PRESS RELEASE

The National Security Group, Inc. Declares Dividend and Revision to Dividend Policy

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

For Additional Information: Contact Brian McLeod – Chief Financial Officer @ (334) 897-2273.

ELBA, ALABAMA (October 21, 2008)...On October 18, 2008 the Board of Directors of The National Security Group, Inc. (NASDAQ:NSEC), declared a quarterly dividend of $.225 per share. This cash dividend is payable on November 28, 2008 to shareholders of record on November 10, 2008.

In conjunction with the announcement of the regular quarterly dividend, the Board of Directors and Company Management is releasing guidance regarding the outlook for future dividend payments and notifying investors of a revision to the Company's dividend policy:

The National Security Group, Inc. has 30-year history of providing a steady return on investment through the payment of dividends to shareholders. These dividends have contributed significantly to total shareholder return and have provided a steady, predictable income stream that is important to a large portion of our shareholder base.

Three significant events have occurred in 2008 that have forced us to revise our dividend policy. First, we have encountered an unusually high frequency of catastrophe related losses. In the first half of 2008 we incurred over $2.9 million (net of tax) in tornado and windstorm-related losses. In September of 2008 we incurred significant losses from Hurricanes Gustav and Ike, primarily in Louisiana and Texas. Losses from these two storms will cost in excess of $5.9 million net of reinsurance. The unprecedented frequency of storm activity will significantly reduce our 2008 earnings and capital position. While we remain adequately capitalized, we must focus on restoring capital levels in order to focus on long term growth and maximization of shareholder value.

Second, the recent adverse developments in the financial markets have affected our investments. We will incur charges to third quarter earnings of $1.2 million (net of tax) for Other Than Temporary Impairments to investments we hold in our portfolio. We will also incur reductions to our capital due to mark to market accounting rules that will adversely affect many of our corporate bond holdings and equity investments. We expect to ultimately recover substantially all of the reductions not related to Other Than Temporary Impairments, but will incur near term reductions in our capital position that must be addressed now.

Third, due to the unprecedented events that have unfolded in the global financial markets over the last few months we believe the ability to raise new capital in the financial sector, especially for smaller public companies, is going to be severely restricted. Further, if capital becomes available, we believe it will be more expensive. Therefore, we believe it prudent to adopt a more conservative dividend payout policy in order to rebuild the balance sheet strength of the Company. We are confident this will ultimately maximize long-term shareholder value.

As a consequence of these events, we are undertaking a comprehensive plan to restore and grow capital to help us take advantage of the opportunities that lie ahead. As part of this plan the Board of Directors has adopted a new dividend policy under which our quarterly dividend payouts will be reduced from $0.225 per share to approximately $0.15 per share. The Board will work with management each year to determine if our financial position will allow for any enhanced dividends to be paid, based upon the operating results of the Company and our anticipated near term capital needs. We believe these changes are in the best long term interests of the Company and our shareholders, and strike a compromise between maintaining a return to shareholders and ensuring a solid capital position for the Company.

With its home office in Elba, Alabama, The National Security Group, Inc. is an insurance holding company. Company shares are traded on the NASDAQ Global Market under the symbol NSEC.
