OUR COMPANY

Because this is a summary, it does not contain all the information about us that may be important to you. You should read the more detailed information and the financial statements and related notes which are incorporated by reference in this prospectus.

Our business model is to acquire intellectual property, or IP, and IP-centric businesses directly and manage and develop these businesses using our scalable and flexible operating structure. We expect that this IP will include trademarks, trade names, copyrights, franchise rights, patents, trade secrets, know-how and other similar, valuable property, primarily in the retail and consumer branded products and franchise businesses. Our strategy will be to generate revenue from licensing and other commercial arrangements with third parties who want to use the IP that we acquire. These third parties will pay us licensing and other contractual fees and royalties for the right to use our IP on either an exclusive or non-exclusive basis. Our contractual arrangements may apply to a specific product market, a specific geographic market, or to multiple markets. We will execute this strategy by leveraging the collective professional experience of the work force we acquired through our acquisition of UCC Capital Corp. in June 2006 and by hiring additional personnel with required talents. We refer to this business as our intellectual property or IP business.

We will engage in the acquisition and management of established brands in various consumer product and franchise product categories, including apparel, footwear, and retail.

Historical Businesses

From 1999 until 2004, we owned, acquired and operated a number of mobile and wireless communications businesses. These businesses never became profitable, and during 2004 we sold these businesses and commenced our mortgage-backed securities, or MBS, business. As a result of the substantial losses incurred by our mobile and wireless communications businesses, we have more than $1 billion of accumulated tax loss carry-forwards. These accumulated tax loss carry-forwards are generally available through 2026 (subject to limitations in applicable tax laws and rules that might become applicable to us in the future) to offset income tax that we otherwise would have to pay in the future, to the extent that our business is profitable and generates taxable income. One of our company's principal business objectives is to operate profitably so that we can realize value, in the form of tax savings, from our accumulated tax loss carry-forwards. During the first quarter of 2005 we had substantially completed transitional activities that related to ongoing obligations we had to the buyers of our historic mobile and wireless communications businesses.

In 2005, market conditions for the MBS business changed significantly. In light of these changing market conditions, in late 2005 and into 2006 we explored additional and alternative business strategies that we thought could help us become profitable more quickly. As a result of these efforts, on June 6, 2006, we acquired UCC Capital Corp. and its affiliates and commenced our IP business. At the same time, we named UCC's former president and chief executive officer, Robert D. Loren, to become our president and chief executive officer, as well as a member of our board of directors. In September 2006, we hired David Meister to become our chief financial officer. We also have moved our corporate headquarters to New York City, where our IP business is based.

At the 2006 annual stockholders meeting, which was held on October 31, 2006, our stockholders approved the sale of our MBS portfolio for the purpose of discontinuing our MBS business and allocating all cash proceeds from such sale to the growth and development of our IP business.

Our Intellectual Property Business

Historically, UCC and its principals (including our president and chief executive officer, Mr. D Loren) provided banking, finance, consulting and other advisory services to IP-centric businesses. UCC did not own or manage an IP-centric business directly. While UCC plans to continue to provide these services to third-parties on a limited basis since we acquired it, our intention is to have a business model in which we acquire IP and IP-centric businesses directly and manage and develop these businesses using our scalable and flexible operating structure. We expect that this IP will include trademarks, trade names, copyrights, franchise rights, patents, trade secrets, know-how and other similar, valuable property, primarily in the retail and consumer branded products and franchise businesses.

Our strategy is to generate revenue from licensing and other commercial arrangements with third parties who want to use the IP that we expect to own. We expect that these third parties will pay us licensing and other contractual fees and royalties for the right to use our IP on either an exclusive or non-exclusive basis. Our contractual arrangements may apply to a specific product market, a specific geographic market, or to multiple markets.

A significant reason for our strategy is that it involves a highly scaleable business model, which we call our value net business model. Our value net business model does not require us to incur substantial operating or capital costs to expand the business, as we will not manufacture, warehouse or distribute the branded products associated with the IP we acquire (or build stores in the case of franchise operations). We intend to rely on third-party licensees and other business partners to incur such capital costs and perform such services. However, we will generally be involved in the marketing, promotion and quality control of products and services that make use of our IP (such as trademarks and trade names that we own), and we also may provide certain purchasing and training support services with respect to franchise operations.

We expect that licensing and other contractual fees paid to us will include a mixture of upfront payments, required periodic minimum payments (regardless of sales volumes), and volume-dependent periodic royalties (based upon the number or dollar amount of branded products and services sold). Accordingly, we expect that our revenues will reflect both recurring and non-recurring payment streams.

On November 7, 2006, we completed, through our NexCen Franchising Brands subsidiary, the purchase of all of the outstanding equity interests in Athlete's Foot Brands, LLC and Athlete's Foot Marketing Support Fund, LLC, along with certain nominal fixed assets for initial consideration of $51.5 million. The purchase price consisted of $42.1 million in cash and $9.4 million in common stock of NexCen. We intend to finance a portion of the cash amount of the purchase price with senior bank debt that we are in the process of negotiating. Athlete's Foot Brands is an athletic footwear and apparel franchisor with 600 retail locations in over 40 countries. Athlete's Foot Marketing provides advertising and marketing support for the benefit of the Athlete's Foot Brands franchisees, and receives a percentage of royalty revenue received from franchisees and in turn uses those funds for print advertising, public relations, marketing and market research for the benefit of franchisees.

NexCen is a Delaware corporation. Our principal executive offices are located at 1330 Avenue of the Americas, 40th Floor, New York, NY 10019, and our telephone number is (212) 277-1100. RISK FACTORS

Our business is subject to significant risks. You should carefully consider the risks and uncertainties described in this prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein, including the risks and uncertainties described in our consolidated financial statements and the notes to those financial statements and the risks and uncertainties described under the caption "Risk Factors" included in Part I, Item 1 of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2005, as supplemented by the changes to the risk factors we discuss in Item 1A of the Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended June 30, 2006, which are incorporated by reference in this prospectus. The risks and uncertainties described in this prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein are not the only ones facing us. Additional risks and uncertainties that we do not presently know about or that we currently believe are not material may also adversely affect our business. If any of the risks and uncertainties described in this prospectus or the documents incorporated by reference herein actually occur, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected in a material way. This could cause the trading price of our common stock to decline, perhaps significantly, and you may lose part or all of your investment.

Table of Contents

In addition to the foregoing, you should also consider the following risk factor:

Our stock price may be volatile, and the market price of our common stock may decline.

The stock market in general, and the market for stocks of companies similar to our, has been highly volatile. As a result, the market price of our common stock is likely to be similarly volatile, and investors in our common stock may experience a decrease, which could be substantial, in the value of their stock, including decreases unrelated to our operating performance or prospects, and could lose part or all of their investment. The price of our common stock could be subject to wide fluctuations in response to a number of factors, including those described elsewhere in this prospectus or the documents incorporated by reference herein and others such as:

variations in our operating performance and the performance of our competitors; actual or anticipated fluctuations in our quarterly or annual operating results;

publication of research reports by securities analysts about us or our competitors or our industry;

our failure or the failure of our competitors to meet analysts' projections or guidance that we or our competitors may give to the market;

additions and departures of key personnel;

strategic decisions by us or our competitors, such as acquisitions, strategic investments or changes in business strategy;

speculation in the press or investment community;

changes in accounting principles;

terrorist acts, acts of war or periods of widespread civil unrest;

changes in general market and economic conditions; and the factors discussed in the bullet points under "Forward-Looking Statements" below.

In the past, securities class action litigation has often been initiated against companies following periods of volatility in their stock price. This type of litigation could result in substantial costs and divert our management's attention and resources, and could also require us to make substantial payments to satisfy judgments or to settle litigation.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This prospectus and the information incorporated by reference herein contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the federal securities laws and the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These statements may be found throughout this prospectus and the documents incorporated by reference herein. Forward-looking statements typically are identified by the use of terms such as "may," "will," "should," "expect," "anticipate," "believe," "estimate," similar words, although some forward-looking statements are expressed differently. The information included and incorporated by reference under the heading Risk Factors in this prospectus provides examples of risks, uncertainties and events that could cause our actual results to differ materially from the expectations expressed in our forward-looking statements. These risks, uncertainties and events also include, but are not limited to, the following:

we may not be successful in implementing the new IP strategy;

we may not be able to acquire IP or IP centric companies or finance or exploit them on terms that are acceptable to us;

Table of Contents

we are likely to face substantial competition in seeking to acquire and market desirable IP and IP centric companies, and competitors may have substantially greater resources than we do;

we may not be able to realize value from our accumulated tax loss carry-forwards, because of a failure to generate sufficient taxable earnings, regulatory limits or both;

we may not be successful in operating or expanding The Athletes Foot® or integrating it into our IP business strategy;

risks associated with international operations and the operation of a franchise business, which are new operations and operating risks for NexCen;

general regional and national economic conditions; and loss or departure of one or more members of our senior management;

The forward-looking statements made in this prospectus or the documents incorporated by reference herein relate only to events as of the date on which the statements were made. We undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect events or circumstances after the date on which the statement was made or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events.

SELLING STOCKHOLDERS

The shares to be offered by the selling stockholders are restricted securities under applicable federal and state securities laws and are being registered under the Securities Act to give the selling stockholders the opportunity to sell these shares publicly. The registration of these shares does not require that any of the shares be offered or sold by the selling stockholders. The selling stockholders may from time to time offer and sell all or a portion of their shares indicated below in privately negotiated transactions or on the Nasdaq Global Market or any other market on which our common stock may subsequently be listed.

The registered shares may be sold directly or through brokers or dealers, or in a distribution by one or more underwriters on a firm commitment or best effort basis. To the extent required, the names of any agent or broker-dealer and applicable commissions or discounts and any other required information with respect to any particular offer will be set forth in a prospectus supplement. See Plan of Distribution, beginning on page 6. The selling stockholders and any agents or broker-dealers that participate with the selling stockholders in the distribution of registered shares may be deemed to be underwriters within the meaning of the Securities Act, and any commissions received by them and any profit on the resale of the registered shares may be deemed to be underwriting commissions or discounts under the Securities Act.

No estimate can be given as to the amount or percentage of our common stock that will be held by the selling stockholders after any sales made pursuant to this prospectus because the selling stockholders are not required to sell any of the shares being registered under this prospectus. The following table assumes that the selling stockholders will sell all of the shares listed in this prospectus.

The following table sets forth information with respect to the beneficial ownership of our common stock held, as of November 15, 2006, by the selling stockholders and the number of shares being offered hereby and information with respect to shares to be beneficially owned by the selling stockholders after completion of this of the shares of common stock offered in this prospectus by the selling stockholders. The anti-manipulation rules under the Exchange Act may apply to sales of shares in the market and to the activities of the selling stockholders and their affiliates. Furthermore, Regulation M may restrict the ability of any person engaged in the distribution of the shares to engage in market-making activities for the particular securities being distributed for a period of up to five business days before the distribution. The restrictions may affect the marketability of the shares and the ability of any person or entity to engage in market-making activities for the shares.

To the extent required, this prospectus may be amended and/or supplemented from time to time to describe a specific plan of distribution. Instead of selling the shares of common stock under this prospectus, the selling
