Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On July 13, 2014, Mylan Inc., a Pennsylvania corporation (Mylan), entered into a Business Transfer Agreement and Plan of Merger (the BTA) by and among Mylan, New Moon B.V., a private limited liability company (besloten vennootschap met beperkte aansprakelijkheid) organized under the laws of the Netherlands (New Mylan) and a wholly-owned subsidiary of Mylan, Moon of PA Inc., a Pennsylvania corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of New Mylan (Merger Sub), and Abbott Laboratories, an Illinois corporation (Abbott). The BTA provides for the acquisition by Mylan of Abbott's non-U.S. developed markets specialty and branded generics business (the Assets) in an all-stock transaction. In the transaction, Abbott will transfer the Assets to New Mylan in consideration for 105,000,000 New Mylan ordinary shares (the Business Transfer), and, immediately following the transfer, Merger Sub will merge with and into Mylan, with Mylan surviving the merger and continuing as a wholly-owned subsidiary of New Mylan (the Merger and, together with the Business Transfer, collectively, the Transaction). At the effective time of the Merger, each issued and outstanding share of Mylan common stock will be converted into the right to receive one New Mylan ordinary share. Mylan shareholders will recognize gain for U.S. federal income tax purposes on the exchange of Mylan common shares for New Mylan ordinary shares.

Prior to closing the Transaction, New Mylan will be converted into a public limited company (naamloze vennootschap) and will be renamed Mylan N.V.. New Mylan is organized in the Netherlands and will be led by Mylan's current leadership team and board of directors. New Mylan's ordinary shares are expected to be listed on the Nasdaq Global Select Market. Following completion of the Transaction, the former shareholders of Mylan will own approximately 79% of the outstanding New Mylan ordinary shares and Abbott will indirectly own approximately 21% of the outstanding New Mylan ordinary shares.

The Transaction has been unanimously approved by the board of directors of both Abbott and Mylan.

The parties have made customary representations and warranties in the BTA and have agreed to customary pre-closing and post-closing covenants. In addition, the BTA provides that the parties will indemnify each other for breaches of these representations, warranties and covenants, subject to certain limitations, and for certain other matters.

Under the BTA, Abbott will agree for a period of two-years to certain non-competition restrictions in the non-U.S. developed markets with respect to pharmaceutical products which contain the same active pharmaceutical ingredient as the acquired products, subject to certain exceptions.

The consummation of the Transaction is subject to the satisfaction of certain customary closing conditions, including regulatory approvals and the approval of the Merger by Mylan's shareholders. Abbott will not require shareholder approval in connection with the Transaction.

The BTA contains certain customary termination rights, including the right of either party to terminate the agreement if the Transaction is not completed by October 13, 2015, subject to extension for a period of 90 days in the event conditions relating to regulatory approvals have not been satisfied as of that date. Neither party has the right to terminate the BTA in order to engage in an alternative transaction. If the BTA is terminated in certain circumstances, including in the event that certain regulatory approvals are not obtained, approval of Mylan's shareholders is not obtained or Mylan's board of directors withdraws its recommendation of the Transaction or approves or recommends an alternative acquisition proposal for Mylan, Mylan will be required, at Abbott's option, to reimburse Abbott's costs and expenses incurred in connection with the Transaction (including certain restructuring related taxes), provided that Mylan will not be required to reimburse Abbott for an amount in excess of $100,000,000.

Upon as of the consummation of the Transaction, New Mylan and Abbott will enter into a Shareholder Agreement. The Shareholder Agreement will impose certain restrictions on Abbott, including prohibiting transfers of New Moon ordinary shares to competitors of Mylan and to activist investors as defined in the agreement, as well as to customary standstill limitations so long as Abbott's ownership interest in New Moon equals or exceeds 5%. Abbott will agree to vote its New Moon ordinary shares, subject to certain exceptions relating to significant corporate transactions, in accordance with the recommendation by New Moon's board of directors. Abbott also will be entitled to customary demand and piggy-back registration rights.

At the closing of the Transaction, New Mylan, Abbott and certain of their affiliates will enter into ancillary agreements providing for transition services, manufacturing relationships and license arrangements.

Item 3.03. Material Modification to Rights of Security Holders.

Also on July 13, 2014, prior to the execution of the BTA, the board of directors of Mylan approved Amendment No. 6 to Rights Agreement (the Amendment), amending the Rights Agreement (Rights Agreement) dated as of August 22, 1996, as amended as of November 8, 1999, August 13, 2004, September 8, 2004, December 2, 2004 and December 19, 2005, among Mylan and American Stock Transfer & Trust Company, as rights agent (the Rights Agent). The Amendment, among other things, renders the Rights Agreement inapplicable to the Transaction and the BTA. The Amendment remains subject to approval by the Rights Agent.

Item 8.01. Other Events.

On July 14, 2014, Mylan and Abbott issued the joint press release attached to this Current Report as Exhibit 99.1.

This communication contains forward-looking statements. These statements are made pursuant to the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 and may often be identified by the use of words such as will, may, could, should, would, project, believe, anticipate, expect, plan, estimate, forecast, continue, target and variations of these words or comparable words. Because forward-looking statements inherently involve risks and uncertainties, actual future results may differ materially from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause or contribute to such differences include, but are not limited to: the parties' ability to meet expectations regarding the timing, completion and accounting and tax treatments of the transaction; changes in relevant tax and other laws; the parties' ability to consummate the transaction; the conditions to the completion of the transaction, including the receipt of approval of Mylan's shareholders; the regulatory approvals required for the transaction not being obtained on the terms expected or on the anticipated schedule; inherent uncertainties involved in the estimates and judgments used in the preparation of financial statements, and the providing of estimates of financial measures, in accordance with GAAP and related standards or on an adjusted basis; the integration of the acquired business by Mylan being more difficult, time-consuming or costly than expected; operating costs, customer loss and business disruption (including, without limitation, difficulties in maintaining relationships with employees, customers, clients or suppliers) being greater than expected following the transaction; the retention of certain key employees of the acquired business being difficult; Mylan's and the acquired business's expected or targeted future financial and operating performance and results; the combined company's capacity to bring new products to market, including but not limited to where it uses its business judgment and decides to manufacture, market, and/or sell products, directly or through third parties, notwithstanding the fact that allegations of patent infringement(s) have not been finally resolved by the courts (i.e., an at-risk launch); the scope, timing and outcome of any ongoing legal proceedings and the impact of any such proceedings on Mylan's and the acquired business's consolidated financial condition, results of operations or cash flows; Mylan's and the acquired business's ability to protect their intellectual property and preserve their intellectual property rights; the effect of any changes in customer and supplier relationships and customer purchasing patterns; the ability to attract and retain key personnel; changes in third-party relationships; the impacts of competition; changes in economic and financial conditions of Mylan's business or the acquired business; uncertainties and matters beyond the control of management; and the possibility that Mylan may be unable to achieve expected synergies and operating efficiencies in connection with the transaction within the expected time-frames or at all and to successfully integrate the acquired business.
