CONMED Corporation Mails Letter to Shareholders

Urges Shareholders to Vote FOR ALL CONMED's Director Nominees on the GOLD Proxy Card Today

UTICA, New York, August 18, 2014 CONMED Corporation (NASDAQ: CNMD) today announced that it will mail a letter to shareholders in connection with the Company's September 10, 2014 Annual Meeting. CONMED's Board of Directors unanimously recommends that shareholders vote FOR ALL CONMED's eight highly qualified and experienced director nominees: Brian Concannon, Charles Farkas, Jo Ann Golden, Curt Hartman, Dirk Kuyper, Jerome Lande, Stephen Mandia and Mark Tryniski, as well as the other proposals contained in the definitive proxy materials.

Following is a copy of the letter CONMED is mailing to its shareholders:

August 18, 2014

Dear Fellow Shareholder,

CONMED has taken aggressive action to improve operational performance in order to build sustainable, long-term value for shareholders. This is the right strategy for CONMED today, and is one that is being executed by a newly-installed Interim CEO with exceptional domain expertise in CONMED's specific business and markets and overseen by a highly qualified Board that has been united in driving this reconstitution of CONMED's governance structure moves that began well over one year ago and have brought to the Board necessary medical device and industry experience, strategy expertise and shareholder perspectives. Following several months of extraordinary change, the new CONMED now has the right leaders and is 100% focused on execution to improve CONMED's performance and create long-term shareholder value. CONMED's newly constituted leadership is focused on:

Enhancing the accountability and focus of our entire organization;
Improving operating efficiency;

Edgar Filing: CONMED CORP - Form DEFA14A

Driving profitable sales growth and expanding EBITDA margins; and Developing innovative products that meet the needs of our global customer base.

Voce Capital Management LLC (Voce), which owns less than 0.5% of the Company s outstanding common stock, has apparently decided to ignore the sweeping changes at CONMED in order to pursue an expensive and disruptive proxy contest to install three of its own nominees to your Board.

Well before Voce first made an investment in CONMED, your Board had begun a process that has now already addressed every issue Voce has raised. In its recent letter to shareholders, Voce offers no platform to improve performance or create long-term shareholder value and instead devotes itself to attacking directors it is not even opposing in its proxy fight, maligning former management that is no longer with the Company, and mischaracterizing the reasons why the strategic alternatives process, that it once pushed for, did not result in a sale of the Company. Creating long-term sustainable performance improvement at CONMED is the right path forward given the lack of strategic alternatives available to the Company at this time. Doing so requires a real strategic plan, and the bottom line is that Voce has never articulated an actual plan to create value for all CONMED shareholders that doesn't involve selling the company. Do not be misled by Voce's self-serving campaign.

CONMED's Annual Meeting is scheduled for September 10, 2014. To protect the value of your investment in CONMED, we urge you to VOTE today by telephone, online, or by signing and dating the enclosed GOLD proxy card and returning it in the postage-paid envelope provided FOR ALL CONMED's eight highly qualified and experienced director nominees: Brian Concannon, Charles Farkas, Jo Ann Golden, Curt Hartman, Dirk Kuyper, Jerome Lande, Stephen Mandia and Mark Tryniski. We are confident that these individuals will contribute significantly to the development and execution of CONMED's strategic plan to grow revenues and margins and improve CONMED's operating performance.

Even if you have already voted using the white proxy card, you have the right to change your vote to the GOLD proxy card in support of CONMED's director nominees. If you have questions or need assistance voting your shares, or wish to change a prior vote of your shares, you may call Innisfree toll-free at (888) 750-5834.

CONMED HAS THE RIGHT LEADERSHIP TO DELIVER ENHANCED SHAREHOLDER RETURNS AND HAS MADE CHANGES THAT SIGNIFICANTLY DISRUPTED THE STATUS QUO

CONMED's strategic planning and execution is being overseen by CONMED's engaged, experienced and highly qualified Board, which has been significantly re-constituted since last year's Annual Meeting and has been unanimous in driving these meaningful governance changes. At our upcoming Annual Meeting, we are nominating a slate of directors that is more than 60% new and brings substantial stockholder representation, significant medical device and specific orthopedic industry experience, and expertise in management, corporate governance, consulting and investing. In connection with the recent Board changes, the Board appointed Curt Hartman as Interim Chief Executive Officer. Curt brings more than 22 years of medical device industry experience to the Company, having previously served as the Interim CEO and CFO of Stryker Corporation.

In addition to instituting new leadership, CONMED has made the following changes since the Company's 2013 Annual Meeting:

- Appointed Mark Tryniski as Chairman of the Board in March 2014, replacing Eugene Corasanti, CONMED's founder, who has since retired from the Board and Company;
- Added five new and highly qualified independent directors;
- Accepted the resignation or retirement of its four longest-tenured directors;
- Formed an executive search committee comprised of five independent directors to begin a process immediately to identify a permanent CEO, following the resignation of Joe Corasanti and appointment of Curt Hartman as Interim CEO;
- Installed new chairpersons for each of its Audit, Compensation and Corporate Governance and Nominating Committees; and
- Instituted a term limit for directors.

These changes represent our ongoing effort to revitalize governance at today's CONMED, and our constructive plan to create value for shareholders on the basis of long-term sustainable improvement.

CONMED CONDUCTED A DILIGENT AND EXTENSIVE EXPLORATION OF STRATEGIC ALTERNATIVES IN ITS EFFORTS TO CREATE SHAREHOLDER VALUE

As disclosed on July 23, 2014, CONMED's Board of Directors unanimously agreed to conduct a comprehensive review of strategic alternatives, including a sale or merger of the Company. Following a six-month long exhaustive process, the Board determined that the various strategic alternatives available at that time did not adequately reflect the intrinsic value of the Company or its future growth prospects.

Contrary to misleading and uninformed innuendo from Voce, CONMED's exploration of alternatives was exceedingly thorough, professionally executed and guided by well-respected advisors from two national investment banks, Bank of America Merrill Lynch and Greenhill & Co., and the law firm Sullivan & Cromwell. The process included outreach to an exhaustive list of potential financial and strategic counterparties across the industry, with the sole goal of assessing the potential to create shareholder value. Rest assured that the decision to terminate the process was unanimously made by the Board and did not leave any promising avenue unexplored.

Following the conclusion of the process, CONMED's Board and management team remain committed to creating value for ALL shareholders and will continue to take any actions that enable the Company to achieve this objective.

If Voce truly cared about constructive, long-term value creation, instead of its personal agenda, we believe it would support CONMED's newly-reconstituted governance structure and its focus on performance improvement, or at least offer a credible alternative platform to improve performance and create long-term shareholder value. Instead Voce has chosen to focus on mischaracterizing the reasons why the only strategy it proposed—the strategic alternatives process—did not result in a sale of the Company. We believe Voce should recognize, as your Board and executive leadership have, that the best way to create shareholder value today is to focus on the execution of the Company's business plans and the future, rather than wasting valuable time, energy and resources refuting Voce's misinterpretation of past events.

NOW IS THE TIME FOR CONMED TO FOCUS ON EXECUTION

Under the direction of an engaged and knowledgeable Board and the guidance of our Interim CEO Curt Hartman, the Company is focused on execution and improving operating performance to create additional value for shareholders over both the short and long term.

Our organization universally aspires to growth. We will:

- Steer our commercial and R&D leadership to focus on clear expectations and accountability throughout the innovation and development process to accelerate the cadence and delivery of new products that support our customers' needs and the goals of the business;
- Assess and reevaluate our commercial strategy to improve the alignment of the US selling structure to better reflect the needs of our customers while allowing our selling teams the freedom to address the evolving market needs and efficiently perform the roles for which they have been hired;
- Establish and institute a regular series of metric-driven meetings to craft, refine and enhance our performance culture to deliver on the commitments we establish as a Company for our customers and stakeholders. We will measure our progress and monitor outcomes on a weekly, monthly, quarterly and annual basis; and
- Evaluate our SG&A expense and investments, even as we increase our focus on enhancing revenue growth, to ensure we are allocating resources to areas with the highest returns for the Company and its future success, which will allow us to maximize value for our shareholders.
