VSAT satellite network technology - with approximately 400,000 VSATs shipped worldwide. Gilat, headquartered in Petah Tikva, Israel, markets the Skystar Advantage(R), DialAw@y IP(TM), FaraWay(TM), Skystar 360E(TM) and SkyBlaster* 360 VSAT products in more than 70 countries around the world. Gilat provides equipment for satellite-based, end-to-end enterprise networking and rural telephony solutions to customers across six continents, and markets interactive broadband data services, primarily in the United States. Certain officers and directors of Gilat are also officers and directors of rStar. See Item 3, "Identity and Background of Filing Person" and Schedule I to this Schedule 13E-3.

Negotiated Purchase

On December 4, 2003, Gilat entered into an agreement, which was deemed effective as of November 25, 2003, to purchase an aggregate of 9,672,031 shares of rStar common stock from certain individual shareholders of rStar and/or their respective affiliates. These individual shareholders will receive cash consideration of $0.60 per share in this negotiated purchase, subject to adjustment if Gilat pays a higher price per share to other rStar stockholders. Upon the consummation of the negotiated purchase, Gilat's ownership of the shares of common stock of rStar will increase from approximately 84.9% to approximately 94.2%. Pursuant to the terms of the stock purchase agreement, Gilat is required to complete a short-form merger to acquire shares held by all other rStar stockholders at $0.60 per share promptly following such purchase. The stock purchase agreement also contains voting, stand-still and lock-up agreements and is subject to several closing conditions, including the satisfaction of our filing obligations under the Exchange Act. See the section entitled "Fairness of the Going-Private Transaction - Recent purchases of share of rStar common stock" below.

This transaction statement is being filed because the consummation of the negotiated purchase is the first step of a transaction which will result in a Rule 13E-3 transaction as defined under the Exchange Act.

The Short-Form Merger

Upon consummation of the negotiated purchase, Gilat will hold approximately 94.2% of rStar's outstanding shares. After consummating the negotiated purchase, we intend to undertake a short-form merger or similar transaction whereby a to-be-formed wholly-owned subsidiary of Gilat which will hold all of the rStar shares beneficially owned by Gilat (referred to herein as the acquisition subsidiary) will be merged with and into rStar.

After the short-form merger, we intend to seek to cause the registration of rStar's common stock under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, to be terminated. The negotiated purchase and the short-form merger are collectively referred to herein as the going-private transaction.

Pursuant to the short-form merger, the acquisition subsidiary will be merged with and into rStar with rStar being the surviving corporation. Each outstanding share of rStar's common stock (other than shares held by the acquisition subsidiary and the unaffiliated public stockholders, if any, who properly exercise their dissenters' statutory appraisal rights under the Delaware General Corporation Law) will be canceled in exchange for cash in the amount of $0.60 per share to the holder in cash, without interest. See "Special Factors - Purposes, Alternatives, Reasons and Effects of the Going-Private Transaction - Effects - Treatment of options and warrants" and Item 4(a)(2), "Terms of the Transaction - Material Terms - Mergers or similar transactions" in this transaction statement.

Purpose of the Going-Private Transaction

The purpose of the going-private transaction is for Gilat to become the 100% owner of rStar. Upon completion of the short-form merger that is to occur following consummation of the negotiated purchase, rStar will become a wholly-owned subsidiary of Gilat. The transactions have been structured in order to effect a prompt and orderly transfer of the minority ownership of rStar from the public stockholders to us and to provide stockholders with cash for all of their rStar common stock as promptly as practicable. See "Special Factors - Purposes, Alternatives, Reasons and Effects of the Going-Private Transaction - Purposes."

Merger Consideration

The consideration to be paid to rStar's unaffiliated public stockholders pursuant to the short-form merger will be $0.60 per share in cash, which represents a $0.06 (approximately 11.1%) per share premium over the last sale price per share of $0.54 on December 3, 2003, the date prior to the date on which the stock purchase agreement was executed and the date of the first public announcement of the execution of the stock purchase agreement.

Tax Consequences

Generally, the consideration received in the short-form merger will be taxable for United States federal income tax purposes. You will recognize taxable gain or loss in the amount of the difference between $0.60 and your adjusted tax basis for each share of rStar common stock that you own at the time of the short-form merger. See "Special Factors - Certain Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Going-Private Transaction" in this transaction statement.

No Stockholder Vote

As the owner of over 90% of rStar's outstanding shares after the consummation of the negotiated purchase, we will be entitled to effect the short-form merger through the acquisition subsidiary by resolution of its board of directors and without any vote of rStar's stockholders, as permitted by Section 253 of the DGCL. See "Special Factors - Fairness of the Going-Private Transaction" and Item 4, "Terms of the Transaction" in this transaction statement.

Surrender of Certificates and Payment for Shares

You will be paid for your shares of rStar common stock promptly after the effective date of the short-form merger. Instructions for surrendering your stock certificates will be set forth in a Notice of Merger and Appraisal Rights and a Letter of Transmittal, which will be mailed to stockholders of record of rStar within 10 calendar days following the date the short-form merger becomes effective and should be read carefully. Please do not submit your stock certificates before you have received these documents. Sending the acquisition subsidiary your stock certificates with a properly signed Letter of Transmittal will waive your appraisal rights described below. See Item 4, "Terms of the Transaction" in this transaction statement.

Source and Amount of Funds

The total amount of funds required by the acquisition subsidiary to pay the merger consideration to the unaffiliated public stockholders of rStar, and to pay related fees and expenses is estimated to be approximately $4.9 million, in addition to payment of approximately $5.8 million for the shares to be acquired in connection with the negotiated purchase. The acquisition subsidiary plans to fund the purchase price with cash from us that is not subject to any financing condition. See Item 10, "Source and Amount of Funds or Other Consideration" in this transaction statement.

Fairness of the Going-Private Transaction

Gilat's Position on the Fairness of the Going-Private Transaction

Gilat has determined that the going-private transaction is both substantively and procedurally fair to the unaffiliated public stockholders. This belief is based on the following factors:

Gilat believes that the $0.60 per share consideration to be paid for shares of rStar common stock is fair to the unaffiliated public shareholders because, among other reasons, the going-private transaction represents an opportunity for the unaffiliated public stockholders to receive cash for each share of rStar common stock, not subject to any financing condition, at a premium to the current trading price for the rStar common stock (the last sale price for a share of rStar common stock was $0.54 on December 3, 2003, the date prior to the date on which the stock purchase agreement was executed and the date of the first public announcement of the execution of the stock purchase agreement).

Gilat believes that the $0.60 per share consideration to be paid for shares of rStar common stock is fair to the unaffiliated public shareholders because, among other reasons, such consideration substantially exceeds the per share book value of each share of rStar common stock, which, based on the most recent unaudited balance sheets of rStar, was approximately $0.19 at September 30, 2003.

Gilat believes that the $0.60 per share consideration to be paid for shares of rStar common stock is fair to the unaffiliated public shareholders because, among other reasons, a valuation analysis of rStar performed by Gilat management resulted in a valuation of below $0.60 per rStar share on both a going concern and a liquidation basis.

Gilat believes that the $0.60 per share consideration to be paid for shares of rStar common stock is fair to the unaffiliated public shareholders because, among other reasons, we do not believe that unaffiliated public stockholders could rely on liquidity of their investment from a sale of the business occurring in the foreseeable future. Prior to the consummation of the purchase pursuant to the stock purchase agreement, Gilat owned approximately 84.9% of the issued and outstanding rStar shares, and had no present intention to liquidate its position in rStar. In addition, even if Gilat was prepared to sell its position in rStar, since most of rStar's business is generated by Gilat, it is not likely that a meaningful sale price could be otherwise achieved.

Gilat believes that the $0.60 per share consideration to be paid for shares of rStar common stock is fair to the unaffiliated public shareholders because, among other reasons, we believe that even if the special distribution was payable to rStar stockholders (other than Gilat) in accordance with the terms of rStar's certificate of incorporation (which special distribution could be up to a maximum of $5 million (or approximately $0.32 per share)), any such payment would only arise because of significant weakness in rStar's results of operation and financial performance. Gilat believes that any such weakness would adversely impact the trading price for rStar's common stock.

Gilat believes that the $0.60 per share consideration to be paid for shares of rStar common stock is fair to the unaffiliated public shareholders because, among other reasons, rStar currently owes Gilat and its affiliates in excess of $20 million. A portion of that debt represents obligations owed by Starband Latin America (Holland) B.V. to Gilat at the time that rStar acquired StarBand Latin America (Holland) B.V. from Gilat in August 2002. That amount, as well as additional amounts incurred since that time, was incurred by rStar and its subsidiaries as Gilat advanced funds to rStar and its subsidiaries in order to enable them to acquire equipment and finance and manage the cost of certain on-going projects. Since September 2002, Gilat has deferred and extended the timing of the repayment of such amounts. Gilat is under no obligation to continue to defer such payments. Without Gilat's agreement to continue to defer such payments, rStar could face a liquidity crisis.

Gilat believes that the $0.60 per share consideration to be paid for shares of rStar common stock is fair to shareholders because, among other reasons, the unaffiliated public stockholders of rStar are entitled to exercise appraisal rights and demand "fair value" for their shares as determined by the Delaware Court of Chancery, which may be determined to be more or less than the cash consideration offered in the short-form merger.

See Special Factors - Fairness of the Going-Private Transaction.

Appraisal Rights

You have a statutory right to dissent from the short-form merger and demand payment of the fair value of your rStar common stock as determined in a judicial appraisal proceeding in accordance with Section 262 of the DGCL, plus a fair rate of interest, if any, from the date of the consummation of the short-form merger. This value may be more or less than the $0.60 per share in cash merger consideration. In order to qualify for these rights, you must make a written demand for appraisal within 20 days after the date of mailing of the Notice of Merger and Appraisal Rights and otherwise comply with the procedures for exercising appraisal rights set forth in the DGCL. The statutory right of dissent is set out in Section 262 of the DGCL and is complicated. Any failure to comply with its terms will result in an irrevocable loss of such right. Stockholders seeking to exercise their statutory right of dissent are encouraged to seek advice from legal counsel. See Item 4(d), "Terms of the Transaction - Appraisal rights," in this transaction statement.

Consequences of the Going-Private Transaction

Effects of the Going-Private Transaction

Completion of the going-private transaction will have the following consequences:

The acquisition subsidiary will merge with and into rStar resulting in a single, wholly-owned subsidiary of Gilat.

Only Gilat will have the opportunity to participate in the future earnings and growth, if any, of rStar's operations. Additionally, only Gilat will face the risk of losses generated by rStar's operations or the decline in value of rStar after the short-form merger.

rStar will no longer be subject to the reporting and other disclosure obligations of the Exchange Act, including requirements to file annual and other periodic reports or to provide the type of going private disclosure contained in this transaction statement.

rStar will no longer incur the costs associated with being a public company, including legal, audit and other fees.

Subject to the exercise of statutory appraisal rights, each of your shares of rStar common stock will be converted into the right to receive $0.60 in cash, without interest.

You will no longer be entitled to receive any special distribution (as defined in rStar's certificate of incorporation) which, pursuant to the terms of rStar's certificate of incorporation and but for the going-private transaction, would be payable to each holder of rStar shares (other than Gilat) in the event that, for the twelve months ended June 30, 2004 rStar's Starband Latin America business does not exceed certain specified net income targets. If payable, the maximum amount of that distribution would be $5 million in the aggregate or approximately $0.32 per share (including the shares which are the subject of the negotiated transaction).

See Special Factors - Purposes, Alternatives, Reasons and Effects of the Going-Private Transaction - Effects.

SPECIAL FACTORS

PURPOSES, ALTERNATIVES, REASONS AND EFFECTS OF THE GOING-PRIVATE TRANSACTION

Purposes

The purpose of the going-private transaction is for Gilat to acquire the minority public interest in rStar thereby allowing Gilat to terminate rStar's registration under the Exchange Act. Gilat believes that, from rStar's perspective, the going-private transaction is desirable because it will relieve rStar of the substantial costs of remaining a public company with reporting requirements. The direct and indirect costs associated with rStar's compliance with the filing and reporting requirements of the Exchange Act have a material adverse effect on rStar's financial performance and the various costs associated with remaining a public company are expected to increase as a result of recent legislative and regulatory initiatives to improve corporate governance. Gilat believes that, from rStar's perspective, such costs create a burden that adversely impacts rStar's ability to efficiently and profitably operate its business.

Gilat estimates that rStar spent approximately $1,000,000 for the period from January 1, 2003 through September 30, 2003, in costs related to being a public company, a significant portion of which can be attributed to securing directors' and officers' insurance (approximately $870,000 on an annual basis); fees related to filings with the SEC and NASDAQ (approximately $100,000 on an annual basis); legal fees payable to outside legal counsel (approximately $125,000 on an annual basis); and fees paid for audit services and audit related services (approximately $120,000 on an annual basis). Gilat estimates that the costs incurred by rStar for similar services during the period from January 1, 2003 through September 30, 2003 would have been approximately $80,000 if rStar had been a private company during that time period. Gilat estimates the costs of rStar being a public company, including complying with the reporting requirements, will total approximately $1,350,000 in fiscal year 2004. Gilat estimates that the costs incurred by rStar for similar services will be approximately 105,000 annually, once the termination of the registration becomes effective.

Gilat believes the savings for rStar will result from the elimination of NASDAQ stock market fees, press release expenses and certain legal fees, as well as a significant reduction in audit fees, independent directors' compensation, officers and directors liability insurance, tax compliance, printing and mailing costs, filing fees, stock transfer agent expenses and other direct expenses associated with the required SEC filings which are all currently incurred by rStar annually.

To Gilat's knowledge, rStar has no present intention or, in its judgment, any current or foreseeable ability to raise capital through sales of securities in a public offering or to acquire other business entities using its stock as the consideration for any such acquisition. Therefore, rStar is unlikely to be in a position to take advantage of its current status as a public company for these purposes. Based on rStar's size and resources Gilat does not believe the costs associated with rStar remaining a public company are justified for rStar. Gilat believes that, from rStar's perspective, the costs of rStar remaining a public company are too high and that it would be irresponsible to maintain rStar as a public company in such circumstances. In light of these disproportionate costs, Gilat believes that it is desirable for rStar to eliminate the administrative and financial burden of rStar remaining a public company subject to the reporting requirements of the Exchange Act.

Alternatives

We believe that effecting the going-private transaction by way of a short-form merger of rStar with and into the acquisition subsidiary under Section 253 of the DGCL is the quickest and most cost effective way for us to acquire the outstanding public minority equity interest in rStar. We considered and rejected the alternative of a long-form merger because of the cost and delay of obtaining the approvals of rStar's board of directors and of the unaffiliated public stockholders. We also rejected a tender offer for the rStar common stock held by unaffiliated public stockholders as it entailed additional costs and a subsequent short-form merger could still be required. Gilat also rejected the purchase of the assets of rStar because of the costs, delay and uncertainty associated with such a transaction.

Reasons

In determining whether to effect the going-private transaction, the board of directors of Gilat considered several factors, including:

the financial performance of rStar and current economic conditions generally. Based upon rStar's most recently published financial statements for the quarter ended September 30, 2003, rStar's current liabilities exceed rStar's current assets by more than $6 million. Accordingly, rStar does not have sufficient resources to fund its current liabilities. A substantial portion of those liabilities are made up of obligations from rStar to Gilat and its affiliates. Since September 2002, Gilat has deferred and extended the timing of such payments. Gilat is under no obligation to continue to defer such payments. We believe that from rStar's perspective, without Gilat's agreement to continue to defer such payments, rStar could face a liquidity crisis;

the fact that the proposed merger consideration to be paid to the holders of rStar common stock (other than shares held by Gilat and the unaffiliated public stockholders, if any, who properly exercise their dissenters' statutory appraisal rights under the DGCL) represented a $0.06 per share premium over the last sale price per share of $0.54 on December 3, 2003, the date prior to the date on which the stock purchase agreement was executed and the date of the first public announcement of the execution of the stock purchase agreement;

the elimination of additional burdens on management associated with public reporting and other tasks resulting from rStar's public company status, including, for example, the dedication of time and resources of rStar's management and board of directors to stockholder, investor and public relations;

the decrease in costs, particularly those associated with being a public company (for example, as a privately-held entity, rStar would no longer be required to file quarterly, annual or other periodic reports with the SEC or publish and distribute to its stockholders annual reports and proxy statements), that Gilat's board of directors anticipates could result in significant savings, including fees for an audit by an independent accounting firm and legal fees;

the greater flexibility that rStar's management would have to focus on long-term business goals, particularly in light of the potential volatility in rStar's quarterly earnings; and recent public capital market trends affecting small-cap companies, including perceived lack of interest by institutional investors in companies with a limited public float.

a valuation analysis of rStar performed by Gilat based upon certain customary valuation methodologies, resulted in a valuation of below $0.60 per rStar share.

Our board of directors also considered the advantages and disadvantages of leaving rStar as a majority-owned, public subsidiary. In the view of Gilat, the principal advantage of leaving rStar as a majority-owned, public subsidiary would be the ability of Gilat to invest for other purposes the cash that would otherwise be required to buy the minority stockholder interest in rStar. The disadvantages of leaving rStar as a majority-owned, public subsidiary which was considered by Gilat included the inability to achieve many of the benefits discussed above. We concluded that the advantages of leaving rStar as a majority-owned, public subsidiary were significantly outweighed by the disadvantages of doing so, and accordingly that alternative was rejected.

We determined to effect the going-private transaction at this time (i.e., as promptly as practicable after acquiring beneficial ownership of greater than 90% of the shares of rStar common stock) because we wish to immediately realize the benefits of taking rStar private. We were not able to effect a transaction like the going-private transaction before acquiring a significant equity interest in rStar including the prospective purchase of 9,672,031 shares of rStar common stock in the negotiated purchase described above. The value of rStar was not a significant factor in the timing of our decision to propose the going-private transaction.

The first step in the going-private transaction was the negotiation and execution of the stock purchase agreement. The second step in the going-private transaction is structured as a short-form merger under Section 253 of the DGCL. This form of merger allows the unaffiliated public stockholders to receive cash for their shares of rStar common stock quickly and allows us to merge rStar with and into the acquisition subsidiary without any action by the board of directors of rStar or the unaffiliated public stockholders.

Effects

General. Upon completion of the going-private transaction, we will have complete control over the conduct of rStar's businesses and assets. In addition, we will receive the benefit of the right to participate in any future increases in the value of rStar's business, and we will bear the complete risk of any losses incurred in the operation of rStar's business and any decrease in the value of rStar's business. Once the short-form merger is completed, the unaffiliated public stockholders will no longer be able to benefit from a sale of rStar to a third party. From rStar's perspective, after the going-private transaction, rStar's operations and management will be under the exclusive control of Gilat as its 100% parent.

It is expected that immediately following the negotiated purchase and prior to the short-form merger we will own approximately 94.2% of the outstanding rStar common stock.

Stockholders other than Gilat. Upon completion of the short-form merger, the unaffiliated public stockholders will no longer have any interest in, and will not be stockholders of, rStar and therefore would not participate in rStar's future earnings and potential growth and would no longer bear the risk of any decreases in the value of rStar. In addition, the unaffiliated public stockholders would not share in any distribution of proceeds after any sales of businesses of rStar, whether contemplated at the time of the short-form merger or thereafter. See Item 6(c), Purposes of the Transaction and Plans or Proposals - Plans. All of the unaffiliated public stockholders' other indicia of stock ownership, such as the rights to vote on certain corporate decisions, to elect directors, to receive distributions upon the liquidation of rStar and to receive appraisal rights upon certain mergers or consolidations of rStar (unless such appraisal rights are perfected in connection with the short-form merger), as well as the benefit of potential increases in the value of a public stockholder's holdings in rStar based on any improvements in rStar's future performance, will be extinguished upon completion of the short-form merger.

In addition, upon completion of the short-form merger, the unaffiliated public stockholders will no longer be entitled to receive any of the special distribution provided for in rStar's certificate of incorporation. Pursuant to the terms of rStar's certificate of incorporation adopted in connection with August 2002 acquisition by rStar of the Starband Latin America business from Gilat, rStar agreed that it would pay a special distribution to its stockholders (other than Gilat) if the Starband Latin America business did not achieve certain earnings targets for either one or both of the years ended June 30, 2003 and June 30, 2004. The earnings targets were satisfied for the year ended June 30, 2003 and, as a result, no special distribution was payable with respect to the period then ended. However, in the event that the net income (as defined in rStar's certificate of incorporation) of the Starband Latin America business for the period from July 1, 2003 through June 30, 2004 is less than or equal to $11.0 million, the special distribution would be $5.0 million (or approximately $0.32 per rStar share (other than those held by Gilat) including those which are the subject of the negotiated purchase) and if the net income for the Starband Latin America business for the period from July 1, 2003 through June 30, 2004 is greater than $11.0 million and less than or equal to $16.5 million, the special distribution would be $2.5 million (or approximately $0.16 per rStar share (other than those held by Gilat) including those which are the subject of the negotiated purchase). If the applicable net income for the Starband Latin America Business for the period from July 1, 2003 through June 30, 2004 is greater than $16.5 million, there would be no special distribution. As a result, in addition to no longer participating in the earnings and profits of rStar, unaffiliated public stockholders will not longer benefit from the downside protection provided by the terms of the special distribution.

Upon completion of the short-form merger, the unaffiliated public stockholders will also not bear the risks of potential decreases in the value of their holdings in rStar based on any downturns in rStar's future performance. Instead, the unaffiliated public stockholders will have liquidity in the form of the merger consideration in place of an ongoing equity interest in rStar in the form of the shares of rStar common stock. In summary, if the short-form merger is completed, the unaffiliated public stockholders will have no ongoing rights as stockholders of rStar other than statutory appraisal rights in the case of unaffiliated public stockholders who are entitled to and perfect these rights under Delaware law.

The shares of rStar Common Stock. If the short-form merger is consummated, public trading of the shares of rStar Common Stock will cease. Gilat intends to delist the rStar common stock from the Nasdaq SmallCap Market and to deregister the rStar common stock under the Exchange Act. As a result, rStar will no longer be required under the federal securities laws to file reports with the SEC and will no longer be subject to the proxy rules under the Exchange Act. In addition, the principal stockholders of rStar will no longer be subject to reporting their ownership of shares of rStar common stock under Section 16 of the Exchange Act or to the requirement under Section 16 of the Exchange Act to disgorge to rStar certain profits from the purchase and sale of shares of rStar common stock.

Treatment of options and warrants. Pursuant to the terms of the short-form merger, all vested options to purchase rStar common stock will be converted into the right to receive the short-form merger consideration of $0.60 per share. In accordance with the terms of their option agreements, the unvested options held by Samer Salameh (rStar's Chief Executive Officer), and each of rStar's directors will lapse upon consummation of the short-form merger. Upon exercise of options, each holder will receive the difference between the exercise price of its options and $0.60 per option share. All warrants to purchase rStar common stock will remain outstanding after the short-form merger in accordance with their terms.

CERTAIN FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES OF THE GOING-PRIVATE TRANSACTION

The following is a general summary of the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the going-private transaction to beneficial owners of shares of rStar Common Stock. This summary is based upon the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code), applicable treasury regulations thereunder, judicial decisions and current administrative rulings as in effect on the date of this Schedule 13E-3. The discussion does not address all aspects of U.S. federal income taxation that may be relevant to particular taxpayers in light of their personal circumstances or to taxpayers subject to special treatment under the Code (for example, financial institutions, real estate investment trusts, regulated investment companies, brokers, dealers or traders in securities or foreign currencies, life insurance companies, foreign corporations, foreign partnerships, foreign estates or trusts, or individuals who are not citizens or residents of the United States and beneficial owners whose shares of rStar Common Stock were acquired pursuant to the exercise of warrants, employee stock options or otherwise as compensation) and does not address any aspect of state, local, foreign or other taxation.

The receipt of cash by a stockholder, pursuant to the short-form merger or pursuant to the exercise of the stockholder's statutory appraisal rights, will be a taxable transaction for U.S. federal income tax purposes and may also be taxable for state and local income tax purposes as well. Accordingly, a stockholder whose shares of rStar common stock are converted, pursuant to the short-form merger, into a right to receive cash will recognize gain or loss equal to the difference between (a) the amount of cash that such stockholder receives in the short-form merger and (b) such stockholder's adjusted tax basis in such shares of rStar common stock. Such gain or loss will be capital gain or loss, and generally will be long-term capital gain or loss if at the effective date of the short-form merger the stockholder's holding period for the shares of rStar common stock is more than one year. Holders of shares of rStar common stock should be aware that EquiServe Trust Company, the paying agent, will be required in certain cases to withhold and remit to the United States Treasury 31% of amounts payable in the short-form merger to any stockholder that (1) has provided either an incorrect tax identification number or no number at all, (2) is subject to backup withholding by the Internal Revenue Service for failure to report the receipt of interest or dividend income properly, or (3) has failed to certify to the paying agent that such stockholder is not subject to backup withholding or that such stockholder is an Exempt Recipient. Backup withholding is not an additional tax, but rather may be credited against the taxpayer's tax liability for the year.

In general, cash received by unaffiliated public stockholders who exercise statutory appraisal rights in respect of appraisal rights will result in the recognition of gain or loss to the dissenting stockholder. Any such dissenting stockholder should consult with its tax advisor for a full understanding of the tax consequences of the receipt of cash in respect of appraisal rights pursuant to the short-form merger.

Neither the acquisition subsidiary nor rStar expects to recognize any gain, loss or income by reason of the short-form merger.

EACH BENEFICIAL OWNER OF SHARES OF RSTAR COMMON STOCK IS URGED TO CONSULT SUCH BENEFICIAL OWNER'S TAX ADVISOR AS TO THE SPECIFIC TAX CONSEQUENCES TO SUCH BENEFICIAL OWNER OF THE SHORT-FORM MERGER, INCLUDING THE APPLICATION OF STATE, LOCAL, FOREIGN AND OTHER TAX LAWS.

FAIRNESS OF THE GOING-PRIVATE TRANSACTION

Fairness. We currently own approximately 84.9% of the outstanding shares of rStar common stock and expect to own approximately 94.2% of the outstanding shares of rStar common stock after the consummation of the negotiated purchase. Thus, we may be deemed an affiliate of rStar under Rule 12b-2 of the Exchange Act. Accordingly, the rules of the SEC require Gilat to express its belief as to the substantive and procedural fairness of the going-private transaction to the unaffiliated stockholders of rStar. In compliance with Rule 13e-3 under the Exchange Act, our board of directors has considered the fairness of the going-private transaction to the unaffiliated public stockholders and unanimously concluded that the going-private transaction is fair to them.

On September 16, 2003, our board of directors considered a proposed plan to acquire the minority stockholder interest in rStar through the going-private transaction. Subsequently, our board of directors then resolved to take rStar private by negotiating the purchase of the shares of certain individual rStar stockholders followed by a short-form merger whereby an acquisition subsidiary of Gilat would acquire for cash, through the short-form merger, all of the shares of rStar common stock held by the unaffiliated public stockholders. At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors held on December 17, 2003, our board of directors reviewed with Gilat management a valuation analysis Gilat management had prepared of rStar and determined that the $0.60 purchase price in the going-private transaction is fair to the unaffiliated public stockholders.

Factors considered in determining fairness. Our Board of Directors has determined that the going-private transaction is both substantively and procedurally fair to the unaffiliated public stockholders. In coming to that determination, Gilat considered the following material factors:

Net asset value. Based on the most recently available audited and unaudited balance sheets of rStar, the $0.60 purchase price for each share of rStar common stock is significantly in excess of its book value, which is $0.18 per share as of September 30, 2003.

Valuation Analysis Gilat's management prepared a valuation analysis which considered the going-concern value of rStar. Such valuation, which utilized a discounted cash flow approach, concluded that, based upon various assumptions, the fair value of shares of rStar common stock was between $0.32 and $0.47 per share. As part of the valuation analysis, our Board also examined and considered the value of rStar's assets in the event of liquidation and concluded that the liquidation value would be well below the offered purchase price of $0.60 per share.

Cash payment for stock; Financial Condition; Prospects. The going-private transaction represents an opportunity for the unaffiliated public stockholders to realize $0.60 per share in cash for their rStar common stock, which Gilat believes would otherwise be extremely difficult or impossible given the lack of liquidity of the market for shares of rStar common stock. Gilat's management believes it has very good knowledge of rStar's financial condition and prospects, and believes that, without Gilat's continued support, rStar will have limited prospects for growth and profitability in the future. Without such growth and profitability, the trading price for shares of rStar's common stock could be adversely impacted. In that regard, our board considered that, for the past five quarters, Gilat has extended the date for repayment of balances due from rStar to Gilat in order for rStar to continue as a going concern. No additional commitment exists and there is no guarantee that Gilat will continue to provide such an extension. As such, it is unknown for how long rStar will be able to meet its operating cash needs. Such a liquidity crisis could be expected to adversely impact the trading price of rStar's common stock. Likewise, in the event of a liquidity crisis, rStar could be required to raise additional capital through the issuance of shares at a price below $0.60 per share, thereby diluting the interests of current stockholders. Further, as a public company, Gilat's board considered its anticipation that there will be an increased cost to rStar of compliance with the additional requirements on public companies under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 and related SEC regulations, among other expenses of being a public company. Such increased costs could also be expected to adversely impact rStar's financial performance, thereby also adversely impacting on trading price of rStar's common stock.

Current Market Prices, Historical Market Prices; Limited Trading Market and Liquidity. Our board considered the current market prices of rStar's common stock ($0.54 on December 3, 2003). Likewise, our board considered the historical market prices of rStar common stock (which ranged from $0.20 per share to $1.48 per share during the twelve month period preceding the December 4, 2003 announcement of the proposed transaction). In that regard, our board considered the fact that there is a limited trading market and limited liquidity for rStar common stock (the average daily trading volume during the two month period prior to the announcement of the execution of the stock purchase agreement being less than 15,000 shares). Accordingly, Gilat believes that it may be extremely difficult for stockholders to sell significant blocks of rStar common stock without adversely impacting the trading price of the shares. Further, our board considered that, given the limited trading market for shares of rStar common stock, the historical market price (which may result from the sale of a very small number of shares on any given day) may not adequately reflect the fair value thereof.

Limited Public Company Benefits. rStar has not been able to realize many of the benefits that result from being a publicly traded company, including equity research coverage or access to the capital markets, as a result of the extremely limited liquidity and low trading price of its common stock. Gilat believes that such factors have and will continue to adversely impact the trading price of shares of rStar's common stock.

Negotiations between Gilat and the stockholders who are party to the Stock Purchase Agreement. The $0.60 per share purchase price was agreed to by the stockholders who are party to the Stock Purchase Agreement (each of whom are former officers and directors of rStar) following negotiations between Gilat and such shareholders. Such negotiations were conducted on an arm's-length basis with such shareholders seeking to maximum the purchase price they could reasonably be expected to receive for their shares of rStar common stock.

Previous Purchases. Our board considered the fact that in August 2002, Gilat acquired shares of rStar common stock in consideration for the purchase by rStar of the Starband Latin America business from Gilat at a price of $2.32 per share. Likewise, in August 2002, Gilat acquired shares of rStar common stock at a price of $2.32 per share in connection with a joint tender offer by Gilat and rStar for shares of rStar common stock. In that regard, the board of Gilat considered the fact that the price paid by Gilat in connection with those purchases, which occurred as part of a series of transactions which commenced nearly three years ago, reflected the market price for shares of rStar common stock at that time and the fact that, immediately following the consummation of those transactions the market price for shares of rStar common stock fell below the $0.60 purchase price.

Appraisal rights. Gilat recognizes that state law provides unaffiliated public stockholders with an opportunity to secure fair value if they are able to convince a court that they are not receiving fair value pursuant to the short-form merger. The unaffiliated public stockholders are entitled to exercise appraisal rights and demand fair value for their shares of rStar common stock as determined by the Delaware Court of Chancery, which may be determined to be more or less than the cash consideration offered in the short-form merger.

Factors not considered in determining fairness. Gilat did not consider the following factors to be material in determining the fairness of the going-private transaction:

Firm Offers. Gilat is not aware of any firm offers to purchase rStar that have been made during the past two years by any unaffiliated person.

Merger, Sale or Other Transfer of Assets. rStar has not engaged in a merger or consolidation with another company or in the sale or other transfer of a substantial part of its assets in the last two years.

Securities Purchases. Given Gilat's ownership position in rStar, there have not been any purchases of rStar common stock that would enable the purchaser to exercise control of rStar.

In order to evaluate and reach conclusions in connection with the factors discussed above, we conducted the following analyses:

Financial analysis. In considering the fairness of the going-private transaction from a financial point of view to rStar's unaffiliated public stockholders, our board of directors reviewed, and relied in part upon, prior earnings histories, current liquidity and the sources of future liquidity and current financial demands from creditors. In addition, Gilat's management prepared a valuation analysis which considered the going-concern value of rStar. Such valuation, which utilized a discounted cash flow approach, concluded that, based upon various assumptions, the fair value of shares of rStar common stock was between $0.32 and $0.47 per share. As part of the valuation analysis, our Board also examined and considered the value of rStar's assets in the event of liquidation and concluded that the liquidation value would be well below the offered purchase price of $0.60 per share.

Information concerning the financial performance, condition, business operations and prospects of rStar. In considering the fairness of the going private transaction from a financial point of view to rStar's unaffiliated public stockholders, our board of directors reviewed and considered rStar's current financial condition, financial performance, and growth prospects. Among other factors, our board of directors considered the existence and provisions of the terms of the special distribution and the anticipated results of the Starband Latin America business for the twelve months ended June 30, 2004, as well as the fact that payment of the special distribution, if any, would only result from substantial weakness in rStar's results and financial performance.

The merger consideration of $0.60 per share. Our board of directors considered the historical trading values for shares of rStar common stock (the last sale price for a share of rStar common stock on December 3, 2003, the date of the first public announcement of the stock purchase agreement, was $0.54), and the fact that the proposed merger consideration represents a premium of $0.42 per share over the book value per share of rStar common stock of $0.18 at September 30, 2003. In addition, the going-private transaction would eliminate the exposure of the unaffiliated public stockholders to any future or continued declines in the price of the shares of rStar common stock. See Special Factors - Purposes, Alternatives, Reasons and Effects of the Going-Private Transaction - Effects.

Market Check. Due to the nature of rStar's financial position, relationship with Gilat and business plan, Gilat's board concluded that it was not meaningful or appropriate to evaluate the fairness of the purchase price in comparison to other publicly-traded companies, as it was determined that there are few if any such companies which are comparable to rStar.

In addition, we intend to retain our majority holdings in rStar, and we do not intend to seek a buyer for rStar in the foreseeable future. This fact foreclosed the opportunity to consider an alternative transaction with a third party purchaser of rStar or otherwise provide liquidity in the form of a third party offer to the unaffiliated public stockholders. Accordingly, it is unlikely that finding a third party buyer for rStar was a realistic option for the unaffiliated public stockholders. We considered the absence of any third party buyer for rStar to support the fairness of the going-private transaction to the unaffiliated public stockholders because the absence of a third party buyer demonstrated that the proposed short-form merger with the acquisition subsidiary was the only likely source of prompt liquidity for the shares of rStar common stock which was simultaneously available to all of the unaffiliated public stockholders.

Procedural fairness. We also determined that the going-private transaction is procedurally fair to the unaffiliated public stockholders. In reaching this determination, we relied primarily on two factors:

First, before Gilat determined the $0.60 per share purchase price, Gilat engaged in arms-length negotiations with a group of selling holders, who consisted of Messrs. Mortensen (the former chief executive officer of rStar), Arnouse (a former rStar director) and Appelby (a former rStar director). Such negotiations were conducted on an arm's-length basis with those shareholders seeking to maximize the purchase price they could reasonably be expected to receive for their shares of rStar common stock.

Second, Gilat acknowledged that the unaffiliated public shareholders who believe that the terms of the short-form merger are not fair can pursue appraisal rights under Delaware law.

Our board of directors considered appointing a special committee of its members who did not have any interests in rStar in order to determine the fairness to the unaffiliated public stockholders of the proposed going-private transaction. For a further description of these interests, see Schedule I to this transaction statement. However, our board of directors decided not to pursue that option. Our board of directors believed that any special committee that was appointed would need to retain its own independent legal counsel and financial advisors to help the special committee evaluate the fairness of the proposed transaction. Our board of directors also believed that, based on the factors described above in this section, the terms of the going-private transaction are substantively fair to the unaffiliated public stockholders, and the potential financial cost of hiring such advisors and the diversion of management resources that would be caused by the negotiations between the special committee and us would outweigh any benefit that would be derived from the appointment of a special committee. In that regard, our board considered the valuation analysis prepared by Gilat's management which considered the going-concern value of rStar. Such valuation, which utilized a discounted cash flow approach, concluded that, based upon various assumptions, the fair value of shares of rStar common stock was between $0.32 and $0.47 per share. As part of the valuation analysis, our Board also examined and considered the value of rStar's assets in the event of liquidation and concluded that the liquidation value would be well below the offered purchase price of $0.60 per share.

Our board of directors also discussed the absence of the procedural safeguards set forth below under - Certain negative considerations relating to the lack of approval by rStar's unaffiliated public stockholders of the going-private transaction, the absence of an unaffiliated representative to act solely on behalf of rStar's unaffiliated public stockholders and the absence of the approval of the going-private transaction by the board of directors of rStar.

With respect to the lack of approval by the unaffiliated public stockholders of the going-private transaction, our board of directors believed that the absence of this factor was outweighed by the ability of the unaffiliated public stockholders to demand appraisal of the fair value of their shares of rStar common stock if they did not agree that the proposed merger consideration was fair. With respect to the absence of an unaffiliated representative who would have acted solely on behalf of the unaffiliated public stockholders in the going-private transaction, our board of directors believed that the costs of hiring and compensating such a representative, including likely fees for independent legal and financial advisors to the representative, would have outweighed any benefit to the unaffiliated public stockholders of receiving input from the representative.

Similarly, with respect to the absence of the approval by rStar's board of directors of the going-private transaction, our board of directors believed that, had rStar's board of directors been asked to approve the proposed going-private transaction, it would have wanted to hire its own independent legal and financial advisors, which would also have consumed financial resources that rStar did not have to spare.

Certain negative considerations. Our board of directors also considered the following factors, each of which they considered negative, in their deliberations concerning the fairness of the terms of the going-private transaction and its procedural fairness:

Termination of participation in future growth of rStar. Following the successful completion of the going-private transaction, the unaffiliated public stockholders would cease to participate in the future earnings or growth, if any, of rStar or benefit from increases, if any, in the value of their holdings in rStar.

Termination of participation in rights to the special distribution. Following the successful completion of the going-private transaction, the unaffiliated stockholders would cease to be entitled to any special distribution which, pursuant to the terms of rStar's certificate of incorporation and but for the going private transaction, would be payable to each holder of rStar shares (other than Gilat) in the event that, for the twelve months ended June 30, 2004, rStar's Starband Latin America business does not exceed certain specified net income targets. If payable, the maximum amount of that distribution would be $5 million in the aggregate or approximately $0.32 per share (including the shares which are the subject of the negotiated transaction). In that regard, our board of directors considered the fact that failure to satisfy the applicable net income targets would be because of weak financial performance by rStar.

Conflicts of interest. With respect to the determination of the merger consideration, the financial interests of Gilat are adverse to the financial interests of the unaffiliated public stockholders. In addition, officers and directors of rStar have actual or potential conflicts of interest in connection with the going-private transaction. Some of the officers and directors of Gilat are also officers and directors of rStar.

No public stockholder approval. The unaffiliated public stockholders will not have an opportunity to vote on the going-private transaction.

No unaffiliated representative or independent director approval. No special committee of directors of rStar was appointed to evaluate the going-private transaction, nor was an independent representative of rStar or the unaffiliated public stockholders appointed to act solely on behalf of the unaffiliated public stockholders for the purpose of negotiating the terms of the going-private transaction or preparing a report concerning the fairness of the going-private transaction. In addition, the board of directors of rStar did not vote on the going-private transaction.

After having given these additional factors due consideration, we have concluded that none of these factors, alone or in the aggregate, is significant enough to outweigh the factors and analyses that we considered to support our belief that the going-private transaction is substantively and procedurally fair to the unaffiliated public stockholders.

In view of the number and wide variety of factors considered in connection with making a determination as to the fairness of the going-private transaction to the unaffiliated public stockholders, and the complexity of these matters, we did not find it practicable to, nor did we attempt to, quantify, rank or otherwise assign relative weights to the specific factors we considered. Moreover, we have not undertaken to make any specific determination or assign any particular weight to any single factor, but have conducted an overall analysis of the factors described above.

We have not considered any factors, other than as stated above, regarding the fairness of the going-private transaction to the unaffiliated public stockholders, as it is our view that the factors considered provided a reasonable basis to form our belief.

Our board of directors did not consider shopping rStar to prospective buyers. Shopping rStar would not only entail substantial time delays and allocation of management's time and energy, but would also disrupt and discourage rStar's employees and create uncertainty among rStar's customers and business associates. Furthermore, we do not intend to sell rStar, but rather we intend to continue to operate rStar as part of our business, which precluded the board of directors of rStar from shopping rStar. Prior to the consummation of the purchase pursuant to the stock purchase agreement, Gilat owned approximately 84.9% of the issued and outstanding rStar shares, and has no present intention to liquidate its position in rStar. Since most of rStar's business is generated by Gilat, it is not likely that a meaningful sale price could be otherwise achieved.

Recent purchases of shares of rStar Common Stock by Gilat.

The negotiated purchase. On December 4, 2003, we entered into an agreement, which was deemed effective as of November 25, 2003, to purchase 9,672,031 shares of rStar Common Stock from Lance Mortensen, the former chief executive officer of rStar, Michael Arnouse, a former director of rStar, and Charles Appleby, a former director of rStar, and/or entities controlled by them. Each of Messrs. Mortensen, Appleby and Arnouse resigned all of their positions with rStar in August 2002. These shareholders will receive cash consideration of $0.60 per share of rStar common stock held by them in the negotiated purchase, subject to adjustment if Gilat pays a higher price per share to other rStar stockholders. Pursuant to this agreement, the selling stockholders have agreed, and have agreed to cause their affiliates:

pending the short-form merger, to vote all rStar common stock in the same manner as us, including with respect to the going-private transaction;

pending the short-form merger, not to acquire or sell any shares of rStar common stock; and to release us and our affiliates from any claims which he or his affiliates may have against them and us.

Pursuant to the stock purchase agreement, Gilat has agreed to use commercially reasonable efforts to consummate the short-form merger no later than 30 days after the consummation of the stock purchase, subject to its obligations under Rule 13E-3. The closing of the transactions contemplated by the stock purchase agreement is subject to customary conditions, including the final disposition of all comments of the SEC on this transaction statement. A copy of the stock purchase agreement is attached to this transaction statement as Exhibit (d)(1).

In addition to the negotiated purchase agreement, Gilat and Messrs. Mortensen, Arnouse and Appleby entered into a release agreement pursuant to which Messrs. Mortensen, Arnouse and Appleby agreed to waive Gilat's obligations (undertaken pursuant to the acquisition agreement for the StarBand Latin America business) to cause rStar to maintain certain agreed upon levels of directors' and officers' liability insurance coverage. A copy of the release agreement is attached to this transaction statement as Exhibit (d)(2). This obligation through August 2005, is a major financial burden to rStar, costing more than $820,000 annually. In consideration for such release and in lieu of rStar continuing to provide insurance coverage to Messrs. Mortensen, Arnouse and Appleby, Gilat agreed to a payment of $950,000.

The StarBand Latin America Acquisition. In addition, effective on August 2, 2002, rStar consummated the acquisition of the StarBand Latin America business from Gilat in exchange for 43,103,448 shares of rStar Common Stock. At the annual meeting of rStar stockholders, held on April 30, 2002, rStar stockholders approved the StarBand Latin America Acquisition, and other related matters. In accordance with the terms of the second amended and restated acquisition agreement among Gilat To Home Latin America (Holland) N.V., rStar and Gilat dated as of December 31, 2001, rStar acquired the StarBand Latin America business from Gilat. The StarBand Latin America business currently operates satellite-based rural telephony networks in certain Latin American countries, as well as high-speed consumer Internet access pilot networks in certain other countries.

The exchange offer. In addition to the StarBand Latin America acquisition, on August 2, 2002, rStar and Gilat acquired 6,315,789 shares of rStar common stock as part of an exchange offer of rStar share for cash and Gilat shares. As a result of the StarBand Latin America Acquisition and the exchange offer, Gilat's beneficial ownership of the outstanding rStar shares increased from approximately 65.5% of outstanding rStar common stock to approximately 84.9%. For each share of rStar Common Stock tendered in the exchange offer participating stockholders received 0.0738 of a Gilat ordinary share (a value of $0.09 based upon the last reported closing price for the Gilat ordinary shares on the Nasdaq National Market on June 24, 2002) and cash consideration of $1.58. This calculation was made prior to Gilat's 1 for 20 reverse stock split of its ordinary shares.

Approval of rStar stockholders. Because the going-private transactions is structured as a short-form merger under Section 253 of the DGCL, it does not require approval by rStar's unaffiliated public stockholders.

Unaffiliated representative. No directors have been appointed to the rStar board of directors who are not employed by rStar to comprise a special committee of independent directors nor has a representative not affiliated with rStar been retained to act solely on behalf of the unaffiliated public stockholders for purposes of negotiating the terms of the going-private transaction or preparing a report concerning the fairness of the going-private transaction.

Approval of the board of directors of rStar. Because the going-private transaction is structured as a short-form merger under Section 253 of the DGCL, it does not require approval by the board of directors of rStar.

REPORTS, OPINIONS, APPRAISALS AND NEGOTIATIONS

Report, opinion or appraisal

We did not engage any third parties to perform any financial analysis of, or prepare any reports, opinions or appraisals concerning, the going-private transaction or value of the rStar common stock and, accordingly, we have not received any report, opinion or appraisal from an outside party relating to the fairness of the merger consideration being offered to the unaffiliated public stockholders or the fairness of the going-private transaction to rStar or to its unaffiliated public stockholders.

As part of its analysis, Gilat management had discussions with members of management of rStar with respect to its financial condition, the past and current business operations of rStar, the financial condition and future prospects and operations of rStar and other matters believed necessary or appropriate to Gilat management's inquiry. In addition, Gilat management reviewed other financial studies and analyses and considered such other information as Gilat management deemed appropriate for the purposes of its financial analyses.

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis

Gilat management conducted a discounted cash flow analysis for the purpose of determining the equity value per share. Gilat management calculated the net cash flows that rStar is expected to generate during fiscal years 2004 through 2008 based upon financial projections prepared by Gilat management after discussions with the management of rStar. Based on this analysis, Gilat management concluded that the estimated present value of the shares was between $0.32 and $0.47 per share, below $0.60 per share purchase price. Gilat management also applied a range of multiples derived from rStar's financial projections and arrived at equity values for the shares of below $0.60.

As described above, Gilat management's financial analysis was only one of many factors considered by the Gilat board in their determination that the terms of the merger are fair to the unaffiliated public stockholders and should not be viewed as determinative of the views of the Gilat board with respect to the value of rStar.

These shareholders will receive cash consideration of $0.60 per share of rStar common stock held by them in the negotiated purchase, subject to adjustment if Gilat pays a higher price per share to other rStar stockholders. Pursuant to this agreement, Messrs. Mortensen, Arnouse and Appleby have agreed, and have agreed to cause certain of their respective affiliates:

pending the short-form merger, to vote all rStar common stock in the same manner as us, including with respect to the going-private transaction;

pending the short-form merger, not to acquire or sell any shares of rStar common stock; and release us and our affiliates from any claims which he or his affiliates may have against them.

Pursuant to the stock purchase agreement, Gilat has agreed to use commercially reasonable efforts to consummate the short-form merger no later than 30 days after the consummation of the stock purchase, subject to its obligations under Rule 13e-3. The closing of the transactions contemplated by the stock purchase agreement is subject to customary conditions, including the final disposition of all comments of the SEC on this transaction statement. A copy of the stock purchase agreement is attached to this transaction statement as Exhibit (d)(1).

As part of the negotiated purchase, Gilat and Messrs. Mortensen, Arnouse and Appleby entered into a release agreement pursuant to which Messrs. Mortensen, Arnouse and Appleby agreed to waive Gilat's obligations (undertaken pursuant to the acquisition agreement for the StarBand Latin America business) to cause rStar to maintain certain agreed upon levels of directors' and officers' liability insurance coverage. This obligation through August 2005 is a major financial burden to rStar, costing more than $820,000 annually. In consideration for such release and in lieu of rStar continuing to provide insurance coverage to Messrs. Mortensen, Arnouse and Appleby, Gilat agreed to a payment of $950,000. A copy of the release agreement is attached to this transaction statement as Exhibit (d)(2).

Also as described above in the Section entitled "Fairness of the Going Private Transaction - Recent purchases of shares of rStar common stock by Gilat", effective on August 2, 2002, rStar consummated the acquisition of the StarBand Latin America business from Gilat in exchange for 43,103,448 shares of rStar Common Stock. At the annual meeting of rStar stockholders, held on April 30, 2002, rStar stockholders approved the StarBand Latin America Acquisition, and other related matters. In accordance with the terms of the second amended and restated acquisition agreement among Gilat To Home Latin America (Holland) N.V., rStar and Gilat dated as of December 31, 2001, rStar acquired the StarBand Latin America business from Gilat. The StarBand Latin America business currently operates satellite-based rural telephony networks in certain Latin American countries, as well as high-speed consumer Internet access pilot networks in certain other countries.

In addition to the StarBand Latin America acquisition, on August 2, 2002, rStar and Gilat acquired 6,315,789 shares of rStar common stock as part of an exchange offer of rStar share for cash and Gilat shares. As a result of the StarBand Latin America Acquisition and the exchange offer, Gilat's beneficial ownership of the outstanding rStar shares increased from approximately 65.5% of outstanding rStar common stock to approximately 84.9%. For each share of rStar Common Stock tendered in the exchange offer participating stockholders received 0.0738 of a Gilat ordinary share (a value of $0.09 based upon the last reported closing price for the Gilat ordinary shares on the Nasdaq National Market on June 24, 2002). and cash consideration of $1.58. This calculation was made prior to Gilat's 1 for 20 reverse stock split of its ordinary shares.

ITEM 4. TERMS OF THE TRANSACTION.

(a) Material terms.

(1) Tender offers. Not applicable.

(2) Mergers or similar transactions.

On December 4, 2003, Gilat entered into a stock purchase agreement, which was deemed effective as of November 25, 2003, to purchase 9,672,031 shares of rStar common stock from 9,672,031 shares of rStar common stock from Lance Mortensen, the former chief executive officer of rStar, Michael Arnouse, a former director of rStar, and Charles Appleby, a former director of rStar, and/or entities controlled by them. These shareholders will receive cash consideration of $0.60 per share of rStar common stock held by them in the negotiated purchase, subject to adjustment if Gilat pays a higher price per share to other rStar stockholders.

Prior to the short-form merger, Gilat and its affiliates will transfer all of the shares of rStar common stock held by them to an acquisition subsidiary. As a result, the acquisition subsidiary will own approximately 94% of the issued and outstanding rStar common stock.

In the short-form merger, rStar will merge with and into the acquisition subsidiary, with rStar being the surviving corporation in the merger. At the effective time of the short-form merger, each share of rStar common stock (other than shares held by the acquisition subsidiary and the unaffiliated public stockholders, if any, who properly exercise their dissenters' statutory appraisal rights under the DGCL) will be converted into the right to receive $0.60, net to the holder in cash and without interest. Pursuant to the terms of the short-form merger, all outstanding options to purchase rStar common stock will be converted into the right to receive the short-form merger consideration of $0.60 per share. Upon exercise of vested options, each holder will receive the difference between the exercise price of its options and $0.60 per option share. In accordance with the terms of their option agreements, the unvested options held by Samer Salameh (rStar's Chief Executive Officer), and each of rStar's directors will lapse upon consummation of the short-form merger. All warrants to purchase rStar common stock will remain outstanding after the short-form merger.

Under the DGCL, because the acquisition subsidiary will hold at least 90% of the outstanding shares of rStar common stock immediately after the consummation of the negotiated purchase and prior to the short-form merger, the acquisition subsidiary will have the power to effect the merger without a vote of the rStar board of directors or the unaffiliated public stockholders. The board of directors of the acquisition subsidiary will approve the short-form merger by board resolution in accordance with Section 253 of the DGCL, and no other vote will be necessary to approve the short-form merger. As a result, neither rStar, nor Gilat nor the acquisition subsidiary is soliciting proxies or consents from the board of directors of rStar or the stockholders of rStar. The reasons for the going-private transaction are set out in Special Factors - Purposes, Alternatives, Reasons and Effects of the Going Private Transaction - Reasons. Certain federal income tax consequences of the going-private transactions are set out in Special Factors - Certain Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Going-Private Transaction.

Edgar Filing: RSTAR CORP - Form SC 13E3/A

Upon completion of the short-form merger, in order to receive the merger consideration of $0.60 per share, each stockholder or a duly authorized representative must (1) deliver a Letter of Transmittal, appropriately completed and executed, to the Equiserv Trust Company N.A., the paying agent, at (a) if by regular mail, EquiServe Corporate Actions, P.O. Box 43014, Providence, RI 02940-3014, (b) if by hand, Securities Transfer & Reporting Services, Inc., c/o Boston EquiServe LP, 100 William St/Galleria, NY, NY 10038 or (c) if by overnight courier, EquiServe Corporate Actions, 150 Royall Street, Canton, MA 02021, and (2) surrender their shares of rStar common stock by delivering the stock certificate or certificates that, prior to the short-form merger, had evidenced those shares to the paying agent, as set forth in a Notice of Merger and Appraisal Rights and Letter of Transmittal, which will be mailed to stockholders of record on the effective date. Stockholders are encouraged to read the Notice of Merger and Appraisal Rights and Letter of Transmittal carefully when received. Delivery of an executed Letter of Transmittal shall constitute a waiver of statutory appraisal rights.

For federal income tax purposes, the receipt of the cash consideration by holders of rStar common stock pursuant to the short-form merger will be a taxable sale of the holder's shares. You will recognize taxable gain or loss in the amount of the difference between $0.60 and your adjusted tax basis for each share of rStar common stock that you own at the time of the short-form merger. See Special Factors - Certain Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Going-Private Transaction.

(b) Different terms. Stockholders of rStar will be treated as described in Item 4(a), Terms of the Transaction - Material terms - Mergers or similar transactions.

(c) Appraisal rights. Holders of rStar common stock who properly perfect their appraisal rights under Section 262 of the DGCL will have the right to seek an appraisal and to be paid the fair value of their shares of rStar common stock at the effective time of the short-form merger. The fair value of the rStar common stock is determined exclusive of any element of value arising from the expectation or accomplishment of the short-form merger.

The following is a brief summary of the statutory procedures to be followed in order for a holder of rStar common stock to dissent from the short-form merger and perfect appraisal rights under Delaware law. This summary is not intended to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to Section 262, the complete text of which is set forth in Exhibit (f) to this transaction statement and is incorporated into this transaction statement by this reference. Any holder of rStar common stock considering demanding appraisal of their shares is advised to consult that stockholder's own independent legal counsel with respect to the availability and perfection of appraisal rights in the short-form merger.

Notice of the effective date of the short-form merger and the availability of appraisal rights under Section 262 will be mailed to record holders of the rStar common stock by rStar, as the surviving corporation in the short-form merger, within 10 calendar days of the effective date of the short-form merger. This merger notice should be reviewed carefully by the stockholders. Any rStar stockholder entitled to appraisal rights will have the right, within 20 days after the date of mailing of the merger notice, to demand in writing from rStar an appraisal of his or her shares. This demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs rStar of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder intends to demand an appraisal of the fair value of his or her shares. Failure to make a timely demand would foreclose a stockholder's right to appraisal.

A demand for appraisal must be executed by or for the stockholder of record, fully and correctly, as the name of the stockholder of record appears on the stock certificates. If shares of rStar common stock are owned of record in a fiduciary capacity, such as by a trustee, guardian or custodian, the demand for appraisal must be executed by the fiduciary. If shares of rStar common stock are owned of record by more than one person, as in a joint tenancy or tenancy in common, the demand must be executed by all joint owners. An authorized agent, including an agent for two or more joint owners, may execute the demand for appraisal for a stockholder of record; provided, however, the agent must identify the record owner and expressly disclose the fact that, in exercising the demand, he or she is acting as an agent for the record owner.

A record owner who holds rStar common stock as a nominee for others, such as a broker, may exercise appraisal rights with respect to the rStar common stock held for all or less than all of the beneficial owners of rStar common stock as to which the nominee holder is the record owner. In such a case, the written demand for appraisal must set forth the number of shares of rStar common stock covered by the demand. Where the number of shares of rStar common stock is not expressly stated, the demand for appraisal will be presumed to cover all shares of rStar common stock outstanding in the name of the record owner. Beneficial owners who are not record owners and who intend to exercise appraisal rights should instruct the record owner to comply strictly with the statutory requirements with respect to the exercise of appraisal rights within 20 days following the mailing of the notice of short-form merger.

Stockholders who elect to exercise appraisal rights must mail or deliver their written demands to: Legal Department, Gilat House, 21 Yegia Kapayim Street, Daniv Park, Kiryat Arye, Petah Tikva, 49130 Israel, or to any other address as is specified in the notice of merger. The written demand for appraisal should specify the stockholder's name and mailing address, the number of shares of rStar common stock covered by the demand and that the stockholder is demanding appraisal of his or her shares.

Edgar Filing: RSTAR CORP - Form SC 13E3/A

Within 120 calendar days after the effective date of the short-form merger, rStar, or any stockholder entitled to appraisal rights under Section 262 and who has complied with the foregoing procedures, may file a petition in the Delaware Court of Chancery demanding a determination of the fair value of the shares of rStar common stock of all stockholders. rStar is not under any obligation, and has no present intention, to file a petition with respect to the appraisal of the fair value of the shares of rStar common stock. Accordingly, it is the obligation of the stockholders to initiate all necessary action to perfect their appraisal rights within the time prescribed in Section 262. If a stockholder files a petition, a copy of the petition must be served on rStar.

Within 120 calendar days after the effective date of the short-form merger, any stockholder of record who has complied with the requirements for exercise of appraisal rights and, if appraisal rights are available, will be entitled, upon written request, to receive from rStar a statement setting forth the aggregate number of shares of rStar common stock with respect to which demands for appraisal have been received and the aggregate number of holders of such shares of rStar common stock. This statement must be mailed within 10 calendar days after a written request therefore has been received by rStar or within 10 calendar days after the expiration of the period for the delivery of demands for appraisal, whichever is later.

In determining fair value, the Delaware Court of Chancery is to take into account all relevant factors. In Weinberger v. UOP, Inc., et al., the Delaware Supreme Court discussed the factors that could be considered in determining fair value in an appraisal proceeding, stating that proof of value by any techniques or methods which are generally considered acceptable in the financial community and otherwise admissible in court should be considered. However, Section 262 provides that fair value is to be determined exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the short-form merger.

Holders of rStar common stock who seek appraisal of their rStar common stock should bear in mind that the fair value of their rStar common stock determined under Section 262 could be more than, the same as, or less than the cash consideration paid for the stock in the short-form merger, and that opinions of investment banking or financial valuation firms as to fairness from a financial point of view are not necessarily opinions as to fair value within the meaning of Section 262. Moreover, rStar, as the corporation surviving the short-form merger, intends to argue in any appraisal proceeding that, for purposes of the appraisal proceeding, the fair value of the rStar common stock, as the case may be, is less than that paid in the short-form merger. The cost of the appraisal proceeding may be determined by the Delaware Court of Chancery and assessed upon the parties as the Delaware Court of Chancery deems equitable in the circumstances. Upon application of a dissenting stockholder, the Delaware Court of Chancery may order that all or a portion of the expenses incurred by any dissenting stockholder in connection with the appraisal proceeding, including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys' fees and the fees and expenses of experts, be charged pro rata against the value of all rStar common stock entitled to appraisal. In the absence of a determination or assessment, each party bears its own expenses.

The Delaware Court of Chancery may require stockholders who have demanded an appraisal and who hold shares of rStar common stock represented by certificates to submit their certificates to the Delaware Court of Chancery for notation thereon of the pendency of the appraisal proceedings. If any stockholder fails to comply with this direction, the court may dismiss the proceedings as to such stockholder.

Any holder of rStar common stock who has duly demanded appraisal in compliance with Section 262 will not be entitled to vote the shares of rStar common stock subject to the demand for any purpose or to receive payment of dividends or other distributions on rStar common stock after the effective time of the short-form merger, except for dividends or other distributions payable to stockholders of record at a date prior to the effective time of the short-form merger.

At any time within 60 days after the effective time of the short-form merger, any former holder of rStar common stock will have the right to withdraw his or her demand for appraisal and to accept the merger consideration paid for shares of rStar common stock in the short-form merger. After this 60-day period, the former holder may withdraw his or her demand for appraisal only with the consent of rStar, as the corporation surviving the merger. If no petition for appraisal is filed with the Delaware Court of Chancery within 120 days after the effective time of the merger, stockholders' rights to appraisal will cease and all stockholders will be entitled to receive the cash consideration paid for the rStar common stock. Inasmuch as rStar has no obligation to file a petition for appraisal, any stockholder who desires a petition for appraisal to be filed is advised to file it on a timely basis. However, no petition timely filed in the Delaware Court of Chancery demanding appraisal will be dismissed as to any stockholder without the approval of the Delaware Court of Chancery, and the approval may be conditioned upon any terms as the Delaware Court of Chancery deems just.

Failure to take any required step in connection with the exercise of appraisal rights may result in the termination or waiver of the appraisal rights.

STOCKHOLDERS ARE URGED TO READ EXHIBIT (F) IN ITS ENTIRETY SINCE FAILURE TO COMPLY WITH THE PROCEDURES SET FORTH THEREIN WILL RESULT IN THE LOSS OF APPRAISAL RIGHTS.

Edgar Filing: RSTAR CORP - Form SC 13E3/A

(d) Provisions for unaffiliated security holders. rStar does not intend to grant unaffiliated stockholders special access to its records in connection with the short-form merger. Neither Gilat nor rStar intends to obtain counsel or appraisal services for unaffiliated stockholders of rStar.

(e) Eligibility for listing or trading. Not applicable.

ITEM 6. PURPOSES OF THE TRANSACTION AND PLANS OR PROPOSALS.

(a) Use of securities acquired. The shares of rStar capital stock will be canceled in the short-form merger.

(b) Plans. It is currently expected that, following the consummation of the short-form merger, the business and operations of rStar will be conducted by us substantially as they are currently being conducted. We intend to continue to evaluate the business and operations of rStar with a view to maximizing its potential, and we will take the actions deemed appropriate under the circumstances and market conditions then existing. We intend to delist the rStar common stock from the Nasdaq SmallCap Market and to cause rStar to terminate the registration of its common stock under Section 12 of the Exchange Act following the short-form merger. This would result in the suspension of rStar's duty to file reports pursuant to the Exchange Act. See "Special Factors - Purposes, Alternatives, Reasons and Effects of the Going-Private Transaction - Effects."

We do not currently have any commitment or agreement, and we are not currently negotiating for the sale of any of rStar's businesses. Except as otherwise described in this transaction statement, as of the date of this transaction statement, we have not approved any specific plans or proposals for:

any extraordinary transaction, such as a merger, reorganization or liquidation, involving rStar or any of its subsidiaries;

any purchase, sale or transfer of a material amount of assets of rStar or any of its subsidiaries;

any material change in the present dividend rate or policy, or indebtedness or capitalization of rStar (except that, as a result of the going-private transaction, rStar will no longer be required to pay the special distribution. See "Summary Terms Sheet Consequences of the Going-Private Transaction Effects of the Going-Private Transaction," "Special Factors Purposes, Alternatives, Reasons and Effects of the Going-Private Transaction Effects," and "Fairness of the Going-Private Transaction Factors considered in determining fairness and Certain negative considerations");

ITEM 10. SOURCE AND AMOUNT OF FUNDS OR OTHER CONSIDERATION.

(a) Source of funds. The total amount of funds required by the acquisition subsidiary to pay the merger consideration to the unaffiliated public stockholders of rStar and to option holders of vested options, and to pay related fees and expenses is estimated to be approximately $4.9 million, in addition to payment of approximately $5.8 million for rStar shares to be purchased in connection with the negotiated purchase. The acquisition subsidiary plans to fund the purchase price with cash from us that is not subject to any financing condition.

(b) Conditions. There are no conditions to financing arrangements for the going-private transaction, and there are no alternative financing arrangements or alternative financing plans.

(c) Expenses. The paying agent will receive reasonable and customary compensation for its services and will be reimbursed for certain reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and will be indemnified against certain liabilities and expenses in connection with the short-form merger, including certain liabilities under U.S. federal securities laws.

Except as described under Item 11(b), Interest in Securities of the Subject Company - Securities transactions, and Item 14, Personal Assets, Retained, Employed, Compensated or Used, we will not pay any fees or commissions to any broker or dealer in connection with the going-private transaction. Brokers, dealers, commercial banks and trust companies will, upon request, be reimbursed by us for customary mailing and handling expenses incurred by them in forwarding materials to their customers.

Filing fees	$	768
Legal fees		125,000
Transfer agent fees		10,000
Printing
mailing costs and other fees		30,000
Total	$	165,768

(d) Borrowed funds. Not applicable.

ITEM 11. INTEREST IN SECURITIES OF THE SUBJECT COMPANY.

(a) Securities ownership. Immediately after the consummation of the negotiated purchase agreement and on the effective date of the short-form merger, Gilat, through the acquisition subsidiary, is expected to be the owner of approximately 98,379,595 shares of rStar common stock, representing approximately 94.2% of the outstanding shares of rStar common stock. Details regarding the beneficial ownership of Gilat's common stock is set forth in Schedule I to this transaction statement.

(b) Securities transactions. On December 4, 2003, we entered into an agreement, which was deemed effective as of November 25, 2003, to purchase 9,672,031 shares of Common Stock from certain stockholders of rStar. These individual shareholders will receive cash consideration of $0.60 per share of rStar common stock held by them in the negotiated purchase, subject to adjustment if Gilat pays a higher price per share to other rStar stockholders.

- (4) The book value per share information, as required, is set forth under the heading Selected Financial Data in the Transaction Statement.

(b) Pro forma information. No pro forma data giving effect to the going-private transaction is provided because Gilat does not believe such information is material to the unaffiliated public shareholders in evaluating the proposed transaction since (1) the consideration for rStar common stock is all cash and (2) if the proposed transaction is completed, rStar's common stock would cease to be publicly traded.

(c) Summary Information. See the information under the heading Selected Financial Data in the Transaction Statement

ITEM 14. PERSONS/ASSETS, RETAINED, EMPLOYED, COMPENSATED OR USED.

(a) Solicitations or recommendations.

IMPORTANT TAX INFORMATION

Under the federal income tax law, a stockholder whose surrendered Certificates are accepted for payment is required by law to provide the Paying Agent (as payer) with his correct TIN on Substitute Form W-9 below. If such stockholder is an individual, the TIN is his social security number. If the Paying Agent is not provided with the correct TIN, the stockholder may be subject to a $50 penalty imposed by the Internal Revenue Service. In addition, payments that are made to such stockholder with respect to the Certificates may be subject to backup withholding.

Certain stockholders (including, among others, all corporations and certain foreign individuals) are not subject to these backup withholding and reporting requirements. In order for a foreign individual to qualify as an exempt recipient, that stockholder must submit a statement, signed under penalties of perjury, attesting to that individual's exempt status. Such statements can be obtained from the Paying Agent. See the enclosed Guidelines for Certification of Taxpayer Identification Number on Substitute Form W-9 for additional instructions.

If backup withholding applies, the Paying Agent is required to withhold 30% of any payments made to the stockholder. Backup withholding is not an additional tax. Rather, the tax liability of persons subject to backup withholding will be reduced by the amount of the tax withheld. If withholding results in an overpayment of taxes, a refund may be obtained from the Internal Revenue Service.

Purpose of Substitute Form W-9

To prevent backup withholding on payments that are made to a stockholder with respect to Certificates surrendered pursuant to the Merger, the stockholder is required to notify the Paying Agent of his correct TIN by completing the form below certifying that the TIN provided on Substitute Form W-9 is correct (or that such stockholder is awaiting a TIN).

What Number to Give the Paying Agent

The stockholder is required to give the Paying Agent the social security number or employee identification number of the record owner of the Certificates. If the Certificates are in more than one name or are not in the name of the actual owner, consult the enclosed Guidelines for Certification of Taxpayer Identification Number on Substitute Form W-9 for additional guidance on which number to report. If the tendering stockholder has not been issued a TIN and has applied for a number or intends to apply for a number in the near future, he or she should write

Applied For in the space provided for the TIN in Part I, and sign and date the Substitute Form W-9. If Applied For is written in Part I and the Paying Agent is not provided with a TIN within 60 days, the Paying Agent will withhold 30% of all payments of the Merger Consideration until a TIN is provided to the Paying Agent.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing premises and the mutual covenants and agreements set forth herein and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties agree as follows:

1. Purchase and Sale of Securities.

(a) Purchase and Sale. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the Purchaser agrees to purchase at the Closing (as defined below) and each Seller agrees to sell at the Closing all of the Purchased Shares held by such Seller for a purchase price of $0.60 per Purchased Share (the Per Share Purchase Price), subject to any adjustment or adjustments pursuant to clauses (d) and (e) below, payable by wire transfer in immediately available funds (the Aggregate Purchase Price) on the Closing Date (as defined below). Subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions set forth in Section 5 hereof, the closing of the purchase and sale of the Purchased Shares (the Closing) shall be held at the offices of Piper Rudnick LLP, 1251 Avenue of the Americas, New York, NY 10020 at 10:00 a.m., local time, on the third business day following the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions set forth in Section 6(c) hereto or at such other place and time upon which the Sellers and the Purchaser shall agree. The date on which the Closing actually occurs, which in no event shall be after the termination date (the Termination Date) of this Agreement pursuant to Section 7 hereof, is herein referred to as the Closing Date.

(b) Closing Deliveries. At the Closing:

(i) each Seller will deliver to the Purchaser certificates representing the Purchased Shares, free and clear of any Encumbrances (as defined below in Section 3(a)), duly endorsed in blank or accompanied by stock powers duly executed in blank; and

(ii) the Purchaser will deliver the Aggregate Purchase Price payable to each Seller to such Seller.

II-17

(c) Effects of Closing. The Purchaser and the Sellers agree that, effective at the Closing:

(i) any options, warrants or other securities convertible into or exchangeable for shares of Common Stock or other capital stock of rStar held by any Seller shall terminate, be canceled and of no further force and effect whatsoever (the Purchased Options); and

(ii) any rights or claims any Seller may have, either directly, derivatively or otherwise, against rStar, the Purchaser or any of its affiliates under or pursuant to the Second Amended and Restated Acquisition Agreement, dated as of December 31, 2001, by and among Gilat To Home Latin America (Holland) N.V., a Dutch corporation, rStar and the Purchaser, as amended, shall terminate, be canceled and of no further force and effect whatsoever.

(d) Per Share Purchase Price Adjustment. The Purchaser agrees that if it consummates any stock purchase or similar agreement, during the period from the Effective Date through and including the date of the consummation of the Going-Private Transaction (but not including any amounts paid to any holder of Common Stock following the consummation of the Going-Private Transaction in accordance with the provisions of Section 262 of the Delaware General Corporation Law) at a per share purchase price for any shares of rStar Common Stock greater than the Per Share Purchase Price under this Agreement (each, a Better Offer Price), the Per Share Purchase Price hereunder shall be adjusted so that each Seller will receive the Better Offer Price; provided, however, that, anything contained in this agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, the foregoing obligation to pay to Best Offer Price to the Sellers shall not apply until the Purchaser acquires or agrees to acquire more than 25,000 shares of Common Stock (in the aggregate) for a price greater than the Per Share Purchase Price. The Per Share Purchase Price to be paid under this Agreement may be adjusted more than once such that the Per Share Purchase Price shall equal the highest Better Offer Price paid by the Purchaser to any rStar stockholder between the Effective Date and the date of the consummation of the Going-Private Transaction. Any such post-Effective Date Per Share Purchase Price adjustment will be made:

(i) if such subsequent stock purchase or similar agreement is consummated on or prior to the Closing Date, automatically and without further action by either party through (A) the deemed amendment of the Per Share Purchase Price to equal the last Better Offer Price and (B) payment of the adjusted Aggregate Purchase Price at Closing subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions to the obligations of the parties to this Agreement; or

(ii) if such subsequent stock purchase or similar agreement is consummated after the Closing Date, through payment of the difference between (A) the Aggregate Purchase Price, adjusted to reflect the Better Offer Price, and (B) the Aggregate Purchase Price previously paid at Closing by wire transfer in immediately available funds within ten business days of the consummation of such subsequent stock purchase or similar agreement.

(e) Additional Per Share Purchase Price Adjustment. If the number of outstanding shares of Common Stock is increased or decreased or the Common Stock is changed into or exchanged for a different number or kind of shares or other securities of rStar by reason of any recapitalization, reclassification, stock split, reverse split, combination of shares, exchange of shares, stock dividend or other distribution payable in capital stock, or other increase or decrease in such shares effected without receipt of consideration by rStar occurring after the date hereof, any shares or other securities so received by the Seller shall constitute Purchased Shares hereunder and a proportionate and appropriate adjustment shall be made by the Purchaser to the Per Share Purchase Price. Any such adjustment shall not change the Aggregate Purchase Price payable by the Purchaser to any Seller hereunder.

2. Representations and Warranties of Purchaser. As a material inducement to each Seller to enter into this Agreement and sell the Purchased Shares hereunder, the Purchaser hereby represents and warrants to each Seller that:

(a) Organization; Etc. The Purchaser (i) is a corporation validly existing and in good standing under the laws of Israel, and (ii) has all requisite corporate power and authority to own, lease and operate its properties and assets and to carry on its business as it is now being conducted.

(b) Authority Relative to this Agreement. The Purchaser has all necessary corporate power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement, to perform its obligations hereunder and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby. The execution and delivery of this Agreement by the Purchaser and the consummation by the Purchaser of the transactions contemplated hereby have been duly and validly authorized by all necessary corporate action, and no other corporate proceedings on the part of the Purchaser are necessary to authorize this Agreement or to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Purchaser and, assuming the due authorization, execution and delivery by the Sellers, constitutes a legal, valid and binding obligation of the Purchaser, enforceable against the Purchaser in accordance with its terms, subject to the effect of any applicable bankruptcy, moratorium, insolvency, reorganization or other similar law affecting the enforceability of creditors' rights generally and to the effect of general principles of equity which may limit the availability of remedies (whether in a proceeding at law or in equity) (the Bankruptcy Exceptions).

(c) Consents and Approvals; No Violations. Neither the execution and delivery of this Agreement by the Purchaser, nor the consummation by the Purchaser of the transactions contemplated hereby will (i) conflict with or result in any breach of any provision of the articles of incorporation or by-laws of the Purchaser, (ii) result in a violation or breach of, or constitute (with or without due notice or lapse of time or both) a default (or give rise to any right of termination, cancellation or acceleration) under, or require any consent under, any indenture, license, contract, agreement or other instrument or obligation to which the Purchaser is a party or by which the Purchaser or any of its properties or assets are bound, (iii) violate any order, writ, injunction, decree or award rendered by any Governmental Entity (as hereinafter defined) or any statute, rule, law, ordinance or regulation (collectively, Laws and, individually, a Law) applicable to the Purchaser or any of its properties or assets, or (iv) require any filing with, or the obtaining of any permit, authorization, consent or approval of, any domestic or foreign, federal, state or local governmental or regulatory authority (a Governmental Entity) or other third party, except as contemplated by Section 6(c). The Purchaser has the full authority and ability to purchase the Purchased Shares, as contemplated by this Agreement, under applicable Law.

3. Representations and Warranties of Seller. As a material inducement to the Purchasers to enter into this Agreement and purchase the Purchased Shares hereunder, each Seller, each with respect to itself only and severally, and not jointly, represents and warrants to the Purchaser

(a) Title; Agreements. The Seller (i) beneficially holds the Purchased Shares set forth on Schedule A, free and clear of any lien, security interest, mortgage, pledge, hypothecation, charge, preemptive right, voting trust, imposition, covenant, condition, right of first refusal, easement or conditional sale or other title retention agreement or other restriction (an Encumbrance), (b) is not a party to any voting trust, proxy or other agreement or understanding with respect to any capital stock of rStar and (c) except for any securities which will be terminated and cancelled in accordance with Section 1(c)(i) above, owns no other, and has no other right to purchase, any capital stock or other securities in rStar. At the Closing, the Purchaser will acquire the Purchased Shares free and clear of any Encumbrance except those arising under applicable securities laws.

(b) Authority Relative to this Agreement. The Seller has the full right, power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and to perform his, her or its obligations hereunder, and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby. The execution and delivery of this Agreement by the Seller, and the consummation by the Seller of the transactions contemplated hereby have been duly authorized by all necessary action and no other proceeding on the part of the Seller is necessary to authorize the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Seller and, assuming the due authorization, execution and delivery by the Purchaser, constitutes a legal, valid and binding obligation of the Seller, enforceable against the Seller in accordance with its terms, subject only to the Bankruptcy Exceptions.

(c) Consents and Approvals; No Violations. Neither the execution and delivery of this Agreement by the Seller, nor the consummation by the Seller of the transactions contemplated hereby will (i) result in a violation or breach of, or constitute (with or without due notice or lapse of time or both) a default (or give rise to any right of termination, cancellation or acceleration) under, or require any consent under, any indenture, license, contract, agreement or other instrument or obligation to which the Seller is a party or by which the Seller or any of its properties or assets are bound, (ii) violate any order, writ, injunction, decree or award rendered by any Governmental Entity or any Law applicable to the Seller or any of its properties or assets, or (iii) require any filing with, or the obtaining of any permit, authorization, consent or approval of, any domestic or Governmental Entity or other third party, except as contemplated by Section 6(c). The Seller has the full authority and ability to sell the Purchased Shares, as contemplated by this Agreement, under applicable Law.

(d) Litigation; Claims. There is no litigation, claim, proceeding or government investigation pending or threatened against the Seller which could reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(e) No Brokers. Neither the Seller nor any person acting on behalf of the Seller has agreed to pay a commission, finder's or investment banking fee, or similar payment in connection with this Agreement or any matter related hereto to any person, nor has any such person taken any action on which a claim for any such payment could be based.

4. Covenants.

(a) Standstill. During the period from the Effective Date through and including the earlier of the Closing Date or the Termination Date, neither Seller nor any of its affiliates will (and neither Seller nor any of its affiliates will assist or encourage others to), directly or indirectly, unless specifically requested to do so in writing in advance by Purchaser's Board of Directors:

(i) acquire or agree, offer, seek or propose to acquire, or cause to be acquired, ownership (including, but not limited to, beneficial ownership as defined in Rule 13d-3 under the Exchange Act of any of rStar's assets (other than in the ordinary course of business) or businesses or any voting securities issued by rStar (including through exercise of the Purchased Options), or any rights or options to acquire such ownership, including from a third party;

(ii) make, or in any way participate, in any solicitation of proxies or consents with respect to any securities of rStar which are, or may be, entitled to vote in the election of rStar's directors (rStar Voting Securities), become a participant in any election contest with respect to rStar; or seek to advise, encourage or influence any person or entity with respect to the voting of any rStar Voting Securities; or demand a copy of rStar's stock ledger, list of its stockholders or other books and records; or call or attempt to call any meeting of the stockholders of rStar;

(iii) make any public announcement with respect to, or submit a proposal for, any extraordinary transaction involving rStar or its securities or assets;

(iv) form, join or in any way participate, directly or indirectly, in a group within the meaning of Section 13(d)(3) of the Exchange Act with respect to any rStar Voting Securities;

(v) otherwise act, alone or in concert with others, directly or indirectly, to seek control of the management, board of directors, or policies of rStar; or

(vi) enter into any negotiations, arrangements or understandings with any third party with respect to any of the matters described in (i) through (v) above.

(b) Voting; Lock-Up.

(i) During the period from the Effective Date through and including the earlier of the Closing Date or the Termination Date, the Seller shall, at any meeting (whether annual or special and whether or not an adjourned or postponed meeting) of the holders of rStar Common Stock, however called, or in connection with any written consent of the holders of rStar Common Stock, with respect to the approval of any matter relating to the Going Private Transaction, vote (or cause to be voted) the Purchased Shares in the same manner as the Gilat Shares are voted.

(ii) During the period from the Effective Date through and including the earlier of the Closing Date or the Termination Date, the Seller hereby covenants and agrees that, except as contemplated by this Agreement, it shall not (A) transfer (which term shall include, without limitation, any sale, gift, pledge or other disposition), or consent to any transfer of, any or all of the Purchased Shares or Purchased Options, (B) enter into any contract, option or other agreement or understanding with respect to any transfer of any or all of such Purchased Shares or Purchased Options, (C) grant any proxy, power-of-attorney or other authorization in or with respect to such Purchased Shares, (D) deposit such Purchased Shares into a voting trust or enter into a voting agreement or arrangement with respect to such Purchased Shares or (E) grant or permit any Encumbrance on any of the Purchased Shares or Purchased Options.

(iii) The voting agreements contained in this Section 4(b), to the extent they may be deemed to grant proxies, shall be deemed to be coupled with an interest and shall be irrevocable for so long as the provisions of this Section 4(b) shall remain in effect.

(c) Public Announcements. From and after the date of this Agreement and regardless of any termination of this Agreement, the Seller agrees not to make any public announcement or other disclosure concerning this Agreement or the transactions contemplated herein. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if, upon advice of legal counsel, the Seller determines that public announcement or disclosure is required by applicable Law, including pursuant to the securities laws, then the Purchaser hereto shall have the right to review and comment upon any such filing, report, press release or public statement prior to its issuance.

(d) Shareholder Loans. Anything contained in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, with respect to any Seller identified on Schedule A hereto, effective at the Closing, upon delivery of the Purchased Shares by such Seller to the Purchaser in accordance with Section 1(b)(i) hereto: (i) rStar shall be deemed to have acquired (and the Purchaser shall cause to be delivered to rStar) the number of Purchased Shares indicated opposite the Seller's name on Schedule A (the "Pledged Shares") in full satisfaction of the non-recourse indebtedness of the Seller to rStar indicated to be owed by the Seller to rStar on Schedule A (the "Debt"); (ii) all obligations of such Seller to repay the Debt shall be deemed to have been satisfied in full; and (iii) the Purchaser shall have no obligation pay the Per Share Purchase Price to such Seller with respect to any of the Pledged Shares.

(e) Merger. The Purchaser agrees that, as soon as practicable (but in no event more than 30 days) following the Closing, the Purchaser shall use commercially reasonable efforts to cause the Merger to be consummated, pursuant to which the Purchaser shall cause to be paid to each then remaining shareholder of rStar (other than the Purchaser and its affiliates) an amount for each share of Common Stock then owned by such shareholder, an amount equal to the Per Share Purchase Price. Without limiting the foregoing, the Purchaser agrees to use its reasonable commercial efforts to seek to cause the conditions to the Closing set forth in Section 6(c) to be consummated as promptly as practicably following the date hereof.

(f) Information. If required by the rules and regulations of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"), each Seller shall provide the Purchaser with all information related to such Seller required by the Purchaser's Schedule 13E-3 (the "13E-3").

5. Release.

(a) As a material inducement to the Purchaser to enter into this Agreement, effective as of the Closing Date, each Seller and, if applicable, each of their respective officers, directors, stockholders, partners, employees, successors, assigns, affiliates, agents and counsel, past and present (collectively, the Sellers Releasing Parties), hereby releases, acquits and forever discharges, other than as expressly set forth in this Agreement, the Purchaser and its subsidiaries and other affiliates and each of its and their respective officers, directors, stockholders, partners, employees, successors, assigns, affiliates, agents and counsel, past and present (collectively, the Purchaser Released Parties), of and from any and all actions and causes of action, suits, debts, dues, sums of money, accounts, reckonings, bonds, bills, specialties, covenants, contracts, controversies, agreements, promises, variances, trespasses, damages, judgments, executions, claims, demands, liabilities, costs, expenses, attorneys' fees, damages, indemnities and obligations of every kind, in law or in equity or otherwise, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, disclosed or undisclosed, which the Sellers Releasing Parties had, or now have, or which the Sellers Releasing Parties can, shall or may have against the Purchaser Released Parties, arising out of or in connection with any prior agreements or transactions between or among the parties hereto, except for this Agreement.

II-21

(b) As a material inducement to the Sellers to enter into this Agreement, effective as of the Closing Date, the Purchaser and its affiliates and their respective officers, directors, stockholders, partners, employees, successors, assigns, affiliates, agents and counsel, past and present (collectively, the Purchaser Releasing Parties), hereby release, acquit and forever discharge, other than as expressly set forth in this Agreement, each Seller and, if applicable, its respective officers, directors, stockholders, partners, employees, successors, assigns, affiliates, agents and counsel, past and present (collectively, the Sellers Released Parties), of and from any and all actions and causes of action, suits, debts, dues, sums of money, accounts, reckonings, bonds, bills, specialties, covenants, contracts, controversies, agreements, promises, variances, trespasses, damages, judgments, executions, claims, demands, liabilities, costs, expenses, attorneys' fees, damages, indemnities and obligations of every kind, in law or in equity or otherwise, whether known or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, disclosed or undisclosed, which the Purchaser Releasing Parties had, or now have or which the Purchaser Releasing Parties can, shall or may have against the Sellers Released Parties, arising out of or in connection with any prior agreements or transactions between or among the parties, except for this Agreement.

6. Conditions to the Parties' Obligations.

RELEASE AGREEMENT

THIS RELEASE AGREEMENT (this Agreement) is made this 25 day of November, 2003 (the Effective Date) by and between Gilat Satellite Networks, Ltd., an Israeli company (Gilat), Lance Mortensen, an individual resident of the State of California (Mortensen), Michael Arnouse, an individual resident of the State of New York (Arnousse) and Charles Appleby, an individual resident of the State of Florida, (Appleby) (Mortensen, Arnouse and Appleby shall collectively be referred to herein as the Beneficiaries and individually, each as a Beneficiary).

WHEREAS, pursuant to Section 6.8 of the Second Amended and Restated Acquisition Agreement dated as of December 2001, (the Acquisition Agreement), by and among Gilat, Gilat To Home Latin America (Holland) N.V., a Dutch corporation, and rStar Corporation, a Delaware corporation (rStar), Gilat agreed that, following the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Acquisition Agreement, it would cause rStar to maintain certain agreed upon levels of directors' and officers' liability insurance coverage (D&O Insurance);

WHEREAS, prior to the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Acquisition Agreement, the Beneficiaries constituted the Board of Directors of rStar (the "rStar Board");

WHEREAS, as the former members of the rStar Board, the Beneficiaries are the primary beneficiaries of the agreement contained in Section 6.8 of the Acquisition Agreement;

WHEREAS, Gilat has announced its intention to: (i) acquire such number of shares of the common stock, par value $0.01 per share (the Common Stock), of rStar as will result in Gilat and its affiliates owning 90% or more of the issued and outstanding Common Stock; (ii) as soon as practicable following such time as Gilat, together with its affiliates, obtains 90% or more of the issued and outstanding Common Stock, acquire all of the Common Stock not then held by Gilat through a short-form merger of a subsidiary of Gilat with and into rStar or a similar transaction (the Merger); and (iii) following such Merger, seek to cause the registration of the Common Stock under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act) to be terminated (collectively, the events referred to in clause (i), (ii) and (iii) being referred to herein as the Going-Private Transaction);

WHEREAS, upon consummation of the Going Private Transaction, as the owner of 100% of the issued and outstanding Common Stock, Gilat intends to cause the provisions of Section 6.8 of the Acquisition Agreement to be terminated; and

WHEREAS, in order to accomplish such termination, Gilat wishes to induce the Beneficiaries to waive any rights they may have as beneficiaries of the provisions of Section 6.8 of the Acquisition Agreement.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing premises and the mutual covenants and agreements set forth herein and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties agree as follows:

1. D&O Insurance. The Beneficiaries agree and acknowledge that, effective upon the consummation of the Going Private Transaction (the Closing) and receipt by the Beneficiaries of the deposit contemplated in Section 2 below: (a) rStar may, and Gilat may permit rStar to, cease maintaining D&O Insurance, whether pursuant to Section 6.8 of the Acquisition Agreement or otherwise; and (b) the Beneficiaries shall waive all rights they may have, if any, individually or collectively, under or pursuant to Section 6.8 of the Acquisition Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Gilat agrees to cause rStar to maintain D&O Insurance for a period of three months following the Closing.

2. Consideration. As full consideration for the agreements of the Beneficiaries contained in Section 1 above and as security for any claims which in the future could arise against the Beneficiaries and, but for the agreements contained in Section 1 above, may have been covered by the D&O Insurance, contemporaneously with the Closing, Gilat shall cause the sum of $950,000 in immediately available funds to be deposited into a bank account designated by the Beneficiaries prior to the Closing (the Account). The Account shall be under the control of the Beneficiaries who may maintain or distribute the contents thereof as they shall determine in their discretion.

(a) Organization: Etc. Gilat (i) is a corporation validly existing and in good standing under the laws of Israel, and (ii) has all requisite corporate power and authority to own, lease and operate its properties and assets and to carry on its business as it is now being conducted.

(b) Authority Relative to this Agreement. Gilat has all necessary corporate power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement, to perform its obligations hereunder and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby. The execution and delivery of this Agreement by Gilat and the consummation by Gilat of the transactions contemplated hereby have been duly and validly authorized by all necessary corporate action, and no other corporate proceedings on the part of Gilat are necessary to authorize this Agreement or to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by Gilat and, assuming the due authorization, execution and delivery by the Beneficiaries, constitutes a legal, valid and binding obligation of Gilat, enforceable against Gilat in accordance with its terms.

(c) Consents and Approvals: No Violations. Neither the execution and delivery of this Agreement by Gilat, nor the consummation by Gilat of the transactions contemplated hereby will (i) conflict with or result in any breach of any provision of the articles of incorporation or by-laws of Gilat, (ii) result in a violation or breach of, or constitute (with or without due notice or lapse of time or both) a default (or give rise to any right of termination, cancellation or acceleration) under, or require any consent under, any indenture, license, contract, agreement or other instrument or obligation to which Gilat is a party or by which Gilat or any of its properties or assets are bound, (iii) violate any order, writ, injunction, decree or award rendered by any Governmental Entity (as hereinafter defined) or any statute, rule, law, ordinance or regulation (collectively, Laws and, individually, a Law) applicable to Gilat or any of its properties or assets, or (iv) require any filing with, or the obtaining of any permit, authorization, consent or approval of, any domestic or foreign, federal, state or local governmental or regulatory authority (a Governmental Entity) or other third party.

4. Representations and Warranties of Each of the Beneficiaries. Each Beneficiary, each with respect to itself only and severally, and not jointly, represents and warrants to Gilat that:

(a) Authority Relative to this Agreement. The Beneficiary has the full right, power and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and to perform his, her or its obligations hereunder, and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Beneficiary and, assuming the due authorization, execution and delivery by Gilat, constitutes a legal, valid and binding obligation of the Beneficiary, enforceable against the Beneficiary in accordance with its terms.

(c) Consents and Approvals; No Violations. Neither the execution and delivery of this Agreement by the Beneficiary, nor the consummation by the Beneficiary of the transactions contemplated hereby will (i) result in a violation or breach of, or constitute (with or without due notice or lapse of time or both) a default (or give rise to any right of termination, cancellation or acceleration) under, or require any consent under, any indenture, license, contract, agreement or other instrument or obligation to which the Beneficiary is a party or by which the Beneficiary or any of its properties or assets are bound, (ii) violate any order, writ, injunction, decree or award rendered by any Governmental Entity or any Law applicable to the Beneficiary or any of its properties or assets, or (iii) require any filing with, or the obtaining of any permit, authorization, consent or approval of, any domestic or Governmental Entity or other third party.

(d) Litigation; Claims. There is no litigation, claim, proceeding or government investigation pending or threatened against the Beneficiary which could reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(e) No Brokers. Neither the Beneficiary nor any person acting on behalf of the Beneficiary has agreed to pay a commission, finder's or investment banking fee, or similar payment in connection with this Agreement or any matter related hereto to any person, nor has any such person taken any action on which a claim for any such payment could be based.

5. Termination.

(a) This Agreement may be terminated and the transactions contemplated hereby may be abandoned:

(i) at any time, by mutual written agreement of Gilat and the Beneficiaries;

(ii) at any time after April 30, 2004, by Gilat upon five business days' prior written notice to the Beneficiaries, if the Closing shall not have occurred for any reason other than a breach of this Agreement by Gilat;

(iii) at any time after April 30, 2004, by the Beneficiaries upon five business days' prior written notice to Gilat, if the Closing shall not have occurred for any reason other than a breach of this Agreement by any Beneficiary; and

(iv) by either the Beneficiaries or Gilat if a court of competent jurisdiction shall have issued a judgment, order, injunction or decree permanently restraining or prohibiting the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, and such judgment, order, injunction or decree shall have become final and nonappealable.

(b) In the event of the termination of this Agreement and the abandonment of the transactions contemplated hereby, this Agreement shall become void and there shall be no liability on the part of any party hereto except that nothing herein shall relieve any party from liability for breach of this Agreement.

Exhibit (f)

DELAWARE GENERAL CORPORATION LAW
SECTION 262. APPRAISAL RIGHTS

(a) Any stockholder of a corporation of this State who holds shares of stock on the date of the making of a demand pursuant to subsection (d) of this section with respect to such shares, who continuously holds such shares through the effective date of the merger or consolidation, who has otherwise complied with subsection (d) of this section and who has neither voted in favor of the merger or consolidation nor consented thereto in writing pursuant to ss. 228 of this title shall be entitled to an appraisal by the Court of Chancery of the fair value of the stockholder's shares of stock under the circumstances described in subsections (b) and (c) of this section. As used in this section, the word "stockholder" means a holder of record of stock in a stock corporation and also a member of record of a nonstock corporation; the words "stock" and "share" mean and include what is ordinarily meant by those words and also membership or membership interest of a member of a nonstock corporation; and the words "depository receipt" mean a receipt or other instrument issued by a depository representing an interest in one or more shares, or fractions thereof, solely of stock of a corporation, which stock is deposited with the depository.

(b) Appraisal rights shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock of a constituent corporation in a merger or consolidation to be effected pursuant to ss. 251 (other than a merger effected pursuant to ss. 251(g) of this title), ss. 252, ss. 254, ss. 257, ss. 258, ss. 263 or ss. 264 of this title:

(1) Provided, however, that no appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock, which stock, or depository receipts in respect thereof, at the record date fixed to determine the stockholders entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the meeting of stockholders to act upon the agreement of merger or consolidation, were either (i) listed on a national securities exchange or designated as a national market system security on an interdealer quotation system by the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. or (ii) held of record by more than 2,000 holders; and further provided that no appraisal rights shall be available for any shares of stock of the constituent corporation surviving a merger if the merger did not require for its approval the vote of the stockholders of the surviving corporation as provided in subsection (f) of ss. 251 of this title.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (1) of this subsection, appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock of a constituent corporation if the holders thereof are required by the terms of an agreement of merger or consolidation pursuant to ss. 251, 252, 254, 257, 258, 263 and 264 of this title to accept for such stock anything except:

- a. Shares of stock of the corporation surviving or resulting from such merger or consolidation, or depository receipts in respect thereof;
- b. Shares of stock of any other corporation, or depository receipts in respect thereof, which shares of stock (or depository receipts in respect thereof) or depository receipts at the effective date of the merger or consolidation will be either listed on a national securities exchange or designated as a national market system security on an interdealer quotation system by the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. or held of record by more than 2,000 holders;
- c. Cash in lieu of fractional shares or fractional depository receipts described in the foregoing subparagraphs a. and b. of this paragraph; or
- d. Any combination of the shares of stock, depository receipts and cash in lieu of fractional shares or fractional depository receipts described in the foregoing subparagraphs a., b. and c. of this paragraph.

(3) In the event all of the stock of a subsidiary Delaware corporation party to a merger effected under ss. 253 of this title is not owned by the parent corporation immediately prior to the merger, appraisal rights shall be available for the shares of the subsidiary Delaware corporation.

(c) Any corporation may provide in its certificate of incorporation that appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of its stock as a result of an amendment to its certificate of incorporation, any merger or consolidation in which the corporation is a constituent corporation or the sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the corporation. If the certificate of incorporation contains such a provision, the procedures of this section, including those set forth in subsections (d) and (e) of this section, shall apply as nearly as is practicable.

(d) Appraisal rights shall be perfected as follows:

(1) If a proposed merger or consolidation for which appraisal rights are provided under this section is to be submitted for approval at a meeting of stockholders, the corporation, not less than 20 days prior to the meeting, shall notify each of its stockholders who was such on the record date for such meeting with respect to shares for which appraisal rights are available pursuant to subsection (b) or (c) hereof that appraisal rights are available for any or all of the shares of the constituent corporations, and shall include in such notice a copy of this section. Each stockholder electing to demand the appraisal of such stockholder's shares shall deliver to the corporation, before the taking of the vote on the merger or consolidation, a written demand for appraisal of such stockholder's shares. Such demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs the corporation of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder intends thereby to demand the appraisal of such stockholder's shares. A proxy or vote against the merger or consolidation shall not constitute such a demand. A stockholder electing to take such action must do so by a separate written demand as herein provided. Within 10 days after the effective date of such merger or consolidation, the surviving or resulting corporation shall notify each stockholder of each constituent corporation who has complied with this subsection and has not voted in favor of or consented to the merger or consolidation of the date that the merger or consolidation has become effective; or

(2) If the merger or consolidation was approved pursuant to ss. 228 or ss. 253 of this title, then either a constituent corporation before the effective date of the merger or consolidation or the surviving or resulting corporation within 10 days thereafter shall notify each of the holders of any class or series of stock of such constituent corporation who are entitled to appraisal rights of the approval of the merger or consolidation and that appraisal rights are available for any or all shares of such class or series of stock of such constituent corporation, and shall include in such notice a copy of this section. Such notice may, and, if given on or after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, shall, also notify such stockholders of the effective date of the merger or consolidation. Any stockholder entitled to appraisal rights may, within 20 days after the date of mailing of such notice, demand in writing from the surviving or resulting corporation the appraisal of such holder's shares. Such demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs the corporation of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder intends thereby to demand the appraisal of such holder's shares. If such notice did not notify stockholders of the effective date of the merger or consolidation, either (i) each such constituent corporation shall send a second notice before the effective date of the merger or consolidation notifying each of the holders of any class or series of stock of such constituent corporation that are entitled to appraisal rights of the effective date of the merger or consolidation or (ii) the surviving or resulting corporation shall send such a second notice to all such holders on or within 10 days after such effective date; provided, however, that if such second notice is sent more than 20 days following the sending of the first notice, such second notice need only be sent to each stockholder who is entitled to appraisal rights and who has demanded appraisal of such holder's shares in accordance with this subsection. An affidavit of the secretary or assistant secretary or of the transfer agent of the corporation that is required to give either notice that such notice has been given shall, in the absence of fraud, be prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein. For purposes of determining the stockholders entitled to receive either notice, each constituent corporation may fix, in advance, a record date that shall be not more than 10 days prior to the date the notice is given, provided, that if the notice is given on or after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, the record date shall be such effective date. If no record date is fixed and the notice is given prior to the effective date, the record date shall be the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which the notice is given.

(e) Within 120 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, the surviving or resulting corporation or any stockholder who has complied with subsections (a) and (d) hereof and who is otherwise entitled to appraisal rights, may file a petition in the Court of Chancery demanding a determination of the value of the stock of all such stockholders. Notwithstanding the foregoing, at any time within 60 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, any stockholder shall have the right to withdraw such stockholder's demand for appraisal and to accept the terms offered upon the merger or consolidation. Within 120 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, any stockholder who has complied with the requirements of subsections (a) and (d) hereof, upon written request, shall be entitled to receive from the corporation surviving the merger or resulting from the consolidation a statement setting forth the aggregate number of shares not voted in favor of the merger or consolidation and with respect to which demands for appraisal have been received and the aggregate number of holders of such shares. Such written statement shall be mailed to the stockholder within 10 days after such stockholder's written request for such a statement is received by the surviving or resulting corporation or within 10 days after expiration of the period for delivery of demands for appraisal under subsection (d) hereof, whichever is later.

(f) Upon the filing of any such petition by a stockholder, service of a copy thereof shall be made upon the surviving or resulting corporation, which shall within 20 days after such service file in the office of the Register in Chancery in which the petition was filed a duly verified list containing the names and addresses of all stockholders who have demanded payment for their shares and with whom agreements as to the value of their shares have not been reached by the surviving or resulting corporation. If the petition shall be filed by the surviving or resulting corporation, the petition shall be accompanied by such a duly verified list. The Register in Chancery, if so ordered by the Court, shall give notice of the time and place fixed for the hearing of such petition by registered or certified mail to the surviving or resulting corporation and to the stockholders shown on the list at the addresses therein stated. Such notice shall also be given by 1 or more publications at least 1 week before the day of the hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the City of Wilmington, Delaware or such publication as the Court deems advisable. The forms of the notices by mail and by publication shall be approved by the Court, and the costs thereof shall be borne by the surviving or resulting corporation.

(g) At the hearing on such petition, the Court shall determine the stockholders who have complied with this section and who have become entitled to appraisal rights. The Court may require the stockholders who have demanded an appraisal for their shares and who hold stock represented by certificates to submit their certificates of stock to the Register in Chancery for notation thereon of the pendency of the appraisal proceedings; and if any stockholder fails to comply with such direction, the Court may dismiss the proceedings as to such stockholder.

(h) After determining the stockholders entitled to an appraisal, the Court shall appraise the shares, determining their fair value exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the merger or consolidation, together with a fair rate of interest, if any, to be paid upon the amount determined to be the fair value. In determining such fair value, the Court shall take into account all relevant factors. In determining the fair rate of interest, the Court may consider all relevant factors, including the rate of interest which the surviving or resulting corporation would have had to pay to borrow money during the pendency of the proceeding. Upon application by the surviving or resulting corporation or by any stockholder entitled to participate in the appraisal proceeding, the Court may, in its discretion, permit discovery or other pretrial proceedings and may proceed to trial upon the appraisal prior to the final determination of the stockholder entitled to an appraisal. Any stockholder whose name appears on the list filed by the surviving or resulting corporation pursuant to subsection (f) of this section and who has submitted such stockholder's certificates of stock to the Register in Chancery, if such is required, may participate fully in all proceedings until it is finally determined that such stockholder is not entitled to appraisal rights under this section.

(i) The Court shall direct the payment of the fair value of the shares, together with interest, if any, by the surviving or resulting corporation to the stockholders entitled thereto. Interest may be simple or compound, as the Court may direct. Payment shall be so made to each such stockholder, in the case of holders of uncertificated stock forthwith, and the case of holders of shares represented by certificates upon the surrender to the corporation of the certificates representing such stock. The Court's decree may be enforced as other decrees in the Court of Chancery may be enforced, whether such surviving or resulting corporation be a corporation of this State or of any state.

(j) The costs of the proceeding may be determined by the Court and taxed upon the parties as the Court deems equitable in the circumstances. Upon application of a stockholder, the Court may order all or a portion of the expenses incurred by any stockholder in connection with the appraisal proceeding, including, without limitation, reasonable attorney's fees and the fees and expenses of experts, to be charged pro rata against the value of all the shares entitled to an appraisal.

(k) From and after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, no stockholder who has demanded appraisal rights as provided in subsection (d) of this section shall be entitled to vote such stock for any purpose or to receive payment of dividends or other distributions on the stock (except dividends or other distributions payable to stockholders of record at a date which is prior to the effective date of the merger or consolidation); provided, however, that if no petition for an appraisal shall be filed within the time provided in subsection (e) of this section, or if such stockholder shall deliver to the surviving or resulting corporation a written withdrawal of such stockholder's demand for an appraisal and an acceptance of the merger or consolidation, either within 60 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation as provided in subsection (e) of this section or thereafter with the written approval of the corporation, then the right of such stockholder to an appraisal shall cease. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no appraisal proceeding in the Court of Chancery shall be dismissed as to any stockholder without the approval of the Court, and such approval may be conditioned upon such terms as the Court deems just.

(l) The shares of the surviving or resulting corporation to which the shares of such objecting stockholders would have been converted had they assented to the merger or consolidation shall have the status of authorized and unissued shares of the surviving or resulting corporation.
