Cummins to Redeem $300 Million in Long-Term Debt
-- Board of Directors Also Approves Quarterly Dividend --

COLUMBUS, IND. (May 9, 2006) - Cummins Inc. (NYSE: CMI) announced today that it will redeem $300 million worth of 7 percent convertible cumulative quarterly income preferred securities (also known as QUIPS) on June 15, 2006, the first call date. The debt was issued in June 2001 and was scheduled to mature in 2031.

By redeeming the QUIPS prior to maturity, the Company expects to reduce its interest expense by approximately $10.5 million in 2006 and $21 million annually starting in 2007. This redemption should have minimal impact on the Company's diluted earnings per share. Holders of the QUIPS will have the option of converting their holdings into shares of Cummins stock at a pre-determined price.

"Strengthening our balance sheet has been a priority for the Company as our financial performance has improved dramatically in the past two years," said Jean Blackwell, Cummins Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer. "Redeeming the QUIPS early allows us to further reduce our debt levels and will result in a significant savings in the long term."

Also today, the Company's Board of Directors declared a quarterly common stock cash dividend of 30 cents per share, payable June 1, 2006 to shareholders of record on May 18, 2006.
