ITEM 2. ACQUISITION OR DISPOSITION OF ASSETS

On June 18, 2002, Goodrich Corporation (the Company) announced that it had entered into a definitive agreement with TRW Inc. to acquire TRW Inc.'s Aeronautical Systems businesses for $1.5 billion in cash. The purchase price was determined by arm's-length negotiations between the Company and TRW following an auction process conducted by TRW. The Company completed the acquisition on October 1, 2002.

The acquired businesses design and manufacture commercial and military aerospace systems and equipment, including engine controls, flight controls, power systems, cargo systems, hoists and winches, and actuation systems. These businesses employ approximately 6,200 employees in 22 facilities in nine countries, including manufacturing and service operations in the United Kingdom, France, Germany, Canada, the United States and several Asia/Pacific countries.

The acquired businesses sell aeronautical systems to major airlines and aircraft producers, as well as to the U.S. government and foreign governments and agencies.

The Company financed the acquisition through borrowings under a $1.5 billion, 364-day credit facility provided by Citibank, N.A., Merrill Lynch Capital Corporation, Bank of America, N.A., Bank One, N.A. and JPMorgan Chase Bank. The credit facility expires on July 29, 2003. The Company expects to repay amounts outstanding under this credit facility from the net proceeds from long-term financing composed of a mix of debt and equity securities, cash from operations and the net proceeds from the sale of operating and non-operating assets.

ITEM 5. OTHER EVENTS

SFAS No. 142 Goodwill Impairment

Effective July 1, 2001, the Company adopted the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 142 Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets (SFAS 142) applicable to business combinations completed after June 30, 2001. Effective January 1, 2002, additional provisions of SFAS 142, relating to business combinations completed prior to June 30, 2001, became effective and were adopted by the Company. Under the provisions of the standard, intangible assets deemed to have indefinite lives and goodwill are not subject to amortization. All other intangible assets are amortized over their estimated useful lives. Intangible assets and goodwill are subject to annual impairment testing using the guidance and criteria described in the standard. This testing requires comparison of carrying values to fair values, and when appropriate, the carrying value of impaired assets is reduced to fair value.

During the second quarter of 2002, the Company performed the first of the required impairment tests of goodwill and indefinite lived intangible assets. Based on those results, the Company determined that it was likely that goodwill relating to the Aviation Technical Services reporting unit (ATS) had been impaired. ATS is included in the Aerostructures and Aviation Technical Services business segment. During the third quarter of 2002, the Company completed its measurement of the goodwill impairment and recognized an impairment of $36.1 million (representing total goodwill of this reporting unit), which was reported as a cumulative effect of an accounting change in the first quarter of 2002. The results of operations have been restated accordingly.

Retroactive Financial Statement Application

As noted above, the goodwill impairment charge was recorded as a cumulative effect of an accounting change retroactive to January 1, 2002. Table 1 and Table 2 reflect the impact of this accounting change on the condensed consolidated statement of income and balance sheet as of and for the six months ended June 30, 2002, as previously filed on the Company's Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2002. Table 3 and Table 4 reflect the impact of this accounting change on the condensed consolidated statement of income and balance sheet as of and for the quarter ended March 31, 2002, as previously filed on the Company's Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2002.
