Item 2.02

Results of Operations and Financial Condition.

On November 16, 2015, Medley Management Inc. (the “Company”) issued a press release announcing its financial results for its fiscal quarter ended September 30, 2015. The press release is furnished as Exhibit 99.1 to this Report.

As provided in General Instruction B.2 of Form 8-K, the information in this Item 2.02 and the exhibit attached hereto shall not be deemed to be “filed” for purposes of Section 18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, nor shall they be deemed to be incorporated by reference in any filing under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, except as shall be expressly set forth by specific reference in such filing.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

The Company makes reference to certain non-GAAP financial measures in the attached press release. A reconciliation of these non-GAAP financial measures to the most directly comparable financial measures calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP is contained in the attached press release.

Under GAAP, the Company is required to consolidate (a) entities in which the Company holds a majority voting interest or have majority ownership and control over the operational, financial and investing decisions of that entity, including affiliated funds, for which the Company is the general partner and are presumed to have control, and (b) entities that the Company concludes are variable interest entities, for which the Company is deemed the primary beneficiary. In order to make operating decisions, assess performance and allocate resources, management uses information derived from the Company’s combined and consolidated balance sheets and statements of operations that has been adjusted to eliminate the consolidating effects of certain funds on the Company’s combined and consolidated balance sheets and statements of operations, which the Company refers to as “standalone financial information” or information presented on a “standalone basis.” Revenues from management fees, performance fees and investment income on a standalone basis are greater than those presented on a combined and consolidated basis in accordance with GAAP because certain revenues recognized in certain segments received from these consolidated funds are eliminated in consolidation. Furthermore, expenses on a standalone basis are lower than related amounts presented on a combined and consolidated basis in accordance with GAAP due to the exclusion of the expenses of the consolidated funds. Standalone measures used by management include Pre-Tax Core Net Income, Core Net Income, Core EBITDA, Core Net Income Per Share and Core Net Income Margin.

Core Net Income is an income measure used by management to assess the performance of the Company’s business through the removal of non-core items, as well as non-recurring expenses associated with the Company’s initial public offering. Core Net Income reflects standalone net income attributable to Medley Management Inc. and non-controlling interests in Medley LLC adjusted to exclude reimbursable expenses associated with the launch of funds, certain one-time severance costs and stock-based compensation associated with restricted stock units that were granted in connection with our IPO. In addition, for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2014, Core Net Income includes the pro-forma adjustment to reflect guaranteed payments to Medley LLC members as compensation expense, that, prior to our reorganization and IPO, were recorded as distributions from members' capital. Core earnings before interest, income taxes, depreciation and amortization, or Core EBITDA, is an income measure also used by management to assess the performance of the Company's business. Core EBITDA is calculated as Core Net Income before interest expense, as well as taxes, depreciation and amortization.

These non-GAAP financial measures supplement and should be considered in addition to and not in lieu of the Company's consolidated results of operations calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP.
