Item 5. OTHER EVENTS

SCOLR, Inc. (the Company) entered into an Evaluation Agreement for Drug Delivery Systems dated as of August 1, 2003 (the Agreement) with a leading Fortune 100 technology based company operating in 70 countries and offering a range of products and services to agricultural, nutritional, chemical, pharmaceutical and industrial markets (the Contract Party). Pursuant to this Agreement, the Company and the Contract Party will work together to identify potential opportunities where the Company's technology might be useful in complementing the Contract Party's offerings and potentially accelerating the Company's introduction of its CDT® platform to the pharmaceutical market.

Under the terms of the Agreement, the companies will work exclusively with each other in developing certain mutually agreed upon commercial pharmaceutical compounds employing the CDT platform. Upon successful completion of development of an identified compound, the Contract Party will have the exclusive right to negotiate a license agreement with SCOLR for a specified period of time. The Agreement has an initial term of one year. The companies have already identified and begun work on the first potential opportunity (molecule).
