Oil and natural gas production in March

Rio de Janeiro, April 20, 2016 – Petróleo Brasileiro S.A. – Petrobras hereby announces that its oil and natural gas production in March amounted to 2.55 million barrels of oil equivalent per day (boed), of which 2.36 million boe were produced in Brazil and 183,000 boed abroad.

The average oil production in March was 2.02 million barrels per day (bpd), 3% below the volume produced in the previous month, which was 2.09 million bpd. In this production, 1.94 million bpd was produced in Brazil and 86,000 bpd abroad.

The reduction in production compared to the previous month's levels was due mainly to the continuation of shutdowns in large production units, corrective maintenance on P-31, which resumed production on March 28, and the occurrence of fire aboard the P-48 platform, whose operation was resumed on 16 April.

In the first quarter, oil production of Petrobras in Brazil was 1.98 million bpd, due to the concentration of a significant volume of scheduled production stoppages in this period, which represented approximately 5% of production. This year is expected a volume stoppages of 2.5% of the average production of the year.

Pre-salt oil production

In March, the company's oil and gas production in the pre-salt layer operated by Petrobras grew 1.2% over the previous month to 1.104 million boed, a new monthly record, exceeding February record (1.091 million boe).

The company's oil output operated by Petrobras also grew 1.2% when compared to the previous month to an average of 884,000 bpd. This volume also represents a new monthly record when compared to the previous month (874,000 bpd).
