Item 2.02. Results of Operations and Financial Condition.

During a conference call held on October 21, 2004 by Teleflex Incorporated (the Company) to discuss its financial results for the quarter ended September 26, 2004, the Company referenced a slide presentation, which was made available in advance of the call through the Company's website. The slide presentation is furnished as Exhibit 99.1 to this Current Report.

In addition to the financial information included in the slide presentation that has been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (GAAP), the slide presentation includes certain non-GAAP financial measures, which include free cash flow and debt to capital. With respect to such non-GAAP financial measures, the Company has provided a reconciliation of such non-GAAP financial measure to the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure.

Management believes that free cash flow is a useful measure of cash performance because it provides a meaningful representation of those cash flows, both operating and capital, that are associated with the Company's operations. In addition, management believes that the debt to capital financial measures provide a traditional means of assessing the Company's exposure to risks associated with debt and its financing structure. However, these non-GAAP measures should be considered in addition to, not as a substitute for, or superior to other financial measures prepared in accordance with GAAP. Additionally, non-GAAP financial measures as presented by the Company may not be comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies.

The information in this Current Report and Exhibit 99.1 shall not be deemed filed for purposes of Section 18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, nor shall it be deemed incorporated by reference into any filing under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.
