For the six months ended 30 June 2007, the Company and its subsidiaries recorded consolidated operating revenue of RMB23.144 billion and profit attributable to the equity holders of the Company of RMB2.875 billion, representing increases of 16.68% and 32.70%, respectively, as compared to the same period of last year. The Board is satisfied with the performance as mentioned above. Please refer to the unaudited financial information below for details of the operating results.

BUSINESS REVIEW FOR THE FIRST HALF OF THE YEAR

During the first half of 2007, amid unfavorable factors such as intensifying competition in the power market, continuously declining utilization hours of generating units and sustained high coal prices, the Company strengthened its management, enhanced its sales and marketing institutions, reinforced its accountability appraisals and enhanced its incentive systems, etc.. As a result, the Company achieved new development in various aspects including production safety, sales and marketing of electricity, operation management, energy saving, environment protection and project development.

1. POWER GENERATION

During the first half of 2007, the Company's power plants achieved a total power generation of 80.618 billion kWh based on a consolidated basis, an increase of 13.92% (excluding the power generation of Sichuan Hydropower) over the same period last year. The increase in power generation was attributable to the following factors: the Company has strengthened its sales and marketing effort and adopted effective sales and marketing strategies, thereby facilitating a relatively rapid growth of the Company's power generation; secondly, the continued economic growth in the regions where the Company's power plants are located had also driven the growth of power demand and provided the Company with favorable market conditions for more power generation by the Company's power plants; and thirdly, the newly operated generating units at Yuhuan Power Plant, Luohuang Power Plant, Huaiyin Power Plant, Xindian Power Plant, Yueyang Power Plant and Taicang Power Plant increased the overall power generation capacity of the Company and contributed to the growth of the Company's power generation.

2. COST CONTROL

During the first half of the year, faced with unfavorable factors including sustained high thermal coal prices and instability of coal quality, the Company further strengthened the control of fuel costs. On the one hand, the Company adjusted the coal purchase structure in a timely manner and contained the coal purchase costs by controlling the purchase volume of high-price thermal coal, raising the fulfillment rate of high-quality low-price coal and opening up channels for coal import. On the other hand, the Company closely monitored the price changes in the coal market and seized on the characteristics of seasonal variations in coal prices, thereby effectively controlling the market purchase prices and containing coal purchase costs to the maximum extent. The unit fuel cost of the Company for the first half of the year was RMB168.71/MWh, an increase of 8.16% when compared to the same period of last year.

3. ENERGY SAVING AND ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION

The Company attached great importance to energy saving and environmental protection work. All the newly built generating units are equipped with flue-gas desulphurization facilities and the Company has strengthened environmental protection renovation work on the existing generating units. During the first half of the year, eight desulphurized generating units totalling 3,410MW have commenced operation and the desulphurization operation efficiency rate was above 95% generally. As at 30 June 2007, the Company has installed desulphurized generating units amounting to 12,440MW, accounting for 41.8% of the controlling generation capacity of the existing coal-fired units of the Company. According to the Company's plan, the installation of desulphurization facilities of the Company's generating units will reach 100% by 2010.

The Company has made further efforts in energy saving and emissions reduction, and achieved new grounds in the work on energy saving, consumption reduction and environmental protection by adopting various energy saving measures, including strengthening energy saving management, increasing investment in energy saving and emission reduction and fully utilizing power saving technology. Various production and technical indices have improved when compared to the same period last year and the Company's coal consumption rate for power generated and coal consumption rate for power sold were 313.15 gram/kWh and 332.29 gram/kWh respectively in the first half of 2007, representing decreases of 3.94 gram/kWh and 3.99 gram/kWh respectively, compared to the same period of 2006. Given the substantial increase in the number of desulphurized generating units, the average house consumption rate declined slightly compared to the same period of the previous year.

4. PROJECT DEVELOPMENT AND CONSTRUCTION

The Company made smooth progress on its construction projects and preparation work of its power projects:

- (a) In January 2007, a 600 MW coal-fired generating unit (Unit 6) of Luohuang Power Plant commenced its commercial operation. This has added 360 MW generation capacity on an equity basis, raising the Company's generation capacity on an equity basis to 28,187 MW and the controlling generation capacity to 32,224 MW.
- (b) By the end of July 2007, two 1,000 MW coal-fired generating units at Yuhuan Power Plant Phase II, two 600 MW coal-fired generating units at Rizhao Power Plant Phase II and two 600 MW coal-fired generating units at Qinbei Power Plant Phase II had obtained the approval from the National Development and Reform Commission;
- (c) The projects-under-construction and other proposed projects of the Company progressed smoothly.

5. CAPITAL OPERATION

In the first half of this year, the Company captured favorable opportunities in the capital market to deal with the shares and warrants of Yangtze Power held by the Company. This has not only improved the level of earnings per share, but has also provided the Company with experience in the operation of the capital market.

PROSPECTS FOR THE SECOND HALF OF THE YEAR

Power demand in the second half of the year will be growing at a steady and fast pace, thus providing favorable market conditions for more power generation by the Company. Likewise, the State's implementation of the policies of "Replacing small coal-fired units with large coal-fired units" and "Save Energy, Reduce Emissions" will be favorable to the Company which enjoys the advantages of large-scale high efficiency generating units and wide coverage of service areas.

On the other hand, given that various power generation projects came into operation during the past few years, market competition will continue to intensify and utilization hours of generating units will further decrease.

In relation to coal supply, given that the increase in major contract prices for coal had been high this year, it is expected that the market purchase prices will continue to hover at high levels. The Company will continue to encounter high operating pressure in respect of fuel price control. The Company will strive to contain the annual increase in unit fuel cost to around 8%.

Edgar Filing: HUANENG POWER INTERNATIONAL INC - Form 6-K

For production and operation in the second half of the year, the Company has the confidence in seizing the opportunities, capitalizing on its advantages and overcoming difficulties to ensure that the year's target relating to production and operation can be accomplished.

The major operation plans for the second half of the year include:

1. to strengthen the management of equipment operation and to increase the reliability of generating units so as to ensure safe and stable power generation of the power plants;
2. to continue to strengthen sales and marketing work and to strive to increase power generation;
3. to strengthen coal purchase management, to ensure a stable and effective supply and to use the best endeavours to contain the increase in unit fuel costs;
4. to promote energy saving and environmental protection work in full force, to strive to improve the operation efficiency of generating units and to fully achieve energy saving and emission reduction targets;
5. to ensure that the construction projects will be completed with high quality, to actively push forward preliminary work of proposed projects and to accelerate the pace of development of the Company.

OPERATING RESULTS

I. Comparison and Analysis of Operating Results

Comparison of operating results between the first half of 2006 and 2007.

From 2007 onwards, the Company's equity interest in Sichuan Hydropower is reduced from 60% to 49%, and therefore the financial statements of Sichuan Hydropower are not consolidated into the Company's financial statements starting from January 2007.

Summary

During the first half of 2007, the Company experienced overall sound development with continued rapid growth in operating revenue and profit. The development of its infrastructure construction and projects are being carried out smoothly. Meanwhile, the Company has maintained its leading position on energy conservation and environmental protection in the industry.

Regarding the power market and utilization of power equipment, the rapid growth of power demand presented a good opportunity for the development of power sector. The Company has seized this opportunity to have built and put into operation a large number of generation units in recent years and therefore reinforced and increased its market share. After deducting the electricity generated by Sichuan Hydropower, the Company recorded an increase of 13.87% on its sale of electricity, of which 17.38% was contributed from the sale of the electricity generated by the new generation units put into operations since 2006 (including Yueyang Phase II, Taicang Phase II, Shanghai Combined-Cycle unit, Luohuang Phase III, Huaiyin Phase III, Yuhuan Power Plant, and Xindian Phase III, same as below). At the same time, the Company experienced slight decrease of the utilization hours of power generation units compared with the same period of last year as a result of the generally static demand-supply status in power generation market.

In respect of power tariff, the average tariff rate of the Company increased by RMB 21.58 per MWh to RMB 356.82 per MWh from the same period of last year, which is mainly attributable to the implementation of the Coal-electricity price linkage mechanism during the second half year of 2006.

On fuel supply and cost controls, the relative ease on coal transportation pressure provided a window of opportunity for the Company to organize fuel supply, however, the increase of the prices as entered into under key coal purchase contracts and quoted in coal sourcing market has pushed up the fuel costs of the Company. The unit fuel cost per unit of electricity sold by the Company increased by 8.16% when compared with the same period of 2006 and 7.25% when compared with the full year of 2006.

With the implication of the foregoing factors, the Company and its subsidiaries experienced a 16.68% (or 21.21% excluding Sichuan Hydropower) year-on-year increase in consolidated operating revenue during the first half of 2007. The Company and its subsidiaries recorded a profit attributable to equity holders of the Company of RMB 2.875 billion for the first half of 2007, up 32.70% from RMB 2.167 billion for the same period of last year. The increase of profit attributable to equity holders of the Company was mainly attributable to the commenced operations of new power units, the adjustment of tariff rate under the Coal-electricity price linkage mechanism implemented from June 2006, as well as the sale of a portion of the shares of Yangtze Power Co., Ltd. held by the Company.

1. Operating revenue and sale tax

Operating revenue represents consideration receivable or received from electricity sold net of amounts received in advance. For the six months ended 30 June 2007, the consolidated operating revenue of the Company and its subsidiaries amounted to RMB 23.144 billion, representing an increase of 16.68% (or 21.21% excluding Sichuan Hydropower) over RMB 19.835 billion for the same period of last year.

The increase in operating revenue is mainly attributable to the operations of new power plants. The newly operated power plants contributed RMB 3.972 billion to the increase in the consolidated revenue of the Company.

The average tariff rate of the Company and its subsidiaries was RMB 356.82 per MWh for the first half of 2007, up by 6.41% (or 6.44% excluding Sichuan Hydropower) from RMB 335.31 per MWh in the same period of last year. Such an increase is mainly attributable to the implementation of the Coal-electricity price linkage mechanism from June 2006, and the tariff of relevant power plants was adjusted accordingly.

Sales tax mainly consists of value-added tax surcharges. According to relevant administrative regulations, such surcharges include the Education Surcharges and City Construction Tax calculated at prescribed percentages on the amounts of the value-added tax paid. Such surcharges are currently not applicable to direct foreign investments that have been approved by the government, hence certain power plants of the Company do not pay such surcharges. For the first half of 2007, the sales tax increased RMB 3 million to RMB 70 million from RMB 67 million for the same period of last year, mainly attributable to the increase of the tax base due to the addition of newly operated power plants.

2. Operating expenses

For the first half of 2007, the consolidated operating expenses of the Company and its subsidiaries increased by 19.21% (or 21.44% excluding Sichuan Hydropower) to RMB 19.590 billion from RMB 16.432 billion for the same period of last year.

The increase of operating expenses were mainly attributable to the operations of new power plants, which accounted for RMB 3.033 billion of the increase in consolidated operating expenses, while, excluding the above new power plants factor, the increase of operating expenses would be RMB 0.425 billion if excluding Sichuan Hydropower, which was mainly attributable to the increase in coal prices and other costs.

2.1 Fuel cost

Fuel cost represented the largest portion of the operating expenses of the Company and its subsidiaries, which has increased by 22.87% to RMB 12.749 billion for the first half of 2007 from RMB 10.376 billion for the same period of last year. The increase in fuel cost was due to operations of new power plants, which accounted for RMB 2.094 billion of the increase in fuel cost.

During the first half of 2007, the average price of natural coal of the Company and its subsidiaries increased by 7.33% to RMB 367.07 per ton from RMB 342.00 for the same period of last year. The unit fuel cost per unit of electricity sold increased by 8.16% to RMB 168.71 per MWh compared with the same period of last year due to the deterioration in the quality of the coal.

2.2 Depreciation

Depreciation expenses of the Company and its subsidiaries have increased by 9.42% (or 17.65% excluding Sichuan Hydropower) to RMB 3.568 billion for the first half of 2007 from RMB 3.261 billion for the same period of last year. The increase of depreciation expenses was mainly attributable to the operations of new power plants, which accounted for RMB 578 million.

2.3 Labor

Labor costs include salaries, bonus, welfare and those housing funds, medical insurance, pension and unemployment insurance that paid to relevant government authorities, etc. labour costs of the Company and its subsidiaries amounted to RMB 1.400 billion for the first half of 2007, representing an increase of RMB 86 million (or RMB 127 million excluding Sichuan Hydropower) from RMB 1.314 billion for the same period of last year. Such an increase was mainly attributable to the operations of new power plants which caused the related labor costs to be charged into labor cost instead of being capitalised.

2.4 Other operating expenses

Other operating expenses of the Company and its subsidiaries amounted to RMB 1.089 billion for the first half of 2007, representing an increase of RMB 236 million (or RMB 248 million excluding Sichuan Hydropower) from RMB 853 million for the same period of last year. The increase is mainly attributable to the operations of new generation plants.

3. Financial expenses

The consolidated net financial expenses of the Company and its subsidiaries for the first half of 2007 amounted to RMB 851 million, representing an increase of RMB 139 million (or RMB 233 million excluding Sichuan Hydropower) from RMB 712 million for the same period of last year. The increase of financial expenses was mainly attributable to the fact that the interest expense arising from new generation plants was not capitalized since the operations of these generation plants, which accounted for RMB 286 million.

4. Share of profit of associates

The share of profit of associates of the Company and its subsidiaries for the first half of 2007 was RMB 303 million, representing a decrease of RMB 49 million from RMB 352 million for the same period of last year.

5. Investment income, net and gain on disposals of investments

The investment income, net and gain on disposals of investments of the Company and its subsidiaries for the first half of 2007 was RMB 673 million in total, representing an increase of approximately RMB 607 million from RMB 66 million for the same period of last year, which was attributable to the increase of the fair value of warrants of Yangtze Power Co., Ltd.(Yangtze Power), and gains from the sale of some of Yangtze Power s shares.

6. Enterprise income tax (EIT)

There is no change to the preferential tax policies applicable to the Company in the current period. The consolidated EIT of the Company and its subsidiaries for the first half of 2007 amounted to RMB 561 million, representing an increase of 9.55% (or 22.60% excluding Sichuan Hydropower) from RMB 512 million for the same period of last year. The increase in EIT was mainly attributable to the increase of pre-tax profit.

7. Net profit (excluding minority interests) (net profit)

The net profit of the Company and its subsidiaries amounted to RMB 2.875 billion for the first half of 2007, representing an increase of 32.70% from RMB 2.167 billion for the same period of last year. The increase of net profit was mainly attributable to the commencement of the operations of new power units, the adjustment of tariff rate under the Coal-electricity price linkage mechanism implemented from June 2006, as well as the sales of a portion of the shares of Yangtze Power Co., Ltd. held by the Company.

8. Comparison of financial positions

As at 30 June 2007, total assets of the Company and its subsidiaries were RMB 109.671 billion, representing a decrease of 3.75% from the RMB 113.939 billion as at 31 December 2006, or an increase of 7.16% excluding Sichuan Hydropower.

The capital expenditure for infrastructure construction and renovation projects of the Company and its subsidiaries for the first half of 2007 totaled RMB 6.752 billion, which was mainly financed by internal funding, debts financing and cash flows generated from operating activities.

9. Major financial ratios comparison

Item	The Company and its subsidiaries
	As at 30 June	As at 31 December
	2007	2006
Ratio of liabilities and shareholders equity	1.43	1.46
Current ratio	0.47	0.51
Quick ratio	0.38	0.43
	For the six months	For the year ended 30 June	ended 31 December
	2007	2006
Multiples of interest earned	3.74	3.87

Computation formula of these financial ratios:

Edgar Filing: HUANENG POWER INTERNATIONAL INC - Form 6-K

Ratio of liabilities and shareholders' equity = balance of liabilities at the end of the period / balance of shareholders' equity (excluding minority interests) at the end of the period

Current ratio = balance of the current assets at the end of the period / balance of current liabilities at the end of the period

Quick ratio = (balance of current assets at the end of the period - balances of inventories at the end of the period) / balance of current liabilities at the end of the period

Multiples of interest earned = (profit before tax + interest expense) / interest expenditure (including capitalized interest)

The current ratio and quick ratio remained at a relatively low level and decreased in the middle of the year compared to the beginning of the year, which was mainly attributable to the increase in short-term borrowings as a result of increased capital expenditure during the first half of 2007.

The ratio of liabilities and shareholders' equity decreased slightly compared to the beginning of the year mainly attributable to the exclusion of Sichuan Hydropower from the consolidation scope, whose ratio of liabilities and shareholders' equity was higher than the average of the Company.

The multiples of interest earned decreased compared the same period of last year mainly attributable to the increase in infrastructure construction borrowings.

During the first half of 2007, a substantial portion of capital expenditure of the Company and its subsidiaries was satisfied by short-term borrowings. Accordingly, as at 30 June 2007, the net current liabilities of the Company and its subsidiaries totaled RMB 15.802 billion. Based on the successful financing history of the Company, the significant amount of undrawn banking facilities made available to the Company and its stable operating results, the Company believes that it will be able to meet its liabilities as and when they fall due and meet the capital required for operations. In addition, the Company continued to minimize interest expense by drawing short-term borrowings which bear relatively lower interest rates than long-term borrowings.

II. Liquidity and Cash Resources

1. Liquidity

	For the six months end 30 June 2007	For the six months ended 30 June 2006	Change
	RMB billion	RMB billion	(%)
Net cash provided by operating activities	4.358	5.353	-18.59%
Net cash used in investing activities	(6.850)	(7.578)	-9.61%
Net cash provided by financing activities	2.595	1.988	30.51%
Net increase/(decrease) in cash and cash equivalents	0.103	(0.237)	-143.53%
Cash and cash equivalents, beginning of period	3.207	2.648	21.13%
Cash and cash equivalent, end of period	3.310	2.411	37.28%

The net cash inflow from operating activities amounted to RMB 4.358 billion for the first half of 2007, which was lower than the same period of last year mainly because of excluding Sichuan Hydropower from our consolidated financial statements. It is expected that cash flows from operating activities will continue to be the major source of cash for the Company.

Net cash outflow for investing activities mainly consisted of capital expenditure for purchases of fixed assets.

The Company's main financing activities were repayments of loans (including short-term bonds) and the new drawdowns for new projects financing. During the first half of 2007, the Company repaid loans of RMB 5.591 billion, short-term bonds of RMB 5.0 billion, and borrowed new loans of RMB 16.695 billion.

2. Capital expenditure and cash resources

2.1 Capital expenditures

The capital expenditures incurred by the Company in the first half of 2007 amounted to RMB 6.752 billion, mainly used for infrastructure construction and renovation projects, including RMB 1.541 billion for the Yuhuan project, RMB 132 million for the Luohuang expansion project, RMB 31 million for the Xindian expansion project, RMB 335 million for the Shanghai Combined-Cycle project, RMB 164 million for the Huaiyin expansion project, RMB 91 million for the Yueyang expansion project, RMB 670 million for the Yingkou expansion project, RMB 774 million for the Qinbei expansion project, RMB 699 million for the Shanghai Phase III project, RMB 633 million for the Rizhao Phase II project, and RMB 595 million for the Haimen Power Plant project, RMB 68 million for construction of other power plants and RMB 1.019 billion for renovation expenditure.

The Company financed most of the above capital expenditures through internal funding, debts financing and cash flows provided by operating activities.

The Company will continue to incur significant capital expenditures in the next few years and will actively accelerate the development of planned projects based on the principles of commercial viability. As such, the Company will actively engage in new project developments to lay the foundation for the long-term development of the Company. The Company expects to continually finance the above capital expenditure through internal funding, bank borrowings and cash flows provided by operating activities.

2.2 Cash resources and anticipated financing costs

The Company expects the cash resources for capital expenditure to be primarily generated from internal funds, cash flows from operating activities and future debts financing.

Good operating results and good credit status give the Company strong financing capabilities. As at 30 June 2007, the Company and its subsidiaries had available borrowing facilities from banks of RMB 25.598 billion, which provided the Company with a sufficient level of available cash and effectively raised the assets liquidity and repayment capabilities of the Company.

As at 24 May 2007 and 27 June 2007, the Company and its subsidiaries repaid unsecured short-term bonds amounting to RMB 0.5 billion and RMB 4.5 billion, respectively. Annual effective interest rates of such short-term bonds were 3.53% and 3.77%, respectively.

On 22 May 2007, the 2006 shareholders' general meeting of the Company approved the Company issuing unsecured short-term bonds up to RMB 5.0 billion in one or multi-slots within 12 months in the PRC. The Company issued RMB5 billion of unsecured short-term bonds bearing coupon rates of 3.84% per annum on 9 August 2007. These bonds are denominated in RMB and issued at par and will mature in 364 days from their issue date. The effective interest rate of these bonds is approximately 4.26% per annum.

As at 30 June 2007, the total interest-bearing debts of the Company and its subsidiaries amounted to RMB 50.998 billion, including a current portion of RMB 20.069 billion. The interest-bearing debts comprised foreign currency debts amounted to RMB 4.746 billion, including USD528 million, EUR65 million and JPY952 million. The current portion of foreign currency debts included USD105 million, EUR7 million and JPY238 million. In addition, 88.81% of these foreign currency loans, or RMB 4.215 billion, were fixed rate loans with an average annual interest rate of 5.54%, while the remaining 11.19% of these foreign currency loans, or RMB 531 million, were floating rate loans with an average annual interest rate of LIBOR+0.16%.

Long-term loans of the Company and its subsidiaries mainly comprised fixed rate loans (with annual interest rates ranging from 2.00% to 6.97%). As at 30 June 2007, in accordance with original loan agreements, floating rate loans of the Company and its subsidiaries included balances of USD62 million (with annual interest rates from LIBOR+0.075% to LIBOR+0.43%) and JPY952 million (with annual interest rate at LIBOR+0.3%).

2.3 Other financing requirements

Edgar Filing: HUANENG POWER INTERNATIONAL INC - Form 6-K

The objective of the Company is to bring long-term, stable and growing returns to the shareholders. In line with this objective, the Company follows a proactive, stable and balanced dividend policy. On 22 May 2007, the Company declared a cash dividend of RMB 0.28 per ordinary share, with total dividends amounting to approximately RMB 3.376 billion, as approved at its shareholders' general meeting. For the six months ended 30 June 2007, the Company has paid dividends of approximately RMB 3.281 billion.

III. Performance and Prospects of Significant Investments

On 22 April 2003, the Company paid RMB 2.39 billion to acquire 25% equity interest in Shenzhen Energy Group. This investment brought the Company a profit of RMB 164 million for the first half of 2007 under the IFRS. Shenzhen Energy Group is the largest power supplier in Shenzhen and its power plants are primarily located in Guangdong Province - one of the most prosperous provinces in the PRC. With strong demand for electricity in that region, it is expected such an investment will bring stable returns to the Company in the future.

In July 2004, the Company paid RMB 1.375 billion to acquire 40% equity interest in Hebei Hanfeng Power Company. This investment brought the Company a profit of RMB 62 million for the first half of 2007 under the IFRS. Hebei Hanfeng Power Company is located in Hebei Province in northern China and there is a strong demand for electricity in that region. The Company expects this investment will contribute stable returns in the future.

IV. Benefits Policy

As at 30 June 2007, the Company and its subsidiaries had 23,359 employees. During the reporting period, there was no material change as to remuneration policies and training programs from prior year.

V. Related Party Transactions

Accounting to the need of the operation, the Company entered into various transactions with Huaneng Group, HIPDC and their group companies in the ordinary course of business, including but not limited to operating leases on land use rights and property, electricity transmission and fuel purchases, and transportation. Such transactions were for daily operations at terms no different from those for third parties in substance and do not have a material impact on the business and operations of the Company. Moreover, Huaneng Group, HIPDC and the minority shareholders of other subsidiaries have committed or agreed through contracts to provide guarantees on loans to the Company and its subsidiaries.

Pursuant to relevant agreements, the Company rendered management services to power plants owned by Huaneng Group and HIPDC at service fees covering the Company's managing costs and a reasonable profit. For the first half of 2007, such service fees amounted to RMB 25.48 million, which were less than 1% of the operating revenue of the Company.

In January, 2007, Huaneng Group made an additional capital contribution of RMB 615 million to Sichuan Hydropower, thereby increasing its direct equity interest in Sichuan Hydropower from 40% to 51%, which reduced the Company's equity interest in Sichuan Hydropower from 60% to 49%. Huaneng Group thus replaced the Company as the controlling shareholder of Sichuan Hydropower. In addition, the Company acquired 5% equity interest in Qinbei Power Company from Huaneng Group with a consideration of RMB 65.75 million in cash, thereby increased the Company's equity interest in Qinbei Power Company to 60%.

Edgar Filing: HUANENG POWER INTERNATIONAL INC - Form 6-K

Please refer to Note 13 to the accompanied unaudited condensed interim financial information prepared under IFRS for details of related party transactions.

VI. Guarantees on Loans

As at 30 June 2007, the balance of the guarantees provided by the Company to Rizhao Power Company, one of its associates, amounted to approximately RMB 111 million. The Company also believes such guarantees do not have material financial impact on the Company.

As at 30 June 2007, The Company had no contingent liabilities.

VII. Exchange Differences

As at 30 June 2007, foreign interest-bearing debts of the Company and its subsidiaries amounted to approximately RMB 4.746 billion, which accounted for 9.31% of total interest-bearing debts, of which Euro debts accounted for 14.10% of the foreign debts, US dollar loans accounted for 84.66% and JPY debts accounted for the remaining portion. The Renminbi exchange scheme reform increases the flexibility of exchange rates and caused considerable impact on the Company's profitability target due to exchange gains or losses. Nevertheless, it has no material impact on the cash flows of the Company. 11. Income Tax Expense

No Hong Kong profits tax was provided for the six months ended 30 June 2007 (for the six months ended 30 June 2006: nil) as the Company and its subsidiaries had no estimated assessable profit arising in or deriving from Hong Kong.

The People's Republic of China (the PRC) income tax has been provided on the estimated assessable profit for the period at their prevailing rates of taxation. Certain of the power plants, being located in specially designated regions or cities, are subject to preferential income tax rates. In addition, certain power plants are exempted from the PRC income tax for two years starting from the first profit-making year (after covering any accumulated deficits) followed by a 50% exemption of the applicable tax rate for the next three years.

For the six months ended 30 June 2007, the weighted average effective tax rate applicable to the Company and its subsidiaries is approximately 15.5% (for the six months ended 30 June 2006: approximately 16.8%).

In March 2007, the PRC government promulgated the Corporate Income Tax Law which will be effective from 1 January 2008. According to the Corporate Income Tax Law, both domestic and foreign invested enterprise will be subject to a single income tax rate of 25%. The existing Tax Law of the People's Republic of China for Enterprises with Foreign Investment and Foreign Enterprises (the FIE and FE tax laws) and Provisional Regulations of the People's Republic of China on Enterprise Income Tax (collectively referred to as the existing tax laws) will be abolished simultaneously. Currently, the power plants of the Company and its subsidiaries applied the tax rates under the existing tax laws. The Corporate Income Tax Law has provided a 5-year transitional period for those entities that applied FIE and FE tax laws in previous years. The Corporate Income Tax Law has an impact on the deferred income tax assets and liabilities of the Company and its subsidiaries. As there is still no detailed implementations rulings released, the Company and its subsidiaries adjusted deferred income tax balances as at 30 June 2007 based on their best estimates and will continue to assess the impact of such new law in the future.

12. Earnings Per Share

The calculation of basic earnings per share is done based on the profit attributable to the equity holders of the Company of approximately RMB2,875 million (for the six months ended 30 June 2006: approximately RMB2,167 million) and the weighted average number of approximately 12,055 million (for the six months ended 30 June 2006: approximately 12,055 million) outstanding ordinary shares during the period. There was no dilutive effect on earnings per share since the Company had no dilutive potential ordinary shares for the six months ended 30 June 2007 and 2006.

Note 1: Consistent with disclosure requirement of PRC GAAP and IFRS on presentation of financial statements, minority interests in the profit under PRC GAAP and IFRS should be included as a portion of net profit, however, there is no such a requirement under US GAAP.

(a) Effect of recording amounts received in advance

In accordance with the tariff setting mechanism applicable to certain power plants of the Company and its subsidiaries, certain power plants of the Company and its subsidiaries receive advance payments (calculated at 1% of the cost of fixed assets) as the major repairs and maintenance cost of these power plants. Such receipts in advance are recognized as liabilities under IFRS and US GAAP and are recognized as revenue and gain when the repairs and maintenance is performed and the liabilities extinguished, respectively. In accordance with PRC GAAP requirements, when preparing the financial statements, revenue is computed based on actual power sold and the tariff regulated by the state, no such amounts are recorded.

(b) Difference in the accounting treatment on housing losses

The Company and its subsidiaries and HIPDC, parent company of the Company has supplied staff quarters to the employees of the Company and its subsidiaries. The Company and its subsidiaries and HIPDC sold their staff quarters to the employees of the Company and its subsidiaries at preferential prices regulated by the local housing reform office. Difference between cost of staff quarters and receipts from the employees represented housing losses, and was borne by the Company and its subsidiaries and HIPDC, respectively.

When preparing financial statements under PRC GAAP, in accordance with the relevant regulations issued by the Ministry of Finance, such housing losses incurred by the Company and its subsidiaries are fully charged to non-operating expenses as incurred. Under IFRS, such housing losses incurred by the Company and its subsidiaries are recognized on a straight-line basis over the estimated remaining average service lives of the employees.

Under US GAAP, in addition to the recognition of housing losses according to the basis under IFRS above, the Company and its subsidiaries also have to recognize the housing losses incurred by HIPDC arising from the sales of staff quarters as operating expenses of the Company and its subsidiaries applying the same amortization policy, with corresponding amount recording as capital injection from HIPDC.

(c) Effect of capitalization of borrowing costs

In previous years, under previous PRC GAAP, the scope of capitalization of borrowing costs is limited to specific borrowings, and therefore, borrowing costs arising from general borrowings cannot be capitalized. In accordance with IFRS, the Company and its subsidiaries capitalized borrowing costs on general borrowing costs used for the purpose of obtaining a qualifying asset in addition to the capitalization of borrowing costs on specific borrowings. From 1 January 2007 onwards, the Company and its subsidiaries adopted the PRC GAAP No. 17 prospectively, which has converged with relevant requirements under IFRS, the adjustments for this period represent the depreciation of capitalized interest included in the cost of related assets under IFRS in previous years.

Under US regulatory accounting requirements, prior to 2007, borrowing costs of general borrowings raised for the purpose of obtaining qualifying assets cannot be capitalized as such costs are not taken into consideration in tariff setting. Hence, under US GAAP, interest of general borrowings used for obtaining regulatory assets was not capitalized prior to 2007, with adjustments reversing depreciation of related borrowing costs of general borrowings capitalized above.

(d) Acquisition of Shandong Huaneng

Edgar Filing: HUANENG POWER INTERNATIONAL INC - Form 6-K

Before the acquisition of Shandong Huaneng by the Company, Huaneng Group was one of its substantial shareholders, holding 33.09% equity interest. Under previous PRC GAAP and IFRS, upon the completion of the acquisition, the entire net assets of Shandong Huaneng were recorded at fair value. The excess of the fair value of the entire net assets acquired over the total cost of the acquisition was recorded as negative goodwill. On 1 January 2005 and 1 January 2007, the ending balance of negative goodwill brought forward is offset against opening retained earnings according to IFRS and PRC GAAP respectively. Under US GAAP, upon completion of the acquisition, Huaneng Group's proportionate share of 33.09% in the net assets of Shandong Huaneng that was sold to the Company was recorded at the historical carrying value. The excess of the proportionate share in the book value of the net assets acquired over the relevant portion of the cash consideration was recorded as a capital contribution to the Company. The book value of the remaining 66.91% of the net assets continues to be part of the recoverable rate base under the cost recovery formula of the tariff setting mechanism. Under US GAAP, the difference between these net asset values and the cash consideration was recorded as a reduction to the property, plant and equipment of the respective power plants.

As a result of the effect on the acquisition of 33.09% of net assets held by Huaneng Group above, there is a difference between negative goodwill recognized under IFRS and reduction in property, plant and equipment under US GAAP. Negative goodwill recognized under IFRS was written off against opening retained earnings in 2005 while under US GAAP, the above-mentioned reduced property, plant and equipment was depreciated over useful lives of related assets. Hence, net profit between IFRS and US GAAP is different.

(e) Difference in accounting treatment for issuance cost of short-term bonds

Under previous PRC GAAP, the issuance cost of short-term bonds is expensed as incurred. Under IFRS, such an issuance cost is included in the computation of the effective interest rate and amortized over the terms of the short-term bonds.

(f) Effect of acquisitions of entities under common control

Huaneng Group is the controlling parent company of HIPDC, which in turn is also the controlling parent of the Company.

The Company carried out the following acquisitions from Huaneng Group and HIPDC:

- (i) 70% equity interest in Shidongkou I Power Plant, 70% equity interest in Taicang Power Company and all of the assets and liabilities of Changxing Power Plant from Huaneng Group in July 2002;

38

- (ii) 55% equity interest in Qinbei Power Company, 60% equity interest in Yushe Power Company and all of the assets and liabilities of Xindian Power Plant from Huaneng Group in October 2003;

- (iii) 60% equity interest in Luohuang Power Company, 55% equity interest in Yueyang Power Company, 90% equity interest in Jinggangshan Power Plant and all of the assets and liabilities of Yingkou Power Plant from HIPDC and from Huaneng Group in July 2004; and

(iv) 60% equity interest in Sichuan Hydropower and 65% equity interest in Pingliang Power Company from Huaneng Group in January 2005.

As the acquired companies and power plants and the Company and its subsidiaries were under common control of Huaneng Group before the acquisitions, such acquisitions are regarded as common control acquisition transactions.

In prior years, under previous PRC GAAP, acquisitions of less than 100% equity interests in power plants or companies are accounted for at cost. The excess of consideration over the share of book value of the net assets acquired was recorded as equity investment difference and amortized on a straight-line basis for not more than 10 years. Acquiring the entire equity of a company or the entire assets and liabilities of companies / power plants applies a method similar to purchase accounting as the accounting treatment, goodwill arising from such transactions is amortized over the estimated useful life on a straight-line basis. In accordance with PRC GAAP, equity investment differences and goodwill arising from common control acquisitions are offset against opening retained earnings on 1 January 2007.

Under IFRS, the Company and its subsidiaries adopted the purchase method to account for the above acquisitions. Under the purchase method, the operating results of the acquired businesses are included in the results of operations of the Company and its subsidiaries from the dates of the acquisitions onwards. The difference between the purchase consideration and the fair value of the underlying net assets acquired is accounted for as goodwill. Goodwill arising from all the acquisitions above is not amortized but is tested annually for impairment and carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses.

Under US GAAP, such common control acquisitions are accounted for using a method similar to the pooling of interests method and recorded at historical cost. Accordingly, the consolidated financial statements for all periods presented have been retroactively restated as if the current structure and operations resulting from the acquisitions had been in existence since the beginning of the earliest period presented, with financial data of previously separate entities combined. The cash consideration paid by the Company is treated as equity transactions in the years of the acquisitions. Hence, the impact of depreciation and amortization expenses among previous PRC GAAP / PRC GAAP, IFRS and US GAAP on income statement is different.

(g) Effect of acquisitions of 44.16% equity interest in Huaiyin Power Company, 30% additional equity interest in Shidongkou I Power Plant, 5% additional equity interest in Taicang Power Company, 40% equity interest in Hanfeng Power Company and 20% equity interest in Huaneng Finance

The Company acquired from Huaneng Group:

- (i) 44.16% equity interest in Huaiyin Power Company in July 2002;
- (ii) 30% additional equity interest in Shidongkou I Power Plant and 5% additional equity interest in Taicang Power Company in December 2002;
- (iii) 40% equity interest in Hanfeng Power Company in July 2004; and
- (iv) 20% equity interest in Huaneng Finance in January 2006.

Under previous PRC GAAP, positive or negative differences between purchase consideration and book value of net assets acquired arising from acquisitions before 1 July 2003 are amortized within 10 years using straight-line method. From 1 July 2003 onwards, the negative difference between purchase consideration and book value of net assets acquired are treated in the capital surplus. With the effective of PRC GAAP on 1 January 2007, those equity investment differences arising from the investments of non-common control acquisitions above that regarded as long-term equity investments accounted for using the equity method has ceased to amortize, and were recorded as either goodwill or costs of long-term equity investments at cost less accumulated impairment losses. As the Company has acquired the entire equity of Shidongkou I Power Plant, assets and liabilities of Shidongkou I Power Plant were recorded at fair value.

Under IFRS, upon the completion of the above acquisitions, the relevant equity interests of the net assets of the acquired companies and power plants are recorded at fair value on initial acquisition dates. The excess of the total cost of the acquisition over the fair value of the relevant portion of net assets of power plants acquired is accounted for as goodwill. Goodwill arising from these acquisitions above is tested annually for impairment and carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses. Any excess of Company's interest in the net fair value of acquiree's identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities over cost were written off against income statement.

Under US GAAP, upon completion of the above acquisitions, Huaneng Group's proportionate shares in the net assets of Huaiyin Power Company, Shidongkou I Power Plant, Taicang Power Company, Hanfeng Power Company and Huaneng Finance being sold to the Company were recorded at the historical carrying value. Differences between the total costs of acquisitions and the net assets acquired were regarded as equity transactions with Huaneng Group. Accordingly, the impact of depreciation and amortization expenses among previous PRC GAAP / PRC GAAP, IFRS and US GAAP on income statement is different.

(h) Effect of recording the deemed disposal of 11% equity interest in Sichuan Hydropower

In January 2007, Huaneng Group injected into Sichuan Hydropower amounting to RMB615 million, direct equity interest of Huaneng Group increased from 40% to 51% while the equity interest of the Company decreased from 60% to 49%, and thus, the Company recognized a gain on deemed disposal. Such a gain was recorded in the equity under PRC GAAP and US GAAP while in the income statement under IFRS.

(i) Deferred income tax impact on GAAP differences

This represents deferred income tax effect on the above GAAP differences where applicable.
