RUDOLPH TECHNOLOGIES AND AUGUST TECHNOLOGY EXECUTE CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

FLANDERS, N.J., Apr. 4, 2005 -- Rudolph Technologies, Inc. (Nasdaq: RTEC) announced today that it has entered into a confidentiality agreement with August Technology Corporation (Nasdaq: AUGT) and has begun discussions regarding a potential merger with August. As previously disclosed, Rudolph has made a proposal to acquire August for a combination of Rudolph stock and cash. There can be no assurance that Rudolph will enter into a merger agreement with August and, if it does, as to the terms of any such agreement.

August is currently a party to a merger agreement with Nanometrics Incorporated. Any agreement providing for a merger involving Rudolph and August would be subject, among other things, to termination of August's merger agreement with Nanometrics in accordance with its terms.

Rudolph does not intend to make any further public comment regarding its discussions with August until it has entered into a definitive agreement with August providing for a merger or it has terminated such discussions.

ABOUT RUDOLPH TECHNOLOGIES, INC.

Rudolph Technologies is a worldwide leader in the design, development and manufacture of high-performance process control metrology and defect inspection systems used by semiconductor device manufacturers. The Company's products provide a full-fab solution through its families of proprietary systems, which are used throughout the device manufacturing process. Rudolph's product development has successfully anticipated and addressed many emerging trends that are driving the semiconductor industry's growth in order to enhance the competitiveness of its products in the marketplace. The Company's success in creating complementary metrology and inspection applications through aggressive research and development is key to Rudolph's strategy for continued technological and market leadership.

FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS

This press release contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. In some cases, you can identify those so-called "forward-looking statements" by words such as "may," "will," "would," "should," "could," "expects," "plans," "anticipates," "believes," "estimates," "predicts," "potential," or "continue," or the negative of those and other comparable words and phrases. Rudolph wishes to take advantage of the "safe harbor" provided for by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 and you are cautioned that actual events or results may differ materially from the expectations expressed in such forward-looking statements as a result of various factors, including risks and uncertainties, many of which are beyond the control of Rudolph. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially include, but are not limited to: (1) cyclicity of the semiconductor industry; (2) customer concentration; (3) introduction of new products by our competitors; (4) sole or limited sources of supply; and (5) Rudolph and August may not enter into a definitive agreement regarding a merger and, if we do, the merger may not be consummated. If a merger involving Rudolph and August were consummated, some of the factors that could cause actual results to differ materially include, but are not limited to: (a) the businesses of Rudolph and August may not be integrated successfully or such integration may be more difficult, time-consuming or costly than expected; (b) expected combination benefits from the merger may not be fully realized or realized within the expected time frame; (c) revenues following the merger may be lower than expected; and (d) operating costs, customer loss and business disruption, including, without limitation, difficulties in maintaining relationships with employees, customers, clients or suppliers, may be greater than expected following the merger. Some of the matters discussed in this press release involve risks and uncertainties that are summarized under the heading "Factors that May Affect Future Results" in Rudolph's Form 10-K filed for the year ended December 31, 2004, which also summarizes certain other risks and uncertainties. These factors are updated from time to time through the filing of reports and registration statements with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Rudolph does not assume any obligation to update the forward-looking information contained in this press release.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Any information concerning August contained in this press release has been taken from, or is based upon, publicly available information. Although Rudolph does not have any information that would indicate that any information contained in this press release that has been taken from such documents is inaccurate or incomplete, Rudolph does not take any responsibility for the accuracy or completeness of such information. To date, Rudolph has not had access to the books and records of August. Investors and security holders are urged to read the documents regarding the proposed Rudolph/August merger that Rudolph may file with the Commission, when they become available, because they will contain important information. Investors and security holders may obtain a free copy of the documents filed with the Commission regarding the proposed Rudolph/August merger (when they are available) and other documents filed by Rudolph with the Commission at the Commission's website at www.sec.gov. These documents may also be obtained for free from Rudolph by directing a request to Rudolph Technologies, Inc., One Rudolph Road, Flanders, New Jersey 07836, Attention: General Counsel.

INFORMATION REGARDING CERTAIN RUDOLPH PERSONS

Rudolph is not currently engaged in a solicitation of proxies or consents from its shareholders or from the shareholders of August. However, in connection with its proposal to merge with August, certain directors and executive officers of Rudolph may participate in meetings or discussions with Rudolph shareholders some of whom may also be August shareholders or other persons who may also be August shareholders. Rudolph does not believe that any of these persons is a "participant" as defined in Schedule 14A promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, in the solicitation of proxies or consents, or that Schedule 14A requires the disclosure of certain information concerning any of them. Information concerning the directors and executive officers of Rudolph and a description of their interests in Rudolph is set forth in Rudolph's proxy statement filed with the Commission on April 20, 2004. As of the date of this press release, Rudolph beneficially owns 100 shares of August common stock, and the directors and executive officers of Rudolph, in the aggregate, do not beneficially own in excess of 1% of August's common stock. If in the future Rudolph engages in solicitation of proxies from its shareholders or the shareholders of August in connection with a merger of the companies it will amend the information provided above as needed to disclose the information concerning participants in that solicitation required by Rule 14a-12 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.
