Key Comments:

The Company's fee income for 2017 increased by $272,973 (+22%) to $1,509,070 as compared to $1,236,097 for 2016

A substantial majority of this increase was the result of increase fees earned from licensees focused in automotive, marine, display and architectural industries which was partially offset by slightly lower level of fee income from licensees focused in the aircraft industry (which the Company believes to be temporary).

Expenses decreased by $1,576,361 (-29%) for 2017 to $3,927,681 from $5,504,042 for 2016.

A substantial majority of this decrease was the result of cost reduction initiatives undertaken by the Company that resulted in lower payroll, marketing, investor relations, and patent expense, as well as lower bad debt expenses in 2017.

The Company's net loss per common share in 2017 was cut in almost half from the prior year. In 2017 the Company's net loss was $2,413,859 ($0.10 per common share) as compared to $4,238,410 ($0.18 per common share) in 2016.

Net cash used in operating activities decreased by $2,534,903 (-63%) to $1,470,540 for 2017 from $4,005,443 for 2016.

In February 2018, a small group of long-time shareholders of the Company made an interest-free long-term loan of $1.25 million to the Company which is expected to convert into common stock at a price equal to the market price of the Company's common stock when the loan was made plus warrants exercisable at a premium to such market price.

The Company believes that its current cash and cash equivalents will fund its operations until at least the fourth quarter of 2019.
