(IV) Announce connected transaction information in an accurate and prompt manner and perform approval obligation for connected transaction management

In 2008, the Board of Directors examined and approved seven ordinary connected transactions at Board meetings or by written reports. These transactions were approved unanimously by all Directors. The Company closed connected transactions of small amounts, which shall be examined and approval by the President's Office, by completing all formalities and in compliance with due requirements. In 2008 there was no material connected transaction requiring approval from the shareholders' general meeting. In case of connected transactions where disclosure is required by the regulatory rules of the listing venue, the Company fulfilled the obligation as a listed company by making disclosure or announcements in a timely manner. In addition, the Company disclosed material connected transaction matters in its applicable interim and annual reports.

III. Aspects Requiring Further Improvements

In short, the execution by the Company of the connected transactions management system in 2008 effectively safeguarded the legitimate interest of the listed company and its small and medium-sized investors in compliance with requirements of laws, regulations and the regulatory authority. However, there is room for improvement in some aspects, namely:

(I) Better coordination for connected transaction management required

(II) Failure to adjust constitution of the Connected Transaction Review Committee timely

Pursuant to the provisions of the Company's Articles of the Connected Transaction Review Committee, the committee is a consultation body for connected transaction management under the President's Office. The committee comprises relevant members of the President's Office of the Company and major leaders of some departments. The personnel of the committee has changed due to duty shifts of some members. The constitution of the Connected Transaction Review Committee failed to reflect such change timely.

IV. Work Plan for the Year 2009

The Company plans to carry out in-depth connected transaction management in the following aspects in 2009 for the purpose of solidifying fundamentals of connected transaction management, regulating connected transaction management information reporting practice, correcting the flaws in connected transaction management, and minimizing risks of improper connected transactions:

(I) Carry out in-depth research into the guidelines of connected transaction management and adhere to laws and regulations thereof

First, study laws and regulations of connected transaction management, strengthen communication with the regulatory authorities and achieve in-depth understanding of the connotation of the applicable legal terms. Second, garner connected transaction management information, analyze issues of connected transaction management and comprehend the intrinsic laws of connected transaction management. Adhere to such intrinsic laws, identify connected transaction management guidelines, clarify focuses of connected transaction management, and solve outstanding issues and problems. Third, keep close watch on the Company's material connected transactions, fulfill disclosure and reporting obligations in connection with connected transactions, and perform fundamental and core work of connected transaction management in a down-to-earth manner.

(II) Organize connected transaction management training and communication and enhance connected transaction management awareness and level

First, conduct due training programs for the Company's connected transaction management personnel and enhance connected transaction identification and management. Second, via the communication in connection with amendments to the Insurance Law, carry out communication activities for connected transaction management.

(III) Take remedial measures against the drawbacks in connected transaction management for 2008

First, specify various duties, strengthen accountability, leverage on the role as the connected transaction communicator between the Company's departments and connected units, ensure timely and accurate communication of connected transaction information, and enhance the efficiency and quality of connected transaction management; second, reorganize the Connected Transaction Review Committee. The Company will update the roster of the Connected Transaction Review Committee promptly on the basis of adjustment of departments and personnel, and ensure the effective operation of the day-to-day decision-making mechanism of the Committee.
