GigaMedia:

Q2 Net Profit Up 119% Year-over-Year;

Up 20% Quarter-over-Quarter

Highlights of 2005 Results

Solid overall financial results despite losses in music distribution business

Entertainment software business building momentum; delivers good revenue growth and increased profitability despite traditional seasonal downturn

Consolidated revenues of $21.9 million

Consolidated EBITDA<sup>1</sup> of $2.8 million

Consolidated net income of $1.2 million, or $.02 per share

Cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities-current of $49.8 million

TAIPEI, Taiwan, September 8, 2005 GigaMedia Limited ( GigaMedia or the Company ) (NASDAQ: GIGM) announced today its fifth consecutive quarter of profitability, with second-quarter 2005 consolidated net income of $1.2 million, up 119 percent from the same period of 2004 and an increase of 20 percent over the first quarter of 2005.

The increase in the Company's consolidated net profit was driven by strong performance in GigaMedia's entertainment software business, but limited by a loss in the Company's music distribution unit, which faced continuing operating pressures.

The second quarter was solid: we delivered good earnings growth despite substantial losses in our music distribution business, stated Chief Executive Officer Arthur Wang. Moreover, we strengthened the foundation of the new GigaMedia: investing in our online entertainment software business, releasing new products and scaling up our platform.

<sup>1</sup> EBITDA (earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, amortization and minority interests) is provided as a supplement to results provided in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ( GAAP ). See Use of Non-GAAP Measures for more details.

We remain very excited about the opportunities for our entertainment software unit, stated CEO Wang. We are building for strong growth and expansion in the international markets.

In light of the challenges facing the music retail sector, the Company has decided to explore the sale of its music distribution business and has entered formal discussions with potential purchasers.

(A) EBITDA (earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, amortization and minority interests) is provided as a supplement to results provided in accordance with GAAP. (See, Use of Non-GAAP Measures, for more details.)

Consolidated revenues for the second quarter of 2005 were $21.9 million, an 8 percent decrease from consolidated revenues of $24.0 million for the corresponding period in 2004 and a 14 percent decrease compared to consolidated revenues of $25.6 million for the preceding quarter. Year-over-year and quarter-over-quarter decreases in consolidated revenues were largely due to declining contributions from GigaMedia's music distribution business, which more than offset increased contributions from the Company's entertainment software business.

Consolidated net income for the second quarter of 2005 was $1.2 million, a 119 percent increase from consolidated net income of $559 thousand for the same period in 2004 and an increase of $200 thousand, or 20 percent, from consolidated net income of $1.0

million for the preceding quarter. Driving the year-over-year increase in consolidated net income were contributions from the Company's entertainment software business. The sequential increase in consolidated net income was primarily due to improved performance in GigaMedia's entertainment software business and sale of a minor asset in the Company's broadband ISP business.

Consolidated EBITDA for the second quarter of 2005 was $2.8 million, relatively flat compared to consolidated EBITDA of $2.8 million for the same period in 2004 and an increase of 9 percent compared to the previous quarter.

Cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities-current at the end of the second quarter of 2005 totaled $49.8 million, an increase of $3.3 million, or 7 percent quarter-over-quarter.

(B) Second quarter 2004 results do not include contributions from UIM; therefore, year-over-year results may not be comparable. (See, About the Numbers in This Release. )

The Company's entertainment software business unit generated strong profitability in the second quarter from its traditional online gaming software business base and a growing poker software business. Launch of several new games and new functionalities seeking to enhance the overall gaming experience drove the 21 percent quarter-over-quarter increase in revenues. In poker, the Company rolled-out its multi-table tournament poker software and continued to scale-up to meet growing market demand.

Excluding revenues consolidated due to the requirements of FIN 46(R), GigaMedia's revenues from the entertainment software business were $3.1 million during the second quarter of 2005. This represented an increase of 10 percent from those of the first quarter of 2005, which totaled $2.8 million.

Net income for the second quarter of 2005 for the entertainment software business was $1.4 million, a 19 percent increase compared to $1.2 million recorded during the first quarter of 2005.

(A) In quarterly and annual releases before the third quarter of 2004, GigaMedia included corporate headquarters expenses and certain other items in the broadband ISP business unit results. In the table above, all such amounts have been excluded for the current and past periods. All numbers are presented on a consistent basis.

In the second quarter, the Company's broadband ISP delivered solid performance. The corporate broadband ISP business continued to capitalize on growing bandwidth demand, leading to improved performance from the business unit during the second quarter. Revenues in the corporate broadband ISP business for the second quarter of 2005 were $1.8 million, representing 32 percent of total revenues in the Company's broadband ISP business and a 14 percent increase compared to revenues recorded in the corporate broadband ISP business during the previous quarter.

The consumer broadband ISP business faced strong competitive pressures during the second quarter, resulting in a 5 percent quarter-over-quarter decrease in total revenues. The number of subscribers in the consumer broadband ISP business during the second quarter decreased to approximately 90,000, with blended average revenue per subscriber down slightly compared to the first quarter of 2005 at approximately $12.60 per month.

Net income was $921 thousand in the second quarter of 2005, versus net income of $558 thousand for the first quarter of 2005. The sequential increase in net income was primarily a result of income recorded in connection with the previously announced sale of the Company's gigigaga.com.tw web site, which amounted to approximately $670 thousand.

Table of Contents

During the second quarter of 2005, the Company's music distribution business continued to be heavily impacted by a secular downtrend in the recorded music distribution market. In addition, revenues during the period declined as a result of a traditional seasonal downturn in recorded music sales. The Company closed two underperforming stores during the period and has shifted nine stores to a combined space format in which stores share space with popular entertainment and service businesses targeting similar clientele—all to lower fixed costs.

The significant decline in revenues during the second quarter of 2005 led to a net loss for the Company's music distribution business during the period of $394 thousand, a decrease of $423 thousand compared to net income of $29 thousand in the previous quarter and a decline of $396 thousand from net income of $2 thousand in the same period of 2004.

Business Outlook

The following forward-looking statements reflect GigaMedia's expectations as of September 8, 2005. Given potential changes in economic conditions and consumer spending, fluctuations in Taiwan's recorded music market, the evolving nature of broadband and online entertainment software, and various other risk factors, including those discussed in the Company's 2004 Annual Report or 20-F filing with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission referenced below, actual results may differ materially.

Management expects the online entertainment market to remain strong in 2005, with attractive global growth and acquisition opportunities in both traditional online games and online poker software presenting excellent opportunities for the Company's entertainment software business. The third quarter is traditionally a period of decreased Internet activity, resulting in an approximate 20-30 percent decline in revenues in the entertainment software business from winter months. However, management expects growth from new online game offerings and online poker software will largely offset the impact of seasonality on third quarter revenues for the entertainment software business.

The music distribution business expects soft sales in the third quarter resulting from both seasonality and the ongoing decline in overall market sales of recorded music. Management also expects strong competition for subscribers in the broadband ISP business to continue.

Use of Non-GAAP Measures

Management believes that EBITDA (earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, amortization and minority interests) is a useful supplemental measure of performance because it excludes certain non-cash items such as depreciation and amortization. EBITDA is not a recognized earnings measure under GAAP and does not have a standardized meaning. Non-GAAP measures such as EBITDA should be considered in addition to results prepared in accordance with GAAP, but should not be considered a substitute for, or superior to, other financial measures prepared in accordance with GAAP. A reconciliation to the GAAP equivalent of the non-GAAP measure is provided on the attached unaudited financial statements.

Table of Contents

About the Numbers in This Release

All figures referred to in the text, tables and attachments to this release are unaudited. The financial statements from which the financial results reported in this press release are derived have been prepared in accordance with U.S. GAAP, and are presented in U.S. dollars.

GigaMedia's segmental financial results are based on the Company's method of internal reporting and are not necessarily in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the U.S. Consolidated financial results of the Company for the second quarter of 2005 may differ from totals of the Company's segmental financial results for the same period due to (1) certain inter-company eliminations and (2) the impact of the Company's corporate headquarters and certain non-operating subsidiaries of GigaMedia on the Company's consolidated financial results. In quarterly and annual releases before the third quarter of 2004, GigaMedia included corporate headquarters expenses and certain other items in the broadband ISP business unit results. All such amounts have been excluded in this press release for the current and past periods. All numbers pertaining to the broadband ISP business are presented on a consistent basis.

During the fourth quarter of 2004, the Company adopted Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Interpretation No. 46, Consolidation of Variable Interest Entities — an Interpretation of Accounting Research Bulletin No. 51 (FIN 46), as revised by the subsequent amendment, FIN 46(R). The provisions of FIN 46(R) require consolidation by the primary beneficiary of variable interest entities, as that term is defined in FIN 46(R). The Company has conducted a review of existing contracts for our variable interest parties and determined that it was a primary beneficiary of Ultra Internet Media (UIM), a licensee of GigaMedia's entertainment software developer CES. Accordingly, the Company has incorporated the results of UIM into the Company's consolidated financial statements, resulting in certain adjustments to GigaMedia's consolidated financial results and the financial results of the Company's entertainment software business recorded during the second and third quarters of 2004. All such adjustments were recorded during the fourth quarter of 2004 as part of the Company's year-end adjustments. As a result, financial results for the second quarter of 2005 and previous periods may not be comparable. All results referred to in this press release, unless otherwise indicated, reflect the Company's adoption of FIN 46(R).
