Item 8.01 Other Events.

Xilinx, Inc. disclosed in its quarterly report on Form 10-Q filed on July 28, 2016, that it had been subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service for fiscal years 2012 through 2014 and that the case had been moved forward to the congressional Joint Committee on Taxation (“Joint Committee”) for review.

On July 29, 2016, Xilinx received written notification that the Joint Committee had completed its review and had taken no exception to the conclusions reached by the Internal Revenue Service. As a result, Xilinx will record a tax benefit of approximately $9 million, associated with unrecognized tax benefits in the second quarter of fiscal 2017.

Safe Harbor Statement

This report contains forward-looking statements, including those relating to an expected tax benefit of approximately $9 million. These statements are subject to known and unknown risks and uncertainties that could cause results to differ materially from those expressed or implied by such statements, including without limitation (i) risks related to the amount and timing of the tax benefit, and (ii) other risks described in Xilinx’s SEC filings, including its most recent Form 10-Q. All forward looking statements are based on management’s estimates, projections, and assumptions as of the date of this report, and Xilinx undertakes no obligations to update any such statements.
