ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

(Item Number 1 on the Proxy Card)

The Board of Directors (the Board) is responsible for directing the management of the Company. IDG's Bylaws provide that the Board shall consist of not less than three nor more than fifteen directors, with the exact number being set from time to time by the Board. The Board presently consists of eight directors, each of whom serves until the expiration of his term and until his successor, if there is to be one, is elected and qualified.

The Board is divided into three classes as equal in number as possible. The terms of service of each class is staggered so that each director serves a three-year term. Three directors are to be elected at the 2006 Annual Meeting of Stockholders, to serve in Class II, with a term expiring in 2009 and until their successors are duly elected and qualified.

Upon the recommendation of the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee, the Board has nominated William R. Fenoglio, Charles A. Lingenfelter, and William T. Parr for election as Class II directors. Mr. Lingenfelter was appointed by the Board to serve as President and Chief Executive Officer and a director of the Company in November 2005, initially in Class III. In accordance with the Company's Certificate of Incorporation, Mr. Lingenfelter's initial term as a director expires at the 2006 Annual Meeting of the Stockholders. William J. Burkland, a Class II director whose term will expire at the 2006 Annual Meeting, will not be standing for re-election due to the time commitment and demands of his new employment position with a company not affiliated with IDG. Therefore, in light of Mr. Burkland's inability to stand for re-election and the expiration of Mr. Lingenfelter's initial term as director at the 2006 Annual Meeting, Mr. Lingenfelter is a nominee for election as a Class II director at the Annual Meeting.

In accordance with the Company's Bylaws, the Board has set the number of members that comprise the Board at seven effective upon the expiration of Mr. Burkland's term as director at the 2006 Annual Meeting. Directors are elected by a plurality of the votes cast by the holders of shares of Common Stock entitled to vote for the election of directors at a meeting at which a quorum is present. A quorum will be present for the Annual Meeting when the holders of a majority of the shares outstanding on the Record Date are present in person or by proxy. An abstention and a broker non-vote are included in determining whether a quorum is present, but will not affect the outcome of the vote for the election of directors. Unless otherwise indicated on a proxy, all duly executed proxies granted by the holders of Common Stock will be voted individually at the Annual Meeting for the election of each nominee. Each nominee has indicated that he will serve if elected, but if the situation should arise that either nominee is no longer able or willing to serve, the proxy may be voted for the election of such other person as may be designated by the Board.

Table of Contents

All nominees have consented to serve as directors if elected, but, if any of these persons are unable to accept election, proxies will be voted for the election of another candidate recommended by the Board. Proxies cannot be voted for more than three nominees however.

The Board of Directors recommends a vote FOR the election of all three nominees.

The Board has an Executive Committee, a Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee, an Audit Committee, and a Compensation Committee to which it has assigned certain responsibilities in connection with the governance and management of the Company's affairs. In furtherance of the Company's policy regarding the free flow of communication between the Company's stockholders and the Board, directors are encouraged to attend all annual stockholders' meetings. In this regard, all of the Company's directors attended the 2005 Annual Meeting of Stockholders.

Executive Committee. The Executive Committee, pursuant to authority delegated by the Board, from time to time considers certain matters in lieu of convening a meeting of the full Board, subject to any restrictions in applicable law related to the delegation of certain powers to a committee of the Board. Messrs. Barth, Fenoglio, Lingenfelter (Chair), and Seigel currently comprise the members of the Executive Committee. The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee assists the Board in identifying qualified individuals to become members of the Board, maintains oversight over the compensation and effectiveness of the Board and its standing committees, consults with management and the Board on senior executive continuity and organizational matters, and develops and recommends to the Board a set of Corporate Governance Guidelines. In addition, on an annual basis, the Committee receives comments from all directors and provides an assessment, based on the comments, of the Board's performance to the Board. Messrs. Barth, Fenoglio, Parr, Sachs, and Seigel (Chair) comprise the members of this committee, and all are independent in accordance with the current NASDAQ Listing Standards. The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee held one meeting during fiscal 2005.

Messrs. Barth, Fenoglio (Chair), Sachs, and Seigel comprise the members of the Audit Committee, and all are independent in accordance with the current NASDAQ Listing Standards. The Board has determined that at least one member of the audit committee is a financial expert within the meaning of SEC regulations. CORPORATE GOVERNANCE MATTERS

Consideration of Director Nominees

The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee will consider candidates for Board membership who are suggested by its members and other Board members as well as management and stockholders. The Committee may also retain a third-party executive search firm to identify candidates, if it believes such a search is warranted. A stockholder who wishes to recommend a prospective nominee for the Board for consideration at the 2007 Annual Meeting of Stockholders should notify the Company's Corporate Secretary at the Company's corporate headquarters no later than November 29, 2006, in writing along with all supporting material the stockholder considers appropriate.

Once the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee has identified a prospective nominee, the Committee makes an initial determination as to whether to conduct a full evaluation of the candidate. This initial determination is based on the information that is provided to the Committee with the recommendation of the prospective candidate, as well as the Committee's own knowledge of the prospective candidate, which may be supplemented by inquiries to the person making the recommendation or others. The preliminary determination is based primarily on the need for additional Board members to fill vacancies or expand the size of the Board and the likelihood that the prospective nominee can satisfy the evaluation factors described below. If the Committee determines, in consultation with other Board members as appropriate, that additional consideration is warranted, it may request a third party-search firm to gather additional information about the prospective nominee's background and experience and to report its findings to the Committee. The Committee then evaluates the prospective nominee against the standards and qualifications set out in the Corporate Governance Guidelines, including:

The ability of the prospective nominee to represent the interests of the stockholders of the Company;

The prospective nominee's standards of integrity, commitment and independence of thought and judgment;

The prospective nominee's ability to dedicate sufficient time, energy, and attention to the diligent performance of his or her duties, including the prospective nominee's service on other public company boards, as specifically set out in the Company's Guidelines;

The extent to which the prospective nominee contributes to the range of talent, skill and expertise appropriate for the Board; and

The extent to which the prospective nominee helps the Board reflect the diversity of the Company's stockholders, employees, and customers.

The Committee also considers such other relevant factors as it deems appropriate, including the current composition of the Board, the balance of management and independent directors, the need for Audit Committee expertise and the evaluations of other prospective nominees. In connection with this evaluation, the Committee determines whether to interview the prospective nominee, and if warranted, one or more members of the Committee, and others as appropriate, interview prospective nominees in person or by telephone. After completing this evaluation and interview, the Committee makes a recommendation to the full Board as to the persons who should be nominated by the Board, and the Board determines the nominees after considering the recommendation and report of the Committee.

Board Independence

Pursuant to the Corporate Governance Guidelines, the Board undertook its annual review of director independence in February 2006. During this review, the Board considered transactions and relationships between each director or any member of his immediate family and the Company and its subsidiaries and affiliates, including those reported under Certain Transactions below. The Board also examined transactions and relationships between directors or their affiliates and members of the Company's senior management or their affiliates. As provided in the Corporate Governance Guidelines, the purpose of this review was to determine whether any relationships or transactions were inconsistent with a determination that the director is independent. The Board has determined that a majority of the members of the Board are independent as defined under applicable federal securities laws and the current NASDAQ Listing Standards. Messrs. Barth, Fenoglio, Parr, Sachs and Seigel are independent directors.

Stockholder Communications

Communications that stockholders wish to send to the Board can be mailed to the attention of the Company's Corporate Secretary at 950 East Paces Ferry Road, NE, Suite 1575, Atlanta, Georgia 30326. Any such communication must state the number of shares beneficially owned by the stockholder making the communication. The communication will be forwarded to the full Board or to any individual director or directors to whom the communication is directed unless the communication is hostile, threatening, illegal or similarly inappropriate.

Corporate Governance and Ethics Information

The Board's Corporate Governance Guidelines, as well as the charters of the Executive, Audit, Compensation, and Nominating and Corporate Governance Committees, can be viewed at the Company's website, <http://www.idglink.com>. IDG has adopted a Code of Ethics applicable to its directors, Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, Chief Information Officer, all Regional Presidents (including those regional presidents who are Named Executive Officers), and other such executives of the Company as the Company's management deems appropriate, which is also available at this website. Any amendment to or waiver of a provision of this Code of Ethics that applies to any IDG director or executive officer also will be disclosed there. A copy of all of the foregoing documents may also be obtained upon request from the Company's Corporate Secretary.

Section 16(a) Beneficial Ownership Compliance Reporting

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 requires the Company's directors and executive officers, and persons who own more than 10% of a registered class of the Company's equity securities, to file with the Securities and Exchange Commission and the NASDAQ stock market reports of ownership and changes in ownership of Common Stock and other equity securities. Directors, executive officers and greater than 10% stockholders are required by SEC regulations to furnish the Company with copies of all Section 16(a) forms they file.

Based solely upon a review of the copies of such reports furnished to the Company or written representations that no other reports were required, the Company believes that all of the filings required during fiscal year 2005 by executive officers and directors were timely made.

CERTAIN TRANSACTIONSRelated Party Matters

The Company has entered into certain real property leases as lessee with respect to which stockholders of the Company, or their affiliates, are the lessors. The Company currently leases two properties with respect to which Mr. Shearer, the former President and Chief Executive Officer and current director of the Company, is the lessor. The properties are located in York and Whitehall, Pennsylvania. Total annual base rent under the terms of both leases for 2005 was $414,495. The Company also currently leases a property located in St. Louis, Missouri from a company in which Mr. Sachs, a director of the Company, has a 15% ownership interest. Annual base rent paid by the Company in 2005 pursuant to the terms of this lease was approximately $132,000. The Company believes that the annual rent and other terms of these leases are no less favorable to the Company than could be obtained from unaffiliated parties for comparable properties in the York and Whitehall, Pennsylvania areas.

In addition, in connection with Mr. Shearer's resignation as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company in November 2005, the Company entered into a separation agreement with Mr. Shearer that provides for the extension of certain payments and benefits by the Company to Mr. Shearer during the term of the agreement. See Executive Compensation Separation Agreement with Former Chief Executive Officer for more information regarding this agreement.

Policy Respecting Related Party Transactions

The Board's policy is that any transactions between the Company and any of its officers, directors, principal stockholders, or affiliates must be on terms no less favorable than those that could be obtained from unaffiliated parties in comparable situations and must be approved by a majority of the disinterested members of the Board. The Audit Committee of the Board is responsible for reviewing all related party transactions on a continuing basis and all potential conflict of interest situations where appropriate.

Compensation Committee Interlocks And Insider Participation

Messrs. Barth, Fenoglio, Parr, and Seigel served as members of the Company's Compensation Committee throughout the 2005 fiscal year. None of the executive officers of the Company served as either a member of the Compensation Committee or a director of any entity of which any member of the Compensation Committee is an executive officer.

REPORT OF COMPENSATION COMMITTEE

This report documents the components of the Company's compensation programs for its executive officers, including Regional Presidents, and sets forth the factors used to determine fiscal 2005 compensation with respect to the Chief Executive Officer and other Named Executive Officers of the Company. All fiscal 2005 compensation decisions with respect to base salaries, annual incentive compensation, restricted stock grants, and benefits for these executives were made by the Compensation Committee (the Committee).

Overall Executive Compensation Philosophy

The Committee seeks to develop programs and policies for the compensation of the Company's executive officers that will link the compensation of executive officers to the financial performance of the Company. Specifically, the Committee has tied the level of the Company's executive compensation to improvement in the Company's economic profit. Economic profit is defined as after tax operating income less an appropriate charge for capital employed to produce that income (commonly referred to as a cost of capital). The Committee intends that such a link will align the financial interests of the Company with that of its stockholders. The Committee believes that it does so because it encourages executives to deploy their efforts and the Company's resources to achieve economic performance by the Company that adds tangible net value to the Company's financial results, which the Committee believes holds the greatest potential to enhance the return the Company's stockholders can receive. The Committee uses the following components to implement that objective:

For the Company's executive officers and Regional Presidents, a pay-for-performance orientation, with respect to compensation other than base salary, based upon the Company's performance, or in the case of the Chief Information Officer, based on specific performance criteria;

Reasonably competitive base salaries are based on base salaries payable to corporate officers of certain surveyed corporations of similar size whose job content and/or responsibilities are comparable to those of the Company's executive officers;

Potentially significant annual incentive bonus opportunities under the Company's economic profit-based Management Incentive Program;

The issuance of restricted shares of stock and stock options; and

Customary benefits that do not differ significantly from those offered generally to other Company personnel.

The Committee's formulation of the Company's compensation programs and policies for executive officers is monitored and reviewed on an ongoing basis in order for the Committee to determine the appropriateness of the compensation paid to each of the executive officers of the Company from time to time in light of the Company's compensation philosophy and developments in the Company's industry and in general. While promoting initiative and providing incentives for superior performance by executives on behalf of the Company for the benefit of its stockholders, the Committee also seeks to assure that the Company is able to compete for and retain talented personnel who will lead the Company in achieving levels of financial performance that will enhance stockholder value over the long-term as well as the short-term.

The factors and criteria for the determination of the fiscal 2005 compensation of the Chief Executive Officer were the same as those set out above (and discussed in more detail below) with respect to all executive officers. In addition to the following discussion, further information regarding these components is included in the tables in the Executive Compensation and Equity Compensation Awards sections.

Base Salaries

The Company has established the current base salaries of its executive officers without reference to specific Company performance criteria. The Committee re-examines this range of compensation from time to time through a survey of compensation practices conducted by independent compensation consultants across a broad cross-section of U.S. industrial corporations. The survey sample does not necessarily include those companies in the peer groups included in the performance graph on page 16 due to the differing size, management responsibilities, and organizational structure of those companies relative to IDG. The Committee's consistent practice is to maintain the base salaries of executive officers at reasonably competitive levels based on base salaries payable to corporate officers of certain surveyed industrial corporations whose job content and/or responsibilities are comparable to those of the Company's executive officers. The base salaries for the executive officers, including the current and former Chief Executive Officer, during 2005 were established and approved by the Committee. The Committee reviews salaries of the Company's executive officers on an annual basis.

Annual Incentive CompensationManagement Incentive Program

The Company provides annual incentive compensation to certain executive officers of the Company through its Management Incentive Program (the MIP), which is reviewed and reassessed annually. The MIP is designed to offer compensation opportunities that are tied directly to the Company's performance as measured by improvement in economic profit. In addition, the MIP is designed to foster significant equity ownership in the Company by the executive officers through the stock election and matching grant feature described below. MIP bonuses earned during each measurement year are paid in the following year.

Participants in the MIP earn a percentage of the improvement in economic profit as compared to the prior year. Each participant is paid 75% of the amount earned for 2005 in 2006. The remainder is banked and is payable, as well as subject to forfeiture, so that some portion of any particular year's MIP bonus remains as an incentive for the executive's continued employment with the Company in future years. If the remainder is not forfeited, 75% of the remainder will be paid each year going forward. This plan was adopted by the Committee in February 2004.

In 2005, Regional Presidents earned incentive bonuses under the MIP based upon the improvement in economic profit for their respective region as compared to the prior year. For corporate officers, incentive bonuses earned in 2005 were calculated under the MIP based on improvement in economic profit for the Company as compared to the prior year. All incentive bonuses earned in 2005 were expensed in the 2005 financial statements but paid in 2006 in accordance with the above formula.

Stock Incentive Plan

The Committee administers the Stock Incentive Plan. Under the Stock Incentive Plan, the Company is authorized to grant a variety of awards such as restricted shares, stock options, and stock appreciation rights. The Company is permitted to issue stock options that are qualified as incentive stock options under the Internal Revenue Code, options that are not so qualified, direct awards of shares of stock, stock appreciation rights, and other forms of awards that use, or are based on, shares of Common Stock.

While the Committee has the flexibility to grant below-market options, its policy has been to grant options at fair market value, vesting over a period of several years, in order to better align the personal interests of optionees with those of the stockholders of the Company. In general, it is the practice of the Committee to consider issuing awards under the plan only when participants in the MIP are entitled to receive an annual incentive bonus. In other words, grants under the plan generally are considered only in years when the Company achieves certain performance targets, including economic profit. It is the current intention of the Committee to continue this practice, although it is not required by the terms of the plan. To date, the Committee has issued both incentive stock options and non-qualified stock options under the Stock Incentive Plan.

Stock Election and Matching Grant

In order to encourage significant equity ownership in the Company by its executive officers, the MIP provides that participants may voluntarily elect to use up to 40% of their annual incentive bonus to purchase Company Common Stock on the open market. The participant must hold purchased shares for one year. For each share of Company Common Stock purchased through the open market, the participant will receive a grant of one share of restricted stock granted under the Stock Incentive Plan, which will vest on the third anniversary of the date of grant. In 2005, executive officers were eligible to receive grants of restricted stock pursuant to the terms of the stock election and matching grant component of the MIP.

Benefits

Executives are also eligible to participate in the Company's regular employee benefit programs, including a 401(k) retirement savings plan, group medical and dental coverage, group life insurance, group long-term disability insurance, and other group benefit plans. In addition, executives receive supplemental health and disability benefits. Substantially all decisions with respect to such benefits are made on a group basis, and no individual decisions were made with respect to the executive officers during fiscal 2005.

Compensation of Current and Former Chief Executive Officer

Mr. Lingenfelter became the Company's President and Chief Executive Officer on November 3, 2005 and served as a Regional President immediately prior thereto. At the time of his election by the Board, final terms of the compensation arrangements for Mr. Lingenfelter's service as President and Chief Executive Officer had not been reached. Accordingly, Mr. Lingenfelter assumed the post as President and Chief Executive Officer and was compensated at a rate of $300,000 annually, pending a final determination of his compensation as President and Chief Executive Officer by the Board. As of February 21, 2006 Mr. Lingenfelter's annual base salary for 2006 has been set at $300,000. Mr. Lingenfelter's 2005 MIP bonus was based on his role as Regional President in 2005. In addition, Mr. Lingenfelter was issued 15,000 shares of restricted stock which will become fully vested in November 2008. Mr. Lingenfelter is eligible for an annual bonus determined by the Board of Directors. The Committee believes that the compensation terms of Mr. Lingenfelter's employment are consistent with the fundamental elements that comprise the Company's executive compensation philosophy. Mr. Lingenfelter is also eligible to participate in employee benefit plans as generally made available to senior management of the Company including the Stock Incentive Plan and the Management Incentive Program.

Mr. Shearer resigned as the Company's President and Chief Executive Officer effective November 3, 2005. Mr. Shearer earned $262,500 of his 2005 annual base salary of $300,000 for the portion of 2005 during which he served as President and Chief Executive Officer. Mr. Shearer's annual base salary amount for 2005 did not increase over the annual base salary amount paid for 2004, and no incentive award was paid to Mr. Shearer for his 2005 performance.

See Executive Compensation Separation Agreement with Former Chief Executive Officer for information regarding payments made by the Company to Mr. Shearer in connection with his separation from the Company as President and Chief Executive Officer.

This report is respectfully submitted by the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors.
