Notes to Interim Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited)

1. Nature of Business

MercadoLibre, Inc. (MercadoLibre or the Company) was incorporated in Delaware in October 1999. MercadoLibre is a Latin American e-commerce platform and payments leader. MercadoLibre is an e-commerce enabler whose mission is to build the necessary online and technology tools to allow practically anyone to trade almost anything in Latin America. MercadoLibre enables commerce through its marketplace platform (including online classifieds for motor vehicles, vessels, aircraft, services and real estate), the Latin American largest online marketplace, which allows users to buy and sell in nearly every country in Latin America; through MercadoPago, which enables individuals and businesses to send and receive online payments; through MercadoClics, which facilitates the advertising service to large retailers and brands to promote their product and services on the web; and through MercadoShops which facilitates users to set-up, manage promote their own on-line web-stores, to support MercadoLibre s mission of enabling e-commerce.

As of September 30, 2013, the Company, through its wholly-owned subsidiaries, operated online commerce platforms directed towards Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Mexico, Panama, Peru, Portugal, Uruguay and Venezuela, and online payments solutions directed towards Argentina, Brazil, Mexico, Venezuela, Chile and Colombia. In addition, the Company operates a real estate classified platform that covers some areas of State of Florida, U.S.A.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of presentation

The accompanying unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements are prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP) and include the accounts of the Company and its subsidiaries.

These interim condensed consolidated financial statements are stated in U.S. dollars. All intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated.

Substantially all revenues and operating costs are generated in the Company s foreign operations, amounting to approximately 99.6% and 99.5% of the consolidated totals during the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012, respectively. Long-lived assets located in the foreign operations totaled $135,068,130 and $98,569,068 as of September 30, 2013 and December 31, 2012, respectively.

These interim condensed consolidated financial statements reflect the Company s consolidated financial position as of September 30, 2013 and December 31, 2012. These financial statements also show the Company s consolidated statements of income and of comprehensive income for the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012, its consolidated statement of cash flows for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012. These interim condensed consolidated financial statements include all normal recurring adjustments that management believes are necessary to fairly state the Company s financial position, operating results and cash flows.

Because all of the disclosures required by U.S. GAAP for annual consolidated financial statements are not included herein, these unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements and the notes thereto for the year ended December 31, 2012, contained in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) on February 28, 2013. The condensed consolidated statements of income, of comprehensive income and of cash flows for the periods presented herein are not necessarily indicative of results expected for any future period.

Foreign Currency Translation

All of the Company's foreign operations have determined the local currency to be their functional currency, except for Venezuela since the year ended December 31, 2010. Accordingly, these foreign subsidiaries translate assets and liabilities from their local currencies into U.S. dollars using period/year-end exchange rates while income and expense accounts are translated at the average exchange rates in effect during the period/year. The resulting translation adjustment is recorded as part of accumulated other comprehensive income (loss). Gains and losses resulting from transactions denominated in non-functional currencies are recognized in earnings.

According to U.S. GAAP, the Company has transitioned its Venezuelan operations to highly inflationary status as from January 1, 2010 considering the U.S. dollar to be the functional currency for such operation.

On February 8, 2013, the Government of Venezuela, through the Foreign Exchange Agreement No. 14, has devalued as from February 9, 2013, the official exchange rate from 4.3 to 6.3 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar. The devaluation required re-measurement of the Company's Venezuelan subsidiaries' non-U.S. dollar denominated monetary assets and liabilities as from February 9, 2013.

In addition, on February 8, 2013, the Government of Venezuela, through Decree No. 9381 (the Decree) has created the Organo Superior para la Optimización del Sistema Cambiario (or the Committee), a committee that will have the authority to design, plan and execute foreign exchange policies. Finally, on February 9, 2013, the BCV eliminated the SITME, which was a former system that allowed companies limited access to foreign currencies for payments to foreign suppliers.

On March 19, 2013, the BCV announced the creation of the Sistema Complementario de Administración de Divisas, or SICAD, which will act jointly with the Commission for the Administration of Foreign Exchange Control (CADIVI). In order to operate within this new system, a company should be registered at the Registro Automatizado (Automatized Register, or RUSAD). The acquisition of foreign currencies under this new system is organized under an auction process to obtain foreign currencies for payments to foreign suppliers, where the minimum exchange rate to be offered is 6.30 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar. At the date of these interim condensed consolidated financial statements, the Company has been unable to access the auction process and there is no information available on the details or planned frequency of the SICAD mechanism.

Accordingly, as of September 30, 2013, the exchange rate used to re-measure the net monetary assets of the Company's Venezuelan subsidiaries was 6.30 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar. Moreover, transactions carried out by the Company's Venezuelan subsidiaries were re-measured at the monthly average exchange rate for the nine months then ended. The SITME rate used to re-measure foreign currency transactions during 2012 was 5.3 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar. The devaluation of the official exchange rate of the Bolivares Fuertes against the U.S. dollar from 5.3 to 6.3 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar generated a foreign currency loss amounted to approximately $6.4 million in the first quarter of 2013. The Bolivares Fuertes could lose further value with respect to the U.S. dollar depending on the foreign currency exchange policies that might be adopted by the government of Venezuela in the future.

Until 2010 the Company was able to obtain U.S. dollars for any purpose, including dividends distribution, using alternative mechanisms other than through the CADIVI. Those U.S. dollars, obtained at a higher exchange rate than the one offered by CADIVI, and held in balance at U.S. bank accounts of its Venezuelan subsidiaries, were used for dividend distributions from its Venezuelan subsidiaries. CADIVI is the only means by which U.S. dollars for dividend distributions can be requested. The Company's Venezuelan subsidiaries did not request authorization to CADIVI in 2012, neither during the nine months ended September 30, 2013, to acquire U.S. dollars to make dividend distributions. The Company has not distributed dividends from its Venezuelan subsidiaries since 2011.

The following table sets forth the assets, liabilities and net assets of the Company's Venezuelan subsidiaries, before intercompany eliminations, as of September 30, 2013 and December 31, 2012 and net revenues for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012.

	For the nine-month periods ended September 30,
	2013	2012
Venezuelan operations
Net Revenues	$ 55,695,385	$ 37,872,351
	September 30,	December 31,
	2013	2012
Assets	106,529,563	62,938,728
Liabilities	(53,195,418)	(22,652,965)
Net Assets	$ 53,334,145	$ 40,285,763

As of September 30, 2013, net assets (before intercompany eliminations) of the Venezuelan subsidiaries amounted to approximately 16.5% of the consolidated net assets, and cash and investments of the Venezuelan subsidiaries held in local currency in Venezuela amounted to approximately 12.4% of the consolidated cash and investments.

The Company's ability to obtain U.S. dollars in Venezuela is negatively affected by the exchange regulations in Venezuela that are described above. In addition, its business and ability to obtain U.S. dollars in Venezuela would be negatively affected by additional material devaluations or the imposition of significant additional and more stringent controls on foreign currency exchange by the Venezuelan government in the future.

Despite the current difficult macroeconomic environment in Venezuela, the Company continues to actively manage, through its Venezuelan subsidiaries, its investment in and exposure to Venezuela. Based on current operating, political and economic conditions and certain other factors in Venezuela, management currently believes that its business plans and operating strategy in Venezuela will not be materially adversely impacted in the long run.

Income Tax Holiday in Argentina

Edgar Filing: MERCADOLIBRE INC - Form 10-Q

From fiscal year 2008, the Company's Argentine subsidiary is beneficiary of a software development law. Part of the benefits obtained from being beneficiary of the aforementioned law is a relief of 60% of total income tax determined in each year, until fiscal year 2014.

Aggregate tax benefit totaled $2,973,762 and $2,530,901 for the three-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012, respectively, while for the nine-month periods ended at such dates amounted to $7,742,787 and $6,656,141, respectively. Aggregate per share effect of the Argentine tax holiday amounted to $0.07 and $0.06 for the three-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012, respectively, while for the nine-month periods ended at such dates amounted to $0.18 and $0.15, respectively.

In addition, the recently acquired software development company (see Note 4), located in the Province of Cordoba, Argentina, is also beneficiary of the aforementioned income tax holiday, however the total benefit obtained is immaterial.

If the Company had not been granted the Argentine tax holiday, the Company would have pursued an alternative tax planning strategy and, therefore, the impact of not having this particular benefit would not necessarily be the abovementioned U.S. dollar and per share effect.

On August 17, 2011, the Argentine government issued a new software development law and on September 9, 2013 the regulatory decree was issued, which established the new requirement to become beneficiary of the new software development law. The Industry Secretary resolution which establishes the mechanism to file the information to obtain the benefits derived from the new software development law is still pending. The new decree establishes compliance requirements with annual incremental ratios related to exports of services and research and development expenses that must be achieved to remain within the tax holiday. The Argentine operation must achieve certain required ratios annually under the new software development law. The current income tax reliefs could decrease, but are not expected to be materially lower than the benefits under the current law. In addition, it would extend its tax holiday, which would otherwise finish in 2014, for an additional five year period, to 2019 and would obtain some other benefits. As of the date of these financial statements Management is evaluating the impact of the new decree.

Use of estimates

The preparation of interim condensed consolidated financial statements in conformity with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Estimates are used for, but not limited to accounting for allowance for doubtful accounts, depreciation, amortization, impairment and useful lives of long-lived assets, compensation cost related to cash and share-based compensation, recognition of current and deferred income taxes and contingencies. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Table of ContentsMercadoLibre, Inc.*Notes to Interim Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited)*2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)*Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In March 2013, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Parent's Accounting for the Cumulative Translation Adjustment upon Derecognition of Certain Subsidiaries or Groups of Assets within a Foreign Entity or of an Investment in a Foreign Entity a consensus of the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force clarifying the accounting for the release of cumulative translation adjustment into net income when a parent either sells a part or all of its investment in a foreign entity or no longer holds a controlling financial interest in a subsidiary or group of assets that is a nonprofit activity or a business within a foreign entity. The new standard is effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning on or after December 15, 2013. The Company does not anticipate that this adoption will have a significant impact on its financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

3. Net income per share

Basic earnings per share for the Company's common stock is computed by dividing net income available to common shareholders attributable to common stock for the period by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period.

Diluted earnings per share for the Company's common stock assume the exercise of outstanding stock options under the Company's stock based employee compensation plan.

The following table shows how net income available to common shareholders is allocated using the two-class method, for the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012:

4. Business combinations, Goodwill and Intangible assetsBusiness combinations

On March 22, 2013, the Company completed, through its subsidiaries Meli Participaciones S.L. (ETVE) and MercadoLibre S.R.L. (MercadoLibre Argentina) (together referred to as the Buyer), the acquisition of the 100% of equity interest in a software development company located and organized under the laws of the Province of Cordoba, Argentina. The objective of the acquisition was to enhance the capabilities of the Company in terms of software development.

The aggregate purchase price for the acquisition of the 100% of the acquired business was $3,454,497 (settled in Argentine pesos 17,652,480). On such same date, the Buyer paid and agreed to pay the purchase price as follows: i) $2,191,781 in cash; ii) set an escrow amounting to $489,237 for a 24-months period, aiming to cover unexpected liabilities and negative working capital; iii) set an escrow amounting to $547,945 for a 36-months period, aiming to continue the employment relationship of certain key employees; and iv) on June 24, 2013 the Company paid the remaining $225,534 net of certain negative working capital adjustments.

In addition, the Company incurred in certain direct costs of the business combination which were expensed as incurred.

The above mentioned escrow for the continuing employment relationship of $547,945 will be expensed over the 36-months period or a lesser period of time if certain other conditions determined in the Selling and Purchase Agreement (SPA) occur. The escrow will be released at the end of such period, together with the accrued interest.

The Company's interim condensed consolidated statement of income includes the results of operations of the acquired business as from March 22, 2013. The net revenues and net loss of the acquiree included in the Company's condensed consolidated statement of income since the acquisition amounted to $511,421 and $25,288, respectively.

The following table summarizes the definitive purchase price allocation for the acquisition:

Net assets acquired	$ 237,891
Goodwill	2,668,661
Purchase price	2,906,552
Escrow for employment relationship	547,945
Aggregate price paid	$ 3,454,497

Supplemental pro-forma information required by U.S. GAAP, is impracticable after making every reasonable effort to do so, however, amounts involved are deemed to be immaterial.

Arising goodwill has been allocated proportionally to each of the segments identified by the Company's management, considering the synergies expected from this acquisition and it is expected that the acquiree will contribute to the earnings generation process of such segments.

The Company recognized goodwill for this acquisition based on management expectation that the acquired business will improve the Company's business.

Goodwill is not deductible for tax purposes.

5. Segment reporting

Reporting segments are based upon the Company's internal organizational structure, the manner in which the Company's operations are managed, the criteria used by management to evaluate the Company's performance, the availability of separate financial information, and overall materiality considerations.

Segment reporting is based on geography as the main basis of segment breakdown to reflect the evaluation of the Company's performance defined by the management. The Company's segments include Brazil, Argentina, Mexico, Venezuela and other countries (such as Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Panama, Peru, Portugal, Uruguay and USA).

Direct contribution consists of net revenues from external customers less direct costs. Direct costs include specific costs of net revenues, sales and marketing expenses, and general and administrative expenses over which segment managers have direct discretionary control, such as advertising and marketing programs, customer support expenses, allowances for doubtful accounts, headcount compensation and third party fees. All corporate related costs have been excluded from the Company's direct contribution.

Expenses over which segment managers do not currently have discretionary control, such as certain technology and general and administrative costs are monitored by management through shared cost centers and are not evaluated in the measurement of segment performance.

Long-lived tangible assets acquired:

Office building acquisition agreement in Buenos Aires

In April 2013, the Company acquired three floors or 3,918 square meters in a new office building located in Buenos Aires for a total amount of $18.5 million plus VAT. The price will be paid in Argentine pesos. At the date of this interim condensed consolidated financial statements the Company paid: i) $0.4 million plus VAT in advance; ii) $3.2 million plus VAT at the date of signing of the purchase agreement and iii) five monthly installments starting in June to October 2013, for an aggregate amount of $10.5 million.

As of September 30, 2013, the Company recorded a liability for the unpaid balance of this building acquisition for a total amount of $6.2 million, which will be paid in three monthly installments from October to December 2013.

Office building acquisitions agreement in Caracas

In May 2013, the Company acquired 1,158 square meters, 13 parking spaces and 4 storage spaces, in an office building located in Caracas for a total amount of $20.0 million or BF$126.0 million. The price has been paid in Bolivares Fuertes.

In addition, on September 19, 2013, one of the Company's Venezuelan subsidiaries entered into a memorandum of understanding to acquire an office property totaling 1,367 square meters, in Caracas, Venezuela. The purchase price of BF$328.2 million, or approximately $52.2 million, was paid in local currency. The Company's Venezuelan subsidiary is funding a portion of the purchase price with its own funds and the balance of approximately BF$85.1 million, or $13.5 million, pursuant to an unsecured line of credit.

As of September 30, 2013, the Company's financial assets valued at fair value consisted of assets valued using i) Level 1 inputs: unadjusted quoted prices in active markets (Level 1 instrument valuations are obtained from observable inputs that reflect quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets in active markets); and ii) Level 2 inputs, which are obtained from readily-available pricing sources for comparable instruments. As of September 30, 2013, the Company did not have any assets without market values that would require a high level of judgment to determine fair value (Level 3).

The unrealized net gains on short term and long term investments are reported as a component of accumulated other comprehensive income. The Company does not anticipate any significant realized losses associated with those investments in excess of the Company's historical cost.

6. Fair Value Measurement of Assets and Liabilities (Continued)

In addition, as of September 30, 2013 and December 31, 2012, the Company had $79,709,541 and $87,379,121 of short-term investments which consisted of time deposits. Those investments are accounted for at amortized cost which, as of September 30, 2013 and December 31, 2012, approximates their fair values.

As of September 30, 2013 and December 31, 2012, the carrying value of the Company's financial assets and liabilities measured at amortized cost approximated their fair value because of its short term maturity. These assets and liabilities included cash and cash equivalents (excluding money markets funds), accounts receivables, credit card receivables, funds payable to customers, other receivables, other assets, accounts payables, social security payables, taxes payables, loans payable and provisions and other liabilities.

At the end of June of 2013, the Company sold the majority of their available-for-sale investments, so the net realized gain included in the Interim Condensed Consolidated Statement of Income amounted to $518,713 and the reclassification out of the Other Comprehensive Income to Net Income was a loss of $871,702. Also, a substantial portion of the proceeds from those sales was subsequently invested in different available-for-sale investments.

7. Commitments and Contingencies
Litigation and Other Legal Matters

The Company is subject to certain contingent liabilities with respect to existing or potential claims, lawsuits and other proceedings. The Company accrues liabilities when it considers probable that future costs will be incurred and such costs can be reasonably estimated. The proceeding-related reserve is based on developments to date and historical information related to actions filed against the Company. As of September 30, 2013, the Company had established reserves for proceeding-related contingencies of $3,536,947 to cover legal actions against the Company. In addition, as of September 30, 2013 the Company and its subsidiaries are subject to certain legal actions considered by the Company's management and its legal counsels to be reasonably possible for an aggregate amount up to $4,237,413. No loss amount has been accrued for such legal actions of which the most significant ones (individually or in the aggregate) are described below.

As of September 30, 2013, 623 legal actions were pending in the Brazilian ordinary courts. In addition, as of September 30, 2013, there were 3,371 cases still pending in Brazilian consumer courts. Filing and pursuing of an action before Brazilian consumer courts do not require the assistance of a lawyer. In most of the cases filed against the Company, the plaintiffs asserted that the Company was responsible for fraud committed against them, or responsible for damages suffered when purchasing an item on the Company's website, when using MercadoPago, or when the Company invoiced them.

On August 25, 2010, Citizen Watch do Brasil S/A, or Citizen, sued certain of the Company's Brazilian subsidiaries MercadoLivre.com Atividades de Internet Ltda. and eBazar.com.br Ltda. in the 31st Central Civil Court State of São Paulo, Brazil. Citizen alleged that the Brazilian subsidiaries were infringing Citizen's trademarks as a result of users selling allegedly counterfeit Citizen watches through the Brazilian page of the Brazilian subsidiaries' website. Citizen sought an order enjoining the sale of Citizen-branded watches on the Brazilian subsidiaries' Marketplace with a $6,000 daily non-compliance penalty. On September 23, 2010, the Brazilian subsidiaries were summoned of an injunction granted to prohibit the offer of Citizen products on its platform, but the penalty was established at $6,000. On September 26, 2010, the Brazilian subsidiaries presented their defense and appealed the decision of the injunction relief to the State Court of Appeals of São Paulo on September 27, 2010. On October 22, 2010 the injunction granted to Citizen was suspended. On March 23, 2011, the Company's appeal regarding the injunction granted to Citizen was ruled in favor of the Brazilian subsidiaries. On May 4, 2011, Citizen presented a motion to clarify the decision but it was dismissed on March 14, 2012. On May 28, 2012, the Plaintiff filed a special recourse related to the injunction relief to the State Court of Appeals, and the Brazilian subsidiaries presented their defense on August 16, 2012 which was not admitted. In September 2012, the Plaintiff filed a legal action against the Brazilian subsidiaries with same arguments alleged in the injunction request and seeking for compensatory and statutory damages and defenses were presented on March 20, 2013. On January 9, 2013, Citizen appealed the Brazilian Superior Court of Justice (Superior Tribunal de Justiça). On March 1, 2013, the Company presented its response to that appeal. On August 27, 2013, the Brazilian Superior Court of Justice ruled against Citizen's appeal. The Superior Court of Justice ruled that the Brazilian subsidiaries were not responsible for alleged infringement of intellectual property rights by its users and that they should comply with the notice and take down procedure it already had in place. On October 4, 2013, Citizen presented a motion to clarify the above mentioned decision issued by the Brazilian Superior Court of Justice and such motion ruling is still pending. As of September 30, 2013 the lower court's ruling was still pending. In the opinion of the Brazilian subsidiaries' management and its legal counsel the risk of loss is reasonably possible but not probable.

State of Rio de Janeiro Customer Service Level Claim

On August 19, 2011, a state prosecutor of the State of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil presented a claim against the Company's Brazilian subsidiary. The state prosecutor alleges that the Brazilian subsidiary should improve its customer service level and provide (among other things) a telephone number for customer support and requested an injunction against our Brazilian subsidiary. On August 23, 2011, the Judge of the first instance court denied the aforementioned injunction. On December 7, 2011, the Company was notified of the lawsuit. On March 1, 2012 the Company presented its defense. On August 29, 2012 a conciliatory hearing was held, but no agreement was reached. On October 22, 2012, the Lower Court Judges ruled in favor of MercadoLivre and dismissed the claim against MercadoLivre. The Public Prosecutor appealed the decision and MercadoLivre presented its defense on December 12, 2012. On April 9, 2013, the State Court of Appeals ruled in favor of the Company confirming the dismissal of the claim. On May 28, 2013 the decision was appealed by the state prosecutor to the Brazilian Superior Court of Justice and the Company presented its response on July 2, 2013. As of September 30, 2013, the Brazilian Superior Court of Justice ruling was still pending. In the opinion of the Company's management and its legal counsel the risk of loss is remote.

City of São Paulo Tax Claims

In September 2012 São Paulo tax authorities have asserted taxes and fines against our Brazilian subsidiary related to our Brazilian subsidiary's activities in São Paulo for the period from 2007 through 2010. As of September 30, 2013 those asserted taxes and fines amounts to approximately R$40.3 million or $18.1 million according to the exchange rate as of September 30, 2013. In January 2005 the Company moved our operations to Santana de Parnaíba City, Brazil and began paying taxes to that jurisdiction and therefore the Company believes that has strong defenses to the claims of the São Paulo authorities with respect to this period. On July 27, 2012, the Company presented administrative defenses against the authorities' claim. On February 2, 2013, São Paulo tax authorities ruled against the Brazilian subsidiary maintaining claimed taxes and fines. On March 4, 2013, the Company presented an appeal to the Conselho Municipal de Tributos or São Paulo Municipal Council of Taxes. On August 23, 2013, the Câmaras Reunidas do Egrégio Conselho Municipal de Tributos or Superior Chamber of the São Paulo Municipal Council of Taxes ruled against the Company's appeal. On September 5, 2013, the Company presented a special appeal to the Superior Chamber of the São Paulo Municipal Council of Taxes. On October 18, 2013, the mentioned appeal was denied to our Brazilian subsidiary and confirmed the fines. With this decision the administrative stage is finished and the Company will contest this tax assessment and fines in a judicial stage. The Company's management and its legal counsel believe that the risk of loss is remote, and as a result, the Company has not reserved any provisions for this claim.

Other third parties have from time to time claimed, and others may claim in the future, that the Company was responsible for fraud committed against them, or that the Company has infringed their intellectual property rights. The underlying laws with respect to the potential liability of online intermediaries like the Company are unclear in the jurisdictions where the Company operates. Management believes that additional lawsuits alleging that the Company has violated copyright or trademark laws will be filed against the Company in the future.

Intellectual property and regulatory claims, whether meritorious or not, are time consuming and costly to resolve, require significant amounts of management time, could require expensive changes in the Company's methods of doing business, or could require the Company to enter into costly royalty or licensing agreements. The Company may be subject to patent disputes, and be subject to patent infringement claims as the Company's services expand in scope and complexity. In particular, the Company may face additional patent infringement claims involving various aspects of the payments businesses.

7. Commitments and Contingencies (Continued)

From time to time, the Company is involved in other disputes or regulatory inquiries that arise in the ordinary course of business. The number and significance of these disputes and inquiries are increasing as the Company's business expands and the Company grows larger.

8. Long Term Retention Plan

In May 2013 the board of directors, upon the recommendation of the Compensation Committee, approved certain amendments to the 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012 Long-Term Retention Plans (the Amended LTRPs), to give the Company (through the approval of the Compensation Committee) the option to pay the compensation due under the Amended LTRPs in cash, common stock or a combination thereof. The company has granted the right to any Amended LTRP participant to request settlement in cash. The Amended LTRPs have been considered to be a substantive liability and classified accordingly in the balance sheet.

On September 27, 2013, the Board of Directors, upon the recommendation of the Compensation Committee approved the 2013 employee retention programs (2013 LTRP). The awards under 2013 LTRP are payable in cash, common stock or a combination thereof, in addition to the annual salary and bonus of each employee. The Company has granted the right to any LTRP participant to request settlement in cash.

The 2013 LTRP will be paid in 6 equal annual quotas (16.67% each) commencing on March 31, 2014. Each quota is calculated as follows:

8.333% of the amount is calculated in nominal terms (the nominal basis share),

8.333% is adjusted by multiplying the nominal amount by the average closing stock price for the last 60 trading days of the year previous to the payment date and divided by the average closing stock price for the last 60 trading days of 2012. The average closing stock price for the 2013 LTRP amounted to $79.57 (the variable share).

9. Cash dividend distribution

On January 15, 2013, the Company paid the 2012 last quarterly cash dividend distribution of $4.8 million (or $0.109 per share) to stockholders of record as of the close of business on December 31, 2012.

On February 22, April 30 and July 30, 2013 the board of directors approved the first, second and third, respectively, 2013 quarterly cash dividend of $6.3 million (or $0.143 per share) on our outstanding shares of common stock. The dividends have been paid on April 15, July 15 and October 15, 2013, respectively, to stockholders of record as of the close of business on March 29, June 28 and September 30, 2013, respectively.

Finally, on October 31, 2013, the board of directors declared the fourth 2013 quarterly cash dividend of $6.3 million (or $0.143 per share), payable to the holders of the Company's common stock. This quarterly cash dividend will be paid on January 15, 2014 to stockholders of record as of the close of business on December 31, 2013.

Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

Certain statements regarding our future performance made or implied in this report are forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. The words anticipate, believe, expect, intend, plan, estimate, target, should, may, could, will and similar words and expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements generally relate to information concerning our possible or assumed future results of operations, business strategies, financing plans, competitive position, industry environment, potential growth opportunities, the effects of future regulation and the effects of competition. Such forward-looking statements reflect, among other things, our current expectations, plans, projections and strategies, anticipated financial results, future events and financial trends affecting our business, all of which are subject to known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other important factors (in addition to those discussed elsewhere in this report) that may cause our actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements. These risks and uncertainties include, among other things:

our expectations regarding the continued growth of online commerce and Internet usage in Latin America;

our ability to expand our operations and adapt to rapidly changing technologies;

government regulation;

litigation and legal liability;

systems interruptions or failures;

our ability to attract and retain qualified personnel;

consumer trends;

security breaches and illegal uses of our services;

competition;

reliance on third-party service providers;

enforcement of intellectual property rights;

our ability to attract new customers, retain existing customers and increase revenues;

seasonal fluctuations; and political, social and economic conditions in Latin America in general, and Venezuela and Argentina in particular, including Venezuela's status as a highly inflationary economy and possible future currency devaluation and other changes to its exchange rate system, including the Complementary System for the Administration of Foreign Currencies (SICAD).

Many of these risks are beyond our ability to control or predict. New risk factors emerge from time to time and it is not possible for management to predict all such risk factors, nor can it assess the impact of all such risk factors on our company's business or the extent to which any factor, or combination of factors, may cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statements.

These statements are based on currently available information and our current assumptions, expectations and projections about future events. While we believe that our assumptions, expectations and projections are reasonable in view of the currently available information, you are cautioned not to place undue reliance on our forward-looking statements. These statements are not guarantees of future performance. They are subject to future events, risks and uncertainties as well as potentially inaccurate assumptions that could cause actual results to differ materially from our expectations and projections. The material risks and uncertainties (in addition to those referred to above and elsewhere in this report) that could cause actual results to differ materially from our expectations and projections are described in

Item 1A Risk Factors in Part I of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2012 filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on February 28, 2013, as updated by those described in Item 1A Risk Factors in Part II of this report and in Item 1A Risk Factors in Part II of our quarterly report for the quarter ended June 30, 2013, and in other reports we file from time to time with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

Business Overview

MercadoLibre, Inc. (together with its subsidiaries us, we, our or the Company) hosts the largest online commerce platform in Latin America, which is focused on enabling e-commerce and its related services. Our platforms are designed to provide our users with a complete portfolio of services facilitating e-commerce transactions. We are market leaders in e-commerce in each of Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Ecuador, Mexico, Peru, Uruguay and Venezuela, based on unique visitors and page views. Additionally, we also operate online commerce platforms in the Dominican Republic, Panama and Portugal.

Through our online commerce platform, we provide buyers and sellers with a robust online commerce environment that fosters the development of a large and growing e-commerce community in Latin America, a region with a population of over 584 million people and one of the fastest-growing Internet penetration rates in the world. We believe that we offer a technological and commercial solution that addresses the distinctive cultural and geographic challenges of operating an online commerce platform in Latin America.

We offer our users an eco-system of six related e-commerce services: the MercadoLibre Marketplace, The MercadoLibre Classifieds Service, the MercadoPago payments solution, the MercadoLibre Advertising program, the MercadoShops on-line stores solution and the MercadoLibre Envios shipping service.

The MercadoLibre Marketplace, which we sometimes refer to as our marketplace, is a fully-automated, topically-arranged and user-friendly online commerce service. This service permits both businesses and individuals to list general merchandising items and conduct their sales and purchases online in either a fixed-price or auction-based format. Any Internet user in the countries in which we operate can browse through the various products that are listed on our web site and register with MercadoLibre to list, bid for and purchase such items and services.

To complement the MercadoLibre Marketplace, we developed MercadoPago, an integrated online payments solution. MercadoPago is designed to facilitate transactions both on and off the MercadoLibre Marketplace by providing a mechanism that allows our users to securely, easily and promptly send, receive and finance payments online.

Through online classified listings in the motors, real estate and services categories, our users can offer for sale and generate leads on listings in these non-general merchandising categories.

As a further enhancement to the MercadoLibre Marketplace, in 2009, we launched our MercadoLibre Advertising program to enable businesses to promote their products and services on the Internet. Through MercadoLibre Advertising, users and advertisers are able to place display and/or text advertisements on our web pages in order to promote their brands and offerings. MercadoLibre Advertising offers advertisers a cost efficient and automated platform that enables advertisers to acquire traffic through advertisements placed on our platform. Advertisers purchase, on a cost per click basis, advertising space that appears around product search results for specific categories and other pages. These advertising placements are clearly differentiated from product search results and direct traffic both to and from our platform depending on the advertiser.

Additionally, during 2010, we launched the MercadoShops on-line stores solution. Through MercadoShops users can set-up, manage and promote their own on-line webstores. These webstores are hosted by MercadoLibre and offer integration with the other marketplace, payments and advertising services we offer. Users can choose from a basic, free webstore or pay monthly subscriptions for enhanced functionality and value added services on their stores.

Table of Contents

To close out our suite of e-commerce services, during 2013, we launched the MercadoLibre Envios shipping solution. Through this solution, we offer cost efficient integration with existing logistics and shipping carriers to sellers on our platforms. Sellers opting into the program are able to offer a uniform and seamlessly integrated shipping experience to their buyers.

Reporting Segments and Geographic information

Our segment reporting is based on geography, which is the current criterion we are using to evaluate our segment performance. Our geographic segments include Brazil, Argentina, Mexico, Venezuela and other countries (including Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Panama, Peru, Portugal, Uruguay and the United States of America (real estate classifieds only in the State of Florida)).

The following table sets forth the percentage of our consolidated net revenues by segment for the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012:

(% of total consolidated net revenues) (*)	Nine-month Period Ended		Three-month Period Ended
	September 30, 2013	September 30, 2012	September 30, 2013	September 30, 2012

Recent developments

Office building acquisition agreements in Caracas

On September 19, 2013, our Venezuelan subsidiary, MercadoLibre Venezuela S.R.L., entered into a memorandum of understanding with Lopco de Venezuela, C.A. (Lopco) to acquire an office property (the Property) totaling 1,367 square meters, in the Torre Copérnico building in Centro San Ignacio, La Castellana, Chacao, Caracas, Venezuela. The purchase price of BF$328.2 million, or approximately $52.2 million, was paid in local currency. Our Venezuelan subsidiary is funding a portion of the purchase price with its own funds and the balance of approximately BF$85.1 million, or $13.5 million, pursuant to an unsecured line of credit. The unsecured line of credit, which has a 12-month term, was obtained from a Venezuelan bank at a fixed interest rate of 13% per annum.

Because the transfer of the Property was still pending at September 30, 2013, we have recorded 50% of the purchase price as an Advance for fixed assets on our unaudited interim condensed consolidated balance sheet as of September 30, 2013. The outstanding amount under the unsecured line of credit as of September 30, 2013 is included in current liabilities on our unaudited interim condensed consolidated balance sheet as of September 30, 2013 under the caption Loans payable and other financial liabilities . At the date of this Form 10-Q, we have paid the 100% of the purchase price.

Table of Contents*2013 Long Term Retention Program*

On September 27, 2013, our board of directors, upon the recommendation of the compensation committee of our board of directors, approved our 2013 Long Term Retention Plan (the 2013 LTRP). If earned, payments to eligible employees under the 2013 LTRP will be in addition to payments of base salary and cash bonus, the latter if earned, made to those employees.

In order to receive an award under the 2013 LTRP, each eligible employee must satisfy the performance conditions established by our board of directors for such employee. If these conditions are satisfied, the eligible employee will, subject to his or her continued employment as of each applicable payment date, receive the full amount of his or her 2013 LTRP bonus, payable as follows:

the eligible employee will receive a fixed cash payment, common stock or a combination thereof, equal to 8.333% of his or her 2013 LTRP bonus once a year for a period of six years starting in 2014 (the Annual Fixed Payment); and

on each date we pay the Annual Fixed Payment to an eligible employee, he or she will also receive a cash payment (the Variable Payment) equal to the product of (i) 8.333% of the applicable 2013 LTRP bonus and (ii) the quotient of (a) divided by (b), where (a), the numerator, equals the Applicable Year Stock Price (as defined below) and (b), the denominator, equals the 2012 Stock Price, defined as $79.57, which was the average closing price of our common stock on the NASDAQ Global Market during the final 60 trading days of 2012. The Applicable Year Stock Price shall equal the average closing price of our common stock on the NASDAQ Global Market during the final 60 trading days of the year preceding the applicable payment date.

The compensation cost related to the Annual Fixed Payments is recognized on a straight line basis using the equal annual accrual method. The compensation cost related to the Variable Payments is recognized in accordance with the graded-vesting attribution method and is accrued up to each payment day.

As of September 30, 2013, the total compensation cost of the 2013 LTRP was expected to be approximately $10.5 million and the related accrued compensation expense for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2013 was $3.7 million.

Description of line items*Net revenues*

We recognize revenues in each of our five reporting segments. Our reporting segments include our operations in Brazil, Argentina, Mexico, Venezuela and other countries (Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Panama, Peru, Portugal, Uruguay and the United States of America).

Within each of our segments, the services we provide generally fall into two distinct revenue streams, Marketplace which includes our core business and Non-Marketplace which includes ad sales, real estate, motors, financing fees, off-platform payment fees and other ancillary businesses.

The following table summarizes our consolidated net revenues by revenue stream for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012:

Consolidated Net	Nine-month Period Ended		Three-month Period Ended
	September 30,		September 30,
Revenues by revenue	2013	2012	2013	2012
stream
Marketplace	$ 236.4	$ 189.5	$ 86.8	$ 67.3
Non-Marketplace (*)	101.6	80.4	36.3	30.0
Total	$ 338.0	$ 269.9	$ 123.1	$ 97.3

(*) Includes, among other things, Ad Sales, Real Estate, Motors, Financing Fees, Off-platform Payment Fees and other ancillary services.

Revenues from MercadoLibre Marketplace transactions are generated from:

up-front fees; and

final value fees.

Table of Contents

For Marketplace services, final value fees representing a percentage of the sale value are charged to the seller once the item is successfully sold. Up-front fees are charged to the seller in exchange for improved exposure of the listings throughout our platform and are not subject to the successful sale of the items listed.

Revenues for the Non-Marketplace services are generated from:

financing fees;

off-platform payment fees;

motors up-front fees;

ad sales up-front fees;

real estate up-front fees;

and fees from other ancillary businesses.

With respect to our MercadoPago service, we generate payment related revenues, reported within each of our reporting segments, attributable to:

commissions representing a percentage of the payment volume processed that are charged to sellers in connection with off-Marketplace-platform transactions; and revenues from financing that occur when a buyer elects to pay in installments through our MercadoPago platform, for transactions that occur either on or off our marketplace platform.

Although we also process payments on our marketplace, we do not charge sellers an added commission for this service, as it is already included in the marketplace final value fee we charge.

Through our classifieds offerings in motors, real estate and services, we generate revenues from up-front fees. These fees are charged to sellers who opt to give their listings greater exposure throughout our websites.

Finally, our Advertising revenues are generated by selling either display or text link ads throughout our web-site to interested advertisers.

When more than one service is included in one single arrangement with the customer, we recognize revenue according to multiple element arrangements accounting, distinguishing between each of the services provided and allocating revenues based on their respective selling prices.

We have a highly fragmented customer revenue base given the large numbers of sellers and buyers who use our platforms. For the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012, no single customer accounted for more than 5.0% of our net revenues. Our MercadoLibre Marketplace is available in thirteen countries (Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Mexico, Panama, Peru, Portugal, Uruguay and Venezuela), and MercadoPago is available in six countries (Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Mexico and Venezuela). The functional currency for each country's operations is the country's local currency, except for Venezuela where the functional currency is the U.S. dollar due to Venezuela's status as a highly inflationary economy. See Critical accounting policies and estimates Foreign Currency Translation included below. Therefore, our net revenues are generated in multiple foreign currencies and then translated into U.S. dollars at the average monthly exchange rate.

Our subsidiaries in Brazil, Argentina, Venezuela and Colombia are subject to certain taxes on revenues which are classified as a cost of net revenues. These taxes represented 6.2% and 6.1% of net revenues for the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 as compared to 5.7% and 6.2%, respectively, for the same periods in 2012.

Cost of net revenues

Cost of net revenues primarily represents bank and credit card processing charges for transactions and fees paid with credit cards and other payment methods, fraud prevention fees, certain taxes on revenues, compensation for customer support personnel, ISP connectivity charges, depreciation and amortization and hosting and site operation fees.

Product and technology development expenses

Our product and technology development related expenses consist primarily of compensation for our engineering and web-development staff, depreciation and amortization costs related to product and technology development, telecommunications costs and payments to third-party suppliers who provide technology maintenance services to us.

Sales and marketing expenses

Our sales and marketing expenses consist primarily of marketing costs for our platforms through online and offline advertising, bad debt charges, chargebacks related to our MercadoPago operations, the salaries of employees involved in these activities, public relations costs, marketing activities for our users and depreciation and amortization costs.

Table of Contents

We carry out the majority of our marketing efforts on the Internet. In that regard, we enter into agreements with portals, search engines, social networks, ad networks and other sites in order to attract Internet users to the MercadoLibre Marketplace and convert them into confirmed registered users and active traders on our platform. Additionally, we allocate a portion of our marketing budget to cable television advertising in order to improve our brand awareness and to complement our online efforts.

We also work intensively on attracting, developing and growing our seller community through our supply efforts. We have dedicated professionals in most of our operations that work with sellers through trade show participation, seminars and meetings to provide them with important tools and skills to become effective sellers on our platform.

General and administrative expenses

Our general and administrative expenses consist primarily of salaries for management and administrative staff, compensation for outside directors, long term retention plan compensation, expenses for legal, accounting and other professional services, insurance expenses, office space rental expenses, travel and business expenses, as well as depreciation and amortization costs. General and administrative expenses include the costs of the following areas of our company: general management, finance, administration, accounting, legal and human resources.

Other (expenses) income, net

Other income (expenses) consists primarily of interest income derived from our investments and cash equivalents, foreign currency gains or losses, and other non-operating results.

Income and asset tax

We are subject to federal and state taxes in the United States, as well as foreign taxes in the multiple jurisdictions where we operate. Our tax obligations consist of current and deferred income taxes and asset taxes incurred in these jurisdictions. We account for income taxes following the liability method of accounting. Therefore, our income tax expense consists of taxes currently payable, if any (given that in certain jurisdictions we still have net operating loss carry-forwards), plus the change in our deferred tax assets and liabilities during each such period.

Critical accounting policies and estimates

The preparation of our unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements and related notes requires us to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect our reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses, and related disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. We have based our estimates on historical experience and on various other assumptions that we believe to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Our management has discussed the development, selection and disclosure of these estimates with our audit committee and board of directors. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions.

An accounting policy is considered to be critical if it requires an accounting estimate to be made based on assumptions about matters that are highly uncertain at the time the estimate is made, and if different estimates that reasonably could have been used, or changes in the accounting estimates that are reasonably likely to occur periodically, could materially impact our condensed consolidated financial statements. We believe that the following critical accounting policies reflect the more significant estimates and assumptions used in the preparation of our condensed consolidated financial statements. You should read the following descriptions of critical accounting policies, judgments and estimates in conjunction with our unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements, the notes thereto and other disclosures included in this report.

There have been no significant changes in our critical accounting policies, management estimates or accounting policies followed from the year ended December 31, 2012.

Foreign Currency Translation

Historically, all of our foreign operations have used the local currency as their functional currency. Accordingly, these foreign subsidiaries translate assets and liabilities from their local currencies to U.S. dollars using period/year-end exchange rates while income and expense accounts are translated at the average exchange rates in effect during the period/year. The resulting translation adjustment is recorded as part of other comprehensive income (loss), a component of equity. Gains and losses resulting from transactions denominated in non-functional currencies are recognized in earnings. Net foreign currency exchange losses or gains are included in the consolidated statements of income under the caption Foreign currency gain/loss .

Venezuelan currency status

In accordance with U.S. GAAP, we have classified our Venezuelan operations as highly inflationary as from January 1, 2010, using the U.S. dollar as the functional currency for purposes of reporting our financial statements. Therefore, no translation effect has been accounted for in other comprehensive income related to our Venezuelan operations.

On May 14, 2010, the Venezuelan government enacted reforms to its exchange regulations making the Venezuelan Central Bank (BCV) the only institution that could legally authorize the purchase or sale of foreign currency bonds, thereby excluding non-authorized brokers from the foreign exchange market.

Under this system, known as the SITME, entities domiciled in Venezuela could purchase U.S. dollar-denominated securities only through banks authorized by the BCV to import goods, services or capital goods. We began to use the SITME rate and started re-measuring foreign currency transactions using the SITME rate published by BCV, which has been settled at 5.3 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar.

On February 8, 2013, the Venezuelan Government, through Foreign Exchange Agreement No. 14, has devalued as from February 9, 2013, the official exchange rate from 4.3 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar to 6.3 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar. The devaluation required re-measurement of our Venezuelan subsidiaries' non-U.S. dollar denominated monetary assets and liabilities as from February 9, 2013. The devaluation of the official exchange rate of the Bolivares Fuertes against the U.S. dollar from 5.3 to 6.3 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar generated a foreign currency loss amounted to approximately $6.4 million in the first quarter of 2013.

In addition, on February 8, 2013, the Venezuelan Government, through Decree No. 9381 (the Decree), has created the Organo Superior para la Optimización del Sistema Cambiario (or the Committee), which is a committee that will have the authority to design, plan and execute foreign exchange policies. Finally, on February 9, 2013, the BCV eliminated the SITME, which was the former system that allowed companies limited access to foreign currencies for payments to foreign suppliers.

On March 19, 2013, the BCV announced the creation of the Sistema Complementario de Administración de Divisas, or SICAD, which will act jointly with the Commission for the Administration of Foreign Exchange Control (CADIVI). In order to operate within this new system, a company should be registered at the Registro Automatizado (Automatized Register, or RUSAD). The acquisition of foreign currencies under this new system is organized under an auction process to obtain foreign currencies for payments to foreign suppliers, where the minimum exchange rate to be offered is 6.30 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar. Starting from the implementation of SICAD and as of the date of this report, we have been unable to access the auction process under SICAD and there is no information available on the details or planned frequency of the SICAD mechanism.

Accordingly, as of September 30, 2013, the exchange rate used to re-measure our net monetary assets of our Venezuelan operations was the official rate of 6.30 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar.

Until 2010 we were able to obtain U.S. dollars for any purpose, including dividends distribution, using alternative mechanisms other than through the CADIVI. Those U.S. dollars, obtained at a higher exchange rate than the one offered by CADIVI, and held in balance at U.S. bank accounts of our Venezuelan subsidiaries, were used for dividend distributions from our Venezuelan subsidiaries. CADIVI is the only means by which U.S. dollars for dividend distributions can be requested. We did not request authorization to CADIVI in 2012, neither during the nine months ended September 30, 2013, to acquire U.S. dollars to make dividend distributions. We have not distributed dividends from our Venezuelan subsidiaries since 2011.

The following table sets forth the assets, liabilities and net assets of our Venezuelan subsidiaries, before intercompany eliminations, as of September 30, 2013 and December 31, 2012 and net revenues for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012.

For the nine-month periods ended
September 30,
2013	2012

Venezuelan operations
Net Revenues	$ 55,695,385	$ 37,872,351
	September 30,	December 31,
	2013	2012
Assets	106,529,563	62,938,728
Liabilities	(53,195,418)	(22,652,965)
Net Assets	$ 53,334,145	$ 40,285,763

As of September 30, 2013, the net assets of our Venezuelan subsidiaries amount to approximately 16.5% of our consolidated net assets, and cash and investments of our Venezuelan subsidiaries held in local currency in Venezuela amount to approximately 12.4% of our consolidated cash and investments.

Our ability to obtain U.S. dollars in Venezuela is negatively affected by the exchange restrictions in Venezuela that are described above. If the SICAD framework or alternative source of exchange becomes widely available at a more unfavorable rate than 6.30 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar, our result of operations and earnings would be negatively impacted, and we cannot assure that that impact would not be material. In addition, our business and ability to obtain U.S. dollars in Venezuela would be negatively affected by additional material devaluations or the imposition of significant additional and more stringent controls on foreign currency exchange by the Venezuelan government in the future.

Table of Contents

Despite the current difficult macroeconomic environment in Venezuela, we continue to actively manage, through our Venezuelan subsidiaries, our investment in and exposure to Venezuela. Based on current operating, political and economic conditions and certain other factors in Venezuela, we currently believe that our business plans and operating strategy in Venezuela will not be materially adversely impacted in the long run.

Argentine currency status

The Argentine government has implemented certain measures that control and restrict the ability of companies and individuals to exchange Argentine pesos for foreign currencies. Those measures include, among other things, the requirement to obtain the prior approval from the Argentine Tax Authority of the foreign currency transaction (for example and without limitation, for the payment of non-Argentine goods and services, payment of principal and interest on non-Argentine debt and also payment of dividends to parties outside of the country), which approval process could delay, and eventually restrict, the ability to exchange Argentine pesos for other currencies, such as U.S. dollars. Those approvals are administered by the Argentine Central Bank through the Local Exchange Market (Mercado Unico Libre de Cambios , or MULC), which is the only market where exchange transactions may be lawfully made.

Further, restrictions also currently apply to the acquisition of any foreign currency for holding as cash within Argentina. Although the controls and restrictions on the acquisition of foreign currencies in Argentina place certain limitations on our current ability to convert cash generated by our Argentine subsidiaries into foreign currencies, based on the current state of Argentine currency rules and regulations, we do not expect that the current controls and restrictions, will have a material adverse effect on our business plans in Argentina or on our overall business, financial condition or results of operations.

Allowances for doubtful accounts and for chargebacks

We are exposed to losses due to uncollectible accounts and credits to sellers. Allowances for these items represent our estimate of future losses based on our historical experience. The allowances for doubtful accounts and for chargebacks are recorded as charges to sales and marketing expenses. Historically, our actual losses have been consistent with our charges. However, future adverse changes to our historical experience for doubtful accounts and chargebacks could have a material impact on our future consolidated statements of income and cash flows.

We believe that the accounting estimate related to allowances for doubtful accounts and for chargebacks is a critical accounting estimate because it requires management to make assumptions about future collections and credit analysis. Our management's assumptions about future collections require significant judgment.

Legal contingencies

In connection with certain pending litigation and other claims, we have estimated the range of probable loss and provided for such losses through charges to our condensed consolidated statement of income. These estimates are based on our assessment of the facts and circumstances and historical information related to actions filed against us at each balance sheet date and are subject to change based upon new information and future events.

From time to time, we are involved in disputes that arise in the ordinary course of business. We are currently involved in certain legal proceedings as described in Legal Proceedings in Item 1 of Part II of this report, Item 3 of Part I of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for our fiscal year ended December 31, 2012 and in Note 7 to our unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements, included in this report. We believe that we have meritorious defenses to the claims against us, and we will defend ourselves accordingly. However, even if successful, our defense could be costly and could divert management's time. If the plaintiffs were to prevail on certain claims, we might be forced to pay damages or modify our business practices. Any of these consequences could materially harm our business and could have a material adverse impact on our financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

Results of operations for the three-month period ended September 30, 2013 compared to three-month period ended September 30, 2012 and the nine-month period ended September 30, 2013 compared to the nine-month period ended September 30, 2012

The selected financial data for the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012 discussed herein is derived from our unaudited interim condensed consolidated financial statements included in Item 1 of Part I of this report. These statements include all normal recurring adjustments that management believes are necessary to fairly state our financial position, results of operations and cash flows. The results of operations for the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the full year ending December 31, 2013 or for any other period.

On a segment basis, our net revenues for the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012, increased across all geographic segments.

Brazil

Net revenues grew 13.1%, a $6.1 million increase in the third quarter of 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012. Our Brazilian Marketplace business grew 15.6%, or $4.8 million, during the third quarter of 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012. The performance was driven by increased units sales, and growth in both final value and up-front fees charged. The Non-Marketplace business grew 8.4%, a $1.3 million increase, during the same period, driven by an increase in the volume of financing transactions offered to our users.

Table of Contents

Net revenues grew 14.0% representing an $18.7 million increase in the nine-month period of 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012. During this same period, our Brazilian Marketplace business grew 14.3%, a $12.9 million increase driven by increased units sales, and growth in both final value and up-front fees charged. The Non-Marketplace business grew 13.6%, a $5.8 million increase, mainly driven by an increase in the volume of financing transactions offered to our users.

Argentina

Net revenues grew 37.4%, a $9.0 million increase in the third quarter of 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012. Our Argentine Marketplace business grew 32.1%, a $5.4 million increase, during the third quarter of 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012 driven by increased units sales, and growth in both final value and up-front fees charged. The Non-Marketplace business grew 49.3%, a $3.6 million increase, during the same period mainly driven by an increase in the volume of off-platform transactions during the third quarter of 2013.

Net revenues grew 39.7%, a $24.9 million increase in the nine-month period of 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012. Our Argentine Marketplace business grew 30.3%, a $13.5 million increase, during the nine-month period of 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012 driven by increased units sales, and growth in both final value and up-front fees charged. The Non-Marketplace business grew 62.6%, a $11.4 million increase, during the same period driven by an increase in the volume of off-platform transactions.

Venezuela

Net revenues grew 61.8%, a $8.8 million increase in the third quarter of 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012. Our Venezuelan Marketplace business grew 76.9%, an $8.0 million increase, during the third quarter of 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012 driven by increased units sales, and growth in both final value and up-front fees charged. The Non-Marketplace business grew 21.1%, an $0.8 million increase, during the same period driven by an increase in the volume of motors listing fees.

Net revenues grew 47.1%, a $17.8 million increase in the nine-month period of 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012. Our Venezuelan Marketplace business grew 60.1%, a $16.6 million increase, during the nine-month period of 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012 driven by increased units sales, and growth in both final value and up-front fees charged. The Non-Marketplace business grew 11.7%, a $1.2 million increase, during the same period driven by an increase in the volume of motors listing fees.

Mexico

Net revenues grew 20.9%, a $1.4 million increase in the third quarter of 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012. Our Mexican Marketplace business grew 17.6%, a $0.9 million increase, during the third quarter of 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012 driven by increased units sales, and growth in both final value and up-front fees charged. The Non-Marketplace business grew 29.4%, a $0.5 million increase, during the same period driven by an increase in the volume of motors listing fees.

Net revenues grew 22.7%, a $4.4 million increase in the nine-month period of 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012. Our Mexican Marketplace business grew 20.3%, a $3.0 million increase, during the nine-month period of 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012 driven by a growth in both final value and up-front fees charged. The Non-Marketplace business grew 30.4%, a $1.4 million increase, during the same period driven by an increase in the volume of motors listing fees.

For the three-month period ended September 30, 2013, the increase of $8.5 million in cost of net revenues as compared to the same period in 2012 was primarily attributable to: i) an increase in collection fees amounting to $3.4 million, or 29.1%, which was mainly attributable to our Argentine and Venezuelan operations; ii) an increase in sales tax amounting to $2.1 million, mainly in Argentina and Brazil and iii) a $1.0 million increase in customer support expenses, that was primarily driven by an increase in compensation and recruitment costs incurred in order to improve our service and our initiatives to combat illegal items and fee evasion, and increased investments in customer service operations to improve our users' experience, iv) an increase in our site operation costs by $1.0 million, mainly driven by an increase in fraud prevention costs and v) an increase in others costs amounting to $0.8 million, primarily driven by an increase in taxes on banking transactions in Argentina.

For the nine-month period ended September 30, 2013, the increase of $23.2 million in cost of net revenues as compared to the same period in 2012 was primarily attributable to: i) an increase in collection fees amounting to $9.5 million, or 30.3%, which was primarily attributable to our Argentine and Venezuelan operations; ii) an increase of $4.2 million, or 26.4%, in customer support expenses that was primarily driven by an increase in compensation and recruitment costs incurred in order to improve our service and our initiatives to combat the sale of illegal items and fee evasion, as well as increased investments in our customer service operations to improve our users' experience; iii) an increase of $4.0 million or 24.1%, in sales tax as compared to the same period in 2012; iv) an increase of $3.1 million in site operations, primarily driven by fraud prevention and hosting expenses; v) a period over period increase in taxes on banking transactions in Argentina amounting to $2.3 million, representing a 56.8%.

For the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013, the increase in product and technology development expenses as compared to the same periods in 2012 was primarily attributable to an increase of $1.5 million, or 36.3%, and $4.1 million, or 38.5%, respectively, in compensation costs as a result of: i) increases in LTRP compensation costs as a consequence of an increase in the fair market value of our shares; ii) increases in compensation costs related to our recently approved 2013 LTRP; iii) the addition of engineers, as we continue to invest in top quality talent to develop enhancements and new features across our platforms; and iv) the addition of a number of developers that joined our company in connection with our acquisition of a software development company in the first quarter of 2013. We believe product development is one of our key competitive advantages and intend to continue to invest in adding engineers to meet the increasingly sophisticated product expectations of our customer base.

In addition, for the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the same periods in 2012, product development expenses grew $2.0 million, and $3.6 million, respectively, as a consequence of an increase in maintenance expenses related to the use of cloud computing (AWS), information technology consulting fees, real-time monitoring of our applications and the use of content distribution network (CDN) and other product development expenses. Finally, depreciation and amortization grew, during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2013, by $0.7 million, or 41.1%, and $1.8 million, or 41.0%, respectively, as compared to the same periods in 2012.

For the three-month period ended September 30, 2013, the $5.6 million increase in sales and marketing expenses when compared to the same period in 2012 was primarily attributable to: i) an increase of $2.1 million associated with off-line marketing expenses, from $0.4 million during the three months ended September 30, 2012 to $2.5 million in the same period of 2013 in connection with new TV and radio campaigns conducted by us in Latin America ; ii) an increase in expenses related to on-line marketing of $1.2 million, or 26.7%, as compared to the same period of 2012; and iii) an increase of $1.4 million in compensation costs. In addition, for the three months ended September 30, 2013, as compared to the same period in 2012, bad debt increased by $1.0 million. Bad debt represented 4.2% and 4.3% of our net revenues for the three months ended September 30, 2013 and 2012, respectively. These increases have been partially offset by a decrease of $0.6 million in the volume of chargebacks mainly attributable to our Brazilian operation.

For the nine-month period ended September 30, 2013, the increase in sales and marketing expenses as compared to the same period in 2012 was primarily driven by: i) an increase of $7.2 million in off-line marketing expenses in connection with new TV and radio campaigns conducted by us in Latin America; ii) an increase in expenses related to on-line marketing of $3.5 million, or 28.1%, as compared to the same period of 2012; and iii) an increase of $3.4 million in compensation costs as a result of: i) increases in LTRP compensation costs as a consequence of an increase in the fair market value of our shares; ii) increases in compensation cost related to our recently approved 2013 LTRP; and iii) new hires. In addition, for the nine-months ended September 30, 2013, as compared to the same period in 2012, other marketing expenses increased by $1.7 million as a consequence of several marketing initiatives. These increases have been partially offset by a decrease of $1.2 million in the volume of chargebacks mainly attributable to our Brazilian operation.

For the three-month period ended September 30, 2013, the $1.6 million increase in other income, net when compared to the same period in 2012 was primarily attributable to an increase of $1.8 million in foreign exchange gain, which is primarily a consequence of a devaluation of the local currency in Argentina and Uruguay against the U.S. dollar. This increase has been partially offset by a $0.1 million decrease in interest income, as a consequence of lower interest rates on our investments.

For the nine-month period ended September 30, 2013, the $1.6 million decrease in other income, net when compared to the same period in 2012 was primarily attributable to an decrease in foreign exchange loss of $0.6 million, mainly related to the $6.4 million loss for the devaluation in Venezuela, and partially offset by a $5.8 million gain on foreign exchange in Argentina, Brazil, México, Uruguay, Colombia and Chile. The decrease in other income, net has also been consequence of a $0.6 million decrease in interest income, primarily driven by lower interest rates.

During the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the same periods in 2012, income and asset tax increased by $2.2 million and $3.7 million, respectively, mainly as a consequence of an increase in taxable income and in permanent differences period over period.

For the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013, our income and asset tax expense margin decreased, as compared to the same periods in the previous years, driven primarily by increases in expenses period over period which resulted in lower pre-tax income and, consequently, to a lower income and asset tax expense period over period.

Our blended tax rate is defined as income and asset tax expense as a percentage of income before income and asset tax. Our effective income tax rate is defined as the provision for income taxes (net of charges related to dividend distributions from foreign subsidiaries that are offset with domestic foreign tax credits) as a percentage of income before income and asset tax. The effective income tax rate excludes the effects of the deferred income tax, and the assets and complementary income tax.

The following table summarizes the changes in our blended and effective tax rate for the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012:

	Nine-month Period Ended		three-month Period Ended
	September 30,		September 30,
	2013	2012	2013	2012
Blended tax rate	28.5%	27.4%	29.3%	27.5%
Effective tax rate	31.1%	28.4%	31.3%	29.5%

Table of Contents

Our blended tax rate increased in the three-month period ended September 30, 2013, as compared to the same period in 2012, by 1.8%, due to growth in taxable income generated by our Venezuelan subsidiary where the income tax rate is 34%, and due to a decrease in our Argentine taxable income period over period, where the income tax rate is lower than other locations.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2013, our blended tax rate slightly increased by 1.1% as compared to the same period in 2012. This increase is mainly driven by the foreign exchange loss of $6.4 million related to the devaluation of the Bolivar Fuerte against the U.S. dollar in Venezuela in February 2013, which was considered as non-deductible for tax purposes, and partially offset by higher non-taxable income in Argentina, as a consequence of the prevailing tax relief.

Our effective tax rate increased in the three and nine months ended September 30, 2013, as compared to the same periods in 2012, by 1.8% and 2.7%, respectively, driven primarily by a higher income tax provision in Argentina and Venezuela.

The following table sets forth our effective income tax rate related to our main locations for the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012:

	Nine-month Period Ended		Three-month Period Ended
	September 30,		September 30,
	2013	2012	2013	2012
Effective tax rate by country
Argentina	18.2%	15.0%	18.6%	14.9%
Brazil	33.6%	35.1%	31.4%	38.1%
Mexico	31.0%	33.4%	27.3%	31.2%
Venezuela	45.4%	36.0%	43.3%	39.5%

Our Argentine subsidiary is a beneficiary of a software development law that grants it relief of 60% of total income tax determined in each year. Mainly for that reason, our Argentine operation's effective income tax rate for the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012 are currently lower than the local statutory rate of 35%. If we had not been granted the Argentine tax holiday, our Argentine effective income tax rate would have been higher; however, in that case, we would have pursued an alternative tax planning strategy. In addition, the Argentine government issued a new software development law and related decree which establish new requirements to be beneficiary of the new software development law. The new decree establishes compliance with annual incremental ratios related to exports of services and research and developments expenses that must be achieved to remain within the tax holiday. If the Argentine subsidiary annually achieves the required ratios under the new software development law, the current Argentine income tax relief that we benefit from will be reduced, but are not expected to be materially lower than the benefits under the current law. In addition, the tax holiday could be extended for an additional five years, which would otherwise finish in 2014, while also providing us with certain other fiscal benefits.

The increase in our Argentine operation's effective income tax rate for the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the same periods in 2012 is a consequence of temporary tax differences.

For the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013, our Brazilian effective income tax rate was lower than the local statutory rate of 34% mainly as a consequence of changes in permanent tax differences.

For the three-month period ended September 30, 2013, our Mexican effective income tax rate was lower than the local statutory rate of 30% mainly as a result of changes in temporary and permanent tax differences. For the nine-month period ended September 30, 2013, our Mexican effective income tax rate was higher than the local statutory rate of 30% mainly as a result of changes in temporary tax differences.

For the three-month period ended September 30, 2013, our Venezuelan effective income tax rate was significantly higher than the local statutory rate of 34%, mainly as a consequence of temporary and permanent tax differences. For the nine-month period ended September 30, 2013, our Venezuela effective income tax rate was significantly higher than the local statutory rate due to the impact of the devaluation of the Bolivar Fuerte in February 2013, which is considered a permanent difference for U.S. GAAP reporting purposes, and as a consequence of temporary and permanent tax differences.

Our effective tax rate reflects the tax effect of significant operations outside the United States, which are generally taxed at rates lower than the U.S. statutory rate of 35%, especially in the case of Argentina, where we have significant operations with a low effective tax rate as a consequence of an Argentine tax holiday from which we benefit. A future change in the mix of pretax income from these various tax jurisdictions would impact our periodic effective tax rate.

We do not expect to have a significant impact in the domestic effective income tax rate related to dividend distributions from foreign subsidiaries since our strategy is to reinvest our cash surplus in our international operations, and to distribute dividends when they can be offset with available tax credits.

Table of ContentsNet revenues

Net revenues for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the same periods in 2012, are described above in Item 2 - Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations
Net revenues .

Direct costsBrazil

For the three months ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012, direct costs increased by 11.3%, mainly driven by: i) a 14.9% increase in cost of net revenues, mainly attributable to an increase in costs of fraud prevention and in sales tax; ii) a 9.5% increase in sales and marketing expenses, mainly attributable to an increase in portal deals and off-line expenses and partially offset by a decrease in trust and safety expenses, other marketing expenses and chargebacks.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012, direct costs increased by 14.2%, mainly driven by: i) a 13.1% increase in cost of net revenues, mainly attributable to an increase in customer support expenses, primarily driven by an increase in compensation and recruitment costs, in costs of fraud prevention and in sales tax; ii) an 11.0% increase in sales and marketing expenses, mainly attributable to our new television and radio campaign in Latin America; and iii) a 20.0% increase in general and administrative expenses, mainly attributable to increases in salaries and wages related to our LTRP for its variable portion and an increase in legal fees.

Argentina

For the three months ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012, direct costs increased by 62.8%, mainly driven by: i) a 60.6% increase in cost of net revenues that was mainly due to an increase in collection fees that was a consequence of a growth in our payment-related services and an increase in taxes over bank transactions and ii) a 73.7% increase in sales and marketing expenses, mainly attributable to our new television and radio campaign in Latin America and an increase in chargebacks.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012, direct costs increased by 66.0%, mainly driven by: i) a 65.2% increase in cost of net revenues, mainly attributable to an increase in collection fees as a result of a growth in our payment-related services, an increase in taxes over bank transactions and in sales taxes; ii) a 62.1% increase in sales and marketing expenses, mainly attributable to our new television and radio campaign in Latin America and an increase in chargebacks; and iii) a 69.1% increase in general and administrative expenses, mainly attributable to higher salaries and wages related to the long term retention plan for its variable portion.

Mexico

For the three months ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012, direct costs increased by 20.2%, mainly driven by: i) a 5.1% increase in cost of net revenues that was mainly attributable to an increase in fraud prevention and collection fees; and ii) a 20.9% increase in sales and marketing expenses that was mainly attributable to our new television and radio campaign in Latin America.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012, direct costs increased by 28.5%, mainly driven by: i) a 29.2% increase in cost of net revenues, mainly attributable to an increase in customer support fees and collection fees and ii) a 25.6% increase in sales and marketing expenses, mainly attributable to the new campaign television and radio in Latin America and an increase in chargebacks.

Venezuela

For the three months ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012, direct costs increased by 95.2%, mainly driven by: i) a 45.1% increase in cost of net revenues that was mainly attributable to an increase in customer support fees and collection fees; and ii) a 109.3% increase in sales and marketing expenses that was mainly attributable to the increases in bad debt and salary and wages, and our new television and radio campaign in Latin America.

For the nine months ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012, direct costs increased by 61.5%, mainly driven by: i) a 74.6% increase in cost of net revenues that was mainly attributable to an increase in customer support fees and collection fees; and ii) a 75.8% increase in sales and marketing expenses that was mainly attributable to our new television and radio campaign in Latin America, higher salary and wages expense, and an increase in bad debt and chargebacks. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in general and administrative expenses related to certain checks for tax payments that were not collected by the National Tax and Customs Administration of Venezuela (SENIAT) as a consequence of administrative errors made by the clearing bank in the first quarter of 2012.

Table of ContentsLiquidity and Capital Resources

Our main cash requirement historically has been working capital to fund MercadoPago financing operations in Brazil. We also require cash for capital expenditures relating to technology infrastructure, software applications, office space, business acquisitions and to fund the payment of quarterly cash dividends on shares of our common stock.

Since our inception, we have funded our operations primarily through contributions received from our stockholders during the first two years of operations, from funds raised during our initial public offering, and from cash generated from our operations. We have funded MercadoPago by discounting credit card receivables, with loans backed with credit card receivables and through cash advances derived from our business.

At September 30, 2013, our main source of liquidity, amounting to $219.4 million of cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments and $69.8 million of long-term investments has been provided by cash generated from operations. We consider our long-term investments as part of our liquidity because long-term investments are comprised of available-for-sale securities classified as long-term as a consequence of their contractual maturities.

The significant components of our working capital are cash and cash equivalents, short-term investments, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued expenses, funds receivable from and payable to MercadoPago users, and short-term debt. As long as we continue transferring credit card receivables to financial institutions in return for cash, we will continue generating cash.

As of September 30, 2013, cash and investments of foreign subsidiaries amounted to $240.0 million or 83.0% of our consolidated cash and investments and approximately 66.0% of our consolidated cash and investments are held outside the U.S., mostly in Brazil, Argentina and Venezuela. Our strategy is to reinvest the undistributed earnings of our foreign operations in those operations and to distribute dividends when they can be offset with available tax credits. We do not expect a material impact in any repatriation of undistributed earnings of foreign subsidiaries on our operations since the taxable domestic gains generated by any dividend distributions will be mostly offset with foreign tax credits that arise from income tax paid in our foreign operations, which we are allowed to compute for domestic income tax purposes.

In the event we change the way we manage our business, our working capital needs could be funded, as we did in the past, through a combination of the sale of credit card coupons to financial institutions, loans backed by credit card receivables and cash advances from our business.

The following table presents our cash flows from operating activities, investing activities and financing activities for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012:

The $39.1 million increase in net cash provided by operating activities during the nine-month period ended September 30, 2013 as compared to the same period in 2012 was primarily driven by a $23.8 million increase in MercadoPago working capital, a $7.1 million increase in account payable and accrued expenses, a $5.7 million increase in net income and a $17.6 million increase in non-cash losses such as foreign exchange loss relating to the devaluation in Venezuela in February 2013, LTRP accrued compensation, accrued interest and depreciation and amortization, a $5.3 million increase in interest received from investments and a $1.5 million increase in other liabilities. Those increases in net cash provided by operating activities were partially offset by a $13.3 million increase in accounts receivable, a $5.4 million increase in prepaid expenses and other assets, and a $3.2 million decrease in deferred tax, in the same period.

Net cash used in investing activities in the nine-month period ended September 30, 2013 resulted mainly from proceeds from the sale and maturity of investments of $803.2 million, which was partially offset by purchases of investments for $802.3 million as part of our financial strategy. We used $25.7 million to fund the acquisition of two office buildings in Caracas, Venezuela and Buenos Aires, Argentina. In addition, we used $26.2 million to pay the advance purchase price for the acquisition of an office space in Caracas, Venezuela. Finally, we used $24.2 million of cash during the nine-month period ended September 30, 2013 to make capital expenditures mainly related to technological equipment and software licenses and $3.2 million to fund the acquisition of a software development company located in the Province of Cordoba, Argentina.

Net cash used in investing activities during the nine-month period ended September 30, 2012 resulted mainly from purchases of investments for $344.7 million. During the nine-month period ended September 30, 2012, the increase in cash used in investment activities was partially offset by proceeds from the sale and maturity of $320.4 million of investments as part of our financial strategy. Additionally, we used $13.0 million of cash in the nine-month period ended September 30, 2012 to make capital expenditures mainly related to technological equipment and software licenses and the opening of a new office in Aguada Park, Uruguay.

For the nine-month period ended September 30, 2013, our primary use of cash was to fund the $17.4 million of aggregate cash dividends paid on January 15, April 15 and July 15, 2013, and $1.0 million for the repurchase of common stock. Our use of cash was partially offset by $13.5 million of cash received from an unsecured line of credit to buy a new office building in Caracas, Venezuela.

For the nine-month period ended September 30, 2012, our primary use of cash was to fund the $13.1 million of aggregate cash dividends paid on January 17, April 16, and July 16, 2012.

In the event that we decide to pursue strategic acquisitions in the future, we may fund them with available cash, third party debt financing, or by raising equity capital, as market conditions allow.

Debt

In September 2013, we obtained an unsecured line of credit from a Venezuelan bank to fund a portion of the purchase price relating to our acquisition of a new office building in Caracas, Venezuela. As of September 30, 2013, amounts outstanding under the unsecured line of credit were BF$85.1, or $13.5 million. The unsecured line of credit bears interest at a fixed rate of 13% per annum and matures in twelve months.

Table of Contents

In order to complete our acquisition of a new office building in Buenos Aires, Argentina in April 2013, we obtained financing from the seller pursuant to which we agreed to pay the purchase price in 7 equal monthly installments, beginning in June 2013. As of September 30, 2013, we recorded a liability for the unpaid balance of this new office building in Buenos Aires for a total amount of $6.2 million.

As of September 30, 2013, we recorded $6.3 million of dividends payable to our stockholders. In addition, as of September 30, 2013, our outstanding debt of $40 thousands is related to our Argentine car lease contracts.

Cash Dividends

On January 15, 2013, we paid an aggregate cash dividend for the fourth quarter of 2012 of $4.8 million (or $0.109 per share) on our outstanding shares of common stock held of record as of the close of business on December 31, 2012. On February 22, April 30, and July 30, 2013, our board of directors approved the 2013 first quarter, second quarter and third quarter cash dividends, respectively, of $6.3 million (or $0.143 per share) on our outstanding shares of common stock. The dividends were paid on April 15, July 15, and October 15, 2013, respectively, to stockholders of record as of the close of business on March 29, June 28, and September 30, 2013, respectively.

On October 31, 2013, the board of directors declared the 2013 fourth quarter cash dividend of $6.3 million (or $0.143 per share), payable to the holders of the Company's common stock. We expect that this fourth quarter cash dividend will be paid on January 15, 2014 to stockholders of record as of the close of business on December 31, 2013.

We currently expect to continue paying comparable cash dividends on a quarterly basis. However, any future determination as to the declaration of dividends on our common stock will be made at the discretion of our board of directors.

Capital expenditures

Our capital expenditures for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012 amounted to $49.9 million and $13.0 million, respectively. During the nine months ended September 30, 2013 we acquired a 100% ownership interest in a software development company located in the Province of Cordoba, Argentina at an aggregate purchase price of $3.4 million.

In April 2013, we acquired three floors or 3,918 square meters in a new office building located in Buenos Aires for a total purchase price of $18.5 million plus value-added tax or VAT. Pursuant to the terms of the acquisitions, we will pay the purchase price in Argentine pesos. At the date of signing of the purchase agreement, we paid: i) $0.4 million plus VAT in advance of closing; ii) $3.2 million plus VAT at closing; and iii) five monthly installments starting in June 2013 and ending in October 2013 totaling an aggregate amount of $10.5 million. As of September 30, 2013, we recorded a liability for the unpaid balance of this building acquisition for a total amount of $6.2 million, which will be paid in three monthly installments from October to December 2013.

In May 2013, we acquired 1,158 square meters, 13 parking spaces and 4 storage spaces, in an office building located in Caracas, Venezuela for a total purchase price of $20.0 million or BF$126.0 million. The purchase price was paid in Bolivares Fuertes.

In September 2013, we entered into a memorandum of understanding to acquire an office property of 1,367.48 square meters, located in Centro San Ignacio, La Castellana, Chacao, Caracas, Venezuela, for a total amount of BF$328.2 million, or approximately $52.2 million. As of September 30, 2013, we recorded into our unaudited interim consolidated balance sheet an advance for fixed assets for the 50% of the purchase price as a consequence that the transfer of the property was still pending.

During the first half of 2012 we opened a new office in Aguada Park, Uruguay. Our investment in this new office amounted to approximately $1.0 million and was completed to expand our customer support operations.

We are permanently increasing the level of investment on hardware and software licenses necessary to improve and update the technology of our platform and cost of computer software developed internally. We anticipate continued investments in capital expenditures related to information technology in the future as we strive to maintain our position in the Latin American e-commerce market.

We believe that our existing cash and cash equivalents, including the sale of credit card receivables and cash generated from operations will be sufficient to fund our operating activities, property and equipment expenditures and to pay or repay obligations going forward.

Off-balance sheet arrangements

At September 30, 2013, we had no off-balance sheet arrangements that have, or are reasonably likely to have, a current or future material effect on our consolidated financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures or capital resources.

Recent accounting pronouncements

In March 2013, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Parent's Accounting for the Cumulative Translation Adjustment upon Derecognition of Certain Subsidiaries or Groups of Assets within a Foreign Entity or of an Investment in a Foreign Entity a consensus of the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force clarifying the accounting for the release of cumulative translation adjustment into net income when a parent either sells a part or all of its investment in a foreign entity or no longer holds a controlling financial interest in a subsidiary or group of assets that is a nonprofit activity or a business within a foreign entity. The new standard is effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning on or after December 15, 2013. We do not anticipate that this adoption will have a significant impact on its financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

Table of ContentsNon-GAAP Financial Measures

To supplement our interim condensed consolidated financial statements presented in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (U.S. GAAP), we use free cash flows, adjusted net income before income / asset tax, adjusted income / asset tax, adjusted net income, adjusted blended tax rate and adjusted earnings per share as non-GAAP measures.

These non-GAAP measures should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for measures of performance prepared in accordance with GAAP and may be different from non-GAAP measures used by other companies. In addition, these non-GAAP measures are not based on any comprehensive set of accounting rules or principles. Non-GAAP measures have limitations in that they do not reflect all of the amounts associated with our results of operations as determined in accordance with GAAP. These non-GAAP financial measures should only be used to evaluate our results of operations in conjunction with the most comparable GAAP financial measures.

Reconciliation of these non-GAAP financial measures to the most comparable GAAP financial measure can be found in the tables included in this quarterly report.

Non-GAAP financial measures are provided to enhance investors' overall understanding of our current financial performance. Specifically, we believe that free cash flow provides useful information to both management and investors by excluding payments for the acquisition of property (including any advance payment that as of the date of this report became a fixed asset), equipment, of intangible assets and of acquired businesses net of cash acquired, that may not be indicative of our core operating results. In addition, we report free cash flows to investors because we believe that the inclusion of this measure provides consistency in our financial reporting.

Free cash flow represents cash from operating activities less payment for the acquisition of property (including any advance payment that as of the date of this report became a fixed asset), equipment and intangible assets and acquired businesses net of cash acquired. We consider free cash flow to be a liquidity measure that provides useful information to management and investors about the amount of cash generated by our operations after the purchase of property (including any advance payment that as of the date of this report became a fixed asset), equipment, of intangible assets and of acquired businesses net of cash acquired. A limitation of the utility of free cash flow as a measure of financial performance is that it does not represent the total increase or decrease in our cash balance for the period.

Moreover, we believe that adjusted net income before income / asset tax, adjusted income / asset tax, adjusted net income, adjusted blended tax rate and adjusted earnings per share provide useful information to both management and investors by excluding the foreign exchange loss attributable to the devaluation in Venezuela, because it may not be indicative of our results of operations. In addition, we report adjusted net income before income / asset tax, adjusted income / asset tax, adjusted net income, adjusted blended tax rate and adjusted earnings per share to investors because we believe that the inclusion of these measures provides consistency in our financial reporting and because these financial measures provide useful information to management and investors about what our adjusted net income before income / asset tax, adjusted income / asset tax, adjusted net income, adjusted blended tax rate and adjusted earnings per share, would have been, had the foreign exchange loss in Venezuela not occurred. A limitation of the utility of adjusted net income before income / asset tax, adjusted income / asset tax, adjusted net income, adjusted blended tax rate and adjusted earnings per share, as measures of financial performance, is that these measures do not represent the total foreign exchange effect in our Interim Condensed Consolidated Statement of Income for the period.

Item 3 Qualitative and Quantitative Disclosure About Market Risk

We are exposed to market risks arising from our business operations. These market risks arise mainly from the possibility that changes in interest rates and the U.S. dollar exchange rate with local currencies, particularly the Brazilian Real and Argentine Peso due to Brazil's and Argentina's respective share of our revenues, may affect the value of our financial assets and liabilities.

Foreign currencies

At September 30, 2013, we hold cash and cash equivalents in local currencies in our subsidiaries, and have receivables denominated in local currencies in all of our operations. Our subsidiaries generate revenues and incur most of their expenses in local currency. As a result, our subsidiaries use their local currency as their functional currency, except for our Venezuelan subsidiaries which use the U.S. dollar as if it is the functional currency due to Venezuela being a highly inflationary environment. As of September 30, 2013, the total cash and cash equivalents denominated in foreign currencies totaled $104.0 million, short-term investments denominated in foreign currencies totaled $79.7 million and accounts receivable and credit cards receivables in foreign currencies totaled $64.1 million. As of September 30, 2013, we had no long-term investments denominated in foreign currencies. To manage exchange rate risk, our treasury policy is to transfer most cash and cash equivalents in excess of working capital requirements into U.S. dollar-denominated accounts in the United States. As of September 30, 2013, our U.S. dollar-denominated cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments totaled $35.7 million and our U.S. dollar-denominated long-term investments totaled $69.8 million. For the three months ended September 30, 2013, we had a consolidated gain on foreign currency of $1.6 million mainly as a result of the devaluation in Argentina and in Uruguay. For the nine-month period ended September 30, 2013, we had a consolidated loss on foreign currency of $1.1 million, mainly related to the losses generated by the devaluation in Venezuela during the first quarter of 2013. (See Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Results of operations for the three-month period ended September 30, 2013 compared to three-month period ended September 30, 2012 and the nine-month period ended September 30, 2013 compared to the nine-month period ended September 30, 2012—Other income, net for more information).

In accordance with U.S. GAAP, we have transitioned our Venezuelan operations to highly inflationary status as of January 1, 2010 and have been using the U.S. dollar as the functional currency for these operations since then. In accordance with U.S. GAAP, translation adjustments for prior periods were not removed from equity and the translated amounts for nonmonetary assets at December 31, 2010 became the accounting basis for those assets. Monetary assets and liabilities in Bolivares Fuertes were re-measured to the U.S. dollar at the official closing exchange rate as of September 30, 2013 and at the SITME exchange rate published by the BCV as of December 31, 2012 and the results of the operations in Bolivares Fuertes were re-measured into U.S. dollars at the average monthly official exchange rate.

The following table sets forth the assets, liabilities and net assets of our Venezuelan subsidiaries, before intercompany eliminations, as of September 30, 2013 and December 31, 2012 and net revenues for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012.

	For the nine-month periods ended September 30,
	2013	2012
Venezuelan operations
Net Revenues	$ 55,695,385	$ 37,872,351
	September 30,	December 31,
	2013	2012
Assets	106,529,563	62,938,728
Liabilities	(53,195,418)	(22,652,965)
Net Assets	$ 53,334,145	$ 40,285,763

As of September 30, 2013, net assets of our Venezuelan subsidiaries amount to approximately 16.5% of our consolidated net assets, and cash and investments of our Venezuelan subsidiaries held in local currency in Venezuela amount to approximately 12.4% of our consolidated cash and investments.

On February 8, 2013, the Venezuelan Government, through Foreign Exchange Agreement No. 14, has devalued as from February 9, 2013, the official exchange rate from 4.3 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar to 6.3 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar. The devaluation required re-measurement of our Venezuelan subsidiaries non-U.S. dollar denominated monetary assets and liabilities as from February 9, 2013. The devaluation of the official exchange rate of the Bolivares Fuertes against the U.S. dollar from 5.3 to 6.3 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar generated a foreign currency loss amounted to approximately $6.4 million in the first quarter of 2013.

In addition, on February 8, 2013, the Venezuelan Government, through Decree No. 9381 (the Decree) has created the Organo Superior para la Optimización del Sistema Cambiario (or the Committee), which is a committee that will have the authority to design, plan and execute foreign exchange policies. Finally, on February 9, 2013, the BCV eliminated the SITME, which was the former system that allowed companies limited access to foreign currencies for payments to foreign suppliers.

On March 19, 2013, the BCV announced the creation of the Sistema Complementario de Administración de Divisas, or SICAD, which will act jointly with the Commission for the Administration of Foreign Exchange Control (CADIVI). In order to operate within this new system, a company should be registered at the Registro Automatizado (Automatized Register, or RUSAD). The acquisition of foreign currencies under this new system is organized under an auction process to obtain foreign currencies for payments to foreign suppliers, where the minimum exchange rate to be offered is 6.30 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar. Starting from the implementation of SICAD and as of the date of this report, we have been unable to access the auction process under SICAD and there is no information available on the details or planned frequency of the SICAD mechanism.

Accordingly, as of September 30, 2013, the exchange rate used to re-measure our net monetary assets of our Venezuelan operations was the official rate of 6.30 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar.

Until 2010 we were able to obtain U.S. dollars for any purpose, including dividends distribution, using alternative mechanisms other than through the CADIVI. Those U.S. dollars, obtained at a higher exchange rate than the one offered by CADIVI, and held in balance at U.S. bank accounts of our Venezuelan subsidiaries, were used for dividend distributions from our Venezuelan subsidiaries. CADIVI is the only means by which U.S. dollars for dividend distributions can be requested. We did not request authorization to CADIVI in 2012, neither during the nine months ended September 30, 2013, to acquire U.S. dollars to make dividend distributions. We have not distributed dividends from our Venezuelan subsidiaries since 2011.

Although the current mechanisms available to obtain U.S. dollars for dividend distributions to shareholders outside of Venezuela imply increased restrictions, we do not expect that the current restrictions to purchase U.S. dollars will have a significant adverse effect on our business plans with regard to the investment in Venezuela.

If the U.S. dollar weakens against foreign currencies, the translation of these foreign-currency-denominated transactions will result in increased net revenues, operating expenses, and net income while the re-measurement of our net asset position in U.S. dollars will have a negative impact in our Statement of Income. Similarly, our net revenues, operating expenses and net income will decrease if the U.S. dollar strengthens against foreign currencies, while the re-measurement of our net asset position in U.S. dollars will have a positive impact in our Statement of Income.

Table of Contents

The following table sets forth the percentage of consolidated net revenues by segment for the three and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2013 and 2012:

(% of total consolidated net revenues) (*)	Nine-month Period Ended		Three-month Period Ended
	September 30, 2013	September 30, 2012	September 30, 2013	September 30, 2012

(*) Percentages have been calculated using whole-dollar amounts rather than rounded amounts that appear in the table. The table above may not total due to rounding.

Foreign Currency Sensitivity Analysis

The table below shows the impact on our net revenues, expenses, other expenses and income tax, net income and equity for a positive and a negative 10% fluctuation on all the foreign currencies to which we are exposed to as of September 30, 2013 and for the nine months then ended:

Foreign Currency Sensitivity Analysis

(1) Appreciation of the subsidiaries local currency against U.S. Dollar

(2) Depreciation of the subsidiaries local currency against U.S. Dollar

The table above does not total due to rounding.

The table above shows an increase in our net income when the U.S. dollar weakens against foreign currencies because the re-measurement of our net asset position in U.S. dollars has a lesser impact than the increase in net revenues, operating expenses, and other expenses, net and income tax lines related to the translation effect. Similarly, the table above shows a decrease in our net income when the U.S. dollar strengthens against foreign currencies because the re-measurement of our net asset position in U.S. dollars has a lesser impact than the decrease in net revenues, operating expenses, and other expenses, net and income tax lines related to the translation effect.

In the past we have entered into transactions to hedge portions of our foreign currency translation exposure; however, during the nine months ended September 30, 2013 we did not enter into any such hedging transactions.

Table of ContentsVenezuelan Segment

In order to assist investors in their overall understanding of the impact of a hypothetical Venezuelan devaluation on our Venezuelan segment reporting, we developed a scenario which assumes an exchange rate of 12.6 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar, which doubles the current official exchange rate in Venezuela. Under this analysis, the assumed exchange rate was applied starting on January 1, 2013. These disclosures may help investors to project sensitivities, on segment information captions, to devaluations of whatever order of magnitude they choose by simple arithmetic calculations.

This information is just a scenario and does not represent a forward-looking statement about our expectations or projections related to future events in Venezuela. The investors and other readers or users of the financial information presented in this caption are cautioned not to place undue reliance on this scenario. This information is not a guarantee of future events.

This information disclosed below does not include indirect costs of net revenues, any inflation effect, nor the one-time devaluation impact related to the assumed devaluation or any other effect derived from the assumed devaluation. The information below should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for measures of performance prepared in accordance with GAAP. In addition, this information is not based on any comprehensive set of accounting rules or principles.

The evolution of the Venezuelan economy is beyond our ability to control or predict. New events could happen in the future in Venezuela and it is not possible for management to predict all such events, nor can it assess the impact of all such events on our Venezuelan business.

The table below provides specific sensitivity information of our Venezuelan segment reporting for the periods indicated assuming an exchange rate of 12.6 Bolivares Fuertes per U.S. dollar applied starting on January 1, 2013 to September 30, 2013.

() Computing a hypothetical devaluation as explained above.

Despite the continued uncertainty and restrictions relating to foreign currency exchange in Venezuela as described above, we believe that our underlying business in that country is competitively well-positioned and continues to exhibit solid growth, including in terms of units sold, revenues and net income, even while economic conditions in the Venezuelan economy remain difficult. As economic conditions in that country improve, we expect that our business in Venezuela will benefit accordingly. Although we cannot assure you that the Bolívares Fuertes will not experience further devaluations in the future, which may be significant and could have a material negative impact on our stated financial results for our Venezuela segment, for the reasons stated at the beginning of this paragraph, we remain strongly committed to our business and investment in Venezuela.

Interest

Our earnings and cash flows are also affected by changes in interest rates. These changes could have an impact on the interest rates that financial institutions charge us prior to the time we sell our MercadoPago receivables. At September 30, 2013, MercadoPago's funds receivable from customers totaled $37.9 million. Interest rate fluctuations could also negatively affect certain of our fixed rate and floating rate investments comprised primarily of time deposits, money market funds, investment grade corporate debt securities, and sovereign debt securities. Investments in both fixed rate and floating rate interest earning products carry a degree of interest rate risk. Fixed rate securities may have their fair market value adversely impacted due to a rise in interest rates, while floating rate securities may produce less income than predicted if interest rates fall.

Under our current policies, we do not use interest rate derivative instruments to manage exposure to interest rate changes. As of September 30, 2013, the average duration of our available for sale securities, defined as the approximate percentage change in price for a 100-basis-point change in yield, is 1.98%. If interest rates were to instantaneously increase (decrease) by 100 basis points, the fair market value of our available for sale securities as of September 30, 2013 could decrease (increase) by approximately $1.6 million.

Table of Contents

As of September 30, 2013, our short-term investments amounted to $91.3 million and our long-term investments amounted to $69.8 million. These investments can be readily converted at any time into cash or into securities with a shorter remaining time to maturity. We determine the appropriate classification of our investments at the time of purchase and re-evaluate such designations as of each balance sheet date.

Equity Price Risk

Our board of directors adopted the 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012 long-term retention plan (the 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012 LTRP , respectively) payable as follows:

eligible employees will receive a fixed cash payment equal to 6.25% of his or her 2009 and/or 2010 and/or 2011 and/or 2012 LTRP bonus once a year for a period of eight years starting in 2010 and/or 2011 and/or 2012 and/or 2013 (the 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012 Annual Fixed Payment , respectively); and

on each date we pay the Annual Fixed Payment to an eligible employee, he or she will also receive a cash payment (the 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012 Variable Payment, respectively) equal to the product of (i) 6.25% of the applicable 2009 and/or 2010 and/or 2011 and/or 2012 LTRP bonus and (ii) the quotient of (a) divided by (b), where (a), the numerator, equals the Applicable Year Stock Price (as defined below) and (b), the denominator, equals the 2008, 2009, 2010 and 2011 Stock Price, defined as $13.81, $45.75, $65.41 and $77.77 for the 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012 LTRP, respectively, which was the average closing price of the Company s common stock on the NASDAQ Global Market during the final 60 trading days of 2008, 2009, 2010 and 2011, respectively. The Applicable Year Stock Price equals the average closing price of the Company s common stock on the NASDAQ Global Market during the final 60 trading days of the year preceding the applicable payment date.

The 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012 variable payment LTRP liability subjects us to equity price risk. In May 2013 the board of directors, upon the recommendation of the Compensation Committee, approved certain amendments to the 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012 Long-Term Retention Plans (the Amended LTRPs), to give us (through the approval of the Compensation Committee) the option to pay the compensation due under the Amended LTRPs in cash, common stock or a combination thereof. We have granted the right to any Amended LTRP participant to request settlement in cash. The Amended LTRPs have been considered to be a substantive liability and classified accordingly in the balance sheet.

On September 27, 2013, our board of directors, upon the recommendation of the compensation committee, approved the 2013 Long Term Retention Plan (the 2013 LTRP). If earned, payments to eligible employees under the 2013 LTRP will be in addition to payments of base salary and cash bonus, the latter if earned, made to those employees. As we mentioned in the paragraph before for the others LTRP, we have granted the right to any LTRP participant to request settlement in cash.

In order to receive an award under the 2013 LTRP, each eligible employee must satisfy the performance conditions established by the board of directors for such employee. If these conditions are satisfied, the eligible employee will, subject to his or her continued employment as of each applicable payment date, receive the full amount of his or her 2013 LTRP bonus, payable as follows:

the eligible employee will receive a fixed cash payment, common stock or a combination thereof, equal to 8.333% of his or her 2013 LTRP bonus once a year for a period of six years starting in 2014 (the Annual Fixed Payment); and

on each date we pay the Annual Fixed Payment to an eligible employee, he or she will also receive a cash payment (the Variable Payment) equal to the product of (i) 8.333% of the applicable 2013 LTRP bonus and (ii) the quotient of (a) divided by (b), where (a), the numerator, equals the Applicable Year Stock Price (as defined below) and (b), the denominator, equals the 2012 Stock Price, defined as $79.57, which was the average closing price of our common stock on the NASDAQ Global Market during the final 60 trading days of 2012. The Applicable Year Stock Price shall equal the average closing price of our common stock on the NASDAQ Global Market during the final 60 trading days of the year preceding the applicable payment date.

At September 30, 2013, the total contractual obligation fair value of our 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012 and 2013 Variable Payment LTRP liability amounted to $28.5 million. As of September 30, 2013, the accrued liability related to the 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012 and 2013 Variable Payment portion of the LTRP included in Social security payable in our condensed consolidated balance sheet amounted to $14.8 million. The following table shows a sensitivity analysis of the risk associated with our total contractual obligation related to the 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012 and 2013 Variable Payment if our common stock price per share were to experience increases or decreases by up to 40%.

Item 4 Controls and Procedures

We maintain disclosure controls and procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in our reports pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act) is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the Securities and Exchange Commission's rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

Evaluation of disclosure controls and procedures

Based on the evaluation of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e)) required by Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(b) or 15d-15(b), our chief executive officer and our chief financial officer have concluded that, as of the end of the period covered by this report, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective.

Changes in Internal Controls Over Financial Reporting

There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting (as such term is defined in Rule 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f) under the Exchange Act) during the three-month period ended September 30, 2013 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATIONItem 1 Legal Proceedings

From time to time, we are involved in disputes that arise in the ordinary course of our business. The number and significance of these disputes is increasing as our business expands and our company grows. Any claims against us, whether meritorious or not, may be time consuming, result in costly litigation, require significant amounts of management time, result in the diversion of significant operational resources or require expensive implementations of changes to our business methods to respond to these claims. See Item 1A Risk Factors of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2012 as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on February 28, 2013 and Item 1A-Risk Factors of our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2013, for additional discussion of the litigation and regulatory risks facing our company.

As of September 30, 2013, our total reserves for proceeding-related contingencies were approximately $3.5 million to cover legal actions against us in which we have determined that a loss is probable. The proceeding-related reserve is based on developments to date and historical information related to actions filed against our company. We do not reserve for losses we determine to be possible or remote.

As of September 30, 2013, there were 623 lawsuits pending against our Brazilian subsidiary in the Brazilian ordinary courts. In addition, as of September 30, 2013, there were more than 3,371 lawsuits pending against our Brazilian subsidiary in the Brazilian consumer courts, where a lawyer is not required to file or pursue a claim. In most of these cases, the plaintiffs asserted that we were responsible for fraud committed against them, or responsible for damages suffered when purchasing an item on our website, when using MercadoPago, or when we invoiced them. We believe we have meritorious defenses to these claims and intend to continue defending them.

Set forth below is a description of the legal proceedings that we have determined to be material to our business. We have excluded ordinary routine legal proceedings incidental to our business. In each of these proceedings we also believe we have meritorious defenses, and intend to continue defending ourselves in these actions. We have established a reserve for those proceedings which we have considered that a loss is probable. The disclosure below updates and supplements the information set forth in Item 3 Legal Proceedings in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2012:

On August 25, 2010, Citizen Watch do Brasil S/A, or Citizen, sued certain of our Brazilian subsidiaries in the 31th Central Civil Court State of São Paulo, Brazil. Citizen alleged that the Brazilian subsidiaries were infringing Citizen's trademarks as a result of users selling allegedly counterfeit Citizen watches through the Brazilian page of the Brazilian subsidiaries' website. Citizen sought an order enjoining the sale of Citizen-branded watches on the Brazilian subsidiaries' Marketplace with a $6,000 daily non-compliance penalty. On September 23, 2010, the Brazilian subsidiaries were summoned of an injunction granted to prohibit the offer of Citizen products on its platform, but the penalty was established at $6,000 per day. On September 26, 2010, the Brazilian subsidiaries presented their defense and appealed the decision of the injunction relief to the State Court of Appeals of São Paulo on September 27, 2010. On October 22, 2010 the injunction granted to Citizen was suspended. On March 23, 2011, our appeal regarding the injunction granted to Citizen was ruled in favor of the Brazilian subsidiaries. On May 4, 2011, Citizen presented a motion to clarify the decision but it was dismissed on March 14, 2012. On May 28, 2012, the Plaintiff filed a special recourse related to the injunction relief to the State Court of Appeals, and the Brazilian subsidiaries presented their defense on August 16, 2012 which was not admitted. In September 2012, the Plaintiff filed a legal action against the Brazilian subsidiaries with same arguments alleged in the injunction request and seeking for compensatory and statutory damages and defenses were presented on March 20, 2013. On January 9, 2013, Citizen appealed the Brazilian Superior Court of Justice (Superior Tribunal de Justiça). On March 1, 2013, we presented its response to that appeal. On August 27, 2013, the Brazilian Superior Court of Justice ruled against Citizen's appeal. The Superior Court of Justice ruled that the Brazilian subsidiaries were not responsible for alleged infringement of intellectual property rights by its users and that they should comply with the notice and take down procedure it already had in place. On October 4, 2013, Citizen presented a motion to clarify mentioned decision issued by the Brazilian Superior Court of Justice and such motion ruling is still pending. As of September 30, 2013 the lower court's ruling was still pending. In the opinion of the Brazilian subsidiaries' management and its legal counsel the risk of loss is reasonably possible but not probable.

State of Rio de Janeiro Customer Service Level Claim

On August 19, 2011, a state prosecutor of the State of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil presented a claim against our Brazilian subsidiary. The state prosecutor alleges that the Brazilian subsidiary should improve its customer service level and provide (among other things) a telephone number for customer support and requested an injunction against our Brazilian subsidiary. On August 23, 2011, the Judge of the first instance court denied the aforementioned injunction. On December 7, 2011, we were notified of the lawsuit. On March 1, 2012 we presented our defense. On August 29, 2012 a conciliatory hearing was held, but no agreement was reached. On October 22, 2012, the Lower Court Judges ruled in favor of MercadoLivre and dismissed the claim against MercadoLivre. The Public Prosecutor appealed the decision and MercadoLivre presented its defense on December 12, 2012. On April 9, 2013, the State Court of Appeals ruled in favor of us confirming the dismissal of the claim. On May 28, 2013 the decision was appealed by the state prosecutor to the Brazilian Superior Court of Justice and we presented our response on July 2, 2013. As of September 30, 2013, the Brazilian Superior Court of Justice ruling was still pending. In the opinion of the our management and legal counsel the risk of loss is remote.

City of São Paulo Tax Claims

In September 2012 São Paulo tax authorities have asserted taxes and fines against our Brazilian subsidiary related to our Brazilian subsidiary's activities in São Paulo for the period from 2007 through 2010. As of September 30, 2013 those asserted taxes and fines amounts to approximately R$40.3 million or $18.1 million according to the exchange rate as of September 30, 2013. In January 2005 we moved our operations to Santana de Parnaíba City, Brazil and began paying taxes to that jurisdiction and therefore we believe we have strong defenses to the claims of the São Paulo authorities with respect to this period. On July 27, 2012, we presented administrative defenses against the authorities' claim. On February 2, 2013, São Paulo tax authorities ruled against the Brazilian subsidiary maintaining claimed taxes and fines. On March 4, 2013, we presented an appeal to the Conselho Municipal de Tributos, or São Paulo Municipal Council of Taxes. On August 23, 2013, the Câmaras Reunidas do Egrégio Conselho Municipal de Tributos, or Superior Chamber of the São Paulo Municipal Council of Taxes ruled against our appeal. On September 5, 2013, we presented a special appeal to the Superior Chamber of the São Paulo Municipal Council of Taxes. On October 18, 2013, the mentioned appeal was decided against our Brazilian subsidiary and confirmed the fines. With this decision the administrative stage is finished and we will contest the tax assessment and these fines in a judicial stage. Our management and our legal counsel believe that the risk of loss is remote, and as a result, we have not reserved any provisions for this claim.

Intellectual Property Claims

In the past third parties have from time to time claimed, and others may claim in the future, that we have infringed their intellectual property rights. We have been notified of several potential third-party claims for intellectual property infringement through our website. These claims, whether meritorious or not, are time consuming, can be costly to resolve, could cause service upgrade delays, and could require expensive implementations of changes to our business methods to respond to these claims. See Item 1A Risk factors Risks related to our business We could potentially face legal and financial liability for the sale of items that infringe on the intellectual property rights of others and for information disseminated on the MercadoLibre Marketplace in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2012.

Table of ContentsItem 1A Risk Factors

We previously disclosed risk factors under Item 1A. Risk Factors in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2012. In addition to those risk factors and the other information included elsewhere in this report, you should also carefully consider the risk factors discussed below. The risks described below and in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2012 are not the only risks facing our company. Additional risks and uncertainties not currently known to us or that we currently deem to be immaterial also may materially adversely affect our business, financial condition and/or results of operations.

Recently approved legislation in Brazil relating to certain payment processing functions carried out by non-financial institutions may, among other things, require our MercadoPago operations to secure authorization from the government prior to continuing its operations or limit our services, any of which could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

On May 17, 2013, the Brazilian government issued Medida Provisoria 615/13, or the Provisional Measure, which granted to the Brazilian Central Bank powers of regulation and supervision of certain payment processing functions carried out by certain non-financial institutions in Brazil. This regulation covers a wide variety of issues, including, among other things, rules related to authorization requirements for certain payment processing functions by non-financial institutions, penalties for non-compliance, the promotion of financial inclusion, the reduction of systemic, operational and credit risks, reporting obligations and governance. The Provisional Measure was approved by Congress as Law No. 12.865 of October 9, 2013. The law still needs to be regulated by the Brazilian Central Bank which is expected to occur during November 2013.

As approved, Law No. 12.865 applies to payment means and financial institutions, therefore our MercadoPago business in Brazil will be subject to this new law. The law requires that our Mercado Pago operation obtains a government authorization to continue its operations. If we are unable to obtain the aforementioned authorization it could cause us to (i) shut down our MercadoPago business for an indefinite period of time, which would be costly and time consuming, (ii) pay penalties for non-compliance, (iii) limit the services we offer through MercadoPago or change our business practices, any of which could materially adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Pending legislation in Venezuela that would limit the maximum sale price that a seller could receive in connection with the sale of an automobile on our MercadoLibre Marketplace in Venezuela could have a material adverse impact on our Venezuelan business and results of operations.

During August 2013, the Congress of Venezuela approved new legislation that imposes certain limits on the maximum sale prices that would be permitted for the sale of used and new vehicles in the country. Among other provisions, the legislation imposes certain obligations on our MercadoLibre Marketplace and Tucarro website in Venezuela to ensure that classified ads listed on these platforms comply with the maximum sales price restrictions. Automobile sales represent a meaningful part of our business in Venezuela. As of the day of this report, this legislation has not been published in the Official Gazette nor enacted by the Executive branch of government. If this legislation is finally enacted into law, it could cause us to, among other things, remove listings by sellers that fail to comply with the maximum sales price restrictions, to pay penalties for non-compliance, to limit our services or to change our business practices, any of which could have a material adverse impact on our Venezuelan business and results of operations.
