NOTES TO AUDITED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF BUSINESS ACQUIRED

Note 1. Description of Business Acquired and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of Operations:

Hunter & Associates Management Services, Inc. ("Hunter"), is a New Jersey Corporation, established in 1988 and converted to a Delaware Corporation in 1991. Corporate offices are located in St. Petersburg, Florida. Hunter provides a comprehensive range of performance improvement services to hospitals and health care systems, including physician practices, faculty practice plans, and provider owner-managed care organizations. Hunter also provides interim executive-level management services as well as consulting services related to hospital restructurings.

THG Investors, Inc. ("THG") was incorporated in the State of Florida on May 8, 1998 as a Florida C-Corporation. THG acquired one hundred percent (100%) of the stock of Hunter & Associates Management, Inc. on June 12, 1998. Effective January 1, 2001, THG elected to become an S-Corporation for federal tax purposes and Hunter & Associates Management Services, Inc. became a qualified Subchapter S subsidiary company of THG.

Edgar Filing: NAVIGANT CONSULTING INC - Form 8-K/A

Basis of Accounting:

The financial statements of Hunter were prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America which require management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in financial statements and related notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents:

Hunter considers all highly liquid investments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents. Cash equivalents are carried at cost, which approximates fair value.

Accounts Receivable:

Accounts receivable are recorded when clients are billed. The allowance for doubtful accounts is recorded based upon specific identification of potential uncollectible accounts. Accounts receivable also includes engagements in process, which represent the amount due for services that have been performed and earned but have not been billed to clients. Billings are generally done on a monthly basis for the prior month's service.

Revenue Recognition:

Revenues are derived from consulting and interim management services. Revenues are recognized as earned over the term of the underlying contractual agreements as the related professional services are provided. Certain contracts are accounted for on the percentage of completion method, whereby revenues are recognized based upon costs incurred in relation to total estimated costs at completion.

Property and Equipment:

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation is computed using the straight line method based on the estimated useful lives, ranging from five to seven years, of the various classes of property and equipment. Amortization of leasehold improvements is computed over the shorter of the remaining lease term or the estimated useful life of the asset.

Income Taxes:

Historically, Hunter's results have been included in THG's consolidated Federal and state income tax returns. The income tax provision is calculated as if Hunter had operated as an independent entity. Beginning January 1, 2001, Hunter became a qualified Subchapter S subsidiary. Therefore, no current or deferred federal taxes are recorded for 2001 as the individual stockholders include their pro rata share of Hunter's taxable income in their separate income tax returns. The income tax provision is comprised of state income taxes for which Hunter was subject to state income taxes in certain jurisdictions.

Goodwill:

The acquisition of all of the stock of Hunter & Associates Management Services, Inc. by THG Investors, Inc. resulted in $12.7 million of goodwill, which was "pushed down" to Hunter following the acquisition. Goodwill has been amortized for financial reporting purposes on a straight-line basis over a fifteen-year period. However, this goodwill was not deductible for income tax reporting purposes.

The notes payable to SunTrust Bank are dated December 2, 1999, were secured by all business assets, and bear interest at the rate of 7.5 percent per annum. The principal was due in equal installments of $0.7 million, commencing on January 1, 2000 and then each successive quarter thereafter through and including October 1, 2002. Deferred:
Federal	-	-	(4)
State	-	-	(5)
Total	-	-	(9)
Total income tax expense	$ 140	$1,228	$3,769

Year 2001: Effective January 1, 2001, THG elected to become an S-corporation for federal tax purposes and Hunter became a qualified Subchapter S subsidiary company of THG. Therefore, no current or deferred federal taxes are recorded for 2001 as the individual stockholders include their pro rata share of Hunter's taxable income in their separate income tax returns. The income tax provision is comprised of state income taxes for which Hunter was subject to state income taxes in certain jurisdictions.

Year 2000 and 1999: The income tax provision differs from the expense that would result from applying federal statutory rates to income before income taxes because certain expenses are not deductible for tax purposes.

Item 7.

(b) Pro Forma Financial Information

The following unaudited pro forma information is presented to show the estimated effects of the acquisition of Hunter & Associates Management Services, Inc. (Hunter) by Navigant Consulting, Inc. ("the Company").

Edgar Filing: NAVIGANT CONSULTING INC - Form 8-K/A

The pro forma combined statements of operations combine the companies' respective statements of operations as if the acquisition had occurred at the beginning of the periods presented. The unaudited pro forma combined statements of operations are based on the assumptions and adjustments described in the accompanying notes.

The pro forma adjustments to give effect to the acquisition are based upon the purchase method of accounting and upon the assumptions set forth in the accompanying notes. This pro forma combined financial information should be read in conjunction with the historical financial statements of the Company, filed as part of the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2001 and the historical financial statements of Hunter, which are contained herein.

The pro forma adjustments do not reflect cost savings from synergies which may be realized nor integration costs to be incurred subsequent to the acquisition.

The unaudited pro forma combined statements of operations are not necessarily indicative of the operating results that would have occurred had the acquisition been consummated at the beginning of the periods. Therefore these unaudited pro forma combined financial statements should not be construed as representative of future operations. For purposes of preparing the Company's consolidated financial statements subsequent to the acquisition, the Company will establish a new basis for Hunter's assets and liabilities based upon the fair values thereof and the aggregate purchase price, including the costs of the acquisition. A final determination of required purchase accounting adjustments, including the allocation of the purchase price to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on their respective fair values, has not yet been completed. Accordingly, the purchase accounting adjustments made in connection with the development of the pro forma combined financial information are preliminary and have been made solely for purposes of developing such pro forma combined financial information. The Company has undertaken a study to determine the fair value of certain of Hunter's assets and liabilities and will make appropriate purchase accounting adjustments upon completion of that study. The actual financial position and results of operations will differ, perhaps significantly, from the pro forma amounts reflected herein.

NOTES TO PRO FORMA COMBINED STATEMENTS OF OPERATIONS

- a) The accompanying pro forma combined statement of operations for the year ended December 31, 2001 combines the Navigant Consulting Inc. ("the Company") consolidated statement of operations with the statement of operations of Hunter & Associates Management Services, Inc. ("Hunter") for the period then ended, as if the acquisition had been consummated at January 1, 2001.

The accompanying pro forma combined statements of operations for the nine month periods ended September 30, 2002 and 2001 combine the Company consolidated statements of operations through the periods then ended with the statements of operations of Hunter for the nine month period ended September 30, 2001 and for the period from January 1, 2002 through September 17, 2002 (Hunter's results after September 17, 2002 are included in the Company's results), as if the acquisition had been consummated as of the beginning of each period.

The pro forma combined statements of operations do not include pro forma adjustments to give effect to cost savings from synergies which may be realized subsequent to the acquisition. One-time, nonrecurring transaction and integration costs associated with the acquisition are not included in these pro forma combined statements of operations.

- b) This adjustment represents the recognition of amortization expense attributable to the excess purchase price over the net assets acquired. Since the study to determine the fair value of certain acquired assets and liabilities is not yet complete, the excess purchase price has not been allocated to any intangible assets other than goodwill. An amortization period of ten years was assumed given the Company's historical policy for determining the estimated useful life of goodwill.

Amortization of goodwill has not been recorded in the nine month period ended September 30, 2002 because the Company ceased amortization beginning January 1, 2002, as required by Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangibles".

- c) This adjustment represents Federal income taxes that would have been recorded by Hunter had it not been a Subchapter S corporation and had instead been required to pay Federal income taxes.
- d) This adjustment gives effect to the impact on weighted average shares outstanding for the 1.465 million shares issued by the Company upon the closing of the acquisition of Hunter, plus the shares distributable in the future as described in the next paragraph.

Under the terms of the acquisition agreement, the Company must distribute to the seller its common stock with an aggregate value of $6.5 million, in equal installments, on the first and second anniversaries of the acquisition. If either party elects, up to 67 percent of such distribution would be payable, in cash. For purposes of the pro forma combined statements of operations, the Company has assumed that the maximum number of shares (1.120 million shares) would be distributed, and such shares were deemed to be outstanding throughout each of the periods.
