SOTHEBY'S
NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(UNAUDITED)

1. Basis of Presentation

The Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements included herein have been prepared by Sotheby's pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC"). Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") in the United States of America (the "U.S.") have been condensed or omitted from this report, as is permitted by such rules and regulations; however, the management of Sotheby's believes that the disclosures herein are adequate to make the information presented not misleading and that all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation of the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements are reflected in the interim periods presented. It is suggested that these Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes thereto included in Sotheby's 2012 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

2. Seasonality of Business

The worldwide art auction market has two principal selling seasons, which generally occur in the second and fourth quarters of the year. In the aggregate, second and fourth quarter Net Auction Sales (which represents the hammer, or sale, price of property sold at auction) represented 84% and 81% of total Net Auction Sales in 2012 and 2011, respectively. Accordingly, Sotheby's auction results are seasonal, with peak revenues and operating income generally occurring in those quarters. Consequently, first and third quarter results have historically reflected a lower volume of auction activity when compared to the second and fourth quarters and, typically, a net loss due to the fixed nature of many of Sotheby's operating expenses.

3. Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share—Basic earnings per share attributable to Sotheby's common shareholders is computed under the two-class method using the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. The two-class method requires that the amount of net income attributable to participating securities be deducted from consolidated net income in the computation of basic earnings per share. In periods with a net loss, the net loss attributable to participating securities is not deducted from consolidated net loss in the computation of basic loss per share as the impact would be anti-dilutive. Sotheby's only participating securities are unvested restricted stock units, which have non-forfeitable rights to dividends.

Diluted earnings per share—Diluted earnings per share attributable to Sotheby's common shareholders is computed in a similar manner to basic earnings per share under the two-class method, using the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period and, if dilutive, potential common shares outstanding during the period. Sotheby's potential common shares include the following:

Unvested performance share units held by employees and incremental common shares issuable upon the exercise of employee stock options. Unvested performance share units are included in the computation of diluted earnings per share if the profitability targets inherent in such awards have been achieved as of the balance sheet date. Incremental common shares issuable upon the exercise of employee stock options are included in the computation of diluted earnings per share in quarterly periods when the average price of Sotheby's Common Stock exceeds the exercise price of the stock options. (See Note 11 for information related to Sotheby's share-based compensation programs.)

Deferred stock units issued pursuant to the Sotheby's Stock Compensation Plan for Non-Employee Directors.

In reporting periods when the average price of Sotheby's Common Stock exceeds the conversion price of any outstanding convertible debt, the net shares that would be delivered to settle the conversion premium assuming the convertible debt is redeemed. As discussed in Note 6, Sotheby's redeemed the remaining $181.9 million principal amount of its 3.125% Convertible Notes entirely in cash upon their maturity in June 2013.

In reporting periods when the average price of Sotheby's Common Stock exceeds the exercise price of the warrants that were sold in conjunction with the issuance of the 3.125% Convertible Notes (the "Warrants"), the net shares that would be delivered to settle the Warrants. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012, the average price of Sotheby's Common Stock did not exceed the exercise price of the Warrants. (See Note 6 for information related to the Warrants.)

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, 1.3 million and 1.5 million potential common shares, respectively, related to unvested performance share units were excluded from the computation of diluted earnings per share as the profitability targets inherent in such awards were not achieved as of the balance sheet date. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, 1 million and 1.1 million potential common shares, respectively, related to unvested performance share units were excluded from the computation of diluted earnings per share as the profitability targets inherent in such awards were not achieved as of the balance sheet date.

The table below summarizes the computation of basic and diluted earnings per share for the three and six months ended ended June 30, 2013 and 2012 (in thousands of dollars, except per share amounts):

4. Segment Reporting

Sotheby's operations are organized under three segments—Auction, Finance, and Dealer. The table below presents Sotheby's revenues and income (loss) before taxes by segment for the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012 (in thousands of dollars):

Three Months Ended June 30, 2013	Auction	Finance	Dealer	All Other	Reconciling items	Total
Revenues	$294,943	$8,016	$2,122	$2,242	$(2,455)	$304,868
Segment income (loss) before taxes	$117,876	$5,703	$(3,014)	$1,859	$26	$122,450
Three Months Ended June 30, 2012
Revenues	$290,151	$6,542	$7,394	$1,824	$(1,962)	$303,949
Segment income (loss) before taxes	$120,398	$5,038	$(1,409)	$1,360	$80	$125,467
Six Months Ended June 30, 2013
Revenues	$389,118	$15,133	$3,205	$3,796	$(4,639)	$406,613
Segment income (loss) before taxes	$80,968	$10,866	$(3,956)	$2,807	$22	$90,707
Six Months Ended June 30, 2012
Revenues	$387,561	$11,528	$10,072	$3,120	$(3,373)	$408,908
Segment income (loss) before taxes	$100,919	$8,669	$(2,366)	$2,103	$(321)	$109,004

In the table of segment information above, the reconciling item related to Revenues represents charges from the Finance segment to the Auction segment for interest-free or other below market consignors advances with maturities up to 6 months (see Note 5). The reconciling item related to segment income (loss) before taxes represents Sotheby's pre-tax share of earnings related to its equity investees. Such earnings are included in the table above as part of the Dealer segment loss, but are presented net of taxes in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012, Auction segment revenues consisted of the following (in thousands of dollars):

	Three Months Ended		Six Months Ended
	June 30, 2013	2012	June 30, 2013	2012
Auction commission revenues	$263,691	$256,303	342,255	333,161
Private sale commission revenues	26,018	26,186	39,642	41,465
Principal activities	61	715	(514)	984
Other auction and related revenues	5,173	6,947	7,735	11,951
Total auction and related revenues	$294,943	$290,151	$389,118	$387,561

Principal activities consist mainly of gains and losses related to auction guarantees including: (i) Sotheby's share of overage or shortfall related to guaranteed property offered or sold at auction, (ii) subsequent writedowns to the carrying value of guaranteed property that initially failed to sell at auction, and (iii) subsequent recoveries and losses on the sale of guaranteed property that initially failed to sell at auction. Other auction and related revenues principally includes commissions and other fees earned by Sotheby's on private sales brokered by third parties, fees charged to clients for catalogue production and insurance, catalogue subscription revenues and advertising revenues.

The table below presents Sotheby's assets by segment, as well as a reconciliation of segment assets to consolidated assets as of June 30, 2013, December 31, 2012, and June 30, 2012 (in thousands of dollars):

	June 30, 2013	December 31, 2012	June 30, 2012

Consolidated assets	$2,743,350	$2,575,095	$2,530,935

5. Receivables

Accounts Receivable, Net—Sotheby's Auction segment functions principally as an agent by offering works of art for sale at auction and by brokering private art sales. In its role as agent, Sotheby's accepts property on consignment and matches sellers (also known as consignors) to buyers through the auction or private sale process. Sotheby's invoices the buyer for the purchase price of the property (including the commission owed by the buyer), collects payment from the buyer and remits to the consignor the net sale proceeds after deducting its commissions, expenses and applicable taxes and royalties. Sotheby's auction commissions include those paid by the buyer ("buyer's premium") and those paid by the seller ("seller's commission") (collectively, "auction commission revenue"), both of which are calculated as a percentage of the hammer price of the property sold at auction. For private sales, Sotheby's may enter into a legally binding agreement with the seller, which outlines the terms of the arrangement including the desired sale price and the amount or rate of commission to be earned upon completion of the sale.

Under Sotheby's standard auction payment terms, payments from the buyer are due no more than 30 days from the sale date and payments to the consignor are due 35 days from the sale date. For private sales, payment from the buyer is typically due on the sale date, with the net sale proceeds being due to the consignor shortly thereafter. Extended payment terms are sometimes provided to a buyer and, for auctions, can vary considerably from selling season to selling season. Such terms typically extend the payment due date to a date that is no longer than one year from the sale date. In limited circumstances, the payment due date may be extended to a date that is beyond one year from the sale date. Any changes from the standard auction and private sale payment terms are subject to management approval under Sotheby's policy. When providing extended payment terms, Sotheby's attempts to match the timing of cash receipt from the buyer with the timing of payment to the consignor, but is not always successful in doing so. As of June 30, 2013, $19.6 million of buyer receivables and $15.3 million of Due to Consignors were classified within Other Long-Term Assets and Other Long-Term Liabilities, respectively, based on their corresponding payment due dates. The property related to these buyer receivables has not been released to the buyer and is in the possession of Sotheby's.

Under the standard terms and conditions of its auction and private sales, Sotheby's is not obligated to pay the consignor for property that has not been paid for by the buyer. If a buyer defaults on payment, the sale may be cancelled, and the property will be returned to the consignor. Alternatively, the consignor may reoffer the property at a future Sotheby's auction or negotiate a private sale with Sotheby's acting as its agent. In certain instances and subject to management approval under Sotheby's policy, the consignor may be paid the net sale proceeds before payment is collected from the buyer and/or the buyer may be allowed to take possession of the property before making payment. In situations when the buyer takes possession of the property before making payment, Sotheby's is liable to the seller for the net sale proceeds whether or not the buyer makes payment. As of June 30, 2013, Accounts Receivable (net) included $73.3 million related to situations when Sotheby's paid the consignor before payment was collected from the buyer, of which $3.4 million is associated with a purchase made by a related party (see Note 14). As of December 31, 2012 and June 30, 2012, Accounts Receivable (net) included $170 million, and $131.7 million, respectively, related to situations when Sotheby's paid the consignor before payment was collected from the buyer. As of June 30, 2013, December 31, 2012, and June 30, 2012, Accounts Receivable (net) also included $58.4 million, $83.7 million, and $92.7 million, respectively, related to situations when the buyer was allowed to take possession of the property before making payment to Sotheby's.

Notes Receivable, Net—As of June 30, 2013, December 31, 2012, and June 30, 2012, Notes Receivable (net) consisted of the following (in thousands of dollars):

	June 30, 2013	December 31, 2012	June 30, 2012
Finance segment:
Secured loans	$429,695	$425,138	$335,611

Total Notes Receivable (net)	$441,392	$447,040	$345,171

Notes Receivable (Finance Segment)—Through its Finance segment, Sotheby's provides certain collectors and art dealers with financing secured by works of art that Sotheby's either has in its possession or permits borrowers to possess. The Finance segment generally makes two types of secured loans: (1) advances secured by consigned property to borrowers who are contractually committed, in the near term, to sell the property at auction (a "consignor advance"); and (2) general purpose term loans secured by property not presently intended for sale (a "term loan"). A consignor advance allows a seller to receive funds upon consignment for an auction or private sale that will typically occur up to one year in the future. Consignor advances normally have maturities of up to six months and may sometimes be issued interest-free as an incentive to the consignor for entering into the consignment agreement. Such interest-free consignor advances can represent a significant portion of the Finance segment loan portfolio as of the end of certain quarterly reporting periods in advance of peak selling seasons. Interest bearing consignor advances typically carry a variable rate of interest.

Term loans allow Sotheby's to establish or enhance mutually beneficial relationships with borrowers and may generate future auction or private sale consignments and/or purchases. Term loans normally have initial maturities of up to two years and typically carry a variable market rate of interest.

In certain situations, term loans are also made to refinance clients' auction and private sale purchases. For the six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012, the Finance segment made $36.9 million and $54.6 million, respectively, of such loans. These loans are accounted for as non-cash transfers between Accounts Receivable (net) and Notes Receivable (net) and are, therefore, not reflected within investing activities in the statements of cash flows. Upon repayment, the cash received in settlement of such loans is classified within operating activities in the statements of cash flows. As of June 30, 2013, December 31, 2012, and June 30, 2012, Notes Receivable (net) included $81.2 million, $77.4 million, and $79.2 million, respectively, of such loans.

The collection of secured loans can be adversely impacted by a decline in the art market in general or in the value of the particular collateral. In addition, in situations when there are competing claims on the collateral and/or when a borrower becomes subject to bankruptcy or insolvency laws, Sotheby's ability to realize on its collateral may be limited or delayed.

Sotheby's target loan-to-value ("LTV") ratio, which is defined as the principal loan amount divided by the low auction estimate of the collateral, is 50% or lower. However, loans are also made at an initial LTV higher than 50%. In addition, as a result of the periodic revaluation of loan collateral, the LTV ratio of certain loans may increase above the 50% target due to decreases in the low auction estimates of the collateral. The revaluation of loan collateral is performed by Sotheby's specialists on an annual basis or more frequently if there is a material change in circumstances related to the loan or the disposal plans for the collateral.

Management believes that the LTV ratio is the critical credit quality indicator for Finance segment secured loans. The table below provides information regarding the LTV ratio of Finance segment secured loans as of June 30, 2013, December 31, 2012, and June 30, 2012 (in thousands of dollars):

	June 30, 2013	December 31, 2012	June 30, 2012
Aggregate LTV ratio of Finance segment secured loans	46%	48%	46%
Finance segment secured loans with an LTV above 50%	$204,749	$120,662	$196,950
Low auction estimate of collateral related to Finance segment secured loans with an LTV above 50%	$322,578	$184,205	$316,028

The table below provides other credit quality information regarding Finance segment secured loans as of June 30, 2013, December 31, 2012, and June 30, 2012 (in thousands of dollars):

	June 30, 2013	December 31, 2012	June 30, 2012
Total secured loans	$429,695	$425,138	$335,611
Loans past due	$60,174	$33,737	$12,353

Allowance for credit losses based on historical data	1,577	1,341	1,001
Total Allowance for Credit Losses - secured loans	$1,577	$1,341	$1,001

Management considers a loan to be past due when principal payments are not paid in accordance with the stated terms of the loan. As of June 30, 2013, $60.2 million of the Notes Receivable (net) balance was considered to be past due, of which $1.6 million was more than 90 days past due. Sotheby's is continuing to accrue Finance Revenue on these past due loans. The collateral securing these loans has low auction estimates of approximately $139.1 million and $3.3 million, respectively. In consideration of the value of the remaining collateral securing these past due loans, current collateral disposal plans, and negotiations with the borrowers, management believes that the principal and interest amounts due for past due loans will be collected.

A non-accrual loan is a loan for which future Finance Revenue is not recorded due to management's determination that it is probable that future interest on the loan is not collectible. Any cash receipts subsequently received on non-accrual loans are first applied to reduce the recorded principal balance of the loan, with any proceeds in excess of the principal balance then applied to interest owed by the borrower. The recognition of Finance Revenue may resume on a non-accrual loan if sufficient additional collateral is provided by the borrower or if management becomes aware of other circumstances that indicate that it is probable that the borrower will make future interest payments on the loan. As of June 30, 2013, December 31, 2012, and June 30, 2012, there were no Finance segment non-accrual loans outstanding.

A loan is considered to be impaired when management determines that it is probable that a portion of the principal and interest owed by the borrower will not be recovered after taking into account the estimated realizable value of the collateral securing the loan, as well as the ability of the borrower to repay any shortfall between the value of the collateral and the amount of the loan. If a loan is considered to be impaired, Finance Revenue is no longer recognized and bad debt expense is recorded for any principal or accrued interest that is deemed uncollectible. As of June 30, 2013, December 31, 2012, and June 30, 2012, there were no impaired loans outstanding.

During the period January 1, 2012 to June 30, 2013, activity related to the Allowance for Credit Losses was as follows (in thousands of dollars):

Allowance for credit losses as of January 1, 2012	$875
Change in loan loss provision	466
Allowance for credit losses as of December 31, 2012	1,341

As of June 30, 2013, loans to two borrowers totaling $54.8 million (LTV of 49%) and $43.2 million (LTV of 67%), respectively, comprised approximately 12% and 10%, respectively, of Notes Receivable (net). For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, Finance segment results included revenues of $1.1 million and $2.3 million, respectively, related to these two loans and comprised approximately 20% and 22%, respectively, of total Finance segment revenues. No other loan exceeds 10% of Notes Receivable (net).

As of June 30, 2013, unfunded commitments to extend additional credit through Sotheby's Finance segment were $23.5 million, of which $0.9 million is committed to an employee of Sotheby's who is not an Executive Officer. As of June 30, 2013, this same employee had an outstanding Finance segment loan of approximately $0.1 million. Notes Receivable (Auction Segment)—Sotheby's is obligated under the terms of certain auction guarantees to advance a portion of the guaranteed amount prior to auction. Such auction guarantee advances are recorded on Sotheby's balance sheet within Notes Receivable (net). As of June 30, 2013 and December 31, 2012, auction guarantee advances totaled $0.3 million and $16.2 million, respectively. There were no such advances outstanding as of June 30, 2012. (See Note 10 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.)

Under certain circumstances, Sotheby's, through its Auction segment, finances the purchase of works of art by unaffiliated art dealers through unsecured loans. The property purchased pursuant to such unsecured loans is sold privately or at auction with any profit or loss shared by Sotheby's and the art dealer. As of June 30, 2013, December 31, 2012, and June 30, 2012, one such unsecured loan totaled $2.1 million. Sotheby's is no longer accruing interest with respect to this unsecured loan, but management believes that the balance is collectible based on discussions with the borrower.

Notes Receivable (Dealer Segment)—Sotheby's Dealer segment, with assistance of Finance segment employees, provides secured loans to certain art dealers to finance the purchase of works of art. In these situations, the Dealer segment acquires a partial ownership interest in the purchased property in addition to providing the loan. Upon its eventual sale, the loan is repaid, and any profit or loss is shared by Sotheby's and the dealer according to their respective ownership interests. As of June 30, 2013, December 31, 2012, and June 30, 2012, such loans totaled $5.8 million, $3.5 million, and $7.4 million, respectively.

Notes Receivable (Other)—In the second quarter of 2013, Sotheby's agreed to sell its ownership interest in an equity method investment to its partner in the investment for $4.3 million, an amount that was funded by an upfront payment of $0.8 million and a $3.5 million unsecured loan. This loan matures in December 2018, is being charged a variable market rate of interest, and requires monthly payments during the loan term. Sotheby's recognized a gain of $0.3 million in the second quarter of 2013 in Other Non-Operating (Expense) Income as result of the sale of this equity method investment.

Weighted Average Interest Rates—For the three months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012, the weighted average interest rates earned on consolidated Notes Receivable (net) were 5% and 5.4%, respectively. For the six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012, the weighted average interest rates earned on consolidated Notes Receivable (net) were 4.9% and 5.5%, respectively.

Revolving Credit Facility—On August 31, 2009, Sotheby's and certain of its wholly-owned subsidiaries entered into a credit agreement (the "Credit Agreement") with an international syndicate of lenders led by General Electric Capital, Corporate Finance ("GE Capital"). On December 19, 2012, Sotheby's, GE Capital, and the lenders named therein amended and restated the Credit Agreement (the "A&R Credit Agreement") to, among other things, extend the maturity date from September 1, 2014 to December 19, 2017, increase the borrowing capacity from $200 million to $300 million, and provide further flexibility to Sotheby's. On June 27, 2013, the A&R Credit Agreement was amended to increase the maximum amount of net outstanding auction guarantees (i.e., auction guarantees less the impact of related risk and reward sharing arrangements) permissible from $100 million to $300 million. The following summary does not purport to be a complete summary of the A&R Credit Agreement, and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the A&R Credit Agreement, a copy of which was filed as Exhibit 10.1 to the Form 8-K that was filed by Sotheby's with the Securities and Exchange Commission on December 20, 2012. Capitalized terms used, but not defined, in this summary have the meanings set forth in the A&R Credit Agreement.

The A&R Credit Agreement provides for a $300 million revolving credit facility (the “Revolving Credit Facility”), with a sub-limit of $100 million for borrowings in the U.K. and Hong Kong, and has a feature whereby any time until June 19, 2017, Sotheby's may request, subject to Lenders' approval, to increase the borrowing capacity by an amount not to exceed $50 million. The amount of borrowings available under the Revolving Credit Facility is limited by a borrowing base which is determined with reference to the levels of Sotheby's loan portfolio, art inventory balances, and Net Tangible Assets. In addition, up to $20 million of the borrowing capacity of the Revolving Credit Facility may be used to issue letters of credit. As of June 30, 2013, no Revolving Credit Facility borrowings were outstanding and the amount of borrowings available under the Revolving Credit Facility was approximately $275.6 million, as calculated under the borrowing base. Sotheby's has not borrowed or issued any letters of credit under the Revolving Credit Facility since its inception.

Borrowings under the Revolving Credit Facility are available in either U.S. Dollars, Pounds Sterling, or Hong Kong Dollars. The U.S. Borrowers and, subject to certain limitations, the U.K. Borrowers and Sotheby's Hong Kong, are jointly and severally liable for all obligations under the A&R Credit Agreement. In addition, certain subsidiaries of the Borrowers guarantee the obligations of the Borrowers under the A&R Credit Agreement. Sotheby's obligations under the A&R Credit Agreement are secured by liens on all or substantially all of the personal property of the Borrowers and the Guarantors.

The A&R Credit Agreement contains certain customary affirmative and negative covenants including, but not limited to, limitations on capital expenditures, a $300 million limitation on net outstanding auction guarantees (i.e., auction guarantees less the impact of related risk and reward sharing arrangements) and limitations on the use of proceeds from borrowings under the A&R Credit Agreement. However, the A&R Credit Agreement does not limit dividend payments and Common Stock repurchases provided that: (i) there are no Events of Default, (ii) the Aggregate Borrowing Availability equals or exceeds $100 million, and (iii) the Total Liquidity Amount equals or exceeds $150 million.

The A&R Credit Agreement also contains certain financial covenants, which are only applicable during certain defined compliance periods. These financial covenants were not applicable for the twelve month period ended June 30, 2013.

Since August 31, 2009, Sotheby's has paid approximately $12.9 million in life-to-date arrangement and amendment fees related to the Credit Agreement and the A&R Credit Agreement. These fees are being amortized on a straight-line basis to Interest Expense over the term of the facility. Additionally, Sotheby's is charged commitment fees ranging from 0.375% to 0.5% per year for undrawn amounts committed under the Revolving Credit Facility depending upon the level of borrowings. The commitment fee under the A&R Credit Agreement is 0.5%.

Long-Term Debt—As of June 30, 2013, December 31, 2012, and June 30, 2012, Long-Term Debt consisted of the following (in thousands of dollars):

York Property Mortgage—On February 6, 2009, Sotheby's purchased the land and building located at 1334 York Avenue, New York, New York (the “York Property”) from RFR Holding Corp. (“RFR”) for a purchase price of $370 million. The York Property is home to Sotheby's sole North American auction salesroom and principal North American exhibition space, including S12, Sotheby's private sale exhibition gallery. The York Property is also home to Sotheby's U.S. Dealer and Finance operations, as well as its corporate offices.

Sotheby's financed the $370 million purchase price through an initial $50 million cash payment made in conjunction with the signing of the related purchase and sale agreement on January 11, 2008, an $85 million cash payment made when the purchase was consummated on February 6, 2009, and the assumption of an existing $235 million mortgage on the York Property.

The York Property Mortgage matures on July 1, 2035, but has an optional pre-payment date of July 1, 2015 and bears an annual rate of interest of approximately 5.6%, which increases subsequent to July 1, 2015. It is Sotheby's current intention to either pre-pay or refinance the mortgage on or about July 1, 2015, subject to economic and financial market conditions and available cash balances. In conjunction with the final accounting for the York Property purchase in February 2009, the York Property Mortgage was recorded on Sotheby's balance sheet at its $212.1 million fair value. The resulting $22.9 million debt discount is being amortized to Interest Expense over the remaining expected term of the loan through July 2015. Sotheby's paid fees of $2.4 million in conjunction with the assumption of the York Property Mortgage, which are also being amortized to Interest Expense through July 2015. As of June 30, 2013, the fair value of the York Property Mortgage was approximately $228 million based on a present value calculation utilizing an interest rate obtained from a third party source. As such, this fair value measurement is considered to be a Level 3 fair value measurement in the fair value hierarchy as per Accounting Standards Codification 820, Fair Value Measurements ("ASC 820").

The York Property and the York Property Mortgage are held by 1334 York, LLC, a separate legal entity of Sotheby's that maintains its own books and records and whose results are ultimately consolidated into Sotheby's financial statements. The assets of 1334 York, LLC are not available to satisfy the obligations of other Sotheby's affiliates or any other entity.

2022 Senior Notes—On September 27, 2012, Sotheby's issued $300 million aggregate principal amount of 5.25% Senior Notes, due October 1, 2022. The 2022 Senior Notes were offered only to qualified institutional buyers in accordance with Rule 144A and to non-U.S. Persons under Regulation S under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"). Holders of the 2022 Senior Notes do not have registration rights, and the 2022 Senior Notes have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act.

The net proceeds from the issuance of the 2022 Senior Notes were approximately $293.7 million, after deducting fees paid to the initial purchasers, and were principally used to retire the 2015 Senior Notes and the Convertible Notes, as discussed below.

The 2022 Senior Notes are guaranteed, jointly and severally, on a senior unsecured basis by certain of Sotheby's existing and future domestic subsidiaries to the extent and on the same basis that such subsidiaries guarantee borrowings under the A&R Credit Agreement. Interest on the 2022 Senior Notes is payable semi-annually in cash on April 1 and October 1 of each year.

The 2022 Senior Notes are redeemable by Sotheby's, in whole or in part, on or after October 1, 2017, at specified redemption prices set forth in the underlying indenture, plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but excluding, the redemption date. Prior to October 1, 2017, the 2022 Senior Notes are redeemable, in whole or in part, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount to be redeemed, plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but excluding, the redemption date, plus a premium equal to the greater of 1% of the principal amount of the 2022 Senior Notes and a make-whole premium (as defined in the underlying indenture).

In addition, at any time prior to October 1, 2015, Sotheby's may redeem up to 35% of the aggregate principal amount of the 2022 Senior Notes with the net cash proceeds of certain equity offerings at the redemption price of 105.25% plus accrued and unpaid interest. The 2022 Senior Notes are not callable by holders unless Sotheby's is in default under the terms of the underlying indenture.

As of June 30, 2013, the $300 million principal amount of 2022 Senior Notes had a fair value of approximately $296 million based on a broker quoted price derived via a pricing model using observable and unobservable inputs. As such, this fair value measurement is considered to be a Level 3 fair value measurement in the fair value hierarchy as per ASC 820.

2015 Senior Notes—On June 17, 2008, Sotheby's issued $150 million aggregate principal amount of 7.75% Senior Notes, due June 15, 2015. The net proceeds from the issuance of the 2015 Senior Notes were approximately $145.9 million, after deducting the initial purchasers' discounts and fees. The 2015 Senior Notes had an effective interest rate of 8%.

On November 23, 2012, Sotheby's redeemed all of the remaining $80 million of outstanding 2015 Senior Notes for a redemption price of $97 million, which includes a redemption premium of $14 million and accrued interest of $2.7 million. The redemption of the 2015 Senior Notes resulted in a $15 million loss recognized in the fourth quarter of 2012, which included the write-off of approximately $1 million in unamortized debt issuance costs and discounts.

Convertible Notes—On June 17, 2008, Sotheby's issued $200 million aggregate principal amount of 3.125% Convertible Notes (the "Convertible Notes"). The net proceeds from the issuance of the Convertible Notes were approximately $194.3 million, after deducting transaction costs. Prior to March 15, 2013, the Convertible Notes were convertible under certain circumstances and were payable in cash, shares of Sotheby's Common Stock, or a combination thereof, at the option of Sotheby's, based on a conversion rate, as adjusted, of 29.5920 shares of Common Stock per $1,000 principal amount of Convertible Notes, which was equal to a conversion price, as adjusted, of approximately $33.79 per share. The Convertible Notes became convertible on March 15, 2013, for a period ending on the close of business on June 14, 2013, when Sotheby's became obligated to pay the Conversion Obligation of $197.4 million, consisting of $181.9 million related to principal and $15.5 million related to the conversion premium. In June 2013, the Conversion Obligation was settled entirely in cash and Sotheby's simultaneously received $15.5 million in cash to offset the conversion premium through the exercise of its Convertible Note Hedges, as discussed below.

Convertible Note Hedges and Warrant Transactions —On June 11, 2008, in conjunction with the issuance of the Convertible Notes, Sotheby's entered into convertible note hedge transactions (the "Convertible Note Hedges") at a cost of $40.6 million that allowed Sotheby's to purchase its Common Stock from affiliates of Bank of America and Goldman Sachs & Co. (collectively, the "Counterparties") at a price equal to the Conversion Price of the Convertible Notes. The Convertible Note Hedges were intended to offset the impact of any potential conversion premium upon any conversion of the Convertible Notes and be settled in an identical manner to the Convertible Notes. As previously discussed, in June 2013, Sotheby's settled the Conversion Obligation related to the Convertible Notes entirely in cash. As a result, the Convertible Note Hedges were exercised, and Sotheby's received $15.5 million in cash to offset the conversion premium related to the Convertible Notes.

On June 11, 2008, Sotheby's also entered into warrant transactions, whereby it sold to the Counterparties warrants (the "Warrants") to acquire, subject to customary anti-dilution adjustments, approximately 5.9 million shares of Common Stock at approximately $44.50 per share, as adjusted. The Warrants may be exercised subject to a daily limit of approximately 118,000 warrants for each day in the 50 trading days beginning on September 17, 2013 and ending on November 25, 2013 (the "Trading Period"). If, on a particular day during the Trading Period, the daily limit of approximately 118,000 is not exercisable, such Warrants will expire.

As of June 11, 2008, the Warrants met all of the applicable criteria for equity classification and, as a result, the $22.3 million in proceeds received from the sale of the Warrants was recorded on Sotheby's balance sheet within Additional Paid-In Capital in Shareholders' Equity. As of June 30, 2013, management evaluated the Warrants and concluded that they should not be accounted for separately as a derivative financial instrument because they continue to be indexed to Sotheby's Common Stock. Accordingly, the $22.3 million in net proceeds received from the sale of the Warrants remains recorded as a component of Additional Paid-In Capital within Shareholders' Equity.

Future Principal and Interest Payments—The aggregate future principal and interest payments due under Sotheby's Long-Term Debt during the five-year period after the June 30, 2013 balance sheet date are as follows (in thousands of dollars):

July 2013 to June 2014	$31,754
July 2014 to June 2015	$31,754
July 2015 to June 2016	$235,266
July 2016 to June 2017	$15,750
July 2017 to June 2018	$15,750

The York Property Mortgage matures on July 1, 2035, but has an optional pre-payment date of July 1, 2015 and bears an annual rate of interest of approximately 5.6%, which increases subsequent to July 1, 2015. It is Sotheby's current intention to either pre-pay or refinance the mortgage on or about July 1, 2015, subject to economic and financial market conditions and available cash balances.

Interest Expense—For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012, Interest Expense consists of the following (in thousands of dollars):

	Three Months Ended June 30,		Six Months Ended June 30,
	2013	2012	2013	2012
Revolving credit facility:
Amortization of amendment and arrangement fees	$325	$430	$627	$859
Commitment fees	400	316	762	628
Sub-total	725	746	1,389	1,487
York Property Mortgage	4,125	4,210	8,228	8,392
2022 Senior Notes and 2015 Senior Notes	3,937	1,588	7,875	3,175
Convertible Notes	2,954	3,348	6,417	6,659
Other interest expense	396	292	743	579
Total Interest Expense	$12,137	$10,184	$24,652	$20,292

Other interest expense consists primarily of the amortization of debt issuance costs related to the 2022 Senior Notes, 2015 Senior Notes, and the Convertible Notes.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012, Interest Expense related to the Convertible Notes consisted of the following (in thousands of dollars):

	Three Months Ended June 30,		Six Months Ended June 30,
	2013	2012	2013	2012
Contractual coupon interest expense	$1,200	$1,421	$2,621	$2,841
Discount amortization	1,754	1,927	3,796	3,818
Total	$2,954	$3,348	$6,417	$6,659

7. Defined Benefit Pension Plan

Sotheby's sponsors a defined benefit pension plan covering a portion of its U.K. employees (the "U.K. Pension Plan"). The table below summarizes the components of the net pension benefit related to the U.K. Pension Plan for the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012 (in thousands of dollars):

	Three Months Ended June 30,		Six Months Ended June 30,
	2013	2012	2013	2012
Service cost	$904	$933	$1,818	$1,859
Interest cost	3,280	3,281	6,596	6,537
Expected return on plan assets	(4,827)	(4,894)	(9,706)	(9,752)
Amortization of previously unrecognized net pension losses	358	—	720	—
Net pension benefit	$(285)	$(680)	$(572)	$(1,356)

Sotheby's expects to contribute approximately $2.4 million to the U.K. Pension Plan in 2013, of which $1.2 million was contributed through June 30, 2013.

8. Client Deposit

In certain situations, Sotheby's receives client deposits related to potential private sale transactions that are ultimately paid to the consignor upon completion of the transaction. As of June 30, 2013 and March 31, 2013, Sotheby's held client deposits of $20 million and $63 million, respectively, each representing a portion of the purchase price for two separate private sale transactions, exclusive of Sotheby's commission. The private sale transaction related to the $20 million deposit held as of June 30, 2013 was completed in the third quarter of 2013.

9. Commitments and Contingencies

Employment Arrangements—As of June 30, 2013, Sotheby's had employment arrangements with certain senior employees, which expire at various points between December 2013 and March 2017. Such arrangements may provide, among other benefits, for minimum salary levels and for compensation under Sotheby's incentive compensation programs that is payable only if specified Company and individual goals are attained. Additionally, under certain circumstances, certain of these arrangements provide annual share-based payments, severance payments, other cash compensation, and the continuation of benefits upon termination of employment. The aggregate remaining commitment for salaries and other cash compensation related to these employment arrangements, excluding any participation in Sotheby's incentive compensation programs, was approximately $11.4 million as of June 30, 2013.

Indirect Tax Contingencies—Sotheby's is subject to laws and regulations in many countries involving sales, use, value-added, and other indirect taxes which are assessed by various governmental authorities and imposed on certain revenue-producing transactions between Sotheby's and its clients. The application of these laws and regulations to Sotheby's unique business and global client base, and the estimation of any related liabilities, is complex and requires a significant amount of judgment. These indirect tax liabilities are generally not those of Sotheby's unless it fails to collect the correct amount of sales, value-added, or other indirect taxes. Failure to collect the correct amount of indirect tax on a transaction may require Sotheby's to record a liability and corresponding charge to General and Administrative Expenses. As of December 31, 2012, the total liability related to such tax contingencies was $4.9 million. In January 2013, Sotheby's paid approximately $4.7 million of this liability to the appropriate state taxing authority and the remainder of the liability was paid in June 2013. (See Note 13 for information related to Sotheby's income tax contingencies.)

Guarantee of Collection—A guarantee of collection is a guarantee to a consignor that, under certain conditions, Sotheby's will pay the consignor for property which has sold at auction but has not been paid for, within a certain amount of time, by the purchaser. It is not a guarantee that the property will be sold at a certain minimum price. As of June 30, 2013, Sotheby's had guaranteed to a consignor, who is an affiliate of a related party, the collection of up to approximately $35 million in potential sales proceeds related to property that was offered at auction in the second quarter of 2013. The property under this guarantee of collection sold for an aggregate hammer price of $33 million and, as of July 31, 2013, all amounts due from the purchasers have been collected.

Legal Actions—Sotheby's becomes involved in various claims and lawsuits incidental to the ordinary course of its business, including the matter described below. Management is required to assess the likelihood of any adverse judgments or outcomes in these matters, as well as potential ranges of probable or reasonably possible losses. A determination of the amount of losses, if any, to be recorded or disclosed as a result of these contingencies is based on a careful analysis of each individual exposure with, in some cases, the assistance of outside legal counsel. The amount of losses recorded or disclosed for such contingencies may change in the future due to new developments in each matter or a change in settlement strategy. Management does not believe that the outcome of any of these pending claims or proceedings will have a material adverse effect on Sotheby's consolidated results of operations, financial condition and/or cash flows.

Estate of Robert Graham, et al. v. Sotheby's, Inc. is a purported class action commenced in the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California in October 2011 on behalf of U.S. artists (and their estates) whose artworks were sold by Sotheby's in the State of California or at auction by California sellers and for which a royalty was allegedly due under the California Resale Royalties Act (the "Resale Royalties Act"). Plaintiffs seek unspecified damages, punitive damages and injunctive relief for alleged violations of the Resale Royalties Act and the California Unfair Competition Law. In January 2012, Sotheby's filed a motion to dismiss the action on the grounds, among others, that the Resale Royalties Act violates the U.S. Constitution and is preempted by the U.S. Copyright Act of 1976. In February 2012, the plaintiffs filed their response to Sotheby's motion to dismiss. The court heard oral arguments on the motion to dismiss on March 12, 2012. On May 17, 2012, the court issued an order dismissing the action on the ground that the Resale Royalties Act violated the Commerce Clause of the U.S. Constitution. The plaintiffs have appealed this ruling. Sotheby's believes that there are meritorious defenses to the appeal. It is currently not possible to make an estimate of the amount or range of loss that could result from an unfavorable outcome of this matter.

10. Auction Guarantees

From time to time in the ordinary course of its business, Sotheby's will guarantee to a consignor a minimum sale price in connection with the sale of property at auction (an "auction guarantee"). In the event that the property sells for less than the guaranteed price, Sotheby's must perform under the auction guarantee by funding the difference between the sale price at auction and the amount of the auction guarantee. Sotheby's is generally entitled to a share of the excess proceeds (the "overage") if the property under the auction guarantee sells above the guaranteed price. If the property does not sell, the amount of the auction guarantee must be paid, but Sotheby's has the right to recover such amount through the future sale of the property. In these situations, the guaranteed property is recorded as Inventory on Sotheby's balance sheet at the lower of cost (i.e., the amount paid under the auction guarantee) or management's estimate of the property's net realizable value (i.e., expected sale price upon disposition). The sale proceeds ultimately realized by Sotheby's in these situations may equal, exceed or be less than the amount recorded as Inventory on Sotheby's balance sheet.

Sotheby's may reduce its financial exposure under auction guarantees through contractual risk and reward sharing arrangements under which a counterparty commits to bid a predetermined price on the guaranteed property (an "irrevocable bid"). Ordinarily, an irrevocable bid is either obtained concurrent with the issuance of the related auction guarantee or the issuance of the auction guarantee is conditional upon the receipt of an irrevocable bid. However, from time-to-time, auction guarantees are issued that are not conditional on the receipt of an irrevocable bid, and the corresponding irrevocable bid is secured after Sotheby's has issued the auction guarantee. If the irrevocable bid is the winning bid, the counterparty purchases the property at the predetermined price plus the applicable buyer's premium, which is the same amount that any other successful bidder would pay at that price. If the irrevocable bid is not the winning bid, the counterparty is generally entitled to receive a share of the auction commission earned on the sale and/or a share of any overage.

Sotheby's irrevocable bid counterparties are typically major international art dealers or major art collectors. Sotheby's could be exposed to losses in the event any of these counterparties do not perform according to the terms of these contractual arrangements. In the first quarter of 2013, Sotheby's recorded $1.7 million as a client goodwill gesture within General and Administrative Expenses as a result of an accommodation made to an irrevocable bid counterparty.

Prior to 2009, Sotheby's usually assumed the entire financial risk under its auction guarantees. However, beginning in 2009, Sotheby's changed its strategy with respect to auction guarantees and since then has generally entered into auction guarantees only when it is able to reduce its financial exposure through irrevocable bid arrangements. As discussed in Note 6, on June 27, 2013, Sotheby's credit agreement was amended to increase the maximum amount of net outstanding auction guarantees (i.e., auction guarantees less the impact of related risk and reward sharing arrangements) permissible from $100 million to $300 million. Going forward, while management will continue to use irrevocable bids to reduce the risk associated with auction guarantees, Sotheby's may also enter into auction guarantees without securing irrevocable bids. To the extent that auction guarantees are issued without securing irrevocable bids, auction commission margins and the results of principal activities could potentially improve, as the buyer's premium and principal activity gains would not be shared with an irrevocable bid counterparty, but Sotheby's could also be exposed to principal losses and/or deterioration in auction commission margins if the underlying property fails to sell at the minimum guaranteed price. Furthermore, in such situations, Sotheby's liquidity could be reduced. In addition to compliance with the covenant in the credit agreement, Sotheby's use of auction guarantees will continue to be subject to management and, in some cases, Board of Directors, approval in accordance with Sotheby's governance policies.

As of June 30, 2013, Sotheby's had outstanding auction guarantees totaling $12.3 million. Each of these auction guarantees has a minimum guaranteed price that is below the range of the pre-sale auction estimates for the underlying property. Sotheby's financial exposure under its auction guarantees is substantially reduced by an irrevocable bid arrangement. If the irrevocable bid is the winning bid at auction, the total purchase price owed to Sotheby's, including buyer's premium, would be no less than $13.6 million. The property related to these auction guarantees will be offered at auctions in the fourth quarter of 2013.

Edgar Filing: SOTHEBYS - Form 10-Q

As of June 30, 2013, $0.3 million of the guaranteed amount had been advanced by Sotheby's and is recorded on the balance sheet within Notes Receivable (see Note 5). As of June 30, 2013, December 31, 2012, and June 30, 2012, the carrying value of the liability representing the estimated fair value of Sotheby's obligation to perform under its auction guarantees totaled $0.1 million, $3.3 million, and $0.3 million, respectively, and is recorded on Sotheby's balance sheet within Accounts Payable and Accrued Liabilities.

As of July 31, 2013, Sotheby's had outstanding auction guarantees totaling $18.8 million. Each of these auction guarantees has a minimum guaranteed price that is below or within the range of the pre-sale auction estimates for the underlying property. Sotheby's financial exposure under these auction guarantees is substantially reduced by irrevocable bids. If each irrevocable bid is the winning bid at auction, the total purchase price owed to Sotheby's, including buyer's premium, would be no less than $21 million. The property related to these auction guarantees will be offered at auctions in the fourth quarter of 2013. As of July 31, 2013, $2.4 million of the aggregate guaranteed amount had been advanced by Sotheby's.

11. Share-Based Payments and Dividends

Share-Based Payments—Share-based payments to employees include performance-based stock awards, shares of restricted stock, restricted stock units, and stock options. Each of these share-based payments is explained below. Compensation expense related to share-based payments is recorded as a component of Salaries and Related Costs in the income statements. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012, compensation expense related to share-based payments was as follows (in thousands of dollars):

	Three Months Ended June 30,		Six Months Ended June 30,
	2013	2012	2013	2012
Pre-Tax	$5,238	$4,157	$9,670	$9,077
After-Tax	$3,424	$2,685	$7,070	$6,422

For the six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012, Sotheby's realized $2.7 million and $3.3 million, respectively, of excess tax benefits related to share-based payment arrangements. These tax benefits represent the amount by which the tax deduction resulting from the exercise or vesting of share-based payments exceeded the tax benefit initially recognized in Sotheby's financial statements upon the amortization of compensation expense for these awards. Such excess tax benefits are recognized in the balance sheets as an increase to Additional Paid-in Capital and are classified within financing activities in the statement of cash flows.

As of June 30, 2013, unrecognized compensation expense related to the unvested portion of share-based payments was $31.6 million. This compensation expense is expected to be amortized over a weighted-average period of approximately 3.1 years. Sotheby's does not capitalize any compensation expense related to share-based payments to employees.

Sotheby's Restricted Stock Unit Plan—The Sotheby's Restricted Stock Unit Plan (the "Restricted Stock Unit Plan") provides for the issuance of Restricted Stock Units ("RSU's") to employees, subject to the approval of the Compensation Committee of Sotheby's Board of Directors (the "Compensation Committee"). In making awards under the Restricted Stock Unit Plan, the Compensation Committee takes into account the nature of the services rendered by employees, their present and potential future contributions to Sotheby's success, and such other factors as the Compensation Committee in its discretion deems relevant.

RSU's generally vest evenly over a four year service period. Prior to vesting, holders of RSU's do not have voting rights, but are entitled to receive dividend equivalents. Dividend equivalents paid to holders of unvested RSU's are not forfeitable. RSU's may not be sold, assigned, transferred, pledged or otherwise encumbered until they vest.

Performance Share Units—Performance Share Units (“PSU’s”) are RSU’s that generally vest ratably over four years, if Sotheby’s achieves certain profitability targets. Prior to vesting, holders of PSU’s do not have voting rights and are not entitled to receive dividend equivalents. Dividend equivalents are credited to holders of PSU’s and are only paid for the portion of PSU’s that vest. PSU’s may not be sold, assigned, transferred, pledged or otherwise encumbered until they vest. The Compensation Committee believes that PSU’s better align Sotheby’s variable compensation strategy with its financial performance and the cyclical nature of the art market and further align the interests of Sotheby’s management with its shareholders. Accordingly, Sotheby’s intends to grant future share-based payment awards solely in the form of PSU’s with both performance and service conditions.

In the first quarter of 2013, Sotheby’s issued 696,488 PSU’s with a fair value of approximately $24.9 million as follows: (i) 600,702 PSU’s with a fair value of $21.5 million related almost entirely to Sotheby’s incentive compensation programs and (ii) 95,786 PSU’s with a fair value of $3.4 million issued to William F. Ruprecht, Sotheby’s Chief Executive Officer, in accordance with the terms of his employment agreement.

Summary of RSU’s and PSU’s—For the six months ended June 30, 2013, changes to the number of outstanding RSU’s and PSU’s were as follows (shares in thousands):

	Number of RSU’s and PSU’s	Weighted Average Grant Date Fair Value
Outstanding at January 1, 2013	1,912	$30.39
Granted	696	$35.75
Vested	(703) $21.97
Canceled	(6) $35.61
Outstanding at June 30, 2013	1,899	$35.46

The aggregate fair value of restricted stock, RSU’s, and PSU’s that vested during the six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012 was $26.9 million and $28.1 million, respectively, based on the closing price of Sotheby’s Common Stock on the dates the shares vested. On May 8, 2013, Sotheby’s stockholders approved the Second Amended and Restated Sotheby’s Restricted Stock Unit Plan, which, among other things, increased the maximum number of shares authorized for issuance by 3 million shares. As of June 30, 2013, 3.8 million shares were available for future awards pursuant to the Restricted Stock Unit Plan.

Stock Options—Stock options issued pursuant to the Sotheby’s 1997 Stock Option Plan are exercisable into authorized, but unissued shares of Sotheby’s Common Stock. Stock options vest evenly over four years and expire ten years after the date of grant. As of June 30, 2013, 35,350 shares of Common Stock were available for the issuance of stock options under the Stock Option Plan.

For the six months ended June 30, 2013, changes to the number of stock options outstanding were as follows (options and aggregate intrinsic value in thousands):

	Options	Weighted Average Exercise Price	Weighted Average Remaining Contractual Term (in Years)	Aggregate Intrinsic Value
Outstanding at January 1, 2013	348	$21.92
Exercised	(117) $21.54
Outstanding at June 30, 2013	231	$21.84	6.6	$3,654
Exercisable at June 30, 2013	106	$22.11	6.6	$1,679

The aggregate intrinsic value of options exercised during the six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012 was $2 million and $0.5 million, respectively. For the six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012, cash proceeds received as a result of stock option exercises were $2.5 million and $0.7 million, respectively. For the six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012, the excess tax benefit realized from the exercise of stock options was $0.3 million and $0.1 million, respectively.

21#

Dividends—In December 2012, the Board of Directors declared and Sotheby's paid accelerated first and second quarter of 2013 cash dividends totaling $0.20 per share (approximately $13.6 million). This accelerated dividend was in lieu of quarterly dividends that would have otherwise been declared and paid in the first and second quarters of 2013.

On August 6, 2013, the Board of Directors declared a quarterly dividend of $0.10 per share (approximately $6.8 million) to be paid to shareholders of record as of September 3, 2013 on September 16, 2013.

The declaration and payment of future dividends to shareholders is at the discretion of Sotheby's Board of Directors and will depend on many factors, including Sotheby's financial condition (in particular, U.S. liquidity), cash flows, legal requirements and other factors as the Board of Directors deems relevant.

Other Comprehensive (Loss) Income principally includes the change in the foreign currency translation adjustment account during the period, as well as unrealized gains and losses related to the U.K. Pension Plan. Such amounts are reported on a cumulative basis in Accumulated Other Comprehensive Loss on the balance sheet. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, the $0.3 million and $0.6 million (net of tax), respectively, reclassified from Accumulated Other Comprehensive Loss was recognized on a pre-tax basis within Salaries and Related Costs in the Condensed Consolidated Income Statements (see Note 7). For the three months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012, included in Other Comprehensive Income (Loss) before reclassifications are ($0.2) million and $0.5 million, respectively, related to changes in the foreign currency translation adjustment account associated with accumulated unrealized losses related to the U.K. Pension Plan. For the six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012, included in Other Comprehensive (Loss) Income before reclassifications are $1.9 million and ($0.3) million, respectively, related to changes in the foreign currency translation adjustment account associated with accumulated unrealized losses related to the U.K. Pension Plan.

13. Uncertain Tax Positions

As of June 30, 2013, Sotheby's liability for unrecognized tax benefits, excluding interest and penalties, was $39 million, representing a net increase of $3.6 million when compared to the liability of $35.4 million as of December 31, 2012. This net increase is primarily the result of a liability for uncertain tax benefits recognized in the second quarter of 2013 representing a portion of the tax benefit recorded in the current period for a deduction that Sotheby's intends to claim on its 2013 U.S. federal income tax return as a result of a loss incurred on the tax basis of a foreign subsidiary. The net income tax benefit recognized in the second quarter of 2013 related to this deduction was $6.8 million. The overall increase in Sotheby's liability for unrecognized tax benefits was partially offset by the reversal of previously recorded liabilities due to the settlement of an audit and the expiration of the statute of limitations for certain tax years. As of June 30, 2012, Sotheby's liability for unrecognized tax benefits was $34.5 million.

As of June 30, 2013, December 31, 2012, and June 30, 2012, the total amount of unrecognized tax benefits that, if recognized, would favorably affect Sotheby's effective tax rate was $23.7 million, $17.4 million, and $17.8 million, respectively.

Sotheby's believes it is reasonably possible that a decrease of $4.5 million in the balance of unrecognized tax benefits can occur within 12 months of the June 30, 2013 balance sheet date as a result of the expiration of the statute of limitations and expected settlements of currently ongoing tax audits.

Sotheby's is subject to taxation in the U.S. and various state and foreign jurisdictions and, as a result, is subject to ongoing tax audits in various jurisdictions. Sotheby's various U.S. state and foreign tax returns are currently under examination by taxing authorities. The earliest open tax year for the major jurisdictions in which Sotheby's does business, which includes the U.S. (including various state and local jurisdictions), the U.K., and Hong Kong, is 2005. Sotheby's recognizes interest expense and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits as a component of Income Tax Expense. The accrual for such interest and penalties decreased by $0.2 million for the six months ended June 30, 2013.

Sotheby's policy is to record interest expense related to sales, value added and other non-income based taxes as Interest Expense in its income statements. Penalties related to such taxes are recorded as General and Administrative Expenses in its income statements. Interest expense and penalties related to income taxes are recorded as a component of Income Tax Expense in Sotheby's income statements.

14. Related Party Transactions

From time-to-time, in the ordinary course of business, related parties such as members of Sotheby's Board of Directors and employees, transact with Sotheby's to buy and sell property at auction and through private sales. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, Sotheby's recognized total Auction and Related Revenues of $3.3 million and $3.7 million, respectively, related to the sale and purchase of property by related parties. These revenues represent approximately 1% of total revenue for those periods. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, Sotheby's recognized total Auction and Related Revenues of $4.6 million and $4.9 million, respectively, related to the sale and purchase of property by related parties. These revenues represent approximately 2% and 1%, respectively, of total revenue for those periods.

As of June 30, 2013, December 31, 2012, and June 30, 2012, Accounts Receivable (net) included $3.4 million, $3.9 million, and $35.6 million, respectively, associated with auction or private sale purchases made by related parties. These receivables represented approximately 1%, 1%, and 4%, respectively, of Accounts Receivable (net) as of these dates.

As of June 30, 2013, Sotheby's owed $31.7 million to the affiliate of a related party, representing approximately 4% of the Due to Consignors balance. As of July 31, 2013, the entire amount due to the related party consignor had been collected and paid to the consignor. (See Note 9.)

As of June 30, 2013 and December 31, 2012, Notes Receivable (net) included a $0.1 million Finance segment loan to an employee who is not an Executive Officer.

15. Recently Issued Accounting Standards

In February 2013, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") No. 2013-02, which requires entities to disclose additional information regarding changes within its accumulated other comprehensive income, but does not change the manner in which entities account for items included in accumulated other comprehensive income. Sotheby's adopted ASU 2013-02 upon its effective date in the first quarter of 2013 (see Note 12).

In January 2013, the FASB issued ASU 2013-01, which clarifies the scope of financial instruments and transactions subject to the offsetting disclosure requirements established by ASU 2011-11. More specifically, ASU 2013-01 limits such disclosure requirements to certain derivatives, repurchase agreements and securities borrowing and lending transactions. Sotheby's adopted ASU 2013-01 upon its effective date in the first quarter of 2013. This standard did not have an impact on Sotheby's disclosures in this Form 10-Q.

In February 2013, the FASB issued ASU 2013-04, which provides new accounting and disclosure guidance for joint-and-several obligations. ASU 2013-04 is effective for public entities in fiscal years beginning on or after December 15, 2013 and is to be applied retrospectively to obligations with joint-and-several liabilities existing at the beginning of an entity's fiscal year of adoption. Management is currently assessing the potential impact of this standard on Sotheby's financial statements.

In July 2013, the FASB issued ASU 2013-11, which provides guidance on the financial statement presentation of an unrecognized tax benefit when a net operating loss ("NOL") carryforward, a similar tax loss, or a tax credit carryforward exists. ASU 2013-11 requires the presentation of unrecognized tax benefits in the financial statements as a reduction to a same-jurisdiction deferred tax asset for an NOL carryforward, a similar tax loss, or a tax carryforward except when (i) an NOL carryforward, a similar tax loss or a tax credit carryforward is not available as of the reporting date under the governing law to settle taxes that would result from the disallowance of the tax position or (ii) the entity does not intend to use the deferred tax asset for this purpose. If either of these conditions exist, an entity should present an unrecognized tax benefit in the financial statements as a liability and should not net the unrecognized tax benefit with a deferred tax asset. This standard does not affect the recognition or measurement of uncertain tax positions. ASU 2013-11 is effective prospectively for public entities in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2013. Sotheby's will adopt this standard for the quarter ending March 31, 2014. Management is currently assessing the potential impact of this standard on Sotheby's financial statements.

ITEM 2: MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Seasonality

The worldwide art auction market has two principal selling seasons, which generally occur in the second and fourth quarters of the year. In the aggregate, second and fourth quarter Net Auction Sales (as defined below) represented 84% and 81% of total Net Auction Sales in 2012 and 2011, respectively. Accordingly, Sotheby's auction results are seasonal, with peak revenues and operating income generally occurring in those quarters. Consequently, first and third quarter results have historically reflected a lower volume of auction activity when compared to the second and fourth quarters and, typically, a net loss due to the fixed nature of many of Sotheby's operating expenses.

Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

GAAP refers to generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America. Included in Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (or "MD&A") are financial measures presented in accordance with GAAP and also on a non-GAAP basis. EBITDA, EBITDA Margin, and Net Liquidity, as presented in MD&A under "Statistical Metrics," are supplemental financial measures that are not required by or presented in accordance with GAAP.

Sotheby's defines EBITDA as net income (loss), excluding income tax expense (benefit), interest expense, interest income, and depreciation and amortization expense. Sotheby's defines EBITDA Margin as EBITDA as a percentage of total revenues. Management cautions users of Sotheby's financial statements that amounts presented in accordance with its definitions of EBITDA and EBITDA Margin may not be comparable to similar measures disclosed by other companies because not all companies and analysts calculate such measures in the same manner. Management believes that EBITDA and EBITDA Margin provide important supplemental measures of Sotheby's performance and that these measures may be used by securities analysts, investors, financial institutions, and other interested parties in the evaluation of Sotheby's. Management also utilizes EBITDA in analyzing Sotheby's performance and in the determination of annual incentive compensation. A reconciliation of EBITDA to net income derived in accordance with GAAP is presented below under "Reconciliation of Non-GAAP Financial Measures."

Sotheby's defines Net Liquidity as the amount of cash and cash equivalents that would remain assuming that all accounts receivable were collected and that all consignor payables, accounts payable, current accrued liabilities, and any client deposits were paid as of each balance sheet date. This measure, among others, is used by management to assess the amount of Sotheby's available liquidity, excluding borrowings available under its revolving credit facility, in consideration of the fact that Sotheby's is predominantly an agency business that collects and remits cash on behalf of its clients. Net Liquidity should not be considered as an alternative to cash and cash equivalents as reported in accordance with GAAP. A reconciliation of Net Liquidity to cash and cash equivalents reported in accordance with GAAP is presented below under "Reconciliation of Non-GAAP Financial Measures."

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS FOR THE THREE AND SIX MONTHS ENDED JUNE 30, 2013

This discussion should be read in conjunction with Note 4 ("Segment Reporting") of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

Overview

Sotheby's results for the first half of 2013 reflect mixed sales performance, with significant growth only in Impressionist, Modern and Contemporary Art, where the market remains strong, but with fierce competition and low auction commission margins for high-value consignments. Accordingly, in order to enhance its revenue stream and strengthen profit margins, Sotheby's enacted a change to its buyer's premium rate structure that became effective March 15, 2013, which offset the impact that the competitive climate had on auction commission margins. However, results for the period were impacted by a higher level of expenses incurred, in part, to support Sotheby's multi-year strategic initiatives to invest in those areas which best serve its clients and enhance business growth, including the enhancement of Sotheby's digital media offerings and the development of China and other emerging markets.

Management expects that these strategic investments will benefit Sotheby's future financial results. (See statement on Forward Looking Statements.)

In the second quarter of 2013, Net Auction Sales and income before taxes remained stable and the buyer's premium rate change contributed to an improvement in Sotheby's auction commission margin from 15.3% to 15.9% when compared to the prior year. However, results for the second quarter of 2013 also reflect a higher level of expenses incurred, in part, to support Sotheby's strategic initiatives.

Sotheby's net income for the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 was significantly impacted by a net $6.8 million income tax benefit recognized in the second quarter of 2013. No similar tax benefit was recorded in the prior year periods. (See the discussion of "Income Tax Expense" below for additional details.)

Outlook

Management remains confident in the global art market and is encouraged by the level and quality of consignments to be offered in Sotheby's upcoming second half auctions. The buyer's premium pricing change enacted earlier this year is expected to continue to contribute to a stabilization of auction commission margins. (See statement on Forward Looking Statements. In addition, the art market has historically been cyclical; please refer to Part II, Item 1A, "Risk Factors," which summarizes the factors that could significantly influence and cause variability in Sotheby's operating results and liquidity.)

Auction and Related Revenues

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, auction and related revenues were at a similar level when compared to the prior year, with marginal increases of $4.8 million and $1.6 million, respectively. See below for a detailed discussion of the significant factors impacting the comparison of auction and related revenues between the current and prior periods, including a change to Sotheby's buyer's premium rate structure that became effective March 15, 2013.

Auction Commission Revenues—In its role as auctioneer, Sotheby's accepts property on consignment and matches sellers (also known as consignors) to buyers through the auction process. Sotheby's invoices the buyer for the purchase price of the property (including the commission owed by the buyer), collects payment from the buyer, and remits to the seller the net sale proceeds after deducting its commissions, expenses and applicable taxes and royalties. Sotheby's commissions include those paid by the buyer ("buyer's premium") and those paid by the seller ("seller's commission") (collectively, "auction commission revenue"), both of which are calculated as a percentage of Net Auction Sales.

For the three months ended June 30, 2013, auction commission revenues improved $7.4 million (3%) on essentially the same level of Net Auction Sales, due to improvement in Auction Commission Margin from 15.3% to 15.9%. For the six months ended June 30, 2013, auction commission revenues improved $9.1 million (3%), due to a 3% increase in Net Auction Sales, while Auction Commission Margin remained consistent with the prior year. See "Net Auction Sales" and "Auction Commission Margin" below for a more detailed discussion of these statistical metrics, as well as a discussion of a change to Sotheby's buyer's premium rate structure that became effective March 15, 2013.

Net Auction Sales—For the three months ended June 30, 2013, the level of Net Auction Sales was essentially unchanged when compared to the prior year with a decrease of $25.2 million (1%). For the six months ended June 30, 2013, Net Auction Sales increased $72.4 million (3%) primarily due to a $117 million (10%) improvement in sales of Impressionist, Modern, and Contemporary Art, as higher average sale prices were realized in these key collecting categories. In addition, sales of single-owner collections in other collecting categories increased $61 million (48%), highlighted by the sales of Important Carpets from the William A. Clark Collection, Corcoran Gallery of Art ($38 million) and The Mei Yun Tang Collection of Paintings by Chang Dai-Chien - A Master's Secrets Unveiled ($36 million). These increases were partially offset by a lower level of recurring various-owner sales in several collecting categories, including Jewelry ($19 million), Asian Art ($17 million), and Wine ($15 million).

Auction Commission Margin—Auction Commission Margin represents total auction commission revenues as a percentage of Net Auction Sales. Typically, the Auction Commission Margin is higher for lower value works of art or collections, while higher valued property earns a lower Auction Commission Margin.

Auction Commission Margin may be adversely impacted by arrangements whereby Sotheby's buyer's premium is shared with a consignor in order to secure a high-value consignment. Auction Commission Margin may also be adversely impacted by the use of auction guarantees. For example, when issuing an auction guarantee, Sotheby's may enter into a risk and reward sharing arrangement with a counterparty whereby Sotheby's financial exposure under the auction guarantee is reduced in exchange for sharing its buyer's premium. Also, in situations when guaranteed property sells for less than the guaranteed price, all or a portion of Sotheby's buyer's premium is used to reduce the principal loss on the transaction. (See Note 10 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for information on Sotheby's use of auction guarantees.)

In order to enhance revenue and strengthen Auction Commission Margin, Sotheby's enacted a change to its buyer's premium rate structure that became effective March 15, 2013. In salesrooms in the U.S., the buyer's premium is now 25% of the hammer (sale) price on the first $100,000, 20% of the hammer (sale) price above $100,000 up to and including $2,000,000 and 12% of any remaining amount over $2,000,000. In foreign salesrooms, with certain exceptions, these U.S. dollar thresholds have been translated into an equivalent fixed local currency amount. Prior to March 15, 2013, in U.S. salesrooms, the buyer's premium rate structure was 25% of the first $50,000 of hammer (sale) price; 20% on the portion of hammer (sale) price above $50,000 up to and including $1 million; and 12% on any remaining amount over $1 million.

For the three months ended June 30, 2013, Auction Commission Margin improved from 15.3% to 15.9% principally due to the buyer's premium rate change that became effective on March 15, 2013, which contributed an additional $19.8 million in auction commission revenues. However, the benefit of the new buyer's premium rate structure was partially offset by competitive pressures to win high-value consignments, which resulted in a lower level of seller's commissions and a higher level of buyer's premium shared with the counterparties to auction guarantee risk and reward sharing arrangements.

For the six months ended June 30, 2013, Auction Commission Margin remained relatively stable, with a slight decrease from 15.8% to 15.7%, as results for the first quarter of 2013 were not materially impacted by the buyer's premium rate change that became effective after a large majority of Sotheby's first quarter auctions were conducted.

As previously discussed, Auction Commission Margin for the second quarter of 2013 materially benefited from the buyer's premium rate change; however, results for the full six-month period were adversely impacted by competitive pressures to win high-value consignments, which resulted in a higher level of buyer's premium shared with consignors and with the counterparties to auction guarantee risk and reward sharing arrangements.

Private Sale Commission Revenues—Private sale commission revenues are earned through the direct brokering of purchases and sales of art. Private sales are initiated either by a client wishing to sell property with Sotheby's acting as its exclusive agent in the transaction or a prospective buyer who is interested in purchasing a certain work of art privately. Private sale commissions can vary from period to period due to the timing of when sale transactions are initiated and completed.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, despite an increase in the aggregate value of private sales transactions, private sale commission revenues decreased $0.2 million (1%) and $1.8 million (4%), respectively, primarily due to lower commission margins earned when compared to the prior year.

Principal Activities—Auction segment principal activities consist of gains and losses related to auction guarantees including: (i) Sotheby's share of overage or shortfall related to guaranteed property offered or sold at auction, (ii) subsequent writedowns to the carrying value of guaranteed property that initially failed to sell at auction and (iii) subsequent recoveries and losses on the sale of guaranteed property that initially failed to sell at auction. Auction segment principal activities also include gains and losses related to the sale of other Auction segment inventory, as well as writedowns to the carrying value of such inventory, which principally consists of objects obtained as a result of purchaser defaults in situations when Sotheby's has paid the consignor.

For the six months ended June 30, 2013, principal activities decreased $1.5 million primarily due to a decrease in the net overage earned from guaranteed property offered or sold at auction during the period, as well as a higher level of Auction segment inventory writedowns.

Other Auction and Related Revenues—Other auction and related revenues principally includes commissions and other fees earned by Sotheby's on sales brokered by third parties, fees charged to clients for catalogue production and other services, catalogue subscription revenues, and advertising revenues. For the six months ended June 30, 2013, other auction and related revenues decreased $4.2 million (35%) due in part to lower fees earned on sales brokered by third parties.

Finance Revenues

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, Finance revenues increased $1 million (21%) and $2.3 million (29%), respectively, principally due to a $124.3 million (43%) increase in the year-to-date average loan portfolio balance. The growth in the loan portfolio occurred steadily throughout 2012 and is attributable to a number of factors such as increased client demand for art-related financing, the improved global reach of Sotheby's art-financing activities, and an increase in term loans made to refinance clients' auction and private sale purchases. (See Note 5 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for information related to Finance segment loans.)

(Note: For the purposes of Management's Discussion and Analysis, Finance revenues are presented on a consolidated basis and do not include intercompany revenues earned by the Finance segment from the Auction segment, which are eliminated in consolidation. See Note 4 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.)

Dealer Revenues and Cost of Sales

Dealer revenues principally include revenues earned from the sale of Noortman Master Paintings ("NMP") inventory and artworks purchased by Sotheby's for resale. To a lesser extent, Dealer revenues also include retail wine sales and commissions earned by NMP from the brokering of private art sales. Dealer cost of sales includes the net book value of items sold during the period and any writedowns to the carrying value of Dealer inventory.

The table below summarizes Dealer revenues, cost of sales, and gross profit for the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 and 2012 (in thousands of dollars):

Three Months Ended June 30,	2013	2012	Favorable/(Unfavorable)

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, the comparison of Dealer segment results to the prior periods is significantly impacted by $2.5 million of NMP inventory writedowns recorded in the second quarter of 2013.

Direct Costs of Services

Direct costs of services consists largely of sale specific marketing costs such as catalogue production and distribution expenses, sale advertising and promotion expenses, and traveling exhibition costs. Also included in direct costs of services are sale-related shipping expenses, as well as debit and credit card processing fees associated with buyers from China. The level of direct costs incurred in any period is generally dependent upon the volume and composition of Sotheby's auction and private sale offerings. For example, direct costs attributable to auctions of single-owner or other high-value collections are typically higher than those associated with standard various-owner auctions, mainly due to higher promotional costs for catalogues, special events and traveling exhibitions, as well as higher shipping expenses.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, direct costs of services increased $4 million (14%) and $5 million (14%), respectively, due in part to an increase in costs incurred to promote single-owner sales in the current periods. The overall increases in direct costs of services were partially offset by quarter and year-to-date decreases of $0.5 million and $1 million, respectively, in private sale expenses primarily as a result of two selling exhibitions conducted in Hong Kong in the second quarter of 2012, for which there were no comparable events in the current periods.

Marketing Expenses

Marketing expenses are costs related to the promotion of the Sotheby's brand, consisting of costs associated with corporate marketing activities and client service initiatives, as well as strategic sponsorships of and charitable donations to cultural institutions. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, marketing expenses increased $1.2 million (27%) and $1.5 million (17%), respectively, largely due to an increase in sponsorships of museums and other cultural institutions, as well as additional brand promotion activities.

See below for a detailed discussion of the significant factors impacting the comparison of the various elements of salaries and related costs between the current and prior periods.

Full-Time Salaries—For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, full-time salaries increased $2.6 million (8%) and $4.6 million (7%), respectively, due to strategic headcount and salary increases.

Incentive Compensation—Incentive compensation principally includes the expense associated with cash payments made under Sotheby's annual incentive compensation program. The amount of incentive compensation awarded under this program is largely dependent upon the level of Sotheby's earnings, as measured by EBITDA, and is ultimately paid at the discretion of the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors only after assessing Sotheby's full year financial results. In addition, incentive compensation includes amounts specifically awarded to employees for brokering certain eligible private sale transactions. The decrease in accrued incentive compensation expense in the current periods is principally due to a lower level of earnings, as measured by EBITDA, relative to the prior period.

Share-Based Payment Expense—Share-based payment expense consists of amortization expense related to performance-based equity compensation awards, restricted stock units, and stock options. Equity compensation awards are granted annually in the first quarter of the year, and the value of each award is generally dependent upon Sotheby's financial results for the year prior to the grant date. The amount of compensation expense recognized for share-based payments is based on management's estimate of the number of shares ultimately expected to vest as a result of employee service. In addition, for performance-based equity compensation awards, the amount and timing of expense recognition is significantly impacted by management's quarterly assessment of the likelihood and timing of achieving certain profitability targets.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, share-based payment expense increased $1.1 million (26%) and $0.6 million (7%), respectively, reflecting a higher level of favorable adjustments recorded in the prior year as a result of management's quarterly profitability assessment. (See Note 11 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for more detailed information related to Sotheby's share-based compensation programs.)

Employee Benefits—Employee benefits include the cost of Sotheby's retirement plans and health and welfare programs, as well as certain employee severance costs. Sotheby's material retirement plans include defined benefit and defined contribution pension plans for its employees in the U.K. and defined contribution and deferred compensation plans for its U.S. employees.

Generally, the amount of employee benefit costs recognized in a period is dependent upon headcount and overall compensation levels, as well as Sotheby's financial performance. Additionally, the level of expense related to Sotheby's defined benefit pension plan in the U.K. (the "U.K. Pension Plan") is significantly influenced by interest rates, investment performance in the debt and equity markets, and actuarial assumptions. Also, the amount recorded for Sotheby's Deferred Compensation Plan (the "DCP") is dependent upon changes in the fair value of the DCP liability during a period, which result from gains and losses in deemed participant investments. Gains in deemed participant investments increase the DCP liability and, therefore, increase employee benefit costs. Losses in deemed participant investments decrease the DCP liability and, therefore, decrease employee benefit costs. On a consolidated basis, the cost increases (decreases) related to the DCP liability are offset by market gains (losses) in the trust assets related to the DCP liability, which are reflected within other income (expense).

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, employee benefit costs increased $1.1 million (23%) and $1.6 million (14%), respectively, particularly due to decreases of $0.4 million and $0.8 million, respectively, in the net pension credit related to the U.K. Pension Plan, as well as the impact of the headcount and salary increases discussed previously. The quarter-to-date increase in employee benefits is also due in part to improvement in DCP investment performance when compared to the prior year. The net increase in employee benefit costs for the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 was partially offset by decreases of $0.6 million and $0.3 million, respectively, in employee severance costs and a lower level of employee benefits associated with incentive compensation-related accruals. The decrease in the net pension credit related to the U.K. Pension Plan is primarily due to actuarial losses incurred in 2012, a portion of which are being amortized to the income statement in 2013 (see Note 7 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements). For the year ending December 31, 2013, the net pension credit related to the U.K. Pension Plan is expected to be approximately $1.2 million, representing a decrease of approximately $1.6 million when compared to 2012. (See statement on Forward Looking Statements.)

Labor Union Severance Costs—On May 31, 2012, Sotheby's and the union representing its property handlers agreed to a new collective bargaining agreement. In conjunction with the new collective bargaining agreement, Sotheby's offered severance benefits to the union members in exchange for the voluntary termination of their employment. The voluntary severance offer resulted in a charge of $4.4 million recognized in 2012, of which $4.1 million was recognized in the second quarter. Management expects to recover a substantial portion of the total severance costs over the succeeding three years as a result of cost savings associated with the new labor agreement. (See statement on Forward Looking Statements.)

Other Compensation Expense—Other compensation expense typically includes the cost of temporary labor and overtime, as well as expense related to certain retention-based, new-hire and other employment arrangements. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, other compensation expense increased $0.9 million (23%) and $1.2 million (15%), respectively, primarily due to a higher level of expense associated with such employment arrangements.

General and Administrative Expenses

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, general and administrative expenses increased $4.5 million (11%) and $9.6 million (12%), respectively, largely due to increases in professional fees and client goodwill gestures. The increase in professional fees is largely attributable to a higher level of technology and business consulting costs incurred in support of Sotheby's multi-year client service and business growth initiatives, including the enhancement of Sotheby's digital media offerings and the furtherance of Sotheby's business in China and other emerging markets. The increase in client goodwill gestures is due, in part, to a $1.7 million accommodation made to an irrevocable bid counterparty in the first quarter of 2013 (see Note 10 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements).

Net Interest Expense

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, net interest expense increased $0.7 million (7%) and $3.4 million (17%), respectively, primarily due to incremental interest expense resulting from the September 2012 issuance of $300 million aggregate principal amount of 5.25% Senior Notes, due October 1, 2022 (the "2022 Senior Notes"). These increases were partially offset by $1 million of interest income related to a previously delinquent client account that was recognized upon collection in the second quarter of 2013.

In June 2013, management used approximately $182 million of the net proceeds from the issuance of the 2022 Senior Notes to settle the remaining principal amount of Sotheby's 3.125% Convertible Notes (the "Convertible Notes") upon their maturity. With the repayment of the Convertible Notes, Sotheby's expects to achieve annualized interest expense savings of approximately $4.7 million due to the lower interest rate on the 2022 Senior Notes (5.25%) when compared to the weighted average effective interest rate on the 2015 Senior Notes and the Convertible Notes (7.83%), partially offset by higher long-term debt levels. (See "Liquidity and Capital Resources" below and statement on Forward Looking Statements.)

Income Tax Expense

The quarterly income tax provision is calculated using an estimated annual effective income tax rate for the period based on actual historical information and forward looking estimates. The estimated annual effective income tax rate may fluctuate due to changes in forecasted annual pre-tax income, changes in the jurisdictional mix of forecasted pre-tax income and changes to actual or forecasted permanent book to tax differences (e.g., non-deductible expenses). Furthermore, the effective income tax rate may fluctuate as the result of positive or negative changes to the valuation allowance for net deferred tax assets, the impact of future tax settlements with federal, state or foreign tax authorities, or the impact of tax law changes. Management identifies items which are unusual and non-recurring in nature and treats these as discrete events. The tax effect of discrete items is booked entirely in the quarter in which the discrete event occurs.

As discussed above, changes in the jurisdictional mix of forecasted pre-tax income could result in pre-tax income being higher or lower than anticipated in countries with lower statutory tax rates, which could cause Sotheby's effective income tax rate to fluctuate. The impact of such changes could be meaningful in countries with statutory tax rates that are significantly lower than the U.S. statutory tax rate of 35%. This is particularly true in countries where Sotheby's has significant auction operations such as the U.K., Hong Kong, and Switzerland, where the statutory tax rates are approximately 23%, 17%, and 23%, respectively. For the year ended December 31, 2012, the pre-tax income of the U.K., Hong Kong, and Switzerland was $55.3 million, $17.5 million, and $17 million, respectively, which cumulatively comprised 73% of foreign pre-tax income and 56% of consolidated pre-tax income.

Management estimates that Sotheby's annual effective income tax expense rate for 2013, excluding discrete items, will be approximately 30%. This estimated annual effective income tax expense rate is lower than the U.S. statutory tax rate of 35% primarily due to foreign earnings taxed at lower rates, partially offset by state and local income taxes and additional U.S. tax on earnings from foreign subsidiaries. (See statement on Forward Looking Statements.)

Sotheby's effective income tax expense rate for the three and six months ended June 30, 2013 is 25% and 23%, respectively, compared to an effective income tax expense rate of 32% for the three and six months ended June 30, 2012. The decrease in the income tax expense rate, when compared to the prior periods, is primarily due to a $6.8 million income tax benefit recorded as a discrete item in the second quarter of 2013, net of a related liability recognized for uncertain tax benefits (see Note 13 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements). This tax benefit relates to a deduction Sotheby's intends to claim on its 2013 U.S. federal income tax return as a result of a loss incurred on the tax basis of a foreign subsidiary. (See "Critical Accounting Estimates" in Sotheby's most recently filed Form 10-K).

American Taxpayer Relief Act of 2012—The American Taxpayer Relief Act of 2012 (the "U.S. Act") was enacted on January 2, 2013. The U.S. Act, among other things, reinstated, retroactive to January 1, 2012, certain expired tax provisions relating to the U.S. tax treatment of deemed income earned by foreign subsidiaries. The change in tax law, including the retroactive effect, did not have a material impact on Sotheby's results for the three and six months ended June 30, 2013, and is not expected to have a material impact on Sotheby's 2013 full year results.

FINANCIAL CONDITION AS OF JUNE 30, 2013

This discussion should be read in conjunction with Sotheby's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows. For the six months ended June 30, 2013, total cash and cash equivalents decreased $68.8 million to $699.6 million primarily due to the factors discussed below.

Net Cash Provided by Operating Activities—Sotheby's is predominantly an agency business that collects and remits cash on behalf of its clients. Accordingly, the net amount of cash provided or used in a period by Sotheby's operating activities is significantly influenced by the timing of auction and private sale settlements. As discussed in Note 5 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements, under Sotheby's standard auction payment terms, payments from buyers are due no more than 30 days from the sale date and payments to consignors are due 35 days from the sale date. Accordingly, it is not unusual for Sotheby's to hold significant balances of consignor net sale proceeds at the end of a quarterly accounting period that are disbursed soon thereafter. Additionally, Sotheby's sometimes provides extended payment terms to auction buyers and the level of such extended payment terms can vary considerably from selling season to selling season. In certain of these situations, the consignor may be paid the net sale proceeds before payment is collected from the buyer, with the collection from the buyer sometimes occurring after the quarterly balance sheet date. The amount of net cash provided or used by Sotheby's operating activities in a period is also a reflection of its net income (loss), the timing of payments made to vendors, the timing of compensation-related payments, and the timing of the collection and/or payment of tax-related amounts.

Net cash provided by operating activities of approximately $92.9 million for the six months ended June 30, 2013 was principally a reflection of Sotheby's net income for the period ($69.4 million) and, to a lesser extent, the receipt of a $20 million client deposit (see Note 8 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements). These cash inflows were partially offset by a net cash outflow of $21.3 million related to the settlement of auction and private sale transactions during the period, which was influenced, in part, by the payment of net sales proceeds to certain consignors for property sold in Sotheby's second quarter sales in New York in advance of collecting from the buyer.

Net Cash Provided by Investing Activities—Net cash provided by investing activities of $43.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2013 was principally attributable to a net decrease in client loans as loan settlements exceeded the funding of new loans by $36.9 million. Cash provided by investing activities also reflects a $15 million decrease in restricted cash as a result of net auction proceeds paid to consignors during the period in certain foreign countries where auction houses are legally required to maintain consignor funds in segregated accounts. These cash inflows were partially offset by capital expenditures of $9.1 million during the period.

Net Cash Used by Financing Activities—Net cash used by financing activities of $189.2 million for the six months ended June 30, 2013 reflects the settlement of the Convertible Notes and Convertible Note Hedges in the second quarter, resulting in a net cash outflow of $181.9 million (see Note 6 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements). To a much lesser extent, the net cash used by financing activities was the result of the funding of employee tax obligations related to share-based payments ($11.4 million), partially offset by excess tax benefits associated with share-based payments ($2.7 million) and proceeds received from the exercise of employee stock options ($2.5 million).

NET LIQUIDITY

Sotheby's defines Net Liquidity as the amount of cash and cash equivalents that would remain assuming that all accounts receivable were collected and that all consignor payables, accounts payable, current accrued liabilities, and any client deposits were paid as of each balance sheet date. This measure, among others, is used by management to assess the amount of Sotheby's available liquidity, excluding borrowings available under its revolving credit facility, in consideration of the fact that Sotheby's is predominantly an agency business that collects and remits cash on behalf of its clients. (See "Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures" and "Reconciliation of Non-GAAP Financial Measures.") As of June 30, 2013, December 31, 2012, and June 30, 2012, Net Liquidity was as follows (in thousands of dollars):

	June 30, 2013	December 31, 2012	June 30, 2012
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 699,557	$ 768,347	$ 583,388
Add: Restricted cash	16,648	31,974	26,849
Add: Accounts receivable, net	882,097	597,487	884,770
Subtract: Due to consignors	(890,296)	(599,614)	(854,258)
Subtract: Accounts payable and other accrued liabilities	(173,409)	(183,776)	(164,695)
Subtract: Client deposit	(20,000)	—	—
Net Liquidity	$ 514,597	$ 614,418	$ 476,054

See "Financial Condition" for a discussion of the significant factors contributing to the decrease in Net Liquidity during the first half of 2013, which was due to the retirement of $182 million in convertible debt in June 2013.

CONTRACTUAL OBLIGATIONS AND COMMITMENTS

The following table summarizes Sotheby's material contractual obligations and commitments as of June 30, 2013 (in thousands of dollars):

	Payments Due by Period

(1) See Note 6 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for information related to the York Property Mortgage and the 2022 Senior Notes.

(2) These amounts represent the undiscounted future minimum rental commitments under non-cancellable operating leases.

(3)

These amounts represent the remaining commitment for future salaries and other cash compensation, excluding any participation in Sotheby's incentive compensation and share-based payment programs, related to employment arrangements with certain senior employees. (See Note 9 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.)

38#

Represents the amount of auction guarantees outstanding ($12.3 million) net of amounts advanced ($0.3 million) as of June 30, 2013. (See Note 10 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for information related to auction guarantees.)

Represents unfunded commitments to extend additional credit through Sotheby's Finance segment. (See Note 5 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for information related to Sotheby's Finance segment loan portfolio.)

Excludes the $27 million liability recorded for uncertain tax positions that would be settled by cash payments to the respective taxing authorities, which are classified as long-term liabilities in the June 30, 2013 Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet. This liability is excluded from the table above because management is unable to make reliable estimates of the period of settlement with the respective taxing authorities. (See Note 13 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for more detailed information related to uncertain tax positions.)

OFF-BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

For information related to off-balance sheet arrangements see: (i) Note 5 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements, which discusses unfunded Finance segment loan commitments, (ii) Note 9 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements, which discusses a guarantee of collection arrangement, and (iii) Note 10 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements, which discusses auction guarantees.

CONTINGENCIES

For information related to contingencies see: (i) Note 9 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements, which discusses legal and certain tax contingencies, (ii) Note 10 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements, which discusses auction guarantees, and (iii) Note 13 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements, which discusses income tax contingencies.

UNCERTAIN TAX POSITIONS

For information related to uncertain tax positions, see Note 13 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Overview—Sotheby's continues to have significant cash balances and strong liquidity. In the second half of 2012, Sotheby's further improved its short and long-term liquidity by issuing $300 million of 5.25% senior notes, due October 2022, and by amending its credit agreement to provide an extended maturity date, an increased borrowing capacity, and greater operating flexibility. The proceeds from the issuance of the 5.25% senior notes were principally used to retire $262 million of unsecured debt, including $182 million of convertible debt upon maturity in June 2013. (See Note 6 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.)

Cash and Cash Equivalents—As of June 30, 2013, Sotheby's had global cash and cash equivalents of approximately $699.6 million, of which $63.9 million was held in the U.S. and $635.7 million was held by foreign subsidiaries. The current focus of Sotheby's investment policy is to preserve principal and ensure liquidity. Accordingly, Sotheby's cash balances are invested in the highest rated overnight deposits.

Revolving Credit Facility—On August 31, 2009, Sotheby's and certain of its wholly-owned subsidiaries entered into a credit agreement (the "Credit Agreement") with an international syndicate of lenders led by General Electric Capital, Corporate Finance ("GE Capital"). On December 19, 2012, Sotheby's, GE Capital, and the lenders named therein amended and restated the Credit Agreement (the "A&R Credit Agreement") to, among other things, extend the maturity date from September 1, 2014 to December 19, 2017, increase the borrowing capacity from $200 million to $300 million, and provide further flexibility to Sotheby's. On June 27, 2013, the A&R Credit Agreement was amended to increase the maximum amount of net outstanding auction guarantees (i.e., auction guarantees less the impact of related risk and reward sharing arrangements) permissible from $100 million to $300 million. The following summary does not purport to be a complete summary of the A&R Credit Agreement, and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the A&R Credit Agreement, a copy of which was filed as Exhibit 10.1 to the Form 8-K that was filed by Sotheby's with the Securities and Exchange Commission on December 20, 2012. Capitalized terms used, but not defined, in this summary have the meanings set forth in the A&R Credit Agreement.

The A&R Credit Agreement provides for a $300 million revolving credit facility (the “Revolving Credit Facility”), with a sub-limit of $100 million for borrowings in the U.K. and Hong Kong, and has a feature whereby any time until June 19, 2017, Sotheby's may request, subject to Lenders' approval, to increase the borrowing capacity by an amount not to exceed $50 million. The amount of borrowings available under the Revolving Credit Facility is limited by a borrowing base which is determined with reference to the levels of Sotheby's loan portfolio, art inventory balances, and Net Tangible Assets. In addition, up to $20 million of the borrowing capacity of the Revolving Credit Facility may be used to issue letters of credit. As of June 30, 2013, no Revolving Credit Facility borrowings were outstanding and the amount of borrowings available under the Revolving Credit Facility was approximately $275.6 million, as calculated under the borrowing base. Sotheby's has not borrowed or issued any letters of credit under the Revolving Credit Facility since its inception.

Borrowings under the Revolving Credit Facility are available in either U.S. Dollars, Pounds Sterling, or Hong Kong Dollars. The U.S. Borrowers and, subject to certain limitations, the U.K. Borrowers and Sotheby's Hong Kong, are jointly and severally liable for all obligations under the A&R Credit Agreement. In addition, certain subsidiaries of the Borrowers guarantee the obligations of the Borrowers under the A&R Credit Agreement. Sotheby's obligations under the A&R Credit Agreement are secured by liens on all or substantially all of the personal property of the Borrowers and the Guarantors.

The A&R Credit Agreement contains certain customary affirmative and negative covenants including, but not limited to, limitations on capital expenditures, a $300 million limit on net outstanding auction guarantees (i.e., auction guarantees less the impact of related risk and reward sharing arrangements) and limitations on the use of proceeds from borrowings under the A&R Credit Agreement. However, the A&R Credit Agreement does not limit dividend payments and Common Stock repurchases provided that: (i) there are no Events of Default, (ii) the Aggregate Borrowing Availability equals or exceeds $100 million, and (iii) the Total Liquidity Amount equals or exceeds $150 million.

The A&R Credit Agreement also contains certain financial covenants, which are only applicable during certain defined compliance periods. These financial covenants were not applicable for the twelve month period ended June 30, 2013.

Liquidity and Capital Requirements—Sotheby's generally relies on operating cash flows and existing cash balances, supplemented by Revolving Credit Facility borrowings, if needed, to meet its liquidity and capital requirements. The timing and extent of any borrowings under the Revolving Credit Facility is dependent upon a number of factors including, but not limited to, the cyclical nature of the global art market, the seasonality of Sotheby's business, the timing of auction sale settlements, the funding of notes receivable and consignor advances, and the geographic mix of cash and cash equivalent balances.

As of June 30, 2013, Sotheby's had global cash and cash equivalents of approximately $699.6 million, of which $63.9 million was held in the U.S. and $635.7 million was held by foreign subsidiaries. Of the $635.7 million in foreign cash balances, approximately $585.7 million would be subject to additional income taxes if repatriated. Based on current projections and management's planned use of foreign cash balances, it is expected that this $585.7 million in foreign cash will be indefinitely reinvested outside of the U.S. and will not need to be repatriated to fund Sotheby's U.S. operations or commitments. Management continually evaluates its assertions regarding the indefinite reinvestment of certain foreign cash balances. If circumstances were to change and cause management to change its assertion with respect to indefinitely reinvested foreign cash balances, Sotheby's would incur additional income tax expense. (See statement on Forward Looking Statements.)

Sotheby's short-term operating needs and capital requirements include the funding of working capital, the funding of notes receivable and consignor advances, the funding of capital expenditures, and the payment of dividends, as well as the funding of the other short-term commitments due on or before June 30, 2014, as summarized in the table of contractual obligations and commitments above. Capital expenditures are expected to be in the range of $23 million to $28 million for the year ending December 31, 2013. (See statement on Forward Looking Statements.)

Dividends of $0.10 per share for the first and second quarter of 2013 were declared by the Board of Directors and paid in the fourth quarter of 2012. On August 6, 2013, the Board of Directors declared a quarterly dividend of $0.10 per share (approximately $6.8 million) to be paid to shareholders of record as of September 3, 2013 on September 16,

The declaration and payment of future dividends to shareholders remains at the discretion of Sotheby's Board of Directors and is dependent upon many factors, including Sotheby's financial condition, cash flows (in particular, its U.S. liquidity), legal requirements, and other factors as the Board of Directors deems relevant. It is the intention of Sotheby's to continue to pay quarterly dividends at a rate of $0.12 per share, subject to approval by the Board of Directors and depending on economic, financial, market and other conditions at the time. (See statement on Forward Looking Statements.)

40#

Sotheby's long-term operating needs and capital requirements include the funding of working capital, the funding of notes receivable and consignor advances, the funding of capital expenditures, and the payment of dividends, as well as the funding of the presently anticipated long-term contractual obligations and commitments summarized in the table of contractual obligations and commitments above.

Management believes that operating cash flows and existing cash balances, supplemented by Revolving Credit Facility borrowings, if needed, will be adequate to meet Sotheby's anticipated short-term and long-term commitments, operating needs and capital requirements through the December 19, 2017 expiration of the A&R Credit Agreement. Also, on September 12, 2012, Sotheby's filed an automatically effective Registration Statement on Form S-3ASR with the SEC, which Sotheby's could use to facilitate the raising of further capital through the issuance of debt securities, which may be in the form of notes or other types of debt securities. Sotheby's does not currently intend to issue any additional long-term debt.

Sotheby's continues to have significant cash balances and strong liquidity, which will continue to provide Sotheby's flexibility in funding potential future operational and capital needs, including potential further domestic and international growth of the Finance segment loan portfolio, potential investments in principal and/or Dealer segment activities, and possible future expenditures related to emerging international markets such as China. Additionally, should business operations and liquidity remain strong, management will continue to evaluate, especially taking into account U.S. cash balances and liquidity, traditional corporate finance alternatives including repurchases of shares of Sotheby's Common Stock and/or some action with respect to Sotheby's dividend. (See statement on Forward Looking Statements.)

FUTURE IMPACT OF RECENTLY ISSUED ACCOUNTING STANDARDS

See Note 15 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for a discussion of recently issued accounting standards.

PREMISES UPDATE

Management believes Sotheby's worldwide premises are adequate for the current conduct of its business. However, management continually assesses Sotheby's worldwide premises, in particular, the real estate it owns in New York and London, for its current and future business needs as part of its ongoing efforts to manage infrastructure and enhance long-term shareholder value.

In May 2013, Sotheby's engaged external real estate professionals to assist in assessing the value of Sotheby's headquarters building at 1334 York Avenue in New York (the "York Property") and in evaluating available alternatives within the New York City real estate market. While there are no current plans to relocate Sotheby's York Property operations, this is an ongoing, complex process, and management will consider a variety of alternatives. Any transaction regarding the York Property has to deliver substantial post-mortgage value, and any sale of the York Property must provide funds for attractive purpose-built new premises that meets Sotheby's unique requirements. Therefore, any future action relative to the York Property will only be taken after fully assessing all financial costs, including any potential lease costs and associated leverage, as well as operational challenges, and concluding that the incremental benefit will be meaningful and lasting, especially in consideration of the cyclical nature of Sotheby's business. Management is planning to assess the value of Sotheby's London premises in the future using a similar approach.

STRATEGIC INITIATIVES IN CHINA

In September 2012, Sotheby's entered into a 10-year equity joint venture agreement with Beijing GeHua Art Company ("GeHua") to form Sotheby's Beijing Auction Co., Ltd. (the "Beijing Joint Venture"). Sotheby's made its initial investment in the Beijing Joint Venture of approximately $1.2 million (representing an 80% ownership interest) in the first quarter of 2013 and GeHua invested approximately $0.3 million (representing a 20% ownership interest) concurrent with Sotheby's initial investment. The Beijing Joint Venture will allow Sotheby's to take advantage of a planned free port project that GeHua is developing within the Tianzhu Free Trade Zone in Beijing (the "Beijing Free Port"), which will serve as a tax-advantaged storage location and provide a platform for art-related auctions and private selling exhibitions of non-cultural relics, traveling exhibitions, and educational activities. The date of completion of the Beijing Free Port and the commencement and scope of any storage, auction or private selling activities by the Beijing Joint Venture, as well as any earnings or losses resulting from the operation of the Beijing Joint Venture, are uncertain. However, management believes that the Beijing Joint Venture will strategically enhance Sotheby's long-term presence in mainland China and allow it to potentially capitalize on the opportunities presented by the Chinese art market, which Sotheby's currently serves through its existing operations in Hong Kong. (See statement on Forward Looking Statements and Part II, Item 1A, "Risk Factors.")

Sotheby's is also currently in negotiations with the Chinese government to obtain the license required to operate as a Foreign-Invested Commercial Enterprise ("FICE") in order to establish a wholly-owned subsidiary, through which Sotheby's would operate independently in China outside of the Beijing Free Port in the same or similar businesses conducted by the Beijing Joint Venture, other than auctions. Management intends to establish the FICE in Beijing in 2013, with an initial focus on private sales, the hosting of traveling exhibitions and other client liaison activities. (See statement on Forward Looking Statements and Part II, Item 1A, "Risk Factors.")

In addition, Sotheby's has entered into exclusive discussions with The European Fine Art Foundation ("TEFAF"), which has managed the world's leading art fair at Maastricht in the Netherlands for 27 years, to explore the possibilities of developing a high-end art fair in Beijing using the Beijing Joint Venture as a platform. Sotheby's, its joint venture partner GeHua, and TEFAF are currently in discussions with Beijing municipal authorities regarding a non-binding Memorandum of Understanding that would broadly outline plans and assign responsibilities for a possible 2014 fair to be named TEFAF International Art Fair, Beijing. It is expected that the parties will continue to negotiate the details of any collaboration and enter into interim non-binding arrangements, with a view towards concluding a formal binding agreement later this year. Any such agreement remains uncertain at this time. (See statement on Forward Looking Statements and Part II, Item 1A, "Risk Factors.")

LEGISLATION

In July 2010, the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the "Dodd-Frank Act") was signed into law in the U.S. This legislation will significantly change the current banking and financial institution regulatory structure and affect the lending, deposit, investment, trading and operating activities of such financial institutions. Management continues to review the provisions of the Dodd-Frank Act, many of which are phased-in over time, and to assess its impact on Sotheby's operations. However, while the ultimate effect of the Dodd-Frank Act on the financial services industry in general is uncertain at this time, management does not currently believe that this legislation will have a material impact on Sotheby's business. (See statement on Forward Looking Statements.)

FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Form 10-Q contains certain forward looking statements; as such term is defined in Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, relating to future events and the financial performance of Sotheby's. Such statements are only predictions and involve risks and uncertainties, resulting in the possibility that the actual events or performance will differ materially from such predictions. Major factors which could cause the actual results to differ materially from the predicted results in the forward looking statements include, but are not limited to, the factors listed below under Part II, Item 1A, "Risk Factors," which are not ranked in any particular order.

ITEM 3: QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Management continually evaluates the market risk associated with its financial instruments in the normal course of its business. As of June 30, 2013, Sotheby's material financial instruments include: (i) cash and cash equivalents, (ii) restricted cash, (iii) notes receivable, (iv) the York Property Mortgage, (v) the 2022 Senior Notes, (vi) the DCP liability and related trust assets, and (vii) outstanding forward exchange contracts. (See Note 5 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for information related to notes receivable. See Note 6 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for information related to the York Property Mortgage and the 2022 Senior Notes.) Management believes that the interest rate risk associated with its financial instruments is minimal as a hypothetical 10% increase or decrease in interest rates is immaterial to its cash flow, earnings, and the fair value of its financial instruments. As of June 30, 2013, a hypothetical 10% strengthening or weakening of the U.S. dollar relative to all other currencies would result in a decrease or increase in Sotheby's cash balances of approximately $56 million.

Sotheby's utilizes forward exchange contracts to hedge cash flow exposures related to foreign currency exchange rate movements, which primarily arise from short-term foreign currency denominated intercompany balances and, to a much lesser extent, foreign currency denominated client payable balances. Such forward exchange contracts are typically short-term with settlement dates less than six months from their inception. All derivative financial instruments are entered into by Sotheby's global treasury function, which is responsible for monitoring and managing Sotheby's exposure to foreign currency exchange rate movements. As of June 30, 2013, the notional value of outstanding forward exchange contracts was $30 million. Notional values do not quantify risk or represent assets or liabilities of Sotheby's, but are used to calculate cash settlements under outstanding forward exchange contracts. Sotheby's is exposed to credit-related risks in the event of nonperformance by the three counterparties to its outstanding forward exchange contracts. Sotheby's does not expect any of these counterparties to fail to meet their obligations, given their high short-term (A1/P1) credit ratings.

ITEM 4: CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Disclosure Controls and Procedures

As of June 30, 2013, the Company has carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of the Company's management, including the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, of the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures. Based upon that evaluation, the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Exchange Act Rule 13a-15(e)) were effective as of June 30, 2013.

Changes in Internal Control over Financial Reporting

There was no change in the Company's internal control over financial reporting that occurred during the Company's most recent fiscal quarter that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

PART II: OTHER INFORMATION

ITEM 1: LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

See Note 9 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for information related to legal proceedings.

ITEM 1A: RISK FACTORS

Sotheby's operating results and liquidity are significantly influenced by a number of risk factors, many of which are not within its control. These factors, which are not ranked in any particular order, are discussed below.

The global economy and the financial markets and political conditions of various countries may negatively affect Sotheby's business and clients, as well as the supply of and demand for works of art.

The international art market is influenced over time by the overall strength and stability of the global economy and the financial markets of various countries, although this correlation may not be immediately evident. In addition, global political conditions and world events may affect Sotheby's business through their effect on the economies of various countries, as well as on the willingness of potential buyers and sellers to purchase and sell art in the wake of economic uncertainty. Sotheby's business can be particularly influenced by the economies, financial markets and political conditions of the U.S., the U.K., China and the other major countries or territories of Europe and Asia (including the Middle East). Accordingly, weakness in those economies and financial markets can adversely affect the supply of and demand for works of art and Sotheby's business. Furthermore, global political conditions may also influence the enactment of legislation that could adversely impact Sotheby's business.

Government laws and regulations may restrict or limit Sotheby's business or impact the value of its real estate assets. Many of Sotheby's activities are subject to laws and regulations including, but not limited to, import and export regulations, cultural property ownership laws, data protection and privacy laws, anti-money laundering laws, antitrust laws, copyright and resale royalty laws, laws and regulations involving sales, use, value-added and other indirect taxes, and regulations related to the use of real estate. In addition, Sotheby's is subject to local auction regulations, such as New York City Auction Regulations Subchapter M of Title 6 §§ 2-121-2-125, et. seq. Such regulations currently do not impose a material impediment to the worldwide business of Sotheby's, but do affect the market generally. A material adverse change in such regulations, such as the Equity for Visual Artists bill introduced in the U.S. Congress which would impose a 7% resale royalty on sales of art through large auction houses, could affect Sotheby's business. Additionally, export and import laws and cultural property ownership laws could affect the availability of certain kinds of property for sale at Sotheby's principal auction locations, increase the cost of moving property to such locations, or expose Sotheby's to legal claims or government inquiries.

Foreign currency exchange rate movements can significantly impact Sotheby's results of operations and financial condition.

Sotheby's has operations throughout the world, with approximately 56% of its revenues earned outside of the U.S. in 2012. Additionally, Sotheby's has significant assets and liabilities denominated in the Pound Sterling and the Euro. Revenues and expenses relating to Sotheby's foreign operations are translated using weighted average monthly exchange rates during the period in which they are recognized and assets and liabilities relating to Sotheby's foreign operations are translated using month-end exchange rates. Accordingly, fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates, particularly for the Pound Sterling and the Euro, can significantly impact Sotheby's results of operations and financial condition.

Competition in the international art market is intense and may adversely impact Sotheby's results of operations. Sotheby's competes with other auctioneers and art dealers to obtain valuable consignments to offer for sale either at auction or through private sale. The level of competition is intense and can adversely impact Sotheby's ability to obtain valuable consignments for sale, as well as the commission margins achieved on such consignments. Sotheby's cannot be assured of the amount and quality of property consigned for sale, which may cause significant variability in its financial results.

The amount and quality of property consigned for sale is influenced by a number of factors not within Sotheby's control. Many major consignments, and specifically single-owner sale consignments, often become available as a result of the death or financial or marital difficulties of the owner, all of which are unpredictable and may cause significant variability in Sotheby's financial results from period to period.

The demand for art is unpredictable, which may cause significant variability in Sotheby's results of operations. The demand for art is influenced not only by overall economic conditions, but also by changing trends in the art market as to which collecting categories and artists are most sought after and by the collecting preferences of individual collectors, all of which are difficult to predict and which may adversely impact the ability of Sotheby's to obtain and sell consigned property, potentially causing significant variability in Sotheby's results of operations from period to period.

The loss of key personnel could adversely impact Sotheby's ability to compete.

Sotheby's is largely a service business in which the ability of its employees to develop and maintain relationships with potential sellers and buyers of works of art is essential to its success. Moreover, Sotheby's business is unique, making it important to retain key specialists and members of management. Accordingly, Sotheby's business is highly dependent upon its success in attracting and retaining qualified personnel.

The strategic initiatives being implemented by Sotheby's may not succeed.

Sotheby's strategic initiatives are focused on extending the breadth and depth of its relationships with its most valuable clients, developing a presence in China and other emerging markets, enhancing its private sales capabilities, and the retention of key personnel. Sotheby's future operating results are dependent, in part, on management's success in implementing these and other strategic initiatives. Furthermore, the inability of Sotheby's to successfully implement its strategic initiatives could result in, among other things, the loss of clients, the loss of key personnel, the impairment of assets, and inefficiencies from operating in new and emerging markets. Also, Sotheby's short-term operating results could be unfavorably impacted by the opportunity and financial costs associated with the implementation of its strategic plans. (See "Strategic Initiatives in China" within Part I, Item 2, "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" and statement on Forward Looking Statements.)

Sotheby's recently approved joint venture in China is a foreign-invested enterprise under Chinese law. As such, enforcement of certain of Sotheby's rights within the joint venture are subject to approval from the Chinese government, which could limit the ability of the joint venture to operate and succeed.

In September 2012, Sotheby's received approval from the Chinese government to form and operate a 10-year equity joint venture with Beijing GeHua Art Company in China, which management believes will strategically enhance Sotheby's long-term presence in mainland China and allow it to potentially capitalize on the opportunities presented by the Chinese art market. (See "Strategic Initiatives in China" within Part I, Item 2, "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" and statement on Forward Looking Statements.)

Because the joint venture is a foreign-invested enterprise under Chinese law, all changes in shareholding and constitution of the joint venture will be subject to approval by the Chinese government, including in the event Sotheby's is seeking to terminate the joint venture agreement, exercise its put option, or wind-up the joint venture.

Accordingly, Sotheby's ability to successfully operate the joint venture and enforce the joint venture agreement provisions could be constrained by the Chinese government and other unforeseen circumstances.

Sotheby's is currently in negotiations with the Chinese government to obtain the license required to operate as a Foreign-Invested Commercial Enterprise in order to establish a wholly-owned subsidiary in China. Sotheby's negotiations to obtain the license required to operate as a Foreign-Invested Commercial Enterprise in China may not be successful.

Sotheby's establishment of a wholly-owned subsidiary in China is subject to the receipt of a license from the Chinese government. Sotheby's may not be successful in obtaining this license, which could delay or inhibit its ability to further implement its strategic initiatives in China. (See "Strategic Initiatives in China" within Part I, Item 2, "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" and statement on Forward Looking Statements.)

A breach of the security measures protecting Sotheby's global network of information systems and those of certain third-party service providers utilized by Sotheby's may occur.

Sotheby's is dependent on a global network of information systems to conduct its business and is committed to maintaining a strong infrastructure to secure these systems. As part of its information systems infrastructure, Sotheby's relies, to a certain extent, upon third-party service providers to perform services such as BIDnow, retail wine e-commerce and website server hosting. While these third-party service providers offer unique and specialized information security measures, certain elements of Sotheby's global information system security are outside management's direct control due to the use of these service providers. These third-party service providers are contractually obligated to host and maintain the service in a professional manner, in accordance with the rules and standards generally accepted within the industry. This includes conventional security measures such as firewall, password and encryption protection, breach notification requirements, and PCI practices for credit card processing services. A breach of the security measures protecting Sotheby's information systems could adversely impact its operations, reputation, and brand.

Sotheby's business continuity plans may not be effective in addressing the impact of unexpected events that could impact its business.

Sotheby's inability to successfully implement its business continuity plans in the wake of an unexpected event, such as an act of God or a terrorist attack occurring near one of its major selling and/or sourcing offices and/or any other unexpected event, could disrupt its ability to operate and adversely impact its operations.

Sotheby's relies on a small number of clients who make a significant contribution to its revenues, profitability and operating cash flows.

Sotheby's relies on a small number of clients who make a significant contribution to its revenues, profitability, and operating cash flows. Accordingly, Sotheby's revenues, profitability, and operating cash flows are highly dependent upon its ability to develop and maintain relationships with this small group of clients, as well as the financial strength of these clients.

Subject to management approval under Sotheby's policy, Sotheby's may pay the consignor before payment is collected from the buyer and/or may allow the buyer to take possession of purchased property before payment is received. In these situations, Sotheby's is exposed to losses in the event the buyer does not make payment.

Under the standard terms and conditions of its auction and private sales, Sotheby's is not obligated to pay the consignor for property that has not been paid for by the buyer. However, in certain instances and subject to management approval under Sotheby's policy, the consignor may be paid the net sale proceeds before payment is collected from the buyer while Sotheby's retains possession of the property. In such situations, if the buyer does not make payment, Sotheby's will take title to the property, but could be exposed to losses if the value of the property declines. In certain other situations and subject to management approval under Sotheby's policy, the buyer is allowed to take possession of purchased property before making payment. In these situations, Sotheby's is liable to the seller for the net sale proceeds whether or not the buyer makes payment and would incur losses in the event of buyer default. (See Note 5 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for information about auction and private sale receivables.)

Sotheby's ability to collect auction receivables may be adversely impacted by buyers from emerging markets, as well as by the banking and foreign currency laws and regulations, and judicial systems of the countries in which it operates and in which its clients reside.

Sotheby's operates in 40 countries and has a worldwide client base that has grown in recent years due in part to a dramatic increase in the activity of buyers from emerging markets, and in particular, China. The collection of auction receivables related to buyers from emerging markets may be adversely impacted by the buyer's lack of familiarity with the auction process and the buyer's financial condition. Sotheby's ability to collect auction receivables may also be adversely impacted by the banking and foreign currency laws and regulations regarding the movement of funds out of certain countries, as well as by Sotheby's ability to enforce its rights as a creditor in jurisdictions where the applicable laws and regulations may be less defined, particularly in emerging markets.

Demand for art-related financing is unpredictable, which may cause variability in Sotheby's results of operations. Sotheby's business is, in part, dependent on the demand for art-related financing, which can be significantly influenced by overall economic conditions and by the often unpredictable financial requirements of owners of major art collections. Accordingly, the financial results of Sotheby's Finance segment are subject to variability from period to period.

The ability of Sotheby's to realize proceeds from the sale of collateral for Finance segment loans may be delayed or limited.

In situations when there are competing claims on the collateral for Finance segment loans and/or when a borrower becomes subject to bankruptcy or insolvency laws, Sotheby's ability to realize proceeds from the sale of its collateral may be limited or delayed.

The value of art is subjective and often fluctuates, exposing Sotheby's to losses in the value of its inventory and loan collateral and significant variability in its results of operations.

The art market is not a highly liquid trading market. As a result, the valuation of art is inherently subjective, and the realizable value of art often fluctuates over time. Accordingly, Sotheby's is at risk both as to the realizable value of art held in inventory and as to the realizable value of art pledged as collateral for client loans.

In estimating the realizable value of art, management relies on the opinions of Sotheby's specialists, who consider the following complex array of factors when valuing art: (i) whether the artwork is expected to be offered at auction or sold privately, in the ordinary course of Sotheby's business; (ii) the supply and demand for works of art, taking into account economic conditions and changing trends in the art market as to which collecting categories and artists are most sought after; and (iii) recent sale prices achieved in the art market for comparable works of art within a particular collecting category and/or by a particular artist.

If management determines that the estimated realizable value of a specific artwork held in inventory is less than its carrying value, a loss is recorded to reflect management's revised estimate of realizable value. In addition, if the estimated realizable value of the art pledged as collateral for a client loan is less than the corresponding loan balance, management assesses whether it is necessary to record a loss to reduce the carrying value of the loan, after taking into account the ability of the borrower to repay any shortfall between the value of the collateral and the amount of the loan. These factors may cause significant variability in Sotheby's financial results from period to period.

Sotheby's could be exposed to losses as a result of various claims and lawsuits incidental to the ordinary course of its business.

Sotheby's becomes involved in various claims and lawsuits incidental to the ordinary course of its business.

Management is required to assess the likelihood of any adverse judgments or outcomes in these matters, as well as potential ranges of probable or reasonably possible losses. A determination of the amount of losses, if any, to be recorded or disclosed as a result of these contingencies is based on a careful analysis of each individual exposure with, in some cases, the assistance of outside legal counsel. The amount of losses recorded or disclosed for such contingencies may change in the future due to new developments in each matter or a change in settlement strategy. Sotheby's could be exposed to losses in the event of title or authenticity claims arising from the sale of works of art. The assessment of works of art offered for auction or private sale can involve potential claims regarding title and authenticity. Items sold by Sotheby's may be subject to statutory warranties as to title and to a limited guarantee as to authenticity under the Conditions of Sale and Terms of Guarantee that are published in Sotheby's auction sale catalogues and the terms stated in, and the laws applicable to, agreements governing private sale transactions. The authentication of works of art is based on scholarship and research, but necessarily requires a degree of judgment from Sotheby's art experts. In the event of a title or authenticity claim against Sotheby's, Sotheby's may have recourse against the seller of the property and may have the benefit of insurance, but a claim could nevertheless expose Sotheby's to losses and to reputational risk.

Auction guarantees create the risk of loss resulting from the potential inaccurate valuation of art.

As discussed above, the art market is not a highly liquid trading market and, as a result, the valuation of art is inherently subjective. Accordingly, Sotheby's is at risk with respect to management's ability to estimate the likely selling prices of works of art offered with auction guarantees. If management's judgments about the likely selling prices of works of art offered with auction guarantees prove to be inaccurate, there could be a significant adverse impact on Sotheby's results of operations, financial condition and liquidity. (See Note 10 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for information related to auction guarantees.)

Sotheby's could be exposed to losses in the event of nonperformance by its counterparties in auction guarantee risk and reward sharing arrangements.

In certain situations, Sotheby's reduces its financial exposure under auction guarantees through risk and reward sharing arrangements. Sotheby's counterparties to these risk and reward sharing arrangements are typically major international art dealers or major art collectors. Sotheby's could be exposed to losses in the event any of these counterparties do not perform according to the terms of these contractual arrangements. (See Note 10 of Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements for information related to auction guarantee risk and reward sharing arrangements.)

Future costs and obligations related to the Sotheby's U.K. Pension Plan are dependent on unpredictable factors, which may cause significant variability in employee benefit costs.

Future costs and obligations related to Sotheby's defined benefit pension plan in the U.K. are heavily influenced by changes in interest rates, investment performance in the debt and equity markets, changes in statutory requirements in the U.K., and actuarial assumptions, each of which is unpredictable and may cause significant variability in Sotheby's employee benefit costs.

Tax matters may cause significant variability in Sotheby's financial results.

Sotheby's operates in many tax jurisdictions throughout the world and the provision for income taxes involves a significant amount of management judgment regarding interpretation of relevant facts and laws in the jurisdictions in which Sotheby's operates. Sotheby's effective income tax rate can vary significantly between periods due to a number of complex factors including, but not limited to: (i) future changes in applicable laws; (ii) projected levels of taxable income; (iii) pre-tax income being lower than anticipated in countries with lower statutory rates or higher than anticipated in countries with higher statutory rates; (iv) increases or decreases to valuation allowances recorded against deferred tax assets; (v) tax audits conducted by various tax authorities; (vi) adjustments to income taxes upon finalization of income tax returns; (vii) the ability to claim foreign tax credits; (viii) the repatriation of non-U.S. earnings for which Sotheby's has not previously provided for income taxes; and (ix) tax planning.

Sotheby's clients reside in various tax jurisdictions throughout the world. To the extent that there are changes to tax laws or tax reporting obligations in any of these jurisdictions, such changes could adversely impact the ability and/or willingness of clients to purchase or sell works of art through Sotheby's. Additionally, Sotheby's is subject to laws and regulations in many countries involving sales, use, value-added and other indirect taxes which are assessed by various governmental authorities and imposed on certain revenue-producing transactions between Sotheby's and its clients. The application of these laws and regulations to Sotheby's unique business and global client base, and the estimation of any related liabilities, is complex and requires a significant amount of judgment. These indirect tax liabilities are generally not those of Sotheby's unless it fails to collect the correct amount of sales, value-added, or other indirect taxes. Failure to collect the correct amount of indirect tax on a transaction may expose Sotheby's to claims from tax authorities.

Insurance coverage for artwork may become more difficult to obtain, exposing Sotheby's to losses for artwork in Sotheby's possession.

Sotheby's maintains insurance coverage through brokers and underwriters for the works of art it owns and for works of art consigned to it by its clients, which are exhibited and stored at Sotheby's facilities around the world. An inability to adequately insure such works of art due to limited capacity of the global art insurance market could, in the future, have a material adverse impact on Sotheby's business.

Due to the nature of its business, valuable works of art are exhibited and stored at Sotheby's facilities around the world. Such works of art could be subject to damage or theft, which could have a material adverse effect on Sotheby's business and reputation.

Valuable works of art are exhibited and stored at Sotheby's facilities around the world. Although Sotheby's maintains state of the art security measures at its premises, valuable artworks may be subject to damage or theft. The damage or theft of valuable artworks despite Sotheby's security measures could have a material adverse impact on Sotheby's business and reputation. Sotheby's maintains insurance coverage for the works of art that are exhibited and stored at its facilities, which could significantly mitigate any potential losses resulting from the damage or theft of such works of art.
